Sarnia Plant Explosion Rocks Towns For Miles

COMRADES-IN-ARMS—Officers of the NATO countries who are taking part in this year's studies with the Canadian Army Staff College in Kingston, have just spent two days at Petawawa Military Camp where they watched and took part in tactical demonstrations. These officers representing seven of the North Atlantic Treaty Nations were impressed and eager to take part in the exercises. Seen here as they take time out for a smoke and a friendly chat are six of the members of the party. They are, from left to right: Capt. P. Santoro of Italy; Maj. A. N. B. Ritchie, UK; Lt. Col. S. M. Ismail, Khan of Pakistan; Capt. W. I. Binkly, Canadian Army; Capt. R. G. Chaigneau, France and Maj. M. L. Hewitt, USA. Major Hewitt served with 73rd Tank Bn., United States Army in Korea and was wounded on the 2nd Sept. 1950. After being picked up by helicopter from the battlefield he was evacuated to the US by a British hospital ship.

MacArthur Plan Risked All-out War

Basic Differences Lost General Job Marshall Testifies

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP) Defence Secretary George Marshall contended to Senators today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Korean war proposals would risk "an all-out war with the Societ Union."

Replying to MacArthur's attacks on the administration's Far Eastern policies, Marshall also said:

1. The Truman administration's unwavering policy is to deny Nationalist-held Formosa to the Chinese Communists and to oppose seating of the Reds in the United Nations.

2. A Jan. 12 memorandum of the joint chiefs of staff, which MacArthur contended supported his proposals for fighting the Korean war by direct action against Communist China, was drafted for use if American troops had to withdraw from Korea.

3. The memorandum was discarded when it became apparent that American troops had turned the tide of battle.

16 Courses of Action

4. The memorandum contained 16 courses of recommended action, only four of which were quoted by MacArthur in his testimony last week to senators inquiring into his dismissal as Far Eastern commander and policy dispute involved in it.

5. MacArthur was fired because of "basic differences of judgment" not only with Truman, but the chiefs of staff and Marshall himself.

Testifying at a closed session with his "combed" testimony made public later, Marshall said MacArthur's plan would risk an all-out world conflict "even at the expense of losing our allies and wrecking the coalition of free people throughout the world."

MacArthur has proposed intensification of the economic squeeze against Red China, blockade of its coasts, air operations over Manchuria and use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa.

Great Risk

"He would have us accept the risk of involvement not only in an extension of the war with Red China but in an all-out war with the Soviet Union," Marshall said, adding:

"He (MacArthur) would have us do this even though the effect of such action might expose Western Europe to attack by the millions of Soviet troops poised in middle and eastern Europe."

MacArthur had argued that his proposals ought to be acceptable to other members of the United Nations. But he said that if they were not, the United States should 'go it alone."

MacArthur contended, too, that the moves he advocated would not involve any greater risk of Rus-

Russia Recognized

VIENNA, May 7. (CP) — Russia was recognized today by the International Olympic Committee. It now becomes eligible to take part in the 1952 Olympic games. The IOC action, taken this morning, was announced at a formal press conference tonight. Russia was almost the first subject discussed when the 35-man committee opened its three-day session.

Firemen Blame Firecrackers Fire In Sheds

Fire which was believed started by firecrackers, destroyed two sheds at the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mesley, 428 Rogers St., at 1:15 p.m. today, burning three canoes, a large quantity of camping equipment, household goods and two rabbits.

Fire Chief George Smith said the Mesley's youngster, Roger, 7, had been playing with firecrackers in the shed before his dinner.

Fed by about 100 gallons of fuel oil in three tanks in the main shed, the flames roared through the wooden structures in a few minutes and firemen could save little from the shed.

Carried Out Ammunition

One fireman carried out a burning box and took off the top of the box to find that it contained cartons of shot gun shells.

The fire didn't reach into the brick house itself.

Mrs. Alfred Mesley, mother of Milton Mesley, was moved to a daughter's home because she has not been well and Mrs. Mesley feared the oil might explode.

Young Roger was the first to see the fire. He said he was outside when he saw the flames coming out the roof. He ran to tell his mother and then ran back to try to save his rabbits in the rear shed.

He found one large rabbit, but lost his favorite Mopsy, mother of the others. Two small rabbits in a wire pen about 25 feet from the shed had their white fur singed by the heat.

Mr. Mesley, who works at the CGE, keeps his car in the shed, but he had taken the car to work with him.

One of the canoes that was burned belonged to a friend; the other two were his. A large quanttiy of household goods went up in the flames. Sports equipment too, a toboggan and skis and other articles were all destroyed.

Mrs. Mesley could make no estimate of the value of the goods that were burned.

Factory Blast Said Like Atomic Flash

Eyewitness Karl Monk Says Flames, Smoke Look Like Mushroom

SARNIA, May 7. (CP)—A blinding flash followed by a mushroom of flame and smoke like an atomic bomb blast was the way the explosion at Polymer Corporation appeared to Karl Monk, manager of Radio Station CHOK, Sarnia, and formerly of Peterborough, who was driving to Sarnia Sunday night.

"I was coming from Windsor on the river road about 15 miles south of the Polymer plant," he said. "The first thing I saw was a blinding flash similar to sheet lightning. Then I saw flames and smoke shoot into sky very much like we've seen in the pictures of an atomic bomb explosion.

"The smoke and flames seemed to fold over like a mushroom and then spread out slowly over the countryside.

"I went past the plant by Bluewater which is just opposite Polymer. People were fleeing everywhere. Men, women and children in their nightclothes blocked the highway.

"There was broken glass and blown-out windows everywhere. The scene was similar to wartime in London, England."

Officials Concerned

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—Canada's two top defence production officials expressed concern Sunday night when they received word of an explosion at the $50,000,000 Polymer synthetic rubber and chemical plant at Sarnia. They had no further comment.

Both Defence Production Minister Howe and Deputy Minister H. W. MacKenzie said they first learned of the explosion when told of it by The Canadian Press.

Begun in the fall of 1943 when the Allied nations were short of rubber following Japan's quick conquest of rubber countries, the Government-owned corporation is the only synthetic rubber plant in Canada.

May Cut Exports

LONDON, May 7. (CP)— Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the Board of Trade, today hinted that British exports to China may be cut off because of failure to reach a settlement with the Chinese Communists in Korea. He denied in the House of Commons that British trade with China, already strictly controlled, includes any goods of military value. "All goods of direct military importance and many other goods which might assist her military operations are totally prohibited," he said.

Judge Suspends Montreal's Vice Inquiry

MONTREAL, May 7 (CP).—Judge Louis Cousineau of Superior Court has issued a writ suspending Montreal's vice probe, it was announced today.

The action was obtained Saturday by Ubald Boisvert, Montreal lawyer, acting for 34 officers and former officers of Montreal police force named in a petition which was the basis of the probe.

The writ demanded that Judge Francois Caron, presiding over the inquiry into alleged police-tolerated vice conditions 10 years ago, stay all further proceedings.

Applicants for the writ contended that Judge Caron has been partial and shown favoritism toward the 74 petitioners at whose request the probe was started last fall.

Beyond Authority

The application contended that Judge Caron, also a member of the Superior Court bench, went beyond his authority on several occasions since the start of the inquiry, Sept. 11, 1950.

It also contended that the original petition was not proper grounds for the inquiry, that Judge Caron assumed authority not legally conferred upon him, and that he has conducted the investigation with "manifest favoritism" towards petitioners and their counsel, Pacifique Plante and Jean Drapeau.

The applicants claimed it is a foregone conclusion that they will be "victims of flagrant injustice," and that there is a "complete absence" of evidences against them.

People Flee In Panic From Homes

Five Workers Hurt As Chemical Tank Suddenly Blows Up

SARNIA, May 7. (CP)—A spectacular explosion rocked the Polymer synthetic rubber plant Sunday night and shattered windows over a wide area but officials of the government-owned company said there was little serious damage. Five men were injured, none seriously.

The explosion of a tank of butadiene steroid set off a fire in the immediate area but plant firemen brought it under control within an hour.

E. H. Rowzee, plant manager, said Polymer's unit for the extraction of Butadiene — a volatile bi-product of synthetic rubber—will be back in operation before the end of the month.

Mr. Rowzee said damage to an adjacent building, which has held up production of synthetic rubber, will be repaired within 24 hours.

Earlier today, Production Minister Howe said in an interview at Ottawa that damage was estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000 and that synthetic rubber production would be held up for about a week.

Mr. Rowzee's statement gave no estimate of damage but said it was "considerably less than originally anticipated," and that there was no damage to vital equipment in the synthetic rubber unit.

The blast went at 10:40 p.m. and its force was felt as far as London, 60 miles east of Sarnia. Windows were shattered in buildings within a two-mile radius and persons fled in panic from homes near the plant.

The explosion and the ensuing fire destroyed a section of about 1,000 square feet in the western

U.S. Troops Sent To Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, May 7. (AP)—A contingent of United States troops arrived by air today at Keflavik airport, 30 miles from this capital, for the announced purpose of aiding Iceland's defence under the North Atlantic Alliance. The number of troops was not announced. (In Washington, defence officials told reporters the initial detachment consisted of about 200 men under the command of Brig.-Gen. Edward John McGaw.) (In European capitals, the opinion was expressed that it was only a small contingent of American troops, probably technicians for the most part, sent to survey possible air bases in the North Atlantic outpost of Western defences.)

The arrival of the troops apparently was no surprise to the people of this old island republic, since it was generally known that negotiations had been under way for some time. Nevertheless, the announcement of the arrival was published in extra editions of Reykjavik's newspapers.

Gave Permission

The Government statement threw little light on the mission of the Americans. It said only:

"When Iceland joined the Atlantic Pact, it agreed that if war broke out the Allies would have a similar position in Iceland to that they had during the last war. But it was entirely up to Icelanders to say when such a position would be granted."

During the Second World War Iceland was major assembly point for convoys to Russia.

Members of Parliament's democratic parties were consulted, the Government said, and they agreed to ask for defence forces. This island, with an area of 39,758 square miles and a population of only 140,000, has no army, navy, coast guard or air force of its own.

Of the 52 members of Parliament, 43 supported the Government in its request. The nine Communist members of Parliament were not consulted.

The number of troops sent here must be approved by the Icelandic Government. Nothing in the agreement is to be construed as impairing the authority of Iceland with regard to her internal affairs.

UN Brideghead Expanded North Of 38th Parallel

TOKYO, May 7. (AP)—United Nations troops advanced both anchors of their Korean battle line today in cautious, limited attacks. The Allies expanded their bridgehead north of the 38th parallel around Inje in the east. South Koreans advanced the western anchor northwest of Seoul with a limited attack. They struck at North Koreans who had been told by one of their officers there would be no big offensive because "the war is about over."

Intelligence officers who reported this offered no interpretation of the significance of the statement. Presumably the Red officer meant the war again had reached a stalemate; that neither side could win and therefore neither would open an all-out offensive.

Intelligence reports said the same officer reported allied planes blocked Red efforts to get tanks from Manchuria to support the now-halted Communist spring offensive.

Trucks Get Through

Red transport kept rolling south despite the constant air punishment. More than 3,700 trucks were spotted Sunday. Far eastern air forces called it an "all out Communist effort to resupply and re-equip their divisions along the battle line."

U.N. tank patrols probed through no-man's land trying to find the elusive Red divisions.

On the ground the Reds offered only spotty opposition to allies slogging back over the same ground the Communists had taken in their costly nine-day offensive that began April 22.

About 500 North Koreans tried to stem the allied advance in the Inje sector. But U.N. forces widened their bridgehead in Red Korea.

There were a series of sharp skirmishes Sunday on the central front north of Chunchon. East of Seoul Chinese Communists put up small but stubborn fights between the Pukhan and Han rivers. And there were small scale battles northwest of Seoul. On Red tank force was encountered in tles northwest of Seoul. One Red patrol drove it back.

American artillery supported South Korean troops attacking in this sector.

Communist units were reported sighted on the south bank of the Han, northwest of Seoul. This is west of any recent fighting.

Allied tanks roamed due north of Seoul without finding a fight. They pushed on toward Yonchon from Uijongbu, which is 11 miles north of Seoul.

An Eighth Army headquarters briefing officer said no Reds were found from a point 10 miles northeast of Seoul to a point south of Chunchon. This deserted area, south of the skirmish line, was occupied by Reds last week.

Threaten Tie-Up Of Car Traffic

DETROIT, May 7 (AP). — A move by striking Detroit bus and streetcar operators to tie up rush-hour automobile traffic was hinted Sunday by a union official, the Detroit Free Press said.

The strike, now in its third week, has failed to paralyze the motor city. Detroiters have been getting to work in private cars.

The proposal, the paper said came from the Union Business agent, Walter Stanley at a closed mass meeting of 2,000 if the 3,700 operators of the streetcar and bus operators union (AFL). The paper said he ordered the strikers to report for terminal picket duty on Monday.

It quoted him as saying:

"The city has lifted parking restrictions, provided a parking lot and given its blessing to the Thumb Club (Hitchhikers). I call that strike-breaking. We're going to have a fight.

"We may have to tie up traffic in the city of Detroit. You'll get your orders on the picket line."

Company officials estimated the cost of this strike at more than $2,500,000.

New Tax Liens

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP). — Federal tax liens totalling $52,532 against band leader Xavier Cugat and his wife, Loraine, were filed here today. The liens stated the musician was in arrears for $24,518 for 1948, $21,998 for 1949 and $6,014 for 1950.

Army Outlines New Officer Plan

OTTAWA, May 7—(CP)—The Army announced today that single men between 18 and 23 without previous military experience are eligible for short-term commissions under a new officer-procurement plan for the Canadian Army active force.

The new form of commissions is in addition to short-service commissions available for officer veterans, members or former members of university contingents of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps, members or former members of COTC Command contingents and those selected from the ranks of the active force.

Known as "direct entry," the new plan involves a continuous one-year training program divided into five phases designed to place candidates in units as quickly as possible.

The minimum academic requirement is junior matriculation or its equivalent.

At the end of the first three phases of training—28 weeks—officer candidates if accepted will receive commissions in the active force for three, four or five years. Later they may apply for permanent commissions.

Russia Offers Treaty Plan

MOSCOW, May 7 (AP).—Russia today proposed a meeting of foreign ministers of the USSR, the United States, France, Britain and Communist China in June or July to begin preparing a Japanese peace treaty.

Deputy Foreign Minister Alexander E. Bogomolov handed to U.S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk a memorandum containing Soviet "remarks on the matter of the United States draft peace treaty with Japan."

Trapped On 2nd Floor Pair Jump to Safety

MALLORYTOWN, Ont., May 7 (CP).—Trapped in a blazing second storey apartment, two women were forced to jump to safety Sunday after tossing an 18-month-old baby to a spectator below as a $15,000 fire swept Cirtwell's garage in this village 12 miles west of Brockville.

The blaze was believed to have started when a spark from a cutting tool set fire to a truck's gas tank. Within seconds, the entire bottom floor of the building was in flames.

Mrs. Joseph Cirtwell, wife of the owner, her 18-month-old daughter Dawn, and her mother, Mrs. Jack Brennan of Montreal, were trapped in an apartment above the garage. Mrs. Cirtwell tossed her daughter to Alf MacDonald below and then followed her mother through the window.

Mrs. Cirtwell was uninjured, but her mother suffered a severe leg cut.

RCAF Squadron Joins Exercises

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP). — A Canadian Air Force squadron, operating four-engine Lancasters will fly overseas late this month to take part in big British air-sea exercises, the RCAF announced today.

The group selected is 405 Maritime Squadron, based at Greenwood, N. S. The squadron will fly to St. Eval, in Cornwall, and will operate from there and from Ballykelly in Northern Ireland during the training show.

Ground crew to maintain the aircraft will be flown over by the RCAF Air Transport Command. The Canadian squadron will work with the RAF Coastal Command, during major off-shore exercises with the British fleet, the Air Force said.

Already overseas is Canada's 421 Fighter Squadron, flying Vampire jets and working closely with the RAF on a long-term training basis.

Syrian Troops Fire On Israeli Settlement

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 7 (AP) Syrian troops opened fire today with rifles and machine-guns on an Israeli settlement near the frontier, dispatches from the border reported.

An Israeli military spokesman here said several houses were hit but there were no casualties.

In the area of Tel El Muteila, where bitter fighting raged for three days, no new incidents were reported.

(In Damascus, the Syrian government announced it has sent instructions to its United Nations delegate to submit a new complaint to the Security Council on recent frontier outbreaks. The message told the UN delegation to protest that Israeli troops, using fighter planes, 155 mm. guns and mortars, attacked the Syrian village of Shamalnah.)

Barber Protests Bad Publicity

HAMILTON, May 7—(CP)—Glen McQuaid, proprietor of the barber shop where Negro pianist Oscar Peterson was allegedly refused a haircut Friday, today appeared with his lawyer before Mayor Lloyd Jackson to protest the unfavourable publicity he has received. He said that he himself was the only man in the shop who was "qualified" to cut a Negro's hair, "an art in itself," and that for this reason Peterson had been told that the place was closed. He said Peterson was told that the shop was closed to prevent an argument.

Controller William Warrender added a test case of the anti-discrimination clause in the licensing by-law may be made.

"I cut the hair of Peterson's companion only a few days previous to the present incident," McQuaid said, "and I would have cut Peterson's on Friday if I had been present."

10 Days In Red Territory Sergeant Makes Own Lines

EAST CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, May 7 (AP). — A bearded, dirty and tired American soldier slipped into allied lines Sunday night after wandering through Communist territory 10 days.

Sgt. Corlis Miller, 29, Colorado Springs, Colo., staff artist for the army newspaper Stars and Stripes, trudged into his own lines through a pelting rain.

He swam cold rivers and lived on corn and water in an effort to avoid the Reds. Miller became lost April 26, four days after the Reds launched their big offensive.

Still wearing his dirty fatigue clothes, Miller told his story.

He and another Stars and Stripes correspondent, had been assigned to the French forces.

What Miller didn't know was that allied forces had begun their withdrawal after breaking the back of the Red offensive on the central front.

"I threw away my sleeping bag, all of my equipment except my rifle, helmet and canteen. I figured to hide in the hills during the day and walk at night," Miller said.

After several days of wandering he met a young Korean.

"He made me understand that the American positions had been pulled back again."

"He offered to lead me to those positions. . . I explained to him that I was so weak I couldn't go on.

"He went back to his village and brought back a warm meal, real nice it was, and then led me all the way to the new positions. I tripped a flare and then everybody on the mountainside saw us there and started hollering to each other, 'don't shoot.'

"They saw that I was an American and I yelled back that I was a G. I.

"They shouted back that we were right in the middle of a mine field and not to move. It all almost ended disastrously right there. The soldiers told us to edge over to a trail which we did and then bumped into Baker Company."

Steal $29,500 Parcels From Parcel Post

LONDON, May 7 (Reuters).—Post office detectives Sunday investigated the loss of nine packages of Palladium worth £10,000 ($29,500) which have disappeared on the way to Canada by parcel post.

Palladium is a precious metal similar to platinum.

The packages, each weighing 18 pounds 12 ounces, were thought to have disappeared between a London station and Liverpool port.

The official declined to disclose the address on the consignment, but said it was "an important parcel intended to be shipped to Canada via Liverpool."

Nazi-Like Political Party Scores Gain

Allies Dismayed As Hitler's Methods Pay Off In Lower Saxony

HANNOVER, GERMANY, May 7—(AP)—Hitler's campaign tactics paid off in a startling election success in Lower Saxony State today for a new Nazi-like German political party.

Though the established Socialists and Democrats led the counting as expected, nearly 400,000 West Germans voted in Sunday's Lower Saxony election for the Socialist Reich Party (S.R.P.)—a group so much like the Nazis that the federal government is trying to outlaw it.

Led by former supporters of Hitler, the party campaigned on a promise to "restore the many good features of Nazism." Its tactics were so rough the federal government bannned its 6,000 uniformed "Reichsfront" guards as terrorists.

A Big Surprise

But when the votes were counted this morning, the S. R. P. had taken fourth place in a 10-party field. In its first test at the polls it had won 11 per cent of the votes and 16 seats in the 159-member parliament.

The Socialists, who now govern Lower Saxony in coalition with the Catholic Centrist Party, again led with 33.7 per cent of the total vote, giving them 64 seats. Federal chancellor Konrads Adenauer's Christian Democrats and the Germany Party, campaigning together, took 23.8 per cent of the vote and 34 seats.

The fast-rising union of refugees—Germans who fled or were expelled from Eastern Europe—was in third place with 14.9 per cent of the vote and 22 seats. In the old parliament it held only one place.

Officials Worried

Allied officials were frankly dismayed, and the German government was alarmed, at the success of the Neo-Nazi S. R. P., the first post-war party which had dared to make such a campaign.

The Western Allies found one comfort in the voting, however. The Communists suffered their worst setback since the war. Only 1.8 per cent of the vote went to them and they lost five of the seven sats they had held in the state parliament.

It was not yet clear today what sort of coalition might be formed in a new state government.

The Socialist Reich leaders gleefully acclaimed their showing as a triumph and immediately began talking of spreading their power into other states.

They selected to spearhead their expansion drive Otto Ernest Remer, who was promoted to major-general by Hitler for his decisive role in crushing the anti-Hitler revolt July 20, 1944.

During the campaign Rener exhorted the Germans to refuse to fight for the Western Allies as long as former German soldiers remained in prison as war criminals. He preached West German neutrality between the East and West. He called for rule by the "Elite 10 per cent" of the people.

Pats Strengthen Defences Along Han River

By BILL BOSS

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Kora, May 7 (CP)—United Nations mountain troops were ready Saturday night in strong defensive positions on the north bank of the Han River awaiting possible resumption of the enemy's spring offensive.

The troops Saturday slaved barebacked in the sun strengthening their positions and preparing a warm welcome should the Chinese Communists renew the attack.

They heeded Friday's warning by Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, United Nations Commander in the Far East, that the enemy may come back for more punishment. They agreed with the commander that the Communists have no chance of winning their war of aggression in Korea.

(Boss, Canadian Press correspondent with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Korea, is prohibited by censorship from naming the unit. In previous cables, he has told of UN mountain troops exploiting a breather offered by a lull in the enemy's offensive to strengthen defensive positions. These were north of the Han River in a series of 300-foot hills east of Seoul.)

Find Chinese Dead

Two patrols during the day by these UN troops yielded dead Chinese.

One patrol, clearing an area behind other UN troops who moved ahead Friday, clashed with an enemy patrol which withdrew leaving three dead.

Another, probing west toward Seoul, found 41 Chinese bodies. These apparently were an enemy patrol killed by air strike. Two Chinese, believed to be survivors of the air attack, opened fire on the UN patrol. They were killed.

After denying any disagreement on the part of the President, himself and the joint chiefs, Marshall told the senators:

"There have been, however, and continue to be basic differences of judgment between General MacArthur, on the one hand, and the President, the Secretary of Defence, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on the other hand."

Earlier, a Senator who asked not to be named, said Marshall told the hearing that the United States is "buying time" in Korea to prepare against a third world war.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS —By Merrill Blosser

Fire Destroys Ballyduff Barn

BETHANY, May 7—(ENS)—A barn at Ballyduff, owned by Gordon Strong, was completely destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. The Strongs live on Highway 35.

Cause of the fire is not known, and the barn was burned to the ground in 20 minutes. The loss not yet estimated is partly covered by insurance.

Lost in the blaze were a team of horses, 30 pigs, three calves and a quantity of seed grain.

The alarm was sent out from the Bethany telephone office, but when people arrived to help fight the fire, it was too late.

The flames were first seen by a neighbor, who telephoned Mrs. Strong. Mr. Strong was working in the fields at the time.

1 Dead As Fire Razes 5 Quebec Buildings

TEMISKAMING, Que., May 7—(CP)—One man died, three others were injured and five buildings were destroyed early Saturday in a fire which raged unchecked in this tiny Ottawa River paper mill community, 40 miles northeast of North Bay.

The fire engulfed the White Oaks Inn and nearby annex, owned by the Canadian International Paper Company, one small apartment building and two garages. Damage is expected to exceed $250,000.

G. Alimbert, of Montreal, working as a night clerk at the inn, is believed to have died in the blaze.

The fire broke out in the attic of the inn. Ivan Marleau, paper mill worker, and chef Maurice Ruel were injured when they jumped from a third-storey window.

REMEMBER — BARGAINS ARE BETTER ABOVE BROCK.

Giant Plane Tries Landing 23 Airmen Die In Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, May 7. (AP)—A giant B-36 bomber crashed in flames as it tried to land at Kirtland Air Force base Sunday, killing 23 airmen. The explosion made the base resemble a junkyard. It was the fifth and worst B-36 crash since the United States Air Force put the 139-ton, six-engined bombers—the world's largest—into operation in August, 1946. The toll of 23 dead is just three less than the combined deaths in the other four. Col. Perry G. Griffith, Kirtland commander, said the flaming wreckage "looked like a burning oil field. Flames shot up almost 200 feet in the air."

Two survivors were in critical condition.

The bomber, almost as long as a city block, had just finished a three-hour flight from Carswell Air Force base, Fort Worth, Tex.

Kirtland firefighters arrived at the scene less than four minutes after the crack-up.

But 40-mile-an-hour winds stirred up a billowing sandstorm and fanned the flames quickly to a parked C-54 Air Force transport and a private cargo plane.

Windows Rattled

Minutes before the crash the bomber caused windows to rattle and walls to vibrate by roaring not over 400 feet above the city.

The plane started its approach at 500 feet. About halfway down the runway, the wingtip scraped the ground. The impact tore the propeller and cowling from the right outboard pusher-type engine and burst the right jet engine pod. A jet pod on a B-36 contains two auxiliary jet engines. There is one pod on each wingtip, about 230 feet apart.

The plane circled to the right. About three-quarters of the way around the circle, the right wing again dug in, the nose plowed down and the plane exploded. Bits of burning wreckage were strewn over a quarter-mile area.

Prices Edge Lower On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 7 — (CP) — Prices turned slightly lower as the session progressed on the stock market today.

In industrials, steels, utilities, liquors, refining oils and manufacturing companies showed a majority of losses. Agricultures, banks and textiles were higher and papers, constructions, foods and retail stores were mixed. Price changes were mostly in small factions.

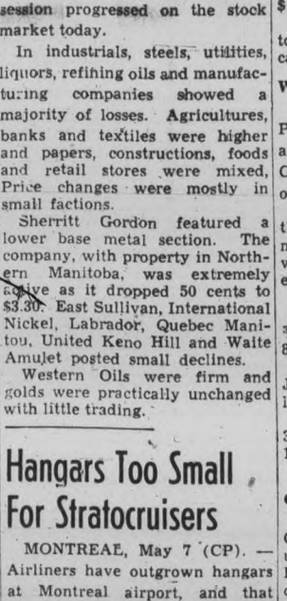
Sherritt Gordon featured a lower base metal section. The company, with property in Northern Manitoba, was extremely active as it dropped 50 cents to $3.30. East Sullivan, International Nickel, Labrador, Quebec Manitou, United Keno Hill and Waite Amulet posted small declines.

Western Oils were firm and golds were practically unchanged with little trading.

Hangars Too Small For Stratocruisers

MONTREAL, May 7 (CP). — Airliners have outgrown hangars at Montreal airport, and that posed a problem.

When the big 70-ton Stratocruisers began to arrive from trans-Atlantic hops they couldn't be rolled into hangars built to accommodate 40-ton North Stars and Constellations.



The Stratocruisers have a wing spread of 141 feet and the tail is 38 feet high. The hangars are 136 feet wide and 29 feet high.

Chief Engineer Fred Ifold of British Overseas Airways Corporation figured out a solution.

A rail line was built out into the field. Trolleys to carry the planes were placed on the rails and a mammoth tractor was used as motive power to tow the planes in and out of the hangars. The trick is the planes moved in and out sidewise.

The tail height? Ifold cut a hole above the doors to take care of the extra feet.

Ask Extra Pay Jobs Illegal

WELLINGTON, N.Z. —(CP)— New Zealand's extraordinary liquor laws, under which hotels close at 6 p.m. but many carry on illegally for many hours later, have led to the curious situation of the Hotelworkers' Union making a formal claim for extra pay for men engaged in illegal sales.

The union put forward demands for an extra $6 a week for men employed as "droppers," "look-out men" and others engaged in after-hour trading. The claim was made at a conciliation council meeting —a tribunal at which a government-appointed chairman attempts to bring agreement between conflicting claims on wages and conditions by employers and employees.

It was explained that "droppers" are men who sell parcels of beer from the doorways of hotels to customers waiting in cars or taxis outside. The duties of "look-out men" are to watch for the police.

The union further asked that a clause be written into the award stating that men should be employed in these duties "only where an agreement exists between the employer and the union giving the men protection from the consequences of any breach of the Licensing Act."

Employers' representatives strongly objected to the claims, stating that the demands "constitute an intolerable slur on the majority of hotelkeepers, who conduct their business in a law-abiding manner."

Union officials replied that they were prepared to name hotels at which such men were employed. They said it was regrettable that prices paid for hotels made such after-hour trading necessary.

Say 200 Killed By 'Quake In El Salvador

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, May 7 (AP)—At least 200 persons were reported killed in an earthquake Sunday in the cities of Jucuapa and Chinameca.

Jucuapa is about 90 miles and Chinameca about 92 miles east of this capital. Jucuapa has a population of about 12,000 and Chinameca of about 17,000.

El Salvador is a tiny Central American country on the west coast of the narrow neck of land joining South America with North America. It is bounded by Guatemala to the north, Honduras to the east and Nicaragua to the south.

Buildings Destroyed

The strong quakes, which began at 5 p.m. Sunday, destroyed many homes and public buildings. Many persons were said to have been burned in ruins. The exact number of dead is not yet known, but authorities estimate about 200 are buried in the debris.

Nearby towns, Nueva Guadalupe, Santiago de Maria, Usulutan and Caserios, east of the Lempa River, also suffered great damage.

The Red Cross dispatched doctors and medicine to the scene and public works ministry workmen started clearing blocked roads.

All the towns are situated in the neighborhood of San Miguel volcano but it id not erupt. The quake was attributed to underground activity of the volcano, however.

part of the sprawling 185-acre plant, located in an area known as "Chemical Valley," south of Sarnia, between such other plants as the Imperial Oil refinery and Dow Chemical Company.

One thousand men were on duty at Polymer which is manned 24 hours a day. The injured men were Louis Hummel and Ivan Zazulyk, both of Sarnia, Kenneth Sparling of nearby Oakwood Corners, and Donald Barnes of Courtright. They were taken to hospital and Hummel was released shortly afterwards.

Polymer's firefighting brigade, specially trained and equipped to handle chemical fires, fought the blaze with the help of crews from Imperial Oil. The fire was brought under control less than an hour after the explosion.

Feared For City

During firefighting operations, water was poured on seven other large storage tanks containing the same chemical. Firefighters said that if flames had reached any of these there would have been another explosion and it might have touched off the oil storage tanks of Imperial Oil Company. If this had happened, they said, Sarnia, a city of about 24,000, would have been flattened.

Polymer, built during the Second World War when Japanese victories left the Allies short of natural rubber, is considered one of the most important parts of Canada's defence production.

Immediately after the fire all gates to the plant were locked and guarded. Unauthorized persons were forbidden to enter.

The fire produced intense heat and melted several metal distillation towers 40 to 50 feet high. The first flash of flame shot 300 feet into the air and was seen clearly at points miles from Sarnia.

Residents of Sparlingville, Mich., seven miles west, could see the flames, and excited reports of the blast being heard came from Chatham, 50 miles south. In Strathroy, 45 miles east, windows were rattled.

Priest Retires To His Abbey

VANCOUVER — (CP) — Rev. Aelred F. Carlyle, British Columbia prison chaplain who personally aided 10,000 persons in his long career, is going home.

The 78-year-old Roman Catholic priest will enter the monastery he founded more than 40 years ago at Prinknash Abbey on Gloucestershire and there will spend the remainder of his life.

"I am a little blind, a little deaf, a little wobbly in the legs—but I feel fine," said the beloved man who has spent 28 years in British Columbia.

He was a missionary among the Indians of the Kootenay and Okanagan, later a parish priest at Princeton and Ocean Falls and then prison chaplain in Vancouver.

As an Anglican, Father Carlyle founded the first Benedictine monastery to be established in the Church of England since the reformation.

In 1913, the monastery renounced allegiance to the Anglican Church and was received into the Church of Rome.

A slight stroke forced him to retire from active work in 1949. He has been in poor health since. Recently he was given extended leave of absence from the diocese.

Salvation Army Cadets Present Music Festival

Capacity audiences attended the musical festival, the musicale and the two Sunday services held at the Salvation Army during the weekend. Approximately 70 of the staff and students of the Salvation Army Training College, Toronto, visited the Peterborough corps and took part in the two day agenda.

Friday night the visiting staff and cadets presented a music festival with the principal of the college, Col. Rufus Spooner, as chairman.

The city's greeting was extended the visitors by His Worship Mayor M. J. Swanston at the welcome supper held Saturday night. The Rev. H. G. Douglas of Knox United Church also welcomed the guests.

The visiting cadets along with members of the Peterborough corps took part in the two services and musicale on Sunday. Col. Spooner was the guest speaked at both services.

Part of the afternoon musicale was broadcast on a national network and congratulatory telegrams from as far away as Vancouver were received and read at the evening service.

Soloists who took part in the weekend's activities were Cadet William Brown, euphoniumist; Cadet A. Watt, cornetist; Cadet Margaret Macfarlane, vocalist; Cadet Arthur Shadgett, cornetist; Cadet Mrs. Dorothy Burrows and Cadet Carl Bowes.

The tambourine band connected with the college band and instrumental and vocal quartettes, quintets and octets also gave selections.

Czechs Stress War Effort

PRAGUE, May 7 (AP)—President Klement Gottwald reviewed the biggest military parade in Czechoslovakia's history Sunday and declared the country must stress preparedness because "the imperialists" are preparing a new war.

Jet planes in V-formation roared overhead, while for two hours parachutists, soldiers, cadets, factory militia, truck-drawn heavy and medium anti-aircraft guns and tanks three abreast filed by the reviewing tribune on Letna Plain.

Soviet Marshal Ivan S. Konev, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, V. A. Zorin, and delegations of ministers and high Communist officials from Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania and Eastern Germany had prominent places on and about the tribune.

The occasion was the sixth anniversary of the liberation of Czechoslovakia, which the Communist government credits to the Soviet Army.

Missed Paying, Back In Court

COBOURG, May 7. (ENS)—Rudolph Dunn of Trent River was remanded out of custody until May 18 when he appeared on a suspended sentence in connection with non-support. Dunn had been allowed on suspended sentence and was directed to pay $100 a month to his wife for the support of her and their young son. He fell down on the payments.

Dunn told Magistrate R. B. Baxter that he had been trapping after being laid off but proceeds from that had not been large. However he now had a job paying a dollar an hour, and was getting $40 a week.

"Will you pay your wife $25 a week?" suggested the magistrate.

"That will not leave me much to live on. She sent the boy back to me to keep and I can't look after him," said Dunn.

"Your wife has to have enough to keep herself and the child," said Magistrate Baxter.

"She has a job. My son told me she was going to a job," Dunn replied.

"I am inclined to ask the Children's Aid Society to look into it. If they took the child away you two could go ahead and fight it out. Your family troubles are getting out of hand. Would you like to see your son taken away from you?" Magistrate Baxter asked.

"Nobody likes to have their child taken away from them," admitted Dunn.

"Well, you had better get your affairs straightened around and I am remanding you out of custody until May 18."

Says Manpower Canada's Big Problem

DETROIT, May 7 (CP)—Canada's first problem is manpower, Francis G. Winspear, of Edmonton, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said today in an address to the Economic Club of Detroit.

Canada, he stated, is a country of fabulous wealth, greater in area than the United States, but with only 14,000,000 people and a labor force of only some 5,000,000. "Shortage of manpower is her bugbear; shortage, too, of technical skill."

Mr. Winspear outlined Canada's mineral wealth. "She has," he stated, "been the largest exporter of base metals for the last 30 years: but it is said by experts, less than one-quarter of her potentialities in mineral and oil resources have been prospected and explored . . . Those in a position to know tell us that by 1960 Canadian mineral production will contribute $9,000,000,000 annually to national production (twice the present figure) . . .

"Most informed opinion foresees iron ore production reaching 25,000,000 to 35,000,000 tons a year within the next decade."

Ration Changes

Mr. Winspear sai dthat in the last few years the ration of Canadian investment in Canada's industrial and mining resources has increased, and the ration of outside or foreign investment has decreased (despite high American investment).

"And this may surprise you: the average Canadian has more money invested in the United States than the average American has invested in Canada; for per capita investment of Canadians in the United States is some $64; while per capita investment of Americans in Canada is some $40."

Mr. Winspear said that closer integration of Canadian and American economies is of vital moment to both countries. He added:

"Canada, of course, will not be content to be only 'a hewer of wood and hauler of water'; she will want to develop her own industrial output to raise the ever-increasing opportunities for American investment, as she makes her fabulous resources of mines, forests and wells available, so will she be looking to the opportunity of entering American markets with processed products."

Opportunity Knocks In Kawartha District

The latest figures from the Ontario Bureau of Statistics and Research underline the fact that this district enjoys a high position in the indices of employment and payrolls. During the month of March the Kawartha District, which includes Peterborough, Lindsay, Oshawa, Cobourg, Whitby, Port Hope, Bowmanville and Campbellford registered the second highest increase in manufacturing employment in the whole province with a rise of 2.8%.

* * *

Taking 1950 as a whole this district comes eighth out of fifteen districts for average weekly salaries and wages with an average of $52.08 weekly. In March the average had climbed to $54.79, though the district remained at the eighth position. Bearing in mind the lower cost of living in this district compared with others and the amenities which we enjoy, these figures reveal a very satisfactory position.

* * *

The Toronto area figures are revealing. In 1950 the average weekly wage for industry was $47.20, $4.88 lower than for the Kawarthas. It need hardly be mentioned that the cost of living there is noticeably higher than here. If these facts were more widely known it might well help to check the drift towards the big towns. Statistics can be misleading at times, but there is no doubt that the average worker in this area is better off than his Toronto counterpart.

* * *

The highest average wages are to be found in the Nickel Range District, that is to say around Sudbury, where they stood at $63.32. In the mines themselves they stand at $67.08. The Lakehead also offers high wages as an inducement to live off the beaten track. The whole tendency nowadays is away from the centre. This is a very healthy movement, to open up fresh areas of this vast country. Decentralization is particularly called for in these times to meet the threat of air attack. We are still far too centralized, and a few bombs on Toronto could create chaos. With industry spread thinly over a wide area the task of an enemy would be made immeasurably more difficult.

* * *

Those who feel that they are not earning their salary should go to the Blue Water district, where the 1950 average wage was $37.10 and the average for last March was $39.95. We offer no explanation for these figures, which are the lowest in Ontario. After all somebody has to be last.

Woman Branded "Disloyal"

The case of Dorothy Bailey has not been widely reported in this country, and we think it should be. It is a remarkable and rather alarming example of the manner in which democratic procedure may be set aside by what apparently amounts to anti-Communist hysteria, or is at least a fear so great that it leads tribunals and courts to accept charges laid by unknown informants, in preference to testimony to the contrary given in open court by reputable persons.

The Loyalty Review Board at Washington had ruled that Miss Bailey was ineligible for employment by the United States Government. Its announced reason was that reasonable ground existed for belief that she was disloyal to the United States. Many reputable persons had appeared before the board, testifying under oath that they were confident Miss Bailey was loyal, and these persons were the only known witnesses. Yet the board persisted in accepting the word of unknown informants.

These informants were not known to either Miss Bailey or the board. They had been certified as "reliable" by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but as far as the accused and the board were concerned, neither knew, actually, if the informants were real and living persons. The board had no independent means of determining credibility and disinterestedness; the accused had no opportunity to cross-examine her accusers.

Nevertheless, Miss Bailey was branded disloyal by the board. That ruling was then upheld by a U.S. District Court judge, who decided the procedure was valid, though "unusual". This ruling was upheld by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, despite a vigorous dissenting opinion by Judge Edgerton. And the board's ruling has now been sustained by a four-to-four division of the United States Supreme Court, which means that it stands insofar as Miss Bailey is concerned, although the division does not establish an authoritative precedent for lower courts with regard to future cases of a similar nature.

A government, or any other employer, should have the right to refuse to hire any person, if information has aroused certain suspicions, without being called upon to reveal the source of the information, as long as the suspicions are not published. But when public hearings are heard before a government appointed tribunal, accusations of unknown informants should be thrown out. To accept them, we think, is a gross violation of individual rights.

If this practice of accepting testimony from unknown informants persists, what has happened to Dorothy Bailey could happen to any citizen of a democracy. It could happen to you.

True To Pattern

Since the beginning of recorded history it has been the custom of tyrants to pretend that they are the friends and defenders of the common people. Julius Caesar did it. Napoleon did it. Hitler and Mussolini did it. Stalin is doing it. Therefore it is no surprise when President Juan Peron of Argentina—who has never been an original man—does it.

Having dirtily done the great independent newspaper La Prensa to death because it was critical of him and his regime, the mighty Peron has now given the corpse to the General Confederation of Labour. The gift was made on May Day, and this is what Peron said:

"This newspaper, which for years exploited the workers and the poor people, which was an instrument at the service of every exploiter of the national interests, which represented the most brazen betrayal of the motherland, must pay for its guilt by serving the people, by spreading their just claims and defending their sovereign rights."

This, being interpreted, means that the General Confederation of Labour is free to use La Prensa to support Peron. We expect that very shortly the other great Argentinian paper, La Nacion, will be put out of action also. It has attacked the legality and morality of Peron's action in suppressing La Prensa, in a manner which commands the respect of the free world. Doubtless it will be seized and handed over to Peron's goons within a few months.

It is not pleasant, at this time, to learn that Argentina has offered two scholarships to Canadians, both resident in Ottawa, this year; this is part of a scheme to improve cultural relations between Argentina and Canada. Do we want any cultural relations at all with such a country as Peron has made? They will learn nothing from us, and it is unthinkable that we should learn anything from them.

Somebody Must Lose

Once again the cost of living has gone up. The extent of the increase, 2.1 points, (1.2%) is causing some concern in government circles. Mr. Howe, the Trade Minister, had forecast a rise of not more than 0.5%. The unexpected increase is, he explained, due to a sharp rise in the price of butter. This presumably would not affect the growing number of people that cannot afford butter and have switched to margarine, but there is some truth in the view that the official cost-of-living index does not entirely reflect the full rise in the cost of living.

All the same, industrial wages are still outstripping the cost-of-living index, so that on the whole the industrial worker is as well off now as he ever has been. Yet somebody has to pay for all this. There is the person with a fixed income —the clergyman, the small investor, the man with a pension, the widow with her husband's life insurance. These people have no prospect of relief. Every time the cost of living goes up they have to do without more. In view of this the industrial worker's demand that the rise in cost of living should be compensated fully in his wages seems selfish. Not only that, but the increase in purchasing power brought about by the increases in wages increases the upward pressure on the cost of living through the operation of the law of supply and demand.

If wages are to be awarded on the basis of the cost of living index it would seem fair to allot pensions on a similar scale. As for investments the present inflationary tendency offers no inducement whatsoever to save. There is no point in putting away a sum of money that would be sufficient to buy, say, a new dining-room suite if at the end of ten years the principal and interest would be barely sufficient to buy a second-hand one. We are spending too much, thereby sending up the cost of goods, because if we save our money it will almost certainly lose much of its buying power.

How are we to get out of this tangle? We do not believe that controls are the answer, though they are unavoidable emergency measures at times. What is needed is greater restraint in spending and in wage demands coupled with greater productivity. Rearmament is already imposing extra stresses on our economy. We can weather these difficulties if all sections of the community display a sense of responsibility to the country, rather than to their own particular section.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"If you want to be popular, just be yourself," says a newspaper columnist. With a lot of people that wouldn't mean popularity; it might even mean jail.

What Does Russia Want?

by

WHAT are the aims of Soviet foreign policy? Is Russia intent on simple imperial expansion, is Russian action inspired by ideological motives or is it merely prompted by fear of the West?

In discussing these questions which are so often asked in the West one must stick to facts and avoid theories or predictions based on insufficient data. What we in fact see is that the Soviet Union is probing for weak spots all over the world; if and whenever she finds one she moves in. With some hesitations it is possible to admit that fear of an attack from the West does exist in the Soviet Union. But I do not consider that fear to be a really essential point in Soviet foreign policy.

From my own observations of recent history and my own experience of Cominform diplomacy, I believe that Soviet foreign policy has two main inspirations. The first is a curious mixture of mis-shapen Marxism and "realpolitik"; and the second is the desire to obtain control of the economies of as many countries as possible, and, if it can be done, without war. The latter factor now seems to be the dominant one.

This is clear from an examination of Russia's relations with the satellite states. At first Russia was able to explain her actions in terms of an ideological struggle against capitalism. But the conflict with Yugoslavia and the form it has since taken showed that ideology had been replaced by simple imperialism. The fact that economic covetousness is now the strongest motive in this imperialist policy is most clearly shown in the Soviet treatment of Czechoslovakia.

THE Soviet Union, while politically and militarily strong, is still relatively undeveloped economically. So that it seems that she is employing her military and political power to strengthen her economic development by acquiring new territories, new industries (as in Czechoslovakia and Eastern Germany) and new man-power (as in China). This exploitation is carried through a system of vassal states.

At this stage Moscow's foreign policy has tactically one supreme aim—to split the western Powers and isolate the United States. In this process the "neutralization" of India's foreign policy and of Indian public opinion plays a vital part.

Although present political terminology speaks of the existence of two world political blocs, in fact there is only one well-organized bloc, the Soviet one. It would, for example, have far reaching consequences if the isolationist-interventionist group in the United States were successfully to influence American foreign policy or if natural differences of national views and interests should further weaken the unity of the States outside the Soviet orbit.

IN India, the Russians must be careful not to alienate public opinion; they must influence it in their own favour or at least encourage it to be "neutral" between Russia and the west. Success in this direction would not only create confusion among the Western Powers; it is also a condition of success for Soviet policies in Malaya and other parts of South-East Asia. Whether, for geographical or other reasons, Communist activities in that part of the world may or may not be controlled from Peking is irrelevant. The main factor is Moscow, which seems to believe that, if India can be controlled the rest of South-East Asia will follow. If the Soviet Union were sure of India's political "neutrality" she would without hesitation and possibly without delay take more positive steps, political or even military, wherever she thought them necessary to achieve her aims.

Russia will therefore continue to seize every chance of exploiting political differences within other countries as well as between them. One of the most powerful instruments for this policy of confusing and dividing world opinion is the so-called Peace movement. The people of good-will who in all countries today are echoing this false cry for "peace" and building up illusions around it are aiding Russia's plans. They are weakening their own countries against Stalinism which, behind the backs of these good, innocent people, goes ahead with its plans of exploitation.

BUT behind this "peace" screen does Russia mean war? The climax of tension between Russia and the West seems to me to depend on the relation of two curves—that of Western rearmament and that of Russia's stock-piling of atom bombs. This climax, which will decide the question of peace or war, once seemed likely to occur about 1953. Now it will probably come sooner.

In this East-West conflict there are three chief nerve centres. In Europe, the main one is at present Austria; in the world as a whole, it is, for military and strategic reasons, Persia and for political reasons, India. But the chief indicator of tension and of the approaching climax will probably be Yugoslavia. Yugoslavia is of the greatest importance to Russia both because of the political repercussions of Titoism and also because of Yugoslavia's strategic position on the "soft under-belly" of Europe. There is evidence that the Soviet-Yugoslav dispute has had a very deep effect on public opinion througnout the satellite countries.

MUCH might be said about the West's past set-backs and new tasks. At least one aspect should be stressed here. As it is a fact that Communism is no longer a question of ideology but a governmental technique which makes the organization of resistance extremely difficult, Western policy should concentrate on helping to split the satellite peoples from Russia by using the weapon of ceaseless publicity, by bringing the Communist governments before the bar of public opinion, and keeping them there.

Western publicity should also make an increased effort in those countries such as India, France and Italy, in which Communist propaganda aims at "neutralizing" public opinion.

The West should expand its radio propaganda services, answer Russian propaganda point by point, show that the democratic system works and deprive the Communists of their talking-points. To cut the moral ground from under the Communist State philosophy would have valuable effects in stimulating intellectual and spiritual unrest within the Communist orbit, and in preventing the "neutralization" of opinion in countries which are not yet Communist-controlled.

Check Borderline Cases

(VANCOUVER PROVINCE)

PROBABLY one-third of the homicides in Canada are committed by borderline mental cases like John Henry Schmidt of Graysville, Man., who wantonly shot to death his mother, his father, his brother and two sisters under circumstances which can only be explained by derangement.

Such tragedies emphasize the extreme danger in permitting persons of suspected mental unbalance to run at large without competent medical attention.

A case in point was Chong Sam Bow who roamed Vancouver's streets for years, in the early twenties, and behaved so peculiarly that everyone knew he was mentally unsound.

Yet nothing was done about it and one day Chong Sam Bow stepped up to a stranger on Main Street and shot him dead. The hanging of Chong Sam Bow rid Vancouver of a menace. But it did not prevent the murder.

Almost every community has its queer "character" whose actions are unpredictable. These are the kind of people who fall into sex crimes or run amok and kill wholesale. There are instances in the news almost every month.

It would be heartless—and almost decimating—to urge a general rounding up of persons whose behaviour falls short of the established norm.

Yet many of these killings and sex crimes could be forestalled if medical advice were sought when a friend or relative shows signs of strange reactions.

It is no more disgraceful to be mentally ill than it is to be physically ill. Insanity is no more of a social misdemeanour than measles.

Moreover no danger exists, under Canadian law, of railroading an unwanted relative into a mental hospital.

Two reliable physicians must swear that a patient is dangerous before he can be locked up against his will. And Canadian lunatic asylums are so full that the lunacy authorities are more likely to discharge an uncured patient than to retain a sane one.

The Voyage Of The Margaret

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

ESPECIALLY to Canadians of Scottish blood, Cape Breton's Gaelic Mod offers even more attraction than usual this summer. Its pageantry has been planned to honour the MacLeod migrations that linked Scotland, Canada, and the Antipodes. As a highlight of the celebrations, the voyage of the barque Margaret to Australia a hundred years ago will be dramatically commemorated when a three-masted vessel sails out of the harbor of St. Ann's. The original ship's company soon moved to New Zealand, where their descendants live on rich lands granted by the Crown in the Waipu district. The Waipu Nova Scotians have kept in touch with the people of Pictou and St. Ann's, and this relationship is perhaps unique in the history of Canada, a colonized country itself rather than the mother of colonies.

The saga of the Normanites folowers of the Rev. Norman MacLeod, is one of romantic adventure and rugged pioneering in search of a better living than old Scotland then afforded. These people first settled in Pictou County and later built The Ark for a voyage to Ohio. But when a storm drove their ship into the harbour of St. Ann's, they believed God had guided them to a land where the hills reminded them of home. After 30 years, glowing reports of Australia led some to sail away in six small vessels that they built between 1851 and 1859.

At Waipu, the Pioneers' Monument is decorated with a representation of one of these ships on each of its six sides. A granite duplicate will be erected at St. Ann's during the Gaelic Mod ceremonies from August 9 to 12 this year. Flora MacLeod of MacLeod, chief of her clan, will come from Scotland, repeating her visit of 1947. Other distinguished guests who have been invited include Prime Minister St. Laurent, and representatives of several provinces and of New Zealand. With the bagpipes skirling, it will be a lively and colorful occasion.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.... And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them....

And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. (Gen. 1: 1, 26, 27, 31.)

But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. (Gen. 2: 6-9.)

Handicapping

(Chapman Pincher in The Daily Express, London.)

People who need a drink or two before they can get down to work have been born several drinks below par — that is, several drinks short of the best mental condition for coping with civilization. It is a handicap they put right at the bar.

And the reason why many people never need a drink to help them face life's hardships is that they are already partly intoxicated by nature. They are "plus-two men."

These views are the basis of a convincing new theory to explain human drinking habits. They are put forward by a famous psychologist, Professor Raymond Cattell.

His medical evidence supports the view that moderate drinking does many people good. It should silence tub-thumping teetotallers — who automatically fall into the "partly-intoxicated" category.

Cattell, who is research professor in psychology at Illinois University, U.S., marshals his evidence this way:

The nervous network of the human brain is like a telephone system containing millions of control points where messages are slightly delayed.

The length of the delay is determined by a chemical set free by the nerves. This chemical—called acetylcholine — clears the control points and cuts down the delay.

The main effect of a small quantity of alcohol is to increase the delay at the control points. So for introspective people a couple of drinks bridge the gap between anxious doubt and buoyant confidence.

TAKING NO CHANCES

A motorist noticed that a farmer was having trouble with his horse. It would start, go slowly for a while, and then stop again. Then the farmer would have great trouble getting the horse started once more. Finally the motorist stopped and asked, "Is your horse sick."

"No," said the disgusted farmer. "He's not sick."

"Is he balky?" asked the motorist.

"Nope, he's not balky."

"Then what's the matter with him?" asked the motorist.

"Well, stranger," said the disgusted farmer, "he's so afraid I'll say whoa and he won't hear me that he stops every once in a while to listen."

India Turning Jungle Area Into Wheat Land

By HAROLD K. MILKS

RAMPUR, North India, May 7 (AP)— Spurred by the growing threat of famine, the Indian government is pushing hard a $10,000,000 program financed by the World Bank to turn 3,000,000 jungle acres into wheat land.

Almost within the shadow of the Himalayan Mountains, huge American tractors pulling British-made plows are turning up virgin farmland. Experts figure the project will add at least 2,000,000 tons of wheat annually to India's food supply.

In three other states of India—Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh and Madhya Bharat—other teams of tractors are pushing agriculture deep into regions where only jungle animals roamed a year or two ago.

Farmers in the Rampur region are moving into this region which experts say is the equal of Alberta and Saskatchewan for growing grain.

Plowing Teams Follow

As rapidly as the jungles are cleared, plowing teams take over and turn up the rich soil. Then the national government hands it over to the efficient government of Uttar Pradesh, whose agricultural engineers parcel it out in 15-acre lots to refugee farmers.

The whole jungle-clearing project is set up on a self-liquidating basis. The state governments reimburse the national government for plowing—in the case of the Uttar Pradesh project the charge is 55 rupees ($11.55) an acre.

The state government in turn recover their costs from colonists, in payments spread over a period of three to seven years.

Too Fond of British Apples Rule Dormouse Must Go

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON, May 8 —(AP)— The dormouse, according to European legend, didn't like Christopher Columbus and so never emigrated to America.

Consequently, not being personally acquainted, North America thinks of the dormouse as a furry, whiskered creature which lives in crossword puzzles, and was a companion to Alice when she wandered through Wonderland.

"If only that were all that needed to be said about the dormouse!" said an official of the British ministry of agriculture and fisheries.

"But the fact is that the dormouse is a cunning little creature, and is a confounded nuisance," continued the official.

"He eats the apples of Buckinghamshire, and other countries just as handsome, and we had to do it. We had to classify him officially as a pest."

Can be Eaten

So now, any one at all may go about Britain slaying dormice (there is some debate about the plural), and may even eat them. The dormice of Britain are of the edible branch of the dormouse family, and are to be distinguished from the "dormouse vulgaris," which of course no one would eat.

Since the agriculture ministry has called the dormouse a pest his friends have come to his defence. He is a little fellow, something like a squirrel and something bigger than a mouse, and he likes to live in the branches of bushes and trees. He eats chestnuts and walnuts, and lately has developed a fancy for apples and pears.

Old Roman Recipe

But even his friends have to admit that maybe there are too many dormice in Britain and that a number should be eaten.

Casting about for ways to do this, the agriculture ministry discovered an old Roman recipe. The dormouse is fattened, then roasted, then dipped in treacle, known as syrup in the western hemisphere, and then gulped down.

How does a dormouse taste?

Different from mutton, said the agriculture ministry. It isn't likely, though, that all the dormice in Britain will add much to the meat ration. There are a lot of them but they are little chaps.

Hess Prisoner 10 Years, Excites Little Interest

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON, May 7 —(AP)— Ten years ago next Thursday Rudolf Hess literally dropped in on Britain with the odd notion that he could end the Second World War.

The No. 3 Nazi, outranked only by Hitler and Goering, arrived by parachute in a field near Glasgow. The plane he had piloted in a crazy flight from Augsburg, Germany, crashed in flames a few hundred yards away.

Hess, his ankle broken, spoke vaguely of a plan to "oust the Churchill clique," and was deeply embittered because the British government did not take him seriously.

His coming—possibly with a substantial peace plan, possibly with a secret message from Hitler, possibly as a traitor to the Nazi cause—gripped the world's attention.

But after 10 years, the anniversary of his strange adventure stirs little interest in Britain. In Berlin's Spandau prison, Hess, now a 57-year-old dreamer, is almost a forgotten man. He was sentenced to life imprisonment by the War Crimes Tribunal at Nuernberg.

His keepers, officers of the four powers, report he is in "reasonably good physical condition," but they are not authorized to say anything about his mental state. It is understood, however, that "he is not always in the world of reality."

Hess first was held a prisoner in Britain—by turn petulant, moody, suicidal and boastful. He gave little of value to the intelligence service, and many officers concluded that, toward the end, Hitler hadn't told him much. But his rambling conversation suggested that Germany might attack Russia soon, and the tip undoubtedly was useful to the Russians.

He escaped the death penalty handed out to other top-flight Nazis, but did not seem to be much interested.

At Spandau now he does little jobs, with a hoe in the garden and broom in the corridors, and reads a great deal.

Steel Workers Rap Salary Increases

TORONTO, May 7 (CP) — Automatic wage and salary increases based on the government's cost-of-living index are not a satisfactory substitute for adequate wage standards, the national policy committee of the United Steel Workers of America, (CIO-CCL), said Saturday.

The committe said wage standards in many parts of Canada are far too low and require more than cost-of-living adjustments to ensure a fair share of production to the workers. It re-affirmed a decision made last September to use collective bargaining to obtain a wage structure "that has a proper relationship to prices in the economy."

The committee recommended as an alternative to cost-of-living schemes that steel unions include in collective bargaining agreements "provisions for open-end wage clauses through which interim wage increases may be obtained between contract dates."

Ask 40-Hour Week For Ottawa Printers

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP) — The federal government was asked Sunday to institute a five-day, 40-hour week with no lowering of take-home pay at the Federal Printing Bureau. Ottawa printers now work 44 hours a week, the seventh annual conference of the Ontario Federation of Printing Trades Unions was told.

The conference passed a resolution asking for the 40-hour week and another resolution asking the right for federal printing employees to bargain collectively with the government.

Grove Beaten In Cricket By P-W Team

By C. H. IRESON.

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club on Saturday defeated Grove School in Lakefield in an exhibition friendly match to open their season. The score was P-W 90 for seven wickets (innings declared closed) and Grove 73.

The visitors started well, scoring 56 for four wickets, thanks to 25 by F. Booth, captain, and 13 by T. Scott. Later, a good innings of 21 not out by W. Titshall took the score to 77 in seven wickets and H. Dobbin's two not out helped take it to 90 when the innings closed. Faulkner had three wickets for 46 runs and King three for 15.

On Grove going to bat, a fair start was made in scoring 57 for four wickets on neat batting by Powell 30 and Ryder 14. The rest did little and it closed at 73. Bowling honors were shared by six used by the local captain, all of whom got wickets as shown in the following scoring list.

The scoring:

UEW Turns Back Brockville In Soccer Game

Peterborough UEW opened their Eastern Ontario Football Association schedule here Saturday with an impressive 5-0 victory over Brockville. Only brilliant work by Metcalf in the visitors' net kept the score down to that figure. Halroyd and Strong starred throughout for the winners in the showing at Morrow Park.

Strong started the scoring on a solo after beating three defenders. Soon after, a Brockville player handled in the penalty area and Mundy made no mistake on the spot kick. UE kept pressing but found Metcalf hard to beat. Kuysten and Ballantyne got in some good shots later for Brockville, but Jones of UEW was right on the job and the half ended 2-0.

Crossen was stopped by Jones in the second and UE forwards settled away, with Halroyd and Smith testing. The latter then put Halroyd in the clear and he bulged the net with a hard drive. Metcalf came out of his area to clear and from the resulting free kick taken by Cotton, the ball was headed into the net by Smith for No. 4. UEW kept dominating and Metcalf proved brilliant as he stopped shots by Halroyd, Strong and Smith, with Holt continuing to put in well-placed centres from the right wing. From one of these, Strong was brought down as he was through. Then Halroyd tore through centre to close in and give the goalie no chance on the fifth goal. The winners kept pouring in the rest of the distance. Teams:

Brockville — Metcalf, Bain, Zahrat, Robertson, Vaerman, L. Crossen, D. Crossen, Kuysten, Barrelli, Waiten, Ballantyne, Oliver, Breen.

UEW — Jones, Mundy, Allen, Cotton, Craig, G. Smith, Halroyd, A. Smith, Strong, Ward, Holt.

Mask And Mgr. Tough Matmen

Bill Stack finally made the main bout, he and Whipper Watson teaming up Tuesday here against the Masked Marvel and the latter's unhooded manager, Mayes McLain.

Stack is a protege of Whip's and he has been rapidly gaining mat experience in prelim bouts, but this is his first opportunity to show his stuff in a top bout against ring-wise and villainous grapplers. With Whip on his side, he should give a real account of himself against the rough Mask and the husky and tricky McLain, who was unmasked here a week ago by Watson.

Team matches have always proven popular and pack the Brock Arena here, and this four-man "hey rube" is bound to attract a great many city and district fans.

The grapplers won't be seen here much longer this season, so they're tossing the best talent this way now.

Lou Pitoscia (the Golden Panther) is a colorful newcomer going against towering Hi Lee in the semi-final while Tony Lanza and Jack Wentworth tear into each other in the prelim bout of a hot card.

Today we are informed that Ab DeMarco, veteran centre star of Buffalo Bisons, was voted the most valuable AHL player last season. He gets the Leslie Cunningham Trophy and a bonus of $300. As he led the loop scorers and was on the all-star team, his extra pay totals $900. George (Red) Sullivan received a vote from Buffalo, but DeMarco was away out by himself in the voting. He's a product of North Bay and is nearly 35.

Annual open meeting of the Peterborough Minor Baseball Association is tomorrow eve at 8.30 in the YMCA. Dit Clapper, Cy Whatley and Ray Pammett will bring in a proposed slate of officers, as well as info on possible aid to the PMBA-ers from the Recreation Commission and the service clubs. Some 200 boys may be given organized and healthy competition in the minor ball setup, but it requires lots of work. With floodlights in Riverside, the minors should have a fine season once the annual re-organizational headache is o'er, and play actually begins. A well-attended meeting on the morrow would be a good start for the season.

Infield Bothers Gunner

Manager Ed Whitehill had the Petes' prospects doing infield work over at the Bowl on Saturday, but expects to go in for hitting practice this evening down at Morrow Park. More room to swing a bat there. Ed is a keen student of the game and hasn't decided yet on either his infield or outfield, though he isn't worrying unduly about the latter. Figures it'll shake down shortly into a good set of gardeners. He reckons he'll need two or three new infielders for strength down the middle. Danny Brown went pro and Howie Dalton hasn't turned out yet. Red Sullivan apparently has orders to lay off ball and put on weight for hockey, so he isn't available. But more on the infield shortly. Loop schedule will be out this week.

On Dave Price's "Canadian Sports Roundup" over the air Saturday night, Rex Stimers and Joe Cheevers were guests. Rex is the radio voice of "Canada's Miami!", as he calls the Garden City, and Joe is coach of St. Catharines Athletics of the OLA. Both figured the Petes would be one of the strongest squads in lacrosse this season, but both felt either Owen Sound or St. Kitts might upset 'em before a winner was declared. They thought, also, that the bolstered Toronto Riverdales would be tough, and possibly Hamilton Tigers. Cheevers called Whitaker the best goalie in Canada, but a great many will put Lloyd (Moon) Wooton ahead of the St. Catharines' net-minder.

As Owen Sound Drops Out

Apparently, the St. Kitts' chaps didn't know Saturday that the Owen Sound club had dropped out of the OLA, sending word to that effect on Saturday. Main reason given was that Jim McLeod and the other arena commissioners had resigned owing to trouble over players' share in lacrosse and hockey games the past year. There's been internal trouble since OLA and Mann Cup playoffs last fall, and the Mercurys in hockey have been looking for a larger share, too. Several lacrosse stars left the northern centre for other places and several more are retiring from the game. OLA says the schedule will open May 18 with seven teams playing 30 games. Too bad the Mann Cup champs can't be persuaded to reconsider and field a team once more.

In soccer on Saturday, the local UEW squad looked impressive here in downing Brockville 5-0 to open the Eastern Ontario Football Association schedule. Only good goalwork by Metcalf kept the score from mounting higher. The O'Halloran team dropped a toughie in Trenton by a 5-3 score, though actually outplaying the homesters most of the route. A small pitch and high wind created a few flukes which went against the visitors, and that was that. Next Saturday aft here at three in King Edward Park, Kingston goes against O'Halloran's. The local commission plans to run five competitions for trophies this season besides scheduled play. Fee for cup competitions is five dollars with separate applications for each. Those holding trophies are asked to turn them in at the meeting next Monday eve at 7.45 in the "Y".

Light Opera Singer Charles Meakins Dies

GUELPH, May 7 (CP).—Charles James Meakins, an internationally-famous light opera singer at the turn of the century, died Friday after a lengthy illness. He was in his 70's.

Born in Hamilton where he received his musical education, Meakins went to New York as a young man and there met Edith Bradford, a Broadway actress who later became his wife.

She introduced him to producer Augustine Daley, who gave Meakins the role of Prince Danilo in "The Merry Widow," which ran for seven years in North America and Europe.

He also starred in "A Country Girl," brought to the United States from England. As Sgt. Malone in "Rose Marie," he played in a command performance attended by the Royal Family in London.

Both Coaches Claim They're Robbed

By JIM BASTABLE.

TORONTO, May 7 (CP). — Two hockey coaches, one cool and the other fiery, piloted their clubs to a gruelling 4-4 overtime draw Saturday and then said: "we were robbed."

The players were too tired to say anything.

The dressing-room comment came from easy-going Hector (Toe) Blake and Chippy Johnny O'Flaherty just after Valleyfield Braves and Toronto St. Michael's Monarchs fought to a 4-4 tie in the third game of their Alexander Cup finals.

The best-of-seven series now stands at 1-1, with one game tied. Fourth game will be played here Tuesday night, with the fifth slated for the Montreal Forum on Thursday. The remaining games, if necessary, will be played in Toronto.

Valleyfield won the first game 4-1 in Montreal and lost the next also by 4-1, in Toronto.

Praises Goalie

O'Flaherty, playing-coach of the powerful Monarchs, had praise for his big netminder, Phil Hughes, who once again turned in a spectacular performance. However, he figured his speedy forwards should have got past the Braves' rock-like defence.

"We were robbed on some shots," he commented.

Said Blake:

"My defencemen were tops. They played a good game. We should have beaten Hughes on at least two more shots. . ."

Monarchs, pre-series favorites, were forced to come from behind three times to gain the tie. The teams were stalemated 2-2 at the end of the first period, Valleyfield connected for the only goal of the second and then Monarchs outscored the Quebec champions 2-1 in the final.

Jack Meldrum, a big right-winger who hails from Edmonton, tallied two goals for Monarchs. Ken Watson and Eddie Mulligan got the others.

Larry Kwong was the big gun for Braves. He scored two goals, while Don Menzies and Andre Corriveau came up with singles.

Referees Hap Shouldice and Stan Pratt, both of Ottawa, handed out only 10 penalties—seven of them coming in the second period.

One of the penalties was a match misconduct to Johnny Ubriaco, a stocky little centre from Sault Ste. Marie who likes to mix it up. Ubriaco was banished from the game in the second period when he argued too strenuously over a minor penalty.

Hughes, one of the greatest amateur netminders in Canada, handled a total of 31 shots, 18 of them coming in the third period. Paul Leclerc kicked out 26, most of them labelled.

Crescents Quit Lacrosse League

TORONTO, May 7 (CP). — Owen Sound Crescents, 1950 Canadian lacrosse champions, have dropped from the Ontario Lacrosse Association's senior league this year, Chuck Rowan, secretary of the Ontario Association, announced Sunday.

Rowan said he has been notified by Harold Hindman, secretary of the Owen Sound club, that the Mann Cup holders will fold for the 1951 season.

Reason for the Crescents' decision, Rowan said, was the situation left by the resignation of the chairman and two members of the Owen Sound Arena Commission in a dispute over the use of proceeds from the Allan Cup hockey finals between Owen Sound Mercurys and Fort Frances Canadians. The commission positions have not been filled.

The Crescents defeated New Westminster (B.C.) in seven games last year to take the Mann Cup.

Rowan said the OLA senior league will continue a 30-game schedule among seven remaining teams starting May 18.

Hints On Sports

By FRED MAYBEE

Thus far we have dealt briefly with the duties and requirements of the catcher and pitcher in baseball but have said little about the other positions.

So tonight we will start to move around to the other positions which are important as well, because a ball team has nine men afield and each plays his part. First-base for a start.

Height is a valuable asset at first-base so if you are a fairly tall boy with a sure pair of hands, try this position. Thrown balls come to first in all directions so a good reach is essential and the baseman must be able to hold ball thrown to him regardless of whether they are high, wide or in the dirt. A momentary fumble may enable the runner to reach the base in safety with what could turn out to be the winning run.

If you are also a left-hander your chances of becoming a star first-baseman are good because it is generally conceded that southpaws have an advantage there just as right-handers have at third in throwing to the other sacks. However, while a left-hander can't get by at third at all, the majority of first-basemen throw right because left-handers are scarce and the difference doesn't count so much at first-base. But it is a help.

When an infielder goes after a grounder, prepare to retire the batter by running to your base to catch the ball thrown to you by your team-mate. If the ball reaches you ahead of the runner and you are touching the base at the time, the runner is out or if you touch him with the ball before he reaches first, he is out. If the umpire rules him safe it is because in his opinion the runner equalled or beat the throw to the base.

When you field a grounder, your pitcher or your second-baseman should cover your base if the play takes you away too far. Practice this with them.

Next installment: Playing Second Base.

Derby Winner Count Turf Hits His Stride

By KYLE VANCE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7 (AP). —The brilliance of a big-hearted bay horse that came upheralded to Derbytown and won the admiration of 100,000 race-goers remained the chief topic of conversation at Churchill Downs today.

But sharing in the talk of Count Turf's great victory in the 77th Kentucky Derby Saturday was a mild controversy centred around the dust storm churned up by the 20-horse charge.

Everybody agreed the colt — whose father, Count Fleet, and grandfather, Reigh Count, won other Derbies—had raced with too much inconsistency in early races to show promise of becoming a great champion.

His supporters suggest, however, that Count Turf may be just now rounding into his real form. He didn't show a weakness in his four-length Derby victory, the richest in history with a gross value of $126,100.

And on top of that, he came out of the race fresher than any Derby winner in many a year. He was frisky when he was shipped Sunday to Jamaica for a crack at some of the stakes—including the Belmont — at that track.

Didn't Have Faith

He will have to skip the Preakness, one gem of racing's triple crown. Jack Amile, New York cafe and real estate man, didn't think enough of his horse to nominate him for the Maryland classic.

But Amiel's lack of confidence in his colt at nomination time was matched by other owners. Not one of the first five finishers in the Derby is eligible for the Preakness.

They are Royal Mustang, the second Derby horse; Ruhe, third; Phil D., fourth, and Fanfare, fifth.

The condition of the Derby track found several critics. The dust thrown up by the front runners almost obscured the tailenders all the way around the Derby's mile and a quarter. The track hadn't been sprinkled before the big race.

Track superintendent Tom Young said threatening clouds caused him to reconsider a plan to sprinkle the track.

Barrie Flyers Knock Off Winnipeg Monarchs 4-3

By AL VICKERY.

BRANDON, Man., May 7 (CP) —"Three down and one to go," was the chant of Barrie Flyers after knocking off Winnipeg Monarchs 4-3 Saturday night for their third successive win in the Dominion junior hockey final.

Fourth and what could be the final contest of the best-of-seven Memorial Cup series will be played at Winnipeg tonight.

After being bounced by identical 5-1 scores in the first two games, Monarchs made a spirited bid Saturday to prolong the series to at least five games. However, Barrie was not to be denied and won the contest on Real Chevrefils' third-period goal.

Other Flyer goal-getters were Leo Labine, Bill Hagan and Don Emms. Team captain Elliott Chorley paced the Regals with two goals and set up linemate Jim Zarie for the other.

Solid Performance

Barrie goalkeeper Lorne Howes who hadn't been tested too hard in the first two games, turned in a solid performance, especially in the third period when Monarchs were battling for the equalizer. At the other end, Don Collins baffled the high-scoring Flyers on numerous difficult plays but let two soft goals get by, including the second and winning markers.

The eastern champions, who outshot Monarchs 33-27, held a 2-1 margin at the end of the first period. Winnipeg scored two straight goals in the second period to take the lead for the first time in the series, but Barrie evened the score before the session ended. Checrefils settled the issue in the last frame.

Fifteen penalties—eight to Barrie—were handed out during the rugged contest, including majors to Monarchs' Blair Mitchell and Flyers' Jackie White for fighting in the last period.

Royals Divide Twin Bill With Ottawa

By The Associated Press.

Rickey sold pitcher Harry Taylor for $75,000. A pawn in the deal was pitcher Bob Alexander of the Sox' Louisville American Association farm.

Alexander, with a 3-1 record turned in his third victory Sunday as the Royals split a doubleheader with Ottawa Giants before 19,524 fans in Montreal. The big righthander pitched Royals to a 5-2 six-hit 0 victory in the opener. Dutch Mele spoiled his shutout with a two-run homer in the ninth.

Ottawa took the nightcap 6-0 with George Heller and Alex Konikowski teaming up to blank the Royals on four hits. Konikowski took over in the third with the bases loaded and one out and went on to gain his first victory. Catcher Neal Watlington's two-run homer in the fifth clinched the decision.

Syracuse Chiefs maintained their ½-game lead over the Royals by dividing a doubleheader with Springfield Cubs. Syracuse won the opener 5-4 but lost the finale 7-6.

Jack Robinson went all the way to post his fourth victory without a loss in the first game. The Chiefs won the second in the last inning on Fred Richards' infield hit with the bases loaded.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bisons also divided a twin bill. The Bisons won the opener 5-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Rudy Minarcin. Frank Colman's pinch homer spoiled his shutout.

Toronto captured the windup 8-6 with veteran Les Fleming pacing the drive with three singles and a home run.

Rochester Red Wings took both ends of a double-header from Baltimore Orioles 11-7 and 9-7. Nippy Jones and Johnny Bucha starred in the opener. Jones drove in four runs on as many hits and Bucha banged out five safeties.

Johnny Blatnik, who homered in the opener, provided Rochester with its winning margin in the nightcap with a two-run homer in the seventh. Russ Derry also homered for the Wings.

First No-Hitter Of Year Scored By Pirate Pitcher

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The toast of the baseball world today is Cliff Chambers, a lukewarm southpaw pitcher whose only previous claim to fame was his ability to throw a "duster" as expertly as the next.

Chambers made baseball history Sunday when he hurled a no-hit, no-run game, a feat no other Pittsburgh pitcher has been able to accomplish in the city's long tenure in the National League.

The no-hitter was the first fashioned in the majors since Vern Bickford of Boston's Braves did it against Brooklyn in a night game Aug. 11, 1950.

Chambers handcuffed the Braves 3-0 in the second game of a doubleheader after Warren Spahn blanked the Pirates 6-0 on eight hits in the opener.

Chambers walked eight, but he was deadly in the clutches and only one Boston runner reached third. That was in the sixth when the no-hitter was in deepest danger. With two out, Bob Elliott sent a long smash to right centre but the fleet-footed Gus Bell made a catch over his head. Only one other ball was hit hard enough to jeopardize the no-hitter. That came in the ninth when Walker Cooper blasted a pitch to deep centre. George Metkovich hauled it in near the 390-foot sign.

Hectic Sunday

The no-hitter overshadowed a hectic Sunday that featured six doubleheaders, 18 home runs, three extra-inning games, and 21 walks in one game.

The first-place St. Louis Cardinals thumped the Dodgers 11-7 despite a grand-slam home run by Brooklyn's Pee Wee Reese. After blowing a 5-0 lead, the Cards bounced back with six runs in the eighth to overcome a 7-5 Brooklyn edge.

Philadelphia and Chicago split a doubleheader. The Phils won the opener 5-4 and the Cubs took the 10-inning nightcap 9-7. A two-run double by Granny Hamner featured a four-run uprising in the sixth to give Bubba Church his second Philadelphia victory. The Cubs clubbed Robin Roberts and Bob Miller for 17 hits in the finale. Triples by Woody Burgess and Bob Ramazzotti produced the winning runs in the 10th.

New York's Giants and Cincinnati also divided a twin bill. Virgil Stallcup's 10th-inning homer gave the Reds a 4-3 victory in the opener. The Giants took the nightcap 8-5 on Hank Thompson's three-run four-bagger in the first inning.

New York Yankees whipped the Tigers 11-6 for their eighth straight victory and increased their American League lead to two games.

Rooky Mickey Mantle led the 12-hit Yankee assault with three hits and three runs batted in.

Divide Twin Bill

Washington and Cleveland split a doubleheader. Julio Moreno pitched the Indians to an 8-7 seven-hit victory in his first start of the season. Bob Chakales won a 4-2 rookie duel from Washington's Bob Ross in the second game. Lou Brissie, charged with the Indians' first-game loss, came to Chakales' rescue in the ninth, retiring three men in order with the tying runs on the bases.

Chicago's White Sox swept two games from the Athletics 4-1 and 8-3. Ken Holcome won a five-hitter in the opener. Four Philly hurlers issued 15 walks to make it easy for Chicago in the second game. The A's received six walks.

Ted Williams' home run in the 10th gave Boston Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Browns but St. Louis came back to win the second game 8-2. Eight-hit pitching by Al Widmar and a three-run homer by catcher Sherman Lollar gave the Browns the split.

POPULAR PARKS

During the nine-month period ending Dec. 31, 1950, visitors to Canada's national and historic parks numbered 1,900,343, a record total.

Canadians Take Fifth Game 6-4 Lead In Series

OWEN SOUND, May 7 (CP).—For 35 minutes Saturday night Owen Sound Mercurys appeared to be on the road to victory in the fifth game of the Allan Cup final series.

Then, in the space of 60 seconds, the whole picture changed and Fort Frances Canadians demonstrated with lightning speed their ability to come from behind.

During that 60 seconds—from 15:15 to 16:15 of the second period—Canadians slammed in three goals, a spurt that marked the turning point in the game and inspired them to a 6-4 overtime victory.

The win, an important one in the best-of-seven series, gave Fort Frances a 3-2 lead in games.

Tommy Burlington, veteran Owen Sound centre, summed up the Saturday night game when he said afterwards:

"When you lose a two-goal lead in play-off hockey, you don't deserve to win."

He was referring to the 2-0 lead Mercurys built up in the first period on goals by Bob Markle and Jack Ingoldsby.

Demarco Wins Player Award

NEW YORK, May 7 (CP). — Ab Demarco, veteran centre with Buffalo Bisons, has been chosen the American Hockey League's most valuable player.

The North Bay star who has been playing pro hockey since 1938, received 27 of a possible 45 points. The choice, on a 5-3-1 point basis, was made by the circuit's press and radio.

Demarco, who will be 35 on Thursday, led the league in scoring with 37 goals and 76 assists for 113 points in 64 games—just five points short of the all-time league mark of 118 set by Carl Liscombe with Providence in the 1947-1948 season.

Demarco's selection as the most valuable player brought him the Leslie Cunningham Trophy and a $300 cash bonus. He has received $300 for being the top scorer and another $300 for being picked on the all-star team.

Cincinnati Player Adds New Twist

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP). — Connie Ryan, Cincinnati second-baseman, added a fresh twist to the old hidden ball trick Sunday against the New York Giants.

In the 10th inning of the first game at the Polo Grounds, the Giants' Whitey Lockman reached second with the potential tying run on a single and sacrifice.

After the sacrifice play, Ryan returned to the bag and said:

"Say, Whitey, would you mind stepping off for a minute. I want to straighten out the bag."

Whitey obliged. Ryan tagged him with the hidden ball

Alan Hale's Wife Returns To Act In Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (AP)—What does a woman do when her husband dies after she has spent most of her life in the shadow of his fame?

Mrs. Alan Hale is returning to acting after an absence of 30 years.

The famed character actor died last year, leaving his widow well endowed for the rest of her life.

But a family friend, showed Mrs. Hale a book with a picture of Mrs. Hale as a child stage star.

"It would be a shame to deny such talent to the public," he jested.

Mrs. Hale took the hint. She went to Warner Brothers, where her husband had worked for 14 years, and landed a role in "As Time Goes By," using her professional name of Gretchen Hartman.

Now she has other deals on the fire and is enthused about the reflowering of her acting career.

Big Thrill

"It was a big thrill to get started again," she said. "Nervous? Not much. It's just like riding a bicycle. Once you get your balance you can go right along."

Mrs. Hale's acting career started 40 years ago. She was a child actress on the stage and then drifted into the movies.

Three years later she met her husband.

An actor came up to her on the set and started to tell her a saucy story.

"What makes you think you can tell me that kind of story?" she protested. A few weeks later, he returned and said, "do you want to hear the end of the story now?" She answered she might as well.

The story led to a date and the date led to marriage three months later. She was 16 and her mother objected strenuously. The mother wouldn't speak to Hale for many years afterward.

Greater Air Opposition

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Thomas K. Finletter, Air Force Secretary, said Sunday night "very important" additions to Communist air potential in Korea threaten complete Allied air superiority. The Communists have been reported massing an air force in Manchuria but as yet have not thrown it fully into battle. American planes blasting at Red troops and supplies usually have little aerial opposition—a big help to the Allies.

Name 12 Delegates

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—The AFL and CIO each named 12 delegates Sunday to attend the Second World Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in Milan, Italy, July 4. The ICFTU was set up after a number of anti-Communist trade unions withdrew from the World Federation of Trade Unions in early 1949.

Re-Elected President

STRASBOURG, France, May 7 (AP) — Paul-Henri Spaak, of Belgium, a pillar in the movement for European unity, was re-elected president of the Council of Europe's Consultative Assembly Saturday. It is his third term and he was unopposed.

Professor Dies

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C., May 7 (AP) — Dr. Herbert Adolphus Miller, 75 retired sociology professor noted for his studies of the post-war problems of small countries, died Sunday in hospital. He taught sociology for 48 years at various American colleges and universities.

Train Death Inquest Said Unlikely

Victoria Crown Says No Eyewitnesses Saw Fatal Accident

Lorne W. Jordan, KC, crown attorney for Victoria county, said today that an inquest into the death of Robert James Blackwood, 26, of 188 Rubidge St., is unlikely. Mr. Blackwood was killed 1.45 a.m. Saturday when his 1929-model car crashed into the side of a Lindsay-Belleville freight train, two miles east of Omemee.

The car was dragged 400 feet down the tracks and burst into flame. Mr. Blackwood was so badly burned that his father-in-law, Roland Johnston of the same address, was only able to identify him by a ring and wrist watch he was wearing at the time.

Mr. Jordan explained that there were no eyewitnesses to the fatality, and it has been established that the wigwag and flasher light were both operating when the accident occurred.

Returning To City

Mr. Blackwood was returning to Peterborough after driving a friend home to Lindsay. For some reason he did not see the train until he was almost on top of it. Skidmarks indicate he made a last-moment attempt to turn the car but was unable to avoid a collision.

He crashed into the side of the train, and the vehicle was dragged down the tracks, almost fused to the 25th box car on the long freight.

Mr. Blackwood was employed at the Peterborough Canoe Co. and was a member of the United church.

The funeral is 2 p.m. to day at the Nisbett funeral home, the Rev. H. G. Douglas Knox United church officiating. Burial wil be in Little Lake cemetery.

Pallbearers are William Reynolds, Raymond Bannon, Dalton Woods, Percy Dunford, Leo Pearson, and George Stevens.

A KISS FOR NORMAN BRADLEY, or a sound licking, was given to the vice-president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association by a caged deer at the Outdoor Sportsmen's Show on Saturday evening. Jaycees Win 8 Awards At Kingston

Doug Vaisey Named Vice-President For Peterborough

Peterborough Jaycees swept the field in Junior Chamber project activities at the Region VI Convention at Kingston Saturday and Sunday. Eleven entries were made for outstanding activities, and eight awards were won by the Peterborough unit.

Awards were made for the Get - Out - The - Vote campaign, tourist bureau project, retail X-ray survey, membership drive, Good Government Week, Canadian municipal affairs study group Jaycees Journal unit bulletin and the most oustanding single project, civic affairs.

At the Civic Affairs clinic, operated by the Peterborough delegates, a tape-recording broadcast of an actual study group session and one radio broadcast featuring "Good Government Week" were presented. A recommendation from the convention requested that the Peterborough clinic be presented as a portion of the civic affairs clinic at the National Convention in Quebec City, May 21, 22 and 23.

Distinctive dress of the Peterborough delegates were plaid shirts, hats and the souvenirs taken to Kingston from Peterborough. More than 2,500 book matches were distributed, copies of the Industrial Review, brochures from Peterborough industries, and souvenir paddles from the Peterborough Canoe Company.

Winner of the Region VI oratorical contest was Orville Kerr, Ottawa Junior Board of Trade. Mr. Kerr will compete in the national contest.

Delegates from Peterborough were Jack Moore, regional vice-presidents, Gerry Grady, Peterborough president, and Douglas Vaisey, past president. Mrs. Pat Vaisey accompanied the delegates.

In the region election for the 1951-52 term Doug. Vaisey was elected vice-president for the Peterborough area.

Other officers elected were Fred Spratt, president, (Ottawa); Stan Burton, vice-president, (Kingston); and Alf. Blow, vice-president, (Arnprior).

Peterborough delegates presented letters of greeting from Mayor M. J. Swanston to the Kingston Mayor, from P. D. Scollard, Chamber of Commerce and James M. Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, for their counterparts at Kingston.

Police Seize Liquor In Club Raid

Find Beer, Liquor Bottles On Floor; Proprietor Charged

City police Saturday night raided the Club Aragon on Highway 7 just inside the east limits of the city and seized 19 liquor and beer bottles.

Proprietor Jack Wineberg will be charged with having liquor in an illegal place. Constable Reg. McMillan reported that he seized two bottles of liquor from a filing cabinet in the kitchen of the dance hall.

Five police officers headed by Patrol Sergeant Gordon Trennum drove up to the front of the hall and walked in. They checked the tables around the dance floor and found several bottles under tables of patrons. Most of the bottles were found against the north wall.

Bottles of all sizes contained whisky, rum and gin. Some were empty, but most had some liquor in them. The beer bottles were mostly empty.

Put Bottles On Floor

Constable Douglas Stark reported that he found three bottles on the floor. A couple sitting on the other side of the post where the bottles were, said they had just arrived and had asked the waiter to put the bottles on the floor.

Constable William G. Scott found two bottles of liquor under one table, but the only man who was sitting at the table said the bottles didn't belong to him. The rest of the party was missing.

Ten bottles of liquor and beer were picked up along the north wall of the building.

Other police officers who took part in the raid, were Harold Andrew and Dennis Traynor.

Apparently the dancers didn't take the raid too seriously nor felt any ill will toward the officers who were leaving with their liquor, or at least part of it. As the officers were walking out the door, the men and women sang "So Long, It's Been Good to Know You."

Recruiting Office Planned For 27th Infantry Brigade

While the recruiting office will not be open until Tuesday morning, applications were being received today at the armories for Canada's 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade group which will be part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization force. After the announcement was made that recruiting for the brigade would be conducted by the reserve fore units several former World War Two veterans went to the armouries to enlist.

Today as the office was being set up by the recruiting officer, Capt. Frank Frape, Royal Canadian Regiment and presently attached to the 50th HAA Regiment (RF), RCA, two men applied for the army: Herbert Charles Bowen, 128 Hazlitt St., and Donald J. Edwards, 719 Walkerfield Ave., both members of the 50th Regiment. Capt. Frape arranged to send them to the No. 5 Personnel Depot, Kingston, on Tuesday for the M-test and medical examination.

Mr. Bowen served in World War Two as a sergeant with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders. He chose to enlist in the new force as a career soldier and if he passes the necessary requirements will serve with the 48th Highlanders. Mr. Edwards has no former war record and plans to join the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

The recruiting office at the armouries is under the commanding officer of the 50th Regiment, Lt.-Col. M. E. Clarke.

For this force the men must be between 17 and 40 years and if a tradesman up to 45 years and be willing to serve anywhere. Married men will be accepted. The term of enlistment is three years or as a career soldier.

The Canadian Army this time offers a variety of units and branches to join including 15 infantry, 10 armor, six artillery, three engineer units as well as the signal, service, medical ordnance, provost and intelligence groups.

Home Destroyed In Haliburton

HALIBURTON, May 7 — Fire stroyed the farm home of Mrs. Laura Brohm southewest of Haliburton on the Glenmorgan Road. The house was tenated by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carroll, who, having lit a fire in the stove, set off into the nearby woods to collect some sprigs of pussy willows. Happening to glance back they saw clouds of smoke pouring from the roof.

The house was a well-built frame structure and quickly fell prey to the flames. The high wind added to speed with which the fire gained headway. The Haliburton fire brigdae responded promptly but the fire was already beyond control.

The Carroll family lost everything they owned and it is reported they carried no insurance on their household goods. The building was fully insured by Mrs. Brohm.

The house had been completely renovated two years ago.

Mrs. Carroll's mother has provided shelter in her home for the family.

Truck Strikes Car Driver Fails To Stop

A Toronto youth will probably be charged with careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident after a collision Saturday night with the car of a Bethany resident.

Ross Shackleton, 24, McGill St., Toronto, is alleged to have run into the rear of Orloe Wright's car as the two vehicles were passing through Bethany on Highway 7A. Shackleton, driving a half-ton pickup truck, is then said to have continued along the highway where he plowed into the right ditch, two miles west of the village.

Police say the truck radiator was so badly damaged that Shackleton could not have gone much farther.

Neither Shackleton nor Wright, a Bethany barber, was injured. The left rear fender of Wright's car was badly smashed.

OPP Corporal A. L. Kitching of Bowmanville investigated.

Goss Bulldogs Win At Ottawa

Two English bulldogs, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Goss, Bewdley, have done well in shows held in Ottawa and Hull.

Lady Ace, a two-year old female, was winning dog in the two Ottawa shows and Hull show and Sunni Boy, seven-month old puppy, was declared best reserve winner at the same shows. The two animals which are being toured by Mrs. Goss will be shown next in Guelph and Barrie and other shows that are following in quick succession.

Elmer Rowe Wins Boat And Motor

The Outdoor Sportsmen's Show was brought to a successful conclusion on Saturday evening with the announcement of the winner of the outboard motor and boat. Elmer Rowe, Millbrook. The bicycle went to C. L. Upper, Hopkins Ave., and a fishing outfit, valued at $50, to A. Semel, 244 O'Carroll Ave. Although the winning numbers of the air-dropped lucky coupons were announced, there were no claimants at the show.

Officials of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Asociation, sponsors of the show, say that an estimated 6,000 attended, an increase of 2,000 over last year.

Animals of the wildlife exhibit were moved back on Sunday to their cages and pens at the Filtration Zoo. A great many of the booths were dismantled and the Arena will be entirely cleared by tonight.

"It was a great deal of work but worth it," said chairman Don Smedmore. "It gives us something bigger and better to shoot at next spring."

Alderville Man Badly Burned

ROSENEATH, May 7—(ENS)—Little hope is held for the recovery of Frank Grey, 59, a Mississaugi Indian of the Alderville reserve, who is employed in Toronto. Grey was critically burned about the head, body and arms early Saturday, when he fell asleep and a lighted cigaret fell out of his mouth onto the bed clothes.

One of the rescuers, who asked that his name be withheld, said Grey was a "human torch" in a bedroom filled with smoke.

Best Buyers In World Come To Canada, Gardiner Says

CAMPBELLFORD, May 7. (ENS)—Dominion Minister of Agriculture the Rt. Hon. James Gardiner addressed a crowd of more than 300 in the Masonic Temple here Friday evening, on the occasion of the Campbellford's Rotary Club's annual Farmers' night. Scores more heard his address over loud speakers as they sat in cars parked outside the hall. The capacity audience was believed to have been the largest attendance the club has ever had on this occasion.

Mr. Gardiner outlined the many problems in relation to the markets for butter, cheese and bacon. "We only seek markets for two of our many products, wheat and beef," he said.

Canada has a surplus of these two commodities. "We cultivate the best buyers in the world, the United States and Great Britain," he said. "Canadian people use about 23.7 pounds of butter per capita. It costs more to produce a pound of butter in Canada than in any other country in the world.

"We have to protect the producers," he said. "During the war it was profitable for the government to handle butter, and the reason the price jumped from 64c to 84c was due to the fact that the government stock ran out and speculators ruled the market. The government worked on a basis of a two-cent mark-up. The price has now been set for a two-year period."

Highest Cheese Price

In regard to cheese, Mr. Gardiner said British buyers make their own arrangements with Canadian producers and pay Canada the highest price for cheese. Speaking of supplying world markets with Canadian dairy products, Mr. Gardiner said British purchases of Canadian dairy products were usually made 'in bulk', with Britain contracting to purchase a specified quantity at a specified price. This price was sometimes subject to revision on long term contracts. Canadians use only about 4.6 pounds of cheese per capita, while in Europe about 16 pounds are consumed.

The speaker said it was most necessary to have the government set up controls for equitable distribution of commodities during war time.

Mr. Gardiner told of his visit to the king and queen some time ago, and told of the games the royal family played. He said he was proud to be a part of an empire, of which people such as this were at the head. Speaking of the pleasures of the royal family, Mr. Gardiner said that family activities at Sandringham or Buckingham palace were about the same as any family in any small town or city in the Commonwealth.

Honorable Wm. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare spoke to the gathering. Rt. Hon. James Gardiner was introduced by Dr. Fred G. Robertson, M.P. (L. North) who told of the activities of the guest, and the record of service he had established not only as Minister of Agriculture, but also as premier of Saskatchewan.

Arthur K. Loucks, president of the Campbellford Rotary Club thanked the speaker, and presented Mr. Gardiner with a plaque as a memento of his visit to Campbellford.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

ELEVEN DIVORCE CASES

The non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court adjourned late Friday with Justice R. W. Treleaven presiding. The court list showed 28 actions entered for trial. Ten decrees nisi were granted and judgment was reserved on another divorce case.

HEDGE CATCHES FIRE.

A hedge, the property of the Conger Coal Co., Reid and Edinburgh Sts., was slightly damaged by fire Saturday night. Flames spread from burning rubbish in the vacant lot there and ignited part of the hedge. Firemen used a couple of handpumps to quell the blaze.

CALL SPECIAL SESSION

A special session of the county council has been called for May 14. At that time council will decide what to do with the 100,000 board feet (log measure) of timber that was cut there this winter. It may be sold either in log form or sawn into lumber. A fast decision is considered necessary to avoid deterioration of the timber.

SMOKE BUT NO FIRE.

When passersby saw thick black smoke in the Borden Co. building, Charlotte St., early Sunday night, they thought they were going to see a spectacular blaze. However, they were disappointed. The local firemen, using an auxiliary oxygen supply, located the source of the trouble: compressor belts on the refrigerator unit in the basement had burned out. There was no damage to the ice cream supply which was sealed off from the smoke in another part of the building.

OFFICE WORKERS BACK

CGE office workers were back on the job today and joint negotiations with the company resumed at 10 a.m. The office workers were impatient with the delay in arriving at a contract agreement with their bargaining agent—Local 599, IUE (CIO-CCL) in Peterborough, and Local 567, Davenport works. They walked off the job Wednesday afternoon in Peterborough and Thursday afternoon the Davenport employees followed suit. For this they were suspended one day by the company.

City Man Witnesses Opening Parade Of British Festival

John Beggs, 166 Hunter St., east an employee of the Quaker Oats Company, was a spectator of the spectacular parade Thursday opening this year's Festival of Britain.

"I had a stand on Ludgate Hill," he wrote on Thursday, May 3; "could see up to the steps of St. Paul's one way, and almost to the Strand the other. Nothing but a solid mass of humanity.

"No wonder Britons are proud of their traditions. The deep impressiveness of it all seems to catch the sentiments; the cheering, the crowds, the splashes of color, the air of splendor, the galloping of horsemen, the salute of guns and chiming of bells, the smartness of the Guards! It was a wonderful sight.

"You have to see the devastation around St. Paul's and other parts of Britain to understand what the people suffered and endured during the war. All around St. Paul's has been destroyed; only ruined buildings, most of them being cleaned up; some lovely gardens have been planted."

Comments on Letters

Mr. and Mrs. Beggs have been more than three weeks in London and 10 days in Scotland. He sends several comments on letters he had read in the Examiner, with his own experiences in the same circumstances.

"I have not met with any overbearing officialdom; that is, civil servants under the Labor government. The procedure through the customs is facilitated by all kinds of information. As for sitting or having picnics in public parks, that is a common thing. There are of course places where signs are up "Please Keep Off the Grass," and "Dogs Must be Kept on Leash"; but you have only to see these places to appreciate their beauty and upkeep.

"We have visited all the outstanding parks and commons both in and out of the City of London. Even at Kew Gardens, Greenwich Park, Hyde Park, St. James Palace Park, and many others, we never met with any officialdom.

"In fact I have met with more courtesy in London and elsewhere in England than I have experienced in any other city."

Support Government

Mr. Beggs says he finds the people to be behind the Labor government. "I had an argument with a very strong Tory, and even he conceded that bad as things are just now, he did not think any government could do better, except a coalition of Labor and Conservatives.

"For those English who don't like the Canadian way of life I would say give it a fair trial. (It's the small gear that stands the greatest strain). There are apartments in England and Scotland, as well as in Peterborough, where you can't rent if you have children or a dog."

Test New Process To Obtain Bigger Newsprint Supplies

LONDON (CP) Raw materials which hitherto have gone to waste are to be used to meet Britain's critical shortage of newsprint.

W. J. Curtis-Willson, president of the Newspaper Society, in making this disclosure at the annual meeting of the organization, said a new process had been developed for the production of pulp for newsprint and other kinds of paper. The new source of supply would become available this summer. He did not disclose details.

"It will only be a trickle, but behind the venture are tremendously powerful concerns," Mr. Curtis-Willson said. "And, if as I firmly believe, this trickle of pulp proves that we can make newsprint from raw materials at present untapped, we shall have embarked upon a new era for our newspapers."

He warned that the price of imported newsprint would continue to rise and at £60 (about $180) a ton many of the smaller newspapers would pass out of existence.

"That is what it means unless we come to their rescue," he added.

Sources of Supply

Referring to world sources of supply, Mr. Curtis-Willson said annual production of newsprint came to about 9,000,000 tons. The United States with a population of some 160,000,000 took two-thirds. The other third was left to the 2,500,000,000 in the rest of the world to share out.

Lord Woolton, chairman of the Conservative party, and principal guest of the Society, deplored the current restrictions which had necessitated a drastic cut in the size of British newspapers.

"I do not believe it can be a good thing for the public life of this nation that there should be this severe restriction on the quantity of news now printed," Lord Woolton declared.

"There are some of us, at any rate, who are not very anxious to control you. Some of us think we have had a bellyfull of controls."

Lake Success To Vanish From News In Few Days

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 7 (AP)—The Lake Success date-line will disappear in a few days from the world press where it came to be synonomous with the United Nations.

The U.N. has almost finished the task of moving from the sprawling, converted factory building here to its glittering skyscraper headquarters in New York.

The final meetings will be held here May 18 when the commission on the status of women and the statistical commission wind up their spring sessions.

By early June, the last portion of the building will be turned back to the owner, the Sperry Gyroscope Company, to make room for its expanding defence production.

The surrender of the temporary headquarters wil mark the end of a dramatic epoch in diplomatic history. Through the improvised but impressive chambers of the U.N. walked many world figures—Molotov, Attlee, Vishinsky, Marshall, Gromyko, Malik, Austin, Vandenberg, Connally, Bevin, Bidault, Schuman, Cadogan. Jebb, Romulo, Spaak and Pearson.

500 Sessions

The Security Council held more than 500 session, saw more than 40 Russian vetoes. The big 60-member committees of the General Assembly transacted most of the assembly business at Lake Success.

The world organization moved into the Lake Success headquarters August 15, 1946. It began moving its 3,200 employees away from the temporary headquarters into the permanent New York buildings just four years later, in August, 1950.

The only headquarters building completed so far is the 39-storey secretariat skyscraper. The meeting area will be ready by Aug. 1, officials say. The Assembly chamber will be completed by August, 1952.

Between the final meetings at Lake Success and the completion of the meeting area, most meetings will be held at Flushing Meadows in the building which the U.N. has borrowed from New York city for the plenary sessions of the General Assembly.

The 1951 session of the Assembly will be held in Paris.

War Will Hit Civilians Hard

AYLMER, Que., May 7 (CP)—If total war comes the front line will be on the lawn of every Canadian, Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, Canada's civil defence director, said Saturday.

"We have thrown away the fruits of victory in two wars," he said in an address at a VE-Day anniversary celebration.

"We have dissipated our only means of maintaining peace by disarmament. We feared and through fear we may be slain. The only bargaining power for peace is our armed forces. They must be brought to all possible strength. Our existence and our freedom is at stake.'

Unarmed forces of civilians also must be organized and equipped to minimize "the hammer blows that are sure to fall on our home front."

Two Missing Boys Returned To Home

MANIWAKI, Que., May 7 (CP)—Two young Maniwaki boys, Jean eJtte, 11, and Jean Guy Charbonneau, 13, objects of a widespread search in rugged Quebec hinterlands since April 27, were returned safely to their homes Saturday. Quebec provincial police said, however, they are still seeking two Indian trappers, Felix Henri and James Morin, both about 40, for questioning in connection with the young boys' disappearance.

According to the story told their parents, the boys met Henri and Morin on a Maniwaki street April 27. The two men were heading out on a muskrat-trapping trip into the Turtle Lake district, 13 miles west. They offered the boys $5 a day to go along and assist in the work.

Would Settle Rift

LONDON, May 7—(Reuters)—The Daily Mail today said that Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison should go to Washington without delay to clear up Anglo-American differences on Far Eastern policy. There was no immediate comment from Dan River officials, who Saturday turned down a plea from federal conciliation director Cyrus Ching that the wage dispute in the southern textile industry be submitted to a three-man cediation board.

Say Gloucesters Broke Offensive In Korea

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, May 7 (Reuters)—Intelligence reports suggested Sunday that one heroic, three-day stand by a British battalion—the famous 1st Royal Gloucerters here—dammed the flood of the Chinese offensive two weeks ago.

The Chinese were reported still licking their wounds and trying to rebuild the centrepiece of their attack—the forces which broke against the Gloucesters.

Between 500 and 600 men of the battalion are believed to have died fighting on that bloody battlefield south of the Imjin river. Only 40 or 50 got back.

But they stopped the Communists in their drive against Seoul believed by the United Nations staff to have been the prime objective of the Chinese offensive.

Cliff Chambers "just didn't notice" that he was fashioning a no-hitter in the nightcap of the Pittsburgh Pirates-Boston Braves doubleheader Sunday until the ninth inning rolled around.

His Pittsburgh teammates, however, sensed that he had it in the making even as early as the seventh—but they kept mum. They didn't want to excite him as he moved toward the first major league no-hitter since last Aug 11.

"It came to me as soon as I went out to pitch the ninth, especially after the Boston crowd cheered me when I singled in the eighth," he said in the dressing room.

Paper Plants Take Care Of Forest Supply

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Paper companies have the job of cutting down trees, but they also must see that new ones grow in their place.

Two of the vast enterprises operating in Canadian woodlands are Canadian International Paper Company and New Brunswick Internattional Paper Company, which lease an area almost as large as the province of Nova Scotia—13,000,000 acres—in the provinces of Quebec and New Brunswick.

They are responsible to the governments of these provinces, but recently they decided to make a more intimate report of their stewardship than that contained in official documens.

They have made this report in an illustrated booklet called "These Are Your Forests: A Report to the People of Canada," and they have made it through the eyes of a 15-year-old boy.

The boy is Raymond St. Louis, of Gatineau, Que., whose father works in the grinder mill of a newsprint plant. Raymond had never before been more than 35 miles from home, but for this report he travelled 1,500 miles through the woods.

Booklet's Story

Here are a few of the things he saw or learned, as now told in the booklet:

No tree is felled until a 10-year plan of operations for each particular area has been drawn up and approved by the provincial government concerned. The basic study for the Gatineau area in Quebec cost more than $500,000 to prepare. The company told Raymond:

"It's our job to see that no more wood is cut than will grow in any one year," and it added:

"Once a forest has passed its prime it goes to pieces if it is not harvested. Many standing trees are injured by falling trees so that they are an easy prey for insects. Seedlings are choked and menaced by the epidemics caused by disease in old trees." As the caption under one of the booklet's many pictures puts it:

"This mature stand of jackpine is ripe for harvesting. Once cropped it will be replaced by an even more valuable stand of spruce which nature has planted. The young spruce saplings are thick and strong. They will shoot up fast when the jack pines have been removed and they get air and light. Nature often plants a rotation in this way."

Deal With People

A company like International deals with people: office employees in swank city buildings; the men who cut down the trees; farmers and communities. Here are some items about them:

Farmers are being shown how to re-establish and manage profitable woodlots.

A man in the woods needs about 5,800 calories a day—twice that of an industrial worker. The day of salt pork, preserved meats and beans is gone. Instead, he may do his best, in a typical meal, on fruit juice, soup, two cold meats, two hot meats, salad, three vegetables, nine kinds of pies, molasses, syrup, jam, pickles, coffee, tea, milk. And:

"Every day is pay day. Woodsmen may ask for their pay at any time—and get it."

MODERN HELPER—Canada's vast forests today are managed with the help of airplanes. Here one watches for damage by wind, disease and insects.

FOREST KILLER—This ugly fellow is a spruce budworm, only three-quarters of an inch long, but a destructive fifth column in the Canadian forests. He and his fellows have destroyed billions of cubic feet of wood in the last 10 years. He is not having it all his own way, for, if you look closely, you will see a tiny white speck, which is a parasite which feeds on him, and is one weapon scientists are using against the budworm.

LEARNS OF FORESTS—Raymond St. Louis of Gatineau, Que., was chosen by Canadian International Paper Company to see, as a representative of Canadian boyhood, some of Canada's forest heritage. Here he looks at young growth, just his age, 15 years.

Find Englishman Makes Best Of Bagpipes

LONDON—(Reuters)—A spry little 77-year-old Londoner has been having a quiet laugh on the Scottish for many years.

He is Albert Henry Starck who in a little factory in north London makes that most Scottish of musical instruments—och aye, the bagpipes.

He does it with a chuckle, because he supplies many of the crack regimental Scottish bands, not just in Scotland, but all over the world. He's never been to Scotland himself, and hasn't a single Scot in his employ.

Starck was horrified at first he go into the bagpipe business. Bagpipes after dulcet flutes? But Ross prevailed, and soon the wail of the bagpipes was rising in London's foggy air.

Ross used the London-made pipes himself in more than one championship competition. He even introduced them into the band of the famous Scots Guards.

The fame of the Starck pipes spread to New Zealand, Australia, India and the United States. Starck also devised the Irish chromatic marching bagpipes, which have a true full scale enabling the Sons of Erin to render Queen Victoria is to blame for it. She picked up a love of bagpipes while visiting Balmoral; her Scotfish seat, and insisted on having pipers around her even in London.

One of these was the late William Ross. He suggested to Albert Henry's father, a flute-maker, that all their own beautiful folk songs on the pipes.

At 77 Albert Henry, the founder's son, still does a day's work in the factory in the grimy Camden Town district. One of his jobs is to test the pipes when they are completed. He can "up and gie them a blaw" as readily as any Scot.

When he is gone the business will be carried on by his son, Henry, now 41.

Fear Raw Material Shortage

GENEVA, May 7 (CP).—Grave concern over the future of the West European engineering industry owing to acute shortage of essential raw materials was expressed Sunday by officials of the UN Economic Commission for Europe.

A survey of European engineering published by the ECE said Europe must expand its exports if current imports are to be paid for. More rapid industrialization must be achieved.

But, the report added, unless more raw materials can be found, Europe, as a whole, would have to curtail engineering production. This industry makes more than 30 per cent of the continent's total overseas exports.

The survey said that Russia increased its industrial output by approximately 40 times between 1928 and 1950. It now has largest inventory of machine tools in the world outside the U.S.

Britain would be among the hardest hit by the shortage of materials, an official said, because the extremely high production rate already achieved could only be bettered by getting more materials.

In countries such as Italy and Belgium, full production capacity had not yet been reached, and production could be expanded by internal adjustment in distribution, the official said.

The survey said that, during 1949 and 1950, engineering exports from Western to Eastern Europe increased and received about 75 per cent of prewar level.

Commenting on this, Russel F. McLure, permanent U.S. delegate to the ECE, said that the volume of goods was small, representing less than five percent of total Western European exports.

"The shipments last year reflect the fulfillment of commitments made some time ago," he said, "Except for such commitments, the present flow of such goods from Western to Eastern Europe seems to be of small significance."

Deny Gasoline Being Sent From Hong Kong To Reds

HONG KONG, May 7 (Reuters) —A U.S. consular official said on Sunday Gen. MacArthur's allegation that Hong Kong is exporting gasoline to Communist China is "quite wrong."

British officials also denied the general's charges, made before a joint session of the senate's foreign relations and armed services committees in Washington Friday.

MacArthur read a list of exports alleged to have been sent to China from Hong Kong during February and March this year. He said it had been supplied by the U.S. consulate-general in Hong Kong.

A spokesman of this British colony's government said:

"We cannot understand Gen. MacArthur's astonishing statement, as quoted in the press, that Hong Kong has been giving 'substantial assistance' especially in gasoline supplies, to the Communists in Korea this year.

"The whole statement is a gross distortion of the fact, and as far as gasoline is concerned completely untrue."

Banned Since July

The spokesman said the export of gasoline from Hong Kong to Communist China had been banned since July 17, last year within less than a month after the outbreak of the Korean war.

He said no shipments of petroleum products, except small quantities of wax used for making candles, had left the colony for China since then.

"We know there is some smuggling but the government has made intensive efforts to stop this illicit trade."

The spokesman said that besides gasoline, the export of many other strategic materials and all warlike stores was prohibited. Unofficial sources said that the amount of smuggled gasoline entering China from Hong Kong at present is not enough to keep Canton city's buses going.

They said they understood that Russian gasoline is being sent by rail to Canton, in South China.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Lancaster. Stockdale-Hawkins Union

Narcissii banked with ferns formed the setting for a beautiful wedding in Mark Street United Church Saturday afternoon as Joanne Merlyn Hawkins, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Hawkins of Peterborough, became the bride of Gordon Francis Stockdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stockdale of RR 4, Peterborough, in a double ring ceremony.

The Rev. B. S. Marwood conducted the marriage ceremony and the music was played by organist, Mrs. Olive M. Searles. Miss Berdene Atchison was soloist. Before the ceremony she sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and during the signing of the register she sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white satin with lace yoke and lace-trimmed peplum and she wore a single strand of pearls. The shoulder length veil of embroidered net was caught in a bridal halo of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas.

Bridal attendants were Misses Doris and Marilyn Stockdale, sisters of the groom. They wore similarily styled frocks of faille taffeta with lace yokes, sleeves and gloves, in green and yellow and headbands of flowers in matching colors and carried nosegays of pink roses and sweet peas. Flower girl was Janie Harrison, who looked sweet in a frock of orchid embossed satin with matching headdress of net and lily of the valley. She also carried a nosegay of pink roses and sweet peas.

Groomsman was Mr. Cal Hawkins and ushers were Roger Wilson and Clinton Stockdale.

The reception was held in the Sunday school hall. The bride's mother received in a dress of powder blue crepe with matching hat and corsage of pink roses and sweet peas. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was also dressed in powder blue crepe and wore a black hat and a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

The couple left later on a motor trip to points east, Mrs. Stockdale wearing a navy suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

They will live in Smith township.

CGIT Girls Assist In Tea Room With Work Board

Peterborough Girls' Work Board annual spring tea was held Saturday afternoon at the YWCA. The members were favored with delightful weather which perhaps attracted some of their usual patrons to other activities, for the crowd was not as large as on previous occasions.

Miss Anna Edmondson, chairman of the Leaders' Council, was receiving, assisted by Miss Catherine Hodgens, past chairman, due to the absence of World Board chairman Miss Marion Pogue.

A feature of this tea is the music supplied by young pianists from the CGIT groups of the city. The girls playing were Geraldine and Margery Vinette, Betty Lapp, Lois Corner, Carol Garside, Ruth Hendren, Jane Ovens and Loreen Batley in duets and solos, Donna Brotherstone, Dianne Cochrane and Margaret Bowman. In charge of this entertainment was Mrs. Cyril Crowe, assisted by Mrs. E. DeNure.

Servers were also CGIT girls who looked very trim in middies and dark skirts. They were Eileen Armstrong, Marion Trethewy, Ann Gibson, Marina Turner, Joan Gillespie, Leona Jones, Lorraine Battley, Oryce McIlraith, Lou Ann Kempt, Jane Howden and Lenore Smedmore, with Miss Jean Smith in charge. Pouring tea was Lorraine Keeting with her mother, Mrs. P. S. Keeting, and Joan Naish, with her mother, Mrs. T. Naish.

A unique table setting simulated the scene around a May pole and it was made by Miss Edmondson and Mrs. Crowe.

Hostesses in the tea room were Mrs. W. Pratt, Miss M. Bowers, Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, Mrs. J. E. Spears, and Mrs. E. A. Outram was at the treasurer's table.

Mrs. H. T. Rehill convened the refreshments and was assisted in replenishing the plates by Mrs. M. Curtis.

Miss Ruth Curtis had charge of a candy table and CGIT girls helping were Patsy Morrow, Ruth Hendry, Eleanor Wells and Donna Moffatt.

Mrs. Eric McKinstry and Mrs. R. Woodcock attended the table of home baking.

Nurses Of The City Attend Services Of Re-Dedication

The annual Nurses' National Memorial services which commemorate the nurses who lost their lives in World Wars I and II are also a re-dedication service for the nurses who attend. They are held each year on the first Sunday of May.

The Rev. J. T. Coughlan in his sermon to the Roman Catholic nurses, in the St. Joseph's Hospital chapel, reminded the nurses that "the word 'dedicate' was originally, and is still used today, when a church is given over to the service of God and that of course is the meaning of this ceremony tonight. It is the offering to God of all your services in your chosen career.

"That there is need for such a ceremony each year everyone will admit, in order to be reminded that the daily life of a nurse must be guided by God-given rules and not alone, by human principles handed down by the great men and women of your particular profession."

Service for the Protestant nurses was at St. Luke's Anglican Church where the rector, the Rev. W. J. Gilling, stressed "Dedication of ourselves to God and the cause of peace."

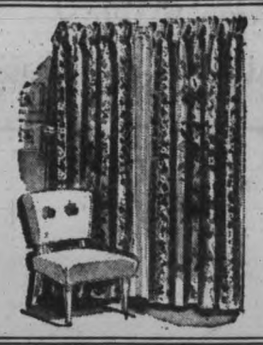
"Peace is not a normal condition which is at times interrupted by war" he said. "War is the thing that happens of itself if no effective steps for its prevention are taken. Peace needs to be made and, says the New Testament, "Blessed are the Peacemakers."

Peace, moreover, must be seen, not as a mere absence of fighting, but as the goal of educational and political effort, as a positive and dynamic force. Peace as the goal of our striving, that peace, the makers of which are blessed, must be nothing less than goodwill effectively maintained against every form of greed and every form of hatred.

"With such a goal before us there will be a demand for great sacrifice, though not as great as made by those whose memory we today honor," Mr. Gilling warned. "We must be prepared to serve when called upon; we must accept and impart the conviction that true freedom lives not in the atmosphere of claims and expectations but in that of duties and responsibilities.

"If democracy is to live in this modern world, it will lay more emphasis on its duties than on its rights," he said. "We must not forget that our preparation for peace must be spiritual preparation as well as political if we are to have lasting peace, and the spiritual preparation is vastly the more important.

"Two wars have taught us many lessons—one the truth we and all men are members one of another," Mr. Gilling declared. "Where, you will ask, are we to find power for this re-direction of our energies for now we see that the end unto which we must endure is for each of us the end of life and for all of us beyond the end of each one's life. It is the end of all things, consummation of history in the fulfilment of purpose of God.



"We shall fail, and already the writing is on the wall, we shall fail if this is anything less than dedication to God through Jesus Christ, who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross."

GEORGE AT KING

Much Rejoicing Follows Gala Marriage Of Farouk

By FRED J. ZUSY

CAIRO, May 7 (AP)—Precious gifts poured into Cairo's Abdin palace today following the gala marriage at which King Farouk yesterday made beautiful 17-year-old Narriman Sadek his Queen.

As the Nile kingdom continued its jubilant rejoicing at the nuptials with a public holiday today, Farouk and his commoner bride prepared for a tea party at the palace tonight. A gala diplomatic reception tomorrow night will wind up the festivities.

The chiefs of foreign diplomatic missions arrived at the palace today, bringing gifts from their heads of state.

United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery delivered from President Truman a set of four matched Steuben glass vases. Truman had given one vase—a larger one—to Iran's Shah on his recent marriage.

Many of the gifts were of solid gold. Some were decrated with diamonds and other precious stones.

King Abdullah of Hashemite Jordan sent a 12-piece toilet set of pure gold, studded with diamonds and other precious stones, along with two gold chandeliers.

The wedding of Farouk and Narriman was announced to the public yesterday by the booming of 101 salute guns. They set off a gigantic double celebration, of the marriage and of the 15th anniversary of the 31-year-old monarch's reign.

Later Narriman made her first public appearance as Queen, driving the seven miles to Abdin Palace past more than 1,000,000 of her cheering new subjects.

At the palace the white-robed Queen, her head encircled with diamonds, stood with the King at an exclusive tea party, receiving several hundred prominent guests. All of them were women except male members of the royal family and the Ismaili Moslem sect's fabulously wealthy spiritual ruler, the Aga Khan.

As Queen, Narriman will make public appearances only at functions for women.

Throughout the country villagers fired shotguns and danced in the streets.

The couple are expected to honeymoon at Capri, the resort island off Naples, Italy.

Miss F. Pakenham Is Married At Stony Lake

NORWOOD, May 7—(ENS)—at Birchmuir Lodge, Stony Lake, Saturday afternoon the marriage vows of Frances R. Pakenham and Robert L. Vesey were pledged before the Rev. E. Pugsley of Norwood.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Pakenham, Norwood, and the late F. Roderick Pakenham, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Lorne S. Harrison, Birmingham, Michigan. The bride and groom wore matching suits of beige gabardine, the bride complementing hers with Kelly green accessories and a shoulder bouquet of bronze orchids. The bride's sister, Mrs. John W. Anstee of Port Hope, as matron of honour, wore a suit of Kelly green wool with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mr. Roy Ahnert of Detroit was groomsman. Miss Beth Bullis of Toronto played the wedding music.

Receiving her guests, the bride's mother wore a dress of rose dust faille with matching straw hat and navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a black and white printed silk ensemble with black and white accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias. Guests of honour were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Hugh Robb of Norwood, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. M. B. Lemon of Birmingham.

For travelling the bride chose a suit of Black Watch tartan with camel hair top coat and matching tartan accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Vesey will live in Farmington, Michigan.

DOROTHY DIX

Pleasing In-Laws Hard Task For Wife of Mama's Darling

DEAR MISS DIX: In five years of marriage I have certainly been through the mill with my husband's family. Right from the beginning my husband's sisters and mother resented my marrying him. Every time I opened my mouth they put their foot in it, so to speak, until now I rarely carry on any sort of conversation with them without thinking over every sentence twice before saying it.

Dorothy Dix

Some of their resentment is ridiculous. For instance, I can bake better pies and cakes than his mother or sisters, but do you think they will compliment me? No. They just eat it as if every mouthful choked them. Any diversity of opinion on my part on anything and they immediately say it is wrong because it is different from the way they think. They are the type of people who would feel sorry for my husband if I hadn't borne him any children, but because I have four, they regard me as stupid, as if mine were the sole responsibility.

Wouldn't you think they would be glad their son is loved and respected? They do not stop to consider that maybe Sonny Boy isn't such a prize catch, and maybe he's lucky in having a patient Penelope to put up with him.

One More Problem

I could go on ad infinitum, but the general idea is that Mama's darling is just another problem child to a woman who has four little problems of her own. And, anyhow, wasn't he supposed to be the big strong bulwark for her to lean on? Instead of which not only is he leaning on her, but so is his whole family.

PENELOPE

ANSWER: The heart of the difficulty is that you ARE a patient, forebearing wife, a conscientious mother, and a good housekeeper. If you could change overnight into a shrew whose children ran around in ragged clothes, and whose only cooking utensil was a can opener, the in-laws would be delighted. Then they could gleefully make the rounds of relatives and friends, telling all and sundry what a terrible wife dear son Harry had acquired.

Nothing so pleases a possessive mother as to be able to run down her daughter-in-law, and you, in your wisdom, simply don't give her a chance to complain. You certainly mastered the art of avoiding trouble with your mother-in-law; getting along with her or winning her approval is a job only a saint could encompass, and even she might have difficulty.

Your wisest move to my way of thinking, is your careful consideration of conversational material, the careless remark on your part could cause a lot of trouble, particulary if mama and dear sisters love to carry tales to Sonny Boy.

Unfortunately, problems of this kind do not offer much in the way of solution. Drastic means, of course, would help—such as packing up and moving a few hundred miles away, but even that wouldn't necessarily offer permanent peace; the in-laws would just be likely to trail after you.

Standing up to them and having a real bang up fight would also be effective, but you just don't sound like a girl who would enjoy a family battle. So, grin and bear it is the only advice I can pass on. In time they'll probably get weary of baiting you and you'll have some peace. At least you're learning what kind of a mother-in-law NOT to be, so your children will be sure of a happy married life from that angle.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: The man I am engaged to earns a small salary, but we could be married and live comfortably on it. I also earn a good salary and the question is: Shall I continue to work and save my salary toward making a first payment on a home, or should I stop working and we just have each other in a rented home? I have always felt that a girl should not work after she is married. PEGGY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Whether or not you give up work when you are married is a matter for you and your husband to decide. Unless the money is urgently needed I think there is a greater chance for happiness if the wife goes domestic after marriage. Don't make the mistake of sacrificing too much to the fetish of owning your own home. It is a good thing to own one if you can afford it, but it is a curse upon you if you have to sacrifice everything to keep up your payments and have the dread of losing it.

Of Interest to Women

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Old Fashioned Johnny Cake Brings Joy to Palate

Letter from M. B.: The reading of your colmun is the piece de resistance of my breakfast every morning, and from it I have discovered many delicious recipes and received many useful hints. I certainly hope you can continue his column indefinitely.

Have you a good recipe for what we, when we were children, called "Johnny cake." I have tried various ones, but none have been just to my liking.

Also, I would like to have a never-fail and tasty recipe for rolled jelly cake.

If you have either or both of these recipes, I would be very grateful if you could supply me with them at your convenience. Thanking you, M. B.

Isn't that a pleasant lift to receive first thing Monday morning? It was the top letter on my pile of mail.

My mother used to make Johnny cake for us too, and the recipe below tastes just as good when made up now as it did 30 years ago.

My Mother's Johnny Cake

One cup cornmeal, ½ cup flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine or lard (my mother used lard), 1 egg. Grease Korn Kob moulds or iron gem pans and heat sizzling hot in oven. Beat egg, add milk, melted butter; sift mixed dry ingredients over and mix in quickly. Pour into hot pans and bake at 425 deg. Fahr. about 15 minutes.

Sour Milk Cornbread

One cup cornmeal, 1½ cups flour, pinch of salt, 1 beaten egg, 3 tablespoons melted lard, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1 teaspoon soda. Mix dry ingredients and sift; add beaten egg, then the shortening and milk with the soda dissolved in it. Bake in shallow greased pan which has been preheated, in oven of 400 deg. Fahr.

You may want a sweeter cornbread. If so, after trying these and tasting them, let me know.

I like and use this Jelly Roll:

Jelly Roll

Three egg yolks, 3 egg whites, 1 cup sifted sugar, 3 tablespoons cold water, ½ teaspoon lemon flavoring, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sifted cake flour. Beat egg yolks for at least 5 minutes with rotary beater, and while beating gradually add the sugar, then the water and flavoring. Keep beating until very light. Beat whites until stiff but not dry then fold into the yolk mixture, but not too thoroughly. Sift the flour twice, then measure it, then add the baking powder and salt to it and sift twice more. Sift the flour in a bigarea over the egg mixture and fold in until flour is incorporated but no more. Have ready a large shallow pan lined with greased wax paper. Pour in batter. It should not be more than ½ inch thick. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. having pan in centre of oven on centre rack. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until cake shrinks from sides of pan. Do not overbake. Turn out at once on cloth sprinkled with icing sugar, remove paper quickly, quickly cut off side crusts with long sharp knife. Spread with tart jelly or jam or lemon filling and roll up, using the towel underneath to hold it. Wrap in wax paper until cold. Dust with additional powdered sugar.

Write to me if this does not suit you perfectly, M. B. I have dozens of other good ones.

Ankle Etiquette Needs Improving

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP)—Been neglecting your "ankle etiquette," girls?

One man thinks you have, and that you are in danger of losing your "inborn traditional coquetry" in moving and posturing your ankles and legs.

Roy E. Tilles, hosiery company executive attending a meeting of the industry here, said "a generation of sloppy shoes and bobby socks" is to blame for the loss of a sense of ankle etiquette.

Wonderful as nylon stockings are, they can't do everything," said Mr. Tilles.

Here's his advice to the ladies: Re-learn how to walk alluringly, how to cross your knees gracefully, sit attractively, and make seam-straightening as much a reflex as using lipstick.

6—In Memoriams

VASS—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Walter Vass, who passed away May 7, 1946.
Though his smile has gone forever,
And his hand I cannot touch,
Still I have so many memories,
Of the one I loved so much.
Though out of sight he's very near,
Still loved, still missed, still mine,
He will live with me in memory,
Until the end of time.
—Lovingly remembered by wife and family.

Says Canada Should Publicize Herself Better

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—Mrs. Nancy Hodges, speaker of the British Columbia Legislature, said today that Canada should make a greater effort at publicizing itself.

Mrs. Hodges said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Canadian Women's Club of London that few are aware that Canada has a distinct and individual personality.

"Canada is too uncommunicative," she said. "It is time Britain and other countries realized that she is not just a northern part of the United States."

Mrs. Hodges arrived last Friday on a two-month visit. She will be the guest Thursday of women members of the House of Commons and later will take tea with the speaker of the Commons, Col. Douglas Clifton Brown.

Better Publicity

The Dominion should make better use of publicity, Mrs. Hodges said. Too often there was a tendency for Britain and U. S. to be credited with discoveries that originated in Canada.

For instance, she said, the fact that Canada produces the best anti-submarine radar equipment is often ignored. Similarly when a heart operation was performed last year at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md., it was publicized as the first of its kind although it had already been accomplished in Winnipeg.

Another medical achievement in which the U.S. claimed pride of place was in the use of aluminum foil for treating burns. Before the American cases began to hit the headlines, Mrs. Hodges said, the process had been used some 50 times in Canada.

A drug which proved widely effective in treatment of arthritis was first discovered in 1933 by members of the University of Western Ontario.

ROSS L. DOBBIN

Ross L. Dobbin Hurt In Crash

Ross L. Dobbin, general manager of the Peterborough utilities commission, is in Civic Hospital with a slight concussion, fractured ribs and other injuries, received late Saturday night when his car went into the ditch and struck a tree, five miles west of Pickering.

His condition today is described as good. Several stitches were required to close cuts on his forehead and chin.

It is thought that Mr. Dobbin may have dozed off at the wheel, momentarily, just as the car started down a slight dip in the highway. It went out of control, plunged into the ditch; and stopped against a tree.

He received first aid from a Pickering doctor and then was taken to Civic hospital where he is now under the care of Dr. H. M. Yelland.

When the accident occurred Mr. Dobbin was just completing the last leg of a trip home from Miami, Florida. He had been attending a convention of the American Waterworks Association, and left Miami by plane Saturday afternoon arriving in Malton Saturday night.

He got into his car to complete the homeward journey and was alone when the accident occurred.

The car received extensive damage to the front end and was brought back to Peterborough for repairs.

Forgery Charge Brings Term In Reformatory

Henry G. Dunn, 47, 375 Holloway Drive, was today in police court sentenced to two years less a day definite and two years indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory on a charge of forging three cheques totalling $1,465.

He was given the two year term for forging a cheque for $745 signed with the name Jack Mervin and payable to Ray Weldon.

On a second charge involving a cheque for $420 payable to Joseph Walsh and signed with the name Claude Cowen, Dunn was given the same sentence.

A third charge originating in Campbellford, involving a cheque for $300 made out to George McGowen and signed with the name W. S. Scott, resulted in a sentence of 18 months. The sentences are to run concurrently.

An old charge of being a found-in in a gambling raid was dismissed when the crown offered no evidence.

Money Went Gambling

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, K.C., said Dunn, the father of seven children, made "fair money" when he was working, but had been out of work since the winter. He started drinking and gambling and the money went mostly into gambling.

"Everyone feels sympathy for your wife and children, Dunn," Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. said.

"It was a case of being out of work," said Dunn. "I will try and pay it back sometime."

Park Street Baptist Church Marks 56th Anniversary

Motives which govern our activities was the theme chosen by the Rev. Harold U. Trinier of Toronto at Park St. Baptist Church 56th anniversary service Sunday morning.

Mr. Trinier is the editor of the Canadian Baptist — the Baptist Church publication in Canada.

The guest minister outlined three motives that govern the actions—duty, fear and love. He contended that people are often driven by a sense of duty to do actions that are quite often distasteful.

Fear, as experienced in fear of public opinion, loss of wealth, social standing, failure and the future, he explained as another important motivation in our daily life.

Mr. Turnier named love with ideal of love as the third and most important motive governing our actions. Because of this, we do and should do good actions for the joy of service alone. This type of action is prompted by our relationship to God. Through our love for God we have an inner joy in doing things for God alone.

The minister took as his text Psalms 40:8, "I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart."

Special music for both the morning and evening services was provided by the choir, under the direction of Adam Hawley, organist and choir leader. At the morning service Mrs. G. Batley and Mrs. C. Corbett sang a duet, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings." Roy Lane sang a solo, "Just for Today," at the evening

Feared Woman Strike First So Got In Blow

"I recognized the signs of thunder coming up. So I hit her once. I call it self defence," said William Walter Cowling, 45, 9 McClennan Ave., Smith township, charged police court today with assaulting Ethel Cummings.

"This woman was trained to box in the army," he continued. "When she hits, she hits like a man."

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Mrs. Cummings said that Thursday night she was walking home with Cowling's brother when Cowling caught up to them in a taxi. They went into the house where they both live.

"We just got inside when he gave me a smash across the face," Mrs. Cummings said. "He said he was going to throw me out of my own house."

She said Cowling had been drinking and when he was drinking, he didn't know what he was doing. She added that Cowling had thrown all her plants outside and had pulled apart a trunk she had packed.

"He was mad because I had money and he didn't" she said.

Cowling took the witness stand in his own defence and said "I acted in self defence. I hit the lady once. She was agitating me for board money, which I did not have and could not obtain."

He said that she had caused him to lose his job Friday April 13 at a company party.

"Since the time of the party I have not worked and could not work." He said he applied for unemployment insurance but hadn't received any yet. When he gets some money he said "I will pay her anthing I owe her."

He said he could see she was working herself up into a state over the board money. He added that he had more bruises on him than she had on her.

"I got in the first poke for once in my life," he told the court.

Magistrate Philp said "I don't know how good a boxer she may be or whether you were right in thinking she was going to hit you."

He found Cowling guilty and fined him $10 and costs or 10 days.

St. Andrew's Marks 118th Anniversary

Packed congregations at both the morning and evening services marked the 118th anniversary of St. Andrew's United Church, on Sunday.

Guest preacher was the Rev. A. E. Kewley, BA, BD, Toronto, Missionary and Maintenance Department, United Church of Canada. A capacity gathering of 700 worshippers heard Mr. Kewley speak on "The Springtime of Faith," at the morning service, which included the junior congregation.

Mr. Kewley then addressed the Sunday School and another capacity congregation at the evening service when his subject was "When Jesus Speaks to Man."

A reception followed the evening service with about 200 members of the congregation present for an informal meeting with the guest preacher. There was a sing-song and solos by Robert Ivan Foster, Canadian mezzo-baritone, who also sang at the two principal services.

A memorial plaque was presented and unveiled at the special centenary Sunday in 1950. It commemorated the work of the original Session members

St. Andrew's was founded in 1833, the first Session consisting of the Rev. J. M. Roger, minister, Andrew Tully, John Hutchinson, MD., John Edmison, and David Hamilton.

HEADS IRAN—Dr. Mohammed Mossedagh, above, leader of the small but powerful Nationalist Party, is the new premier of Iran, succeeding Hussein Ala. Mossedagh's government faces a stormy future in the conflict over nationalization of Iran's oil fields.

Premier Gets Surprise Threat

TEHRAN, Iran, May 7 (AP).—Premier F. Mohammed Mossadegh won an overwhelming vote of confidence in Parliament Sunday. He also got a surprise threat from Fedayan, fanatical secret Moslem order.

The vote of confidence, by 99 of 101 deputies in the Majlis (lower house) had been regarded as a sure thing, in view of Mossadegh's popularity in leading the oil nationalization fight. The vote was called as an aftermath of his designation as premier by the Shah last week.

Fedayan Islam, the secret order which was responsible for the assassination of Premier Ali Razmara, threatened to "settle accounts" with Mossadegh and his National Front leaders unless they free 12 Fedayan Islam terrorists sentenced last week to prison for six months. They had been arrested on charges of having plotted to kill political leaders.

Next 15 Years Looks Cooler To University Weatherman

By JOHN B. KNOX

BOSTON, May 7 — (AP) — There's a colder, wetter 15 or 20 years in your future.

That is, if you are a North American, a European or an Asiatic and if you don't live in certain special places.

Hurd C. Willett, professor of meteorology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has studied 200 years of sunspot cycles and weather. Using a weather yardstick constructed of what's happened in the past, he has come up with a long-range forecast.

Among other things, he says glaciers will advance.

Willett's "extrapolation of sunspot-climate relationships" appears in the American Meteorological Society's Journal of Meteorology.

Takes a Flyer

Willett conceded his weather yardstick may not be too accurate. But, he adds, "it is inconvenient to wait 200 years longer for the necessary data."

So here goes:

"The temperature level over much of the world will fall significantly during the next 15 years, probably reaching a first minimum level during the 1960-1965 pentad.

"The rainfall in lower middle latitudes, south of 50 degrees north, will be substantially higher during the next 20 years, particularly in those regions which were driest between 1920-1940. (Southern Canada, the United States, France, Southern Germany, Czechoslovakia, Southern Russia, most of China and Japan, and points south, fall in the zone south of 50 degrees.)

"The general recent recession of glaciers in all regions is due to be reversed in the very near future. The change of trend should be most pronounced during the next 20 years."

Willett is specific in designating temperature outlooks for different areas.

"This temperature fall will be sharpest where the anomalous (abnormal) warmth of the last 25 years has been most extreme. The greatest cooling, then, should occur in the Spitsbergen-Greenland-Iceland area, while significant cooling will occur in Northern Europe, the Eastern United States and Alaska.

"Some cooling probably will occur generally in middle and lower latitudes of both hemispheres (east and west).

Exceptions

"Exceptions to this downward trend may be noted in the Antarctic, the interior of Western Canada, the Northwestern United States and particularly from the eastern Mediterranean northeastward into Russia."

About rainfall:

In areas north of 60 degrees—Northern Europe, Northern Canada, Alaska, Northern Siberia, Northern Russia — he foresees somewhat less rainfall.

Why is all this going to happen?

Because, according to Willett, we are heading for a period of reduced sunspot activity.

"The next sunspot maximum will be delayed until at least 1962, possibly longer."

W. F. HOLDING, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, addressed the joint annual meeting of the Quebec Division and the Montreal Branch of the association and warned them that Canada must alter her national way of thinking if she wants to achieve the greatness her natural resources warrant. "Our exports of raw materials are too high, we should concentrate more on immigration and the eventual production of finished products from our raw materials rather than increasing the export of raw materials."

Ladies' Guild Meets

MARMORA, May 7 —(ENS)—The May meeting of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild took place in the rectory on Thursday evening, with Mrs. F. Leal presiding.

It was disclosed that the return to the group system is proving very satisfactory. The junior meeting is to be held in the parish hall.

The meeting was closed with prayer by the rector. During the refreshment and social period which followed, Mr. and Mrs. James Rice, who spent the past winter in Florida, displayed a large number of varied sea shells and other souvenirs garnered on their trip.

TV In Toronto In 1952

TORONTO, May 7 —(CP)—Toronto will probably have television early next year and Montreal will get it a few months later. A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC Board of Governors, said Friday.

If there are no delays due to construction problems or difficulties in obtaining materials, TV broadcasting will get under way in Toronto early in 1952, he told the 36th annual conference of the Association of Canadian Advertisers.

Reject Russ Plan For Drafting Japanese Treaty

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—The United States today rejected Russia's proposal to turn over the drafting of a Japanese peace treaty to four Pacific powers including Communist China. Russia's purpose in advancing the proposal Monday was to obtain a "double veto" over a Japanese peace settlement, the state department said. The US intends, a department spokesman declared, to go ahead with the present preparations for a settlement for Japan, with or without Russian participation.

The US has been consulting 15 other countries including Canada, in working out treaty terms and it is hoped to have a draft ready for signing within a few weeks.

Russia, in a note handed to American Ambassador Alan G. Kirk at Moscow Monday, proposed calling a council of the foreign ministers of the U.S., Russia, Britain and Red China to meet in June or July to draft a treaty.

Stalling Procedure

Other countries which took part in the Pacific war would be "consulted." The Soviet proposal sharply attacked the American draft now under consideration and charged it represented an attempt to impose an American peace on Japan which would exclude the Soviet Union, China and other countries.

Michael J. McDermott, state department press officer, said the Russian proposal is the type "which the Soviet Union makes periodically whenever it wants to stall the conclusion of a Japanese peace. . . ."

"The Soviet effort is to get a veto and now, through Communist China, a double veto, on a Japanese peace. . . ."

Find Poisoner Now Using Dog Biscuits

NEWMARKET, May 8 (CP) — Some parents kept their young children home from school today after poisoned dog biscuits were found in the nearby Lake Wilcox district, where at least 38 dogs have died in the last few days.

Provincial Police Constable Allan Houldsworth, who found four strychnine-treated biscuits along a roadside, said they could easily be mistaken for cookies by young children.

The wave of dog killings, which started Saturday, was caused at first by poisoned liver left on the ground. An unknown number of cats were also killed.

Police are patrolling roads around the summer resort area, 25 miles north of Toronto, and one cottage owner, Harry Cooper of Toronto, has posted a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person who has been setting out the poison.

UK Arbitrator Named By Firm

TEHRAN, Iran, May 8 (Reuters). — The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company today took its first positive step to counter the Iranian Government's proposals to nationalize its huge holdings in Iran.

The company invoked a clause of its agreement with Iran providing for arbitration of any disputes. It named Lord Radcliffe, 55-year-old British lawyer, as its arbitrator.

Under the agreement Iran now should appoint its own arbitrator. The two then agree on a third party, or have one named by the International Court.

So far there has been no official reaction to Anglo-Iranian's proposal.

Germans Divided About VE-Day

BERLIN, May 8 (AP).—VE-Day, like everything else in divided Germany, got divided attention today.

West Germans largely ignored the sixth anniversary of the surrender of the Third Reich on May 8, 1945. The allied powers took a day off.

East Germany, playing the Soviet Union's game, hailed the day as a great holiday, one to be celebrated forever in gratitude for liberation from the Nazis.

Soviet zone Communists conducted the only ceremony of any importance. Their leaders gathered with Russian officials at the Soviet Army's memorial park in Treptow. East Germans made speeches extolling the merits of the Red Army, which stormed to the heart of Berlin.

Adventure Started By Ice Cream Cone

TORONTO, May 8 (CP) — An ice cream cone started an adventure for Jozef Kaszarowski, 25, who arrived in Canada from Germany last weekend.

Bound for a farm job near Ingersoll, he stepped off a train Sunday at Levis, Que., to get what he called a "white cream cone." While he was buying the cone, the train left without him.

That night he slept on a bench at the Levis station. A policeman questioned him. The newcomer, unfamiliar with French and English, had a hard time explaining his plight. Finally someone wrote a note for him and put him on a train for Toronto.

British Trawler Burns Fish Crew From Sea

THE HAGUE, May 8 (Reuters) —A Swedish motor ship and a British trawler both fought fire at sea today. British crew members were picked up unharmed in the North Sea.

The trawler, the 112-ton Aylesby, was abandoned about 90 miles northeast of the English seaside resort of Cromer.

Its crew was picked up by another trawler, the Isle of Wight, which reported the stricken ship was still afloat but burning fiercely.

More fortunate was the 4,684-ton motor ship Travancore in the English channel. Four ships responded to her distress signal, sent from a position 25 miles southeast of the Isle of Wight. Early this morning the fire was under control.

RCAF Target 3,000 Planes By 1954 Commons Told

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP). — Canada's big swing-over from British to American defence equipment will mean a major shift in anti-aircraft weapons, with more than 400 of her 3.7-inch heavy ack-ack guns going to European allies and an unspecified number of 90-millimetre guns coming from the United States.

An official white paper on defence, tabled in the Commons on Monday, also disclosed that the RCAF is driving towards a 3,000-plane air force by 1954.

This was being boosted in two ways, by reconditioning of planes taken out of reserve and purchases of new operational, fighter and training aircraft.

By 1954, the Navy, too, hoped to have a 100-ship fleet.

This would be assisted by new production this year, but the white paper indicated that it will be at least 1952 before new fighting ships start coming into service.

Wave of Sabotage

Looking into the future, the white paper predicted that any outbreak of general war in Canada would be preceded by a wave of sabotage. Military and police forces, it said, are prepared to crush it quickly.

Active and reserve forces, veterans and police would be built into a team to overwhelm saboteurs, and, added the white paper, "it is not anticipated that this would take very long."

The white papeer, a 30-page summary of the military situation and Canada's steps to meet it emphasized these other points:

1. Canada must be prepared, during the next generation, to meet either general war or the continuation of current defence efforts.

2 Canada's defence bill this year will take up 11.67 per cent of the national income. Defence spending is expected to hit $1,879,000,000, including defence and associated departments.

3. The country's "readiness for full mobilization" is being stepped up materially. The air force reserve units in particular are being prepared to take on a fighting role almost immediately if war comes.

U.N. Troops Record Some Gains

Lack of Russ Tanks Makes Chinese Angry, Allies Hear

TOKYO, May 8. (AP) — United Nations attacks today rolled up limited gains along the western and eastern Korean battlefronts. Communist troops, withdrawing in most sectors, were reported angry because they didn't get Russian tanks and planes for their spring offensive.

Limited attacks by South Korean forces gained three miles northwest of Seoul Monday on the western anchor. In the east, South Koreans pushed 1½ miles toward Inje, north of the 38 th Parallel.

Reports of Red discontent came from allied officers on the western front. John Randolph, Associated Press correspondent, said some U.N. officers believe there is hard feeling among Chinese and North Korean troops because they didn't get tanks and planes from Russia to support their recent ill-fated offensive.

Carried Full Burden

The infantry carried the full burden of that attack, launched April 22. More than 80,000 Reds were killed or wounded, by U.N. estimates. Monday 2,940 more were reported killed or wounded.

Randolph quoted allied officers that Red offensive preparations indicated they had expected both armored support and air cover. Roads were widened. Airfields were put into condition. But the support didn't develop and the Red infantry was unable to exploit its gains.

"If they aren't deliberately hoarding their heavy stuff up north (in Manchuria) there are only two solutions," one officer said. "Either they couldn't cross the Yalu river, or else the Russians welched on their promises."

On Guard

He suggested the Reds could be holding large concentrations of planes and armor in Manchuria to ward off any possible allied blow in that direction.

To reach the front from Manchuria, Red tanks have to run a gauntlet of U.N. aerial bombs and rockets. And Communist planes have to sneak past an aerial patrol along the Yalu river border.

1,000 In City Killed By 'Quake

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, May 8 (AP)—Desolation, ruin and death blanketed areas of eastern El Salvador today in the wake of the little Central American country's worst earthquake disaster in history. In one city alone some 1,000 persons perished in the first shock Sunday.

As Red Cross agents and relief workers rushed to the stricken areas, new tremors were reported Monday in Santiago De Maria—already battered by the first quake. There were no casualties reported.

Worst hit by the initial shock was Jucuapa, a city of 12,000 90 miles east of San Salvador. The government said about 1,000 persons were killed.

Severe damage was also reported in Chinameca, population 17,000, about two miles east of Jucuapa, and the nearby towns of Nueva Guadalupe, Santiago De Maria and Caserios. Hundreds of persons were injured.

Actress Mary Astor Makes Suicide Try

HOLLYWOOD, May 8 (AP) — Actress Mary Astor attempted suicide early today but her condition was described as good after hospital treatment, police reported. Police said the 45-year-old actress took sleeping pills.

Police said they had been called to her suburban Encino home and found her unconscious on the floor of the bedroom. They listed the case as an attempted suicide.

The actress was taken to hospital, where her stomach was pumped out.

Police said the Rev. William J. Smith of St. Cyril's Roman Catholic Church in Encino was called to the Astor residence, but before going into the house he summoned police.

TWO BEWDLEY BULLDOGS, Lakeland Lucky Ace (left), and Lakeland Sunni Boy, won top honors at two Ottawa and one Hull dog shows last weekend. The former, winning dog, and the latter, best reserve winner, are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Goss of Bewdley.

Pearson Sees No Hope Of Early Peace

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP). —External Affairs Minister Pearson believes it is "quite unrealistic to hold out hope of an early settlement in Korea, or even of an early end to the fighting."

"The present Chinese attack must be broken before we can again begin to entertain any hope of a peaceful and honorable settlement there," said Mr. Pearson in launching debate in the Commons Monday night on Canada's foreign policies.

"When it (the Chinese attack) has been broken as we hope it will be, and with heavy losses to the enemy, the Chinese Communists may be in a mood to negotiate an honorable settlement, the only kind of settlement we have ever contemplated, or at least to desist from further attacks.

"While I think it would quite unrealistic to hold out hope of an early settlement in Korea, or even of an early end to the fighting, nevertheless we should always remember that the United Nations stands ready to negotiate, though not betray its trust or yield to blackmail."

Would Try Again

H. W. Herridge (CCF-Kootenay West), saying he was speaking for his party, urged Mr. Pearson to take the initiative in a new effort to open United Nations peace negotiations with Communist China.

The suggestion was promptly criticized by Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) who said that the U.N. should have only one objective in Korea—victory.

Mr. Green said "politicians" should not put "wraps" around the U.N. military commander in Korea. The commander should be allowed to use Chinese Nationalist troops and to bomb bases on the Chinese mainland. A naval blockade of China should be inaugurated.

Mr. Pearson said the Canadian government is still opposed to the bombing and blockading of China and the use of Chinese Nationalist forces now on Formosa against the Chinese Communists. These measures could serve to extend the Korean war.

Formosa should be "neutralized" while the fighting is going on in Korea, and certainly should not be handed over to a Chinese government fighting the United Nations. Its future could be discussed after the fighting. There could be no question of recognizing the Chinese Communist government diplomatically while it defied the United Nations.

Red China Arms Embargo Likely Adopted By U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, NY, May 8. (AP)—Eventual United Nations approval of an arms embargo against Red China appeared assured today as a result of crumbling opposition in the world organization. Both Britain and France were reported to have dropped their objections. The embargo, if voted by the UN, presumably would be ignored by the Soviet bloc. The United States Monday submitted a formal proposal for the embargo at a closed-door meeting of the UN's 12-country sanctions committee. A vote is expected either late this week or next Monday.

A brief discussion indicated that it would not meet with any serious opposition.

At a meeting last Thursday both Britain and France gave the idea a cool reception, leading to the belief that the US might run into difficulties. But Monday Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said it was possible his government would feel the US was right. Francis Lacoste of France expressed the belief his government would give it sympathetic consideration.

No Opposition

One observer said the embargo probably would be adopted by a vote of 11 to 0, with Egypt abstaining. Other members of the sanctions committee are Canada, Australia, Venezuela, the Philippines, Belgium, Brazil, Turkey and Mexico.

If approved, the proposal will go to the 60-country political committee of the general assembly, and finally to a plenary meeting of the assembly. There it no doubt will be bitterly opposed by the Soviet bloc.

Major provisions of the resolution:

The shipment of arms, ammunition, implements of war, atomic-energy materials, petroleum, and items useful in the production of arms should be prohibited to areas controlled by the Chinese Communists.

The sanctions committee should continue to study other possible measures against Red China, but should defer any further recommendations if the UN good offices committee makes satisfactory progress toward a peaceful settlement. This three-member committee thus far has failed even to establish contact with the Peiping regime.

Gloucester Regt. Gets Citation

WITH THE BRITISH 29TH BRIGADE, Korea, May 8 (Reuters). — Lt.-Gen. James Van Fleet, United States Eighth Army commander, today presented a Presidential citation to heroic British infantrymen who two weeks ago lost 500 to 600 men stemming a huge Chinese Communist tide.

The few survivors of the two valiant units— the 1st Battalion Gloucester Regiment and the 170th Mortar Battery — lined a parade ground to receive the highest American Army group honor.

"I came to pay tribute to the wonderful Commonwealth forces," Van Fleet said.

"I wanted to tell you most emphatically how proud and thankful I am for your achievement."

The Gloucesters' stand from April 22 to 25 was credited with blunting the Communist drive on the western sector. They refused to withdraw or surrender. After three days without food or water, they were overrun. Only 40 to 50 men from the battalion got back.

Van Fleet said their stand against overwhelming odds had upset the Communist time-table, and saved that area of the front.

Senator E. Paquet Dies at Quebec Home

ST. ROUMALD, Que., May 8—(CP).—Senator Eugene Paquet, who represented the St. Lawrence river south shore riding of l'Islet in the House of Commons between 1904 and 1917 when he resigned on the conscription issue, died here today. He was 83.

A Conservative in politics, Sen. Paquet sought re-election in 1921 and again in 1926 when he was appointed Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in the Meighen Cabinet but was defeated both times.

He was summoned to the Senate Aug. 14, 1935, where he represented the St. Lawrence south shore division of Lauzon.

Wants Would-Be Political Leaders Obliged To Pass Psychiatric Tests Before Election

CINCINNATI, O., May 8 — (AP).—Dr. George Stevenson of London, Ont., internationally-known psychiatrist, said today that would-be political leaders should be obligated to pass psychiatric tests before getting their names on a ballot.

"It's absurd that in our modern day it should be possible for a political figure to assume office without showing any qualification beyond personal magnetism," said Stevenson, a past president of the American Psychiatric Association.

Stevenson said in an interview at the APA's annual meeting that "if it had been standard practice for political leaders to be screened by psychiatrists, men like Hitler could never have got into power."

"Hitler's trouble could have been quickly diagnosed by a competent scientist," he said.

"In this day and age when even the soldiers who go into the army have to have a psychiatric screening, how can it be maintained that the men who lead us should not have a similar screening."

Gen. Marshall Believes If Losses Continue Red Morale Will Break

Worried About Effect MacArthur Statements On Allied Soldiers At Front, Keeping Watchful Eye On Russ-Held Island

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—Defence Secretary George Marshall said today the United Nations aim to win the Korean war by inflicting "terrific casualties" on the Chinese Communists, breaking their morale and destroying their trained armies. Marshall gave that answer to senators pressing him as to what "foreseeable end" the US Government's Korean war policies promise. For the second day, he defended those policies against the bitter attack made by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, deposed Far Eastern commander who contends they offer nothing but a "bloody stalemate."

Marshall told the senators, too, that he is "disturbed" about the possible effect on United Nations men in Korea of statements from their commander (MacArthur) "which accentuate the casualties that they are suffering and, in effect, that it is without justified purpose."

"We should find some way," Gen. Marshall said, "of proceeding with this investigation that does not destroy us in the field by serious reaction in the way of morale."

Marshall said the U.S. plan for Korea has been to "inflict the greatest number of casualties we could in order to break down not only the morale but the trained fabric of the Chinese armies."

Marshall indicated he and the U.S. joint chiefs of staff hope that if sufficient losses are inflicted, the enemy will withdraw and talk peace terms.

Retain Allies

Marshall said the course he had outlined would "retain our allies, bring them to more satisfactory reactions before the United Nations as their confidence in our leadership in this delicate matter is increased, and generally improve the situation."

Marshall said direct Russian intervention in the Korean war would be "a very serious matter."

He said Russia has a "considerable force" of military planes in the vicinity of Vladivostok, Dairen-Port Arthur and Harbin.

"I don't know whether there are any plane concentrations in relation to Sakhalin but there have been reports of troop concentrations and particularly Jap-

Warner Baxter Film Star Dies At Home

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 8 (AP).—Death has stopped the horrible pain which handsome Warner Baxter, the movie's original "Cisco Kid," suffered for years.

The suave, virile matinee idol died Monday night at his home. He was 62.

For years he had suffered so much from arthritis that he was unable to eat. That brought on slow starvation.

Three weeks ago, a brain operation was performed to lessen the pain. Bronchial pneumonia set in to hasten the end.

Baxter was the second actor to win the top academy award Oscar.

Favorite Role

Although Baxter was one of Hollywood's top stars before and after the award, he always considered the Cisco Kid his favorite role.

Baxter's first movie was in 1916 with Ethel Clayton in "Her Own Money." Before that he had been an office boy, an insurance salesman, a dancer and a juvenile lead in stock companies.

Among his better-known pictures were "Daddy Long Legs," "42nd Street," "Broadway Bill," "The Great Gatsby," "Kidnapped," and "Under the Pampas Moon." His $284,000 income in 1936 was the industry's highest.

In January this year he and his second wife, former actress Winifred Bryson, observed their 33rd wedding anniversary.

Say Hearings Giving Secrets To Reds

NEW YORK, May 8 (CP)—The New York Times today said official circles in Washington are concerned that the MacArthur hearings are giving a lot of secrets to the Communists.

In a Washington dispatch, the Times says Defence Secretary George Marshall complained in Monday's hearings that he was telling the Communists so much that he felt like one of their agents.

But, the dispatch added, testimony before the Joint Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees has warned the Communists that the price of further adventures "in or out of Korea" is likely to be serious retaliation by the United States.

India To Wait For Next Crop

NEW DELHI, May 8—(CP)—India has decided to wait until the next Canadian wheat crop before accepting a Canadian offer of $25,000,000 worth of grain, parliament was told today.

The Deputy Food Minister, M. T. Rao, told a questioner that the Indian government has agreed in principle to accept the Canadian offer of wheat instead of dollars under the Colombo Plan. But it h d found present Canadian stocks immediately exportable "of low grade."

Earlier, Prime Minister Nehru expressed India's thanks to "the common people of various parts of the world" for voluntary food gifts.

Blast Breaks Windows Claims Pouring In

SARNIA, May 8 (CP).—While mechanical crews worked on a round the clock basis to repair the damage done by Sunday night's explosion and fire at Polymer Corporation, offices of local insurance adjusters were literally swamped with claims for windows smashed by the blast.

Reports from three adjustors' offices indicated at least 100 separate claims had already been received, and more were pouring in every hour. One adjuster alone estimated he had received more than 50 claims during the day.

A majority of the insurance claims were being made by merchants and residents of the suburban community of Blue Water, which lies directly across No. 40 highway from the Polymer plant. Estimates were that damage to windows in this area would reach from $5,000 to $10,000.

Ask Canadian Gov't Adopt Human Rights' Declaration

OTTAWA, May 8 — (CP). — Adoption of a Canadian declaration of human rights was urged today by a delegation under the sponsorship of the Association of Civil Liberties.

The delegation, in a brief presented to Prime Minister St. Laurent and members of the Cabinet, said "it is not enough to say that we are fighing for freedom against tyranny. We must provide men with a positive and specific dynamic faith in our way of life. . . ."

The delegation, representing church, labor, agriculture, business, professions and the home, urged implementation at this session of Parliament of the recommendations of Senate committee which sat last year under the chairmanship of Senator Arthur Roebuck (L-Ontario).

The Senate committee, after weeks of study, recommended that Canada should have a national Bill of Rights written into the constitution. As an interim measure until Canada obtains the right to amend her own constitution in the Dominion-Provincial field, the government should adopt a declaration of human rights modelled on the United Nations' universal declaration of human rights.

The report was unanimously approved by the Senate at the last session of Parliament

The delegation's brief said Canadians now enjoy a large measure of human rights and fundamental freedoms. But there has been "all too frequent instances of infringement of one or other of these rights and freedoms by legislative and other means." Additional safeguards should be provided in the form of a Bill of Human Rights and Liberties.

Work Extra 40 Minutes Abbott Asks

Would Help Reduce Growing Danger Of Rising Inflation

GRAND'MERE, Que., May 8. (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott appealed to Canadians Monday night to work an extra 40 minutes daily to "help slay the dragon of inflation."

The extra 40 minutes or its equivalent, he told a Canadian Club meeting here, will result in 10 per cent more production which is needed to avert "the grave danger, the calamity of runaway inflation."

"The equivalent of an extra 40 minutes' production each day could help slay the dragon of inflation. Is that too great a contribution to ask for an emergency period?"

It would mean no more than an extra four or four-and-a-half hours each week. This would buy peace with liberty.

"Imagine, then, the distress that we must feel when we hear demands today for a substantial reduction in hours of work. That would inevitably lead, at least in most cases, to smaller output and would thus accelerate inflationary trends.

Delay Pressure

"Surely it is not too much to ask that at least this pressure for shorter hours be restrained as long as we are engaged in this struggle."

Mr. Abbott said the defence effort was taking up about 10 per cent of normal production, but the demand for goods had not slackened. The problem either was to cut back civilian consumption by one tenth or increase production by that amount.

"To abstain one-tenth or to work an extra tenth—that is the question. Unless we do either or a combination of both, unless we do so consciously and co-operatively, we stand in danger of upsetting the delicate mechanisms of our economy—and because of that very tenth we stand in danger of jeopardizing our present well-being."

Price control by itself would not work against rising prices.

"It might even mean that the government would have to begin directing men and women where to work, telling people where to live, instructing business what to do. . . . You cannot go far in this sort of thing, unless you are ready to 'go whole hog.'"

South Koreans Offer Relieve UN Troops

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, May 8 (Reuters).—The South Korean government Monday offered to relieve all foreign UN troops in Korea and put its own army under American combat command if:

1. The allies agreed to equip 10 more South Korean divisions immediately and another 10 divisions later on, and
2. The U.N. forces pushed the Communist armies back over the Yalu River border into Manchuria.

The offer, made by the South Korean Foreign Ministry, said South Korean troops would be capable of defending their northern border once UN forces had driven the Communists out.

But what they needed immediately was enough equipment to create 10 fresh divisions from a reservoir of 500,000 partially-trained men.

Dollar Higher

MONTREAL, May 8 — (CP)—The American dollar today opened at 6 13/32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/32 higher than Monday's close. That is, it took $1.06 13/32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.97 15/16, up 1/16.

Harried Nazis Belgian Trio Seeking Jobs

STELLARTON, N.S. — CP) — Three men who used every Belgian ruse to harass the Nazis in the last war are in this coal-mining town looking for a job.

Lucien Leferve and Jules Delaux are here because Arthur Tollbeck had a hankering to see his "second home" again. They are former members of the Belgian resistance movement.

Tollbeck, who lived here from 1905 to 1919, figures Stellarton looks good. He is a machinist and the smoke stacks and industrial hum remin. him of home.

They are sure they will get jobs. Eventually they hope to save enough to bring their wives and families to Canada.

The Belgians arrived at New York recently on a small immigrant ship. They had originally planned to find employment in Montreal or in Quebec's gold fields.

Fine Place

But Tollbeck figured Stellarton, as he remembered it, was a fine place to go. So Leferve the barber and Delaux the welder tagged along.

During the war, they played a large part in deluding and sabotaging German troop movements. After liberation by Allied forces, Tollbeck served as interpreter with the U.S. army and later the Canadians.

"I think I will be happy here," says Tollbeck. "I speak good enough English to get around and my eight-year-old boy would pick it up easily.

"But my wife, I don't know. She doesn't speak English at all," he added.

anese prisoner and former prisoner organizations, presumably of indoctrinated Japanese on the Sakhalin point, which is not very far off Northwest Hokkaido."

Hokkaido is the northernmost of the main Japanese islands. Sakhalin is a Russian-held island to the north.

Strike At Japan?

Marshall's reference to Soviet troops on Sakhalin carried a possible implication the Russians might be capable of invading Japan.

MacArthur had declared he didn't believe the Russians could invade Japan so long as the U.S. held naval and air superiority.

Earlier, Marshall had testified that U.N. troops in Korea are barred from approaching within 15 miles of the Russian border.

He said also that MacArthur had been ordered to confine his operations to Korea "and under no circumstances to carry out operations beyond the border of Korea into (Chinese) Manchuria."

However, Marshal said there was a "modification" in the restrictions "in the event that our forces were attacked outside of Korea—to the effect that he (MacArthur) was authorized to retaliate in bombing against such operations."

Marshall testified before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern commands and the policy differences which led to it.

MacArthur, in the witness chair last week, complained he was never allowed to bomb a North Korean supply centre because of its proximity to the Russian border.

Atomic Attacks

Marshall said the restrictions placed aganist the UN troops "did not apply to operations by the navy on the water along off the coast of Korea but those were restricted, in other words, forbidden, in relation to the Manchurian coast, the China coast, and most specifically the northeastern tip of Korea in close proximity to the Soviet border."

President Truman said on Monday night that Gen. MacArthur's Korean war proposals might provoke another world war and "death blow" atomic attacks on great cities in the United States.

Today, observing his 67th birthday and the sixth anniversary of his proclamation of victory over Nazi Germany, he awaits reaction to his declaration that victory can be won in Korea. The first comment from Republican senators was that they'll have to be shown.

Some republicans hotly disputed Truman's assertion that a limited war in Korea "is achieving the most for peace—at the least cost in American lives."

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hafnpshire, top Republican on the armed services' committee, said Defence Secretary George Marshall's initial testimony "was an inadequate defence of the dismissal and methods of dismissal of General MacArthur."

And Senator Harry P. Cain (Rep. Wash.) also a member of the committee, called Marshall's testimony "extraordinarily disturbing because it showed the lack of any administration plan to end the war in Korea."

Marshall told the Senators on Monday that MacArthur's strategy would risk all-out conflict with Russia, expose Europe to attack and perhaps split the free world into two camps. He also said MacArthur's truce appeal to the Red commander in Korea last March 24 killed any chances for a settlement then.

Truman, addressing 800 civil defence workers Monday night, said that to expand the Korean war, as the general he ousted proposed, would bring the "real possibility" of Russia launching atomic attacks on New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Seattle, Los Angeles, Washington and other cities.

On the other hand, he said, the free countries have stopped the march of Communism in Asia and "dealt a heavy blow to the Kremlin conspiracy" all over the world by their fight in Korea.

"Remember this," Truman said, "if we do have another world war, it will be an atomic war. We could expect many atomic bombs to be dropped on American cities.

Trading Irregular On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 8 (CP) — Trading continued irregular and dull as the session progressed on the stock market today.

Industrials managed to edge slightly higher. Papers, liquors, refining oils and retail stores showed a majority of gains. Banks were lower and the rest of the board was mixed. Most industrial changes were fractional.

Base metals eased. Key issues lower included Consolidated Smelters, Waite Amulet, Steep Rock, Golden Manitou, New Calumet and East Sullivan. Sherritt Gordon showed only a small part of yesterday's extreme activity as it slipped 15 cents. Noranda and International Nickel bucked the trend for fractional advances.

Western oils were about evenly mixed.

Golds continued their sluggish trading of the last three months. A handful of issues weakened.

Lindsay Man's Tale Of Woe Wins Freedom

LINDSAY, May 8 (CP).—Godfrey Sandbach, 29, told a tale of woe when he appeared in court Monday on a charge of stealing three mower wheels and a spare wheel from a manure spreader. His story won him a two-year suspended sentence.

Sandbach said he spent five years in the army and still suffers from the effects of being blown off a gun carrier. His wife has been ill in bed three months and is expecting a child in August.

Another child was accidentally shot to death last year.

Sandbach said he has been unable to find suitable work for several months. When brought into court here, he was already on suspended sentence from a Peterborough court for attempted theft of gasoline.

Crown attorney Lorne W. Jordan said he had no objection to the accused being released on suspended sentence. He said he believed Sandbach had no real criminal tendencies.

Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, Allan Blewett told court the family found itself in dire straits even though they appeared quite intelligent and certainly not dull.

Town Insurance Inadequate Campbellford Council Told

CAMPBELLFORD, May 8 — (ENS)—The May meeting of the Campbellford town council was held in the council chambers on Monday evening with all members present and Mayor J. E. Ayrhart in the chair.

Tenders for refinishing the cenotaph were opened and read, and the tender of Walter Jones of Campbellford at $100 was accepted. It is expected work will start immediately on this operation. A communication from the Campbellford public school board stated they did not see how they could reduce expenditures for the coming year, due to the increase in teachers' salarys and other increased costs. Council had requested the board previously to reduce spending to cut taxes for 1951.

Arthur Collette addressed council about putting a sewer into property he recently purchased on Booth St. The sewer is located on the opposite side of the street to Mr. Collette's property, and council agreed to carry the sewer to the centre of the roadway and Mr. Collette could take it the rest of the way to he house at his own expense.

The matter of damage to town streets caused by digging and filling sewer excavations was brought to light, and a couple of instances named, where persons have used a bulldozer to fill in the excavations. The heavy machinery, turning and twisting on the pavement has in many cases caused considerable damage. Also, when the sewer is being dug by machinery, the pavement is torn up for a considerable distance on each side of the trench.

Councillor MacMillan, chairman of the property committee made a report on insurance carried on most of the town properties, and this showed insurance in most cases was inadequate. The local hospital carries $2,500 on property and none on contents. This should be increased to $5,000 on property, and $2,500 on contents according to Mr. MacMillan's report and recommendation. The building occupied by the water and light department carries $2,500 and this should be increased to $5,000. The fire hall carries $3,000 on property, and council has the contents insured for $1,000. This should be increased to $5,000 on property and $2,500 on contents.

Municipal liability insurance carried by the town is in the amount of $10,000, $20,000 and $2,000. This covers injuries to persons on town streets, where the town could be at fault. It was noted that the town fire truck was valued a about $5,000 and that no fire or theft insurance was carried on it, but as it was decided no one was likely to steal the fire truck, and that it was unlikely to be consumed by fire, that the insurance now carried was sufficient.

The matter of erecting the street name signs was left with the police committee with power to act. A suggestion to have the steel posts filled wih cement before they are erected was deemed advisable and this matter was also left with the committee.

On the advice of the town solicitor, council endorsed a suggestion from the town of Goderich regarding the equalization of assessment, whereby rural business establishments were actually being taxed twice, while farms and other establishments were taxed only once.

The setting of the 1951 tax rate will be held up for a week or so until council secures information from the Municipal Board as to what they can do with their accumulated surplus. The town also wants to know if the Public School Board has any surplus. It is hoped to hold the present tax rate and council wants to use its surplus if possible for this purpose. As soon as the information is received a meeting will be called at which council will set the new rate.

Permission was granted the high school area board to use the council chambers for their meeting on June 1.

Clerk J. F. McGregor was instructed to get in touch with a Norwood firm to ascertain the cost of placing the names of approximately 26 men on the war memorial. These are men who were killed in action in World War II.

The matter of the increased insurance was left until after the budget is in for the coming year. Mayor Ayrhart asked for the amount it would cost the town in addition to what it already spends on insurance.

Bylaws for the renaming of certain town streets, and also for changing the days of nomination and election in the town were read and passed. The nominations will now take place the last Monday in November, and the election will be held the first Monday in December, one month earlier than previously.

After passing the pay sheet, council adjourned.

ChargeAgainst Inmate Withdrawn By Crown

COBOURG, May 8 (ENS) — John Cunness, inmate at the counties home for the aged, was charged with causing damage at the home when he appeared in court yesterday. John didn't want to stay in the institution, it was revealed, and vented his dislike on the dishes, breaking a few by way of recording his resentment.

Crown Attorney Harry Deyman informed the court that he was withdrawing the charge in view of the fact that arrangements had been made to remove him from the counties home.

"I hope that doesn't become a standard way to get out of the counties home," observed the magistrate.

Enlarge Offices

COBOURG, May 8 —(ENS) — Alterations to enlarge the tax collector's office have been completed and redecoration will finish the job. The office of the assessor and tax collector was of cubbyhole size a corner of the town hall lobby having been partitioned off. All the records and books were crammed into the small area and when the re-assessment was made there was not sufficient room for the new filing system. Accordingly more partitions were built which provided almost twice the space for the office and when they were completed. the inner partitions were torn down and thus interruption of the tax collector's work was kept at a minimum.

Orders Cobourg Men To Make Restitution

COBOURG, May 8 —(ENS)— Earl Smoke and Donald Shaw of Cobourg appeared in police court yesterday on a remand for theft of wire from Dungannon Farm, north of Cobourg. The two had previously been remanded in order to give them an opportunity of making restitution. All the wire had not been traced but the court fixed the value at $100. Magistrate R. B. Baxter remanded them until May 21 and warned them that if they didn't make restitution by then, he would send both of them to jail.

Policy Same Pearson Says

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP).—Canadian policy in its relations with the United States has not changed, External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons Monday.

He made this statement in reply to an observation by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that a recent speech of Mr. Pearson's had indicated a "profound change" in Canada's relationship with the U.S.

(Mr. Pearson had said in a Toronto speech that Canadian foreign policy could not be an "echo" of U.S. policy.)

"What I said in Toronto did not in any way, shape or form initiate any new policy in regard to our relations with our great neighbor to the south," Mr. Pearson replied during an external affairs debate.

He said new problems had arisen, by reason of the U.S. growth to pre-eminent world leadership and because the Canada-U.S. relationship now was changed from that of neighbors to allies. The new problems must be understood and solved.

Exterior Work On City Hall Well Advanced

"With exterior work on the building drawing rapidly to a close, interior installations should be accelerated and the schedule maintained."

That is the concluding paragraph in the April report by W. F. Orr, clerk of the works, on the progress of the construction of the city hall.

Some of the indicative details may be quoted. For example: "In the boiler room, the boilers, tanks, converters, oil burners and some miles of piping with large numbers of valves and fittings have been installed and the pipes covered, with only a few connections remaining to be made, to place the boilers in service."

"The stone work on the exterior of the building has been completed with the exception of coping stone surrounding the pent house, and stone on top of the area-way walls. This stone has been received, and will be in place early in May . . . The main entrance columns have been completed, and cleaning the stone surface started.

"Roofing has been completed except a small part around the pent house, which will be done early in May. Copper flashings around the coping of the south and north wings is installed, and skylights are in process of installation.

"Many of the construction buildings temporarily in use on the grounds have been removed, and the grounds are being gradually cleared of debris."

Partitions In Place

"On the interior most of the glazed window sash is in place. The rest of the sash is on hand and will be set shortly.

"Practically all partitions are in place, and sub-concrete floors to provide a base for linoleum, rubber and mastic tile are being laid.

"Also the terrazzo crew has started in the general office public space to lay the base and border. Lathing has been 70% completed, and the first coat of plaster applied on the ground floor, the work now continuing on the first floor, south wing.

"All exterior wall insulation is finished, and preparations are being rushed to receive the panels expected from the mill soon. This applies particularly to the council chamber.

"Electricians, plumbers, pipe coverers and ventilation specialists are engaged in keeping their installations well in advance of plastering."

The Orr report is relayed to the council through Marani & Morris, architects, Toronto.

Havelock Women's Institute Features Handicraft Show

HAVELOCK, May 8 (ENS).— A handicraft exhibit was a feature of the meeting of the Havelock Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. William Rice on Monday afternoon.

Judges were Mrs. H. J. McNeely and Mrs. G. W. McNabb. An embroidered tray cloth made by Mrs A. Buckland was awarded first place with a crocheted centre piece made by Mrs. R. Brown in second place and a table cloth in the form of a flower pot made from sea shells by Mrs. Wesley Johnston was given third place. These articles will be entered in the handicraft exhibit at the district annual meeting in Lakefield on May 29.

Mrs. W. Rice gave a detailed report of the district executive meeting held recently in Peterborough which gave the delegates a knowledge of the items of business to come up at the district annual meeting. Mrs. Rice said the project for next year's competition will be a house dress instead of a quilt. She also informed the meeting that the histories written by each auxiliary in the district of their activities since organization will be compiled and published in book form. She said there had been an increase of 10,000 during the past year in the W.I. membership.

Delegates to the district annual meeting will be the president, Mrs. H. Pollock, the district director Mrs. W. Rice, with Mrs. J. Hoffman as alternate; Mrs. R. Melville and Mrs. H. Hoard.

It was decided to reserve 10 seats in the bus making the trip from Trent River to Lakefield.

The treasurer, Mrs. R. Brown, reported that $23.80 was realized from the salvage drive held last week; the receipts from the cancer film shown recently were $11.25 and there was the sum of $130.96 on hand.

Mrs. Rice reported regarding fruit, flowers and cards sent out during the year which included 14 boxes at Christmas.

The financial report for the past year was read by the secretary on behalf of the auditors, Miss I. Morrison and Mrs. L. Colquhoun, which showed the society has closed the year with a balance of $87.

On motion by Mrs. R. Melville and Mrs. H. W. Roche the secretary's salary was increased to $15.

Three boys who assisted in delivering the salvage bills are to be given 50 cents each.

"Oven Meals" was the first choice for a short course to be available some time this year. "Something to Wear" was named as second choice and a health course, "Safe at Home" was named in the third place.

Mrs. G. Rigby, Sr., reported for her committee comprising Mrs. H. Pollock, Mrs. R. Brown and Mrs. G. W. Chiles in regard to the disposal of the library books. The books with the exception of two boxes together with the cabinets were donated to the Havelock public school.

Mrs. Buckland, Mrs. Pollock and Mrs. Melville were appointed a committee to see that flowers were planted on the plot around the town hall. It was decided to plant annuals for the present to be followed by shrubs in the fall.

Mrs. Rice gave a demonstration in making chair backs and cushions. She also presided for the program which included a vocal solo by Mrs. J. Beatty, a piano solo by Miss Jean Kennedy and a recitation by Arlene Smith.

Tea hour hostesses were: Mesdames A. Holland, Mrs. S. Southward, Mrs. W. Copp and Mrs. W. Rice.

OIL MAKES A COUNTRY STRONG

WHEN DID THEY OPEN UP THE WEST?

The "opening up of the west" didn't end when the railroads and the settlers and the wheat had come. Nor is it ended today. It is a continuing story of our country's growth and each generation adds its chapter.

Today it is prairie oil that holds out new opportunity, bringing with it new benefits and new security.

In four years discoveries in the west have increased Canada's proven oil reserves more than fifteen fold and the production of crude is six times what it was. These advances, and the half-billion dollars the oil industry has spent on them, have not benefited the west alone. All of Canada is stronger and more prosperous.

Our people and our factories have been made busier by the needs of the growing oil industry. There are new jobs and new businesses. Many millions of dollars once spent for foreign oil now stay at home—or are available for other purposes. And of special importance, our supply of oil is being made more certain, less dependent on sources beyond our borders.

Opening up of the west goes on, bringing closer Canada's self-sufficiency in oil, giving new strength to the nation.

About Canada's Oil

Imperial has drilled more than 1,000 wells in western Canada searching for and developing oil fields.

The oil industry is expected to spend about $4 millions a week on exploration and development in western Canada this year.

By replacing imports, production from Canada's new oil fields is expected to save 150 million U.S. dollars in 1951.

VE Day Climacteric

Six years ago today the free world celebrated the end of the war in Europe. It is true that the rejoicings were slightly tempered with vague misgivings concerning the attitude of the Russians, but it was generally thought that once the Japanese were beaten there would be a long period of peace. Neither our hopes nor our subsequent fears have so far been fully realized. We are still technically at war with Germany and Japan, yet we are talking openly of their usefulness as allies in a possible future conflict. Russia is still our ally, yet relations with that country have become more and more strained, and we live in perpetual apprehension of what the Kremlin will do next. We are not at war with Communist China, and yet we are fighting against her troops.

* * *

The ancient physicians used to talk of a 7-year period as a climacteric. They noted by observation that the end of each period normally coincided with a climax in the development of the human body. In this seventh year we are headed for a climax in world affairs. In these critical days we need more of the courage and resolution that were displayed during the last war. We also sadly need more level-headed and farsighted leadership.

General MacArthur And Hong Kong

General MacArthur's recommendation that the U.S. should blockade the China coast is not likely to be well received in Hong Kong. A witty commentator described the island colony as a "chink in the bamboo curtain". The General obviously regards it as a nigger in the woodpile. The General's charge that gasoline is being shipped from Hong Kong to the Chinese mainland has been described as "quite wrong" by a U.S. consular official in Hong Kong, and a spokesman of the government in the colony describes his whole statement "a gross distortion of fact, and as far as gasoline is concerned completely untrue."

We are inclined to accept the statements of those on the spot. Gasoline is not the sort of commodity that can be easily smuggled, except in small quantities, and the amount that could be smuggled could scarcely have very much practical importance.

Just over one hundred years ago Hong Kong was a desolate island, one mile off the mainland of China, inhabited by a few fishermen and haunted by smugglers. Today its area has grown over ten times by the annexation and lease of territory on the mainland, and its population is nearly 2,000,000. As a source of raw materials Hong Kong is negligible. Its industry has increased considerably, and rice is grown intensively on the small strip of mainland, but its real life-blood is trade. The attractions of a first-class harbour conveniently situated, and above all a stable government soon made Hong Kong the chief port of South China. Its value as a naval base has declined sharply since the advent of air-power. When the Japanese surrendered Hong Kong trade boomed. Now it is threatened with depression. A number of articles have been already banned for export to China, and trade with the U.S. has come to a virtual standstill. The imposition of a blockade by the U.S., involving the right of search of vessels, would not be agreed to by the British government.

Nevertheless Britain is bound to tighten up the regulations concerning the export of war material to China. She has been accused, not without a certain measure of justice, of leaning backwards to oblige the Communist government. It is her duty to ensure that Hong Kong is not used to supply the troops now fighting in Korea against her allies and herself.

Ireland and Korea

There are two important gaps in the membership of the Atlantic Pact, Spain and Ireland. The former country has been up till recently cold-shouldered on the grounds of Franco's intimacy with the Fascist leaders. The latter has been pressed to join but has refused, as a protest against the continuance of Partition, that is to say the attachment of the Six Counties of Northern Ireland to the United Kingdom. The Republic of Ireland has been always opposed to this division of Ireland, but of late it has stepped up anti-partition propaganda considerably.

An unexpected ally has been found in the Ottawa French language newspaper Le Droit, which has come out with the following ingenious, though hardly ingenuous line of argument. After noting that certain supporters of European unity regret Ireland's attitude the article continues:

"But if they put themselves in the position of the Irish people, we would like to know what they would think then. If it is desired to achieve European unity, let us commence by removing the causes of the legitimate grievances which divide the peoples of the continent. (It is not clear which continent is meant, unless the editor of Le Droit imagines that Ireland is joined to the mainland of Europe.—Ed.)

"The attitude of Great Britain with regard to Ireland is clearly illogical. We have already recalled here what the British Foreign Secretary said in September, 1950, regarding the partition of Korea: 'Our duty is to look beyond the conflict and find means of restoring peace in Korea. There must no longer be South Koreans and North Koreans who should be encouraged to work together for the reconstruction of the country.'

"These words about Korea apply equally well to Ireland; there should be only one Ireland just as there should be only one Korea. Nevertheless Great Britain does nothing to apply this policy in Ireland."

Why should she, when Northern Ireland is preponderantly Protestant and fervently British? The Labour Government, which has granted self-government to India, Pakistan, Ceylon and Burma with the approval of a good proportion of the British electorate, could hardly be described even by its most rabid critics as being imperialistic. Yet the abject surrender of Northern Ireland with no guarantees would raise a storm of protest that would sweep the government out of office overnight. The neutrality of Eire during the last war cost the lives of hundreds of men, and there is nothing to show that the present Irish government is prepared to grant a single worth-while concession in exchange for the Six Counties. Furthermore it is certain that any transfer of power without Ulster's consent would result in bloodshed. The Irish want all the fun of independence with none of the responsibilities.

As for comparing Ireland with Korea Le Droit is particularly maladroit. The Irish border is no imaginary line of longitude but a dividing-line between the aboriginal Irish, who are mainly Roman Catholic, and descendants of Protestant settlers from Scotland in the time of Cromwell. We suspect that the bias of Le Droit has led it to forget (if it ever knew) that by a referendum held as late as February 1949 Northern Ireland reaffirmed her British status. Why should she be forced into a union which she does not desire?

How Old Should A Parson Be?

Recently an official of the United Church in Toronto expressed disapproval of "church committees which require new pastors but stipulate that they must not be over 45 years of age." A week ago in these columns we published some remarks about ages at which men may be expected to fill certain positions: an airman is getting past war service by the time he is thirty, but a Chancellor of the Exchequer is considered young at forty-five; a philosopher or a writer may do his finest work after he is eighty. How old should a parson be?

We are certainly surprised to learn that some church committees think that a parson of forty-five is too old for them. A parson's work requires, in a high degree, qualities of discretion and tolerance which are not found in very young men. A sense of vocation, zeal for the work, theological acuity and spiritual insight may all be present in a man of twenty-five, but these things alone do not make a good parson. The finest spiritual gifts are improved by mellowing, and a man who is mellow too young is like a fruit in the same condition—his mellowness is allied more to rottenness than to maturity. If church committees specified that their new parson should not be under forty-five, we would understand them better.

There is a tendency, of course, and there always has been such a tendency, to look upon a parson simply as an organizer, a promoter of schemes, a money-getter and the executive officer of a church congregation; he is judged less by his sermons and his influence than by his resemblance to a man of business. Now although a good parson must know how to get through a good deal of work efficiently, that is not his principal job. That job is to instruct and persuade his flock, and to be available to those who need personal help. Readers of Sinclair Lewis' Babbitt will not have forgotten the parson who, when Babbitt went to him with spiritual doubt, was so occupied with meetings and appointments that he had no time to listen.

Churches that want a hustler, a go-getter, a money-raiser, probably want a man under forty-five. But it is questionable if they want a parson at all; they want a combined publicity man and recreation director. The true Parson is the same today as he was when Chaucer described him in his Canterbury Tales:

A good man was there of religioun,
And was a poor Parson of a town;
But rich he was of holy thought and work.
He was also a learned man, a clerk,
That Christ's gospel truly would he preach ...
Christ's lore, and his apostles twelve,
He taught, and first he followed it himselve.

A new machine is described as "the typewriter that thinks." We would be happy with a typewriter that would take care of spelling.

Shows and Showmen

by IVOR BROWN

IT has been generally agreed that Britain cannot have an Exhibition of its achievements without a display of its absurdities. Halls of Health, Science, Engineering and all the rest are only, it seems, to be endured on the South Bank if swings and roundabouts are supplied for comfort and relief further up the river. At Westminster London is to stand on its dignity: at Battersea it is to stand on its head.

* * *

I DO not doubt that the available switchbacks facing the demure river-front of Chelsea will be the world's biggest and best and will shine prodigiously in what sunshine we may get. The roundabouts, too, will swirl rounder and more wildly about than ever before. While I myself prefer my stomach to remain where evolution placed it instead of being whisked into my mouth by the agency of violent mechanical revolution, I gladly concede the delight which myriads of people obtain from being treated like tennis-balls. But it is one of my convictions that this 'bigger and better' business is only one side—to me the poorer side—of the fun of the fair. Often on the fair-ground I say to myself, "Please give us something smaller and worse."

* * *

THE traditional merry-making of the people was essentially an active matter. The strong lad tried to hammer harder than the rest, the clever old ones tried to guess the weight of a pig or a cheese; there were obstacle races and treasure-hunts. There was throwing of weights and climbing of greasy poles. That still occurs during village junketings, after the flower-show, and so on. And I hope it will go on excitedly in all the local celebrations of the Festival of Britain. That Festival is best in which the people cook their own feast, instead of sending for foreign chefs and passing a gigantic bill to the taxpayer, which is the Londoner's caper on this occasion.

* * *

IT is far better fun, surely, to take a part in a competition of wits and muscles than simply to be whirled about in the biggest machinery ever designed for purposes of human pitch and toss or to watch those gladiators of our time, the motor-bicyclists who whirl round the Walls of Death. The smaller kind of Scottish Games, with the village rivalries, and their dancing for all to follow the dancing by the experts, are true fairs; the awards and the prize-winners may destroy the ideal of Fair Shares: the common revel restores the balance.

* * *

IF I were organizing a Festival Fair of my own, I would strongly insist on a place for the Individual Showmen, if such folk can still be found and encouraged. They used to be great figures in the market-place, but they seem to have been squeezed out of life by a world of strict controls and great machines. Will there be at Battersea Park the valiant fellows who smashed stones with their naked hands, who swallowed swords and chewed glass, who recited Shakespeare's more ferocious passages with even more ferocious mien and gesture, who allowed anyone to rope them up and then managed to slip all knots?

* * *

THEY lived by their sinews and cunning and the passing of the hat. Nowadays a policeman, armed with some tyrannical by-law, is certain to step in and to maintain that hat-passing is anti-social and illegal and that no man shall be allowed to eat swords or glass without a permit from the Ministry of Supply or of Food. In view of the Re-armament Drive and the steel shortage I fear that the swallowing of swords would almost certainly be vetoed and I cannot see the ever-officious spies and narks of the Food Ministry allowing anybody to chew razor-blades without a special order from the Minister himself.

* * *

BUT it was these mountebanks and Jerry-go-nimbles, the boxer who allowed anybody to challenge him, the wrestlers and the rope-me-up men who made the fairs of my boyhood so exciting. I do not want to gaze at freaks, human or animal. The Giant Sewer-Rat is better dead than exhibited, and deformed or monstrous people should not have to trade on their physical distresses. (Nor should modern sculptors make them their models). But, for the rest, let the exceptional person traffic in his curious prowess and let those who wish to compete enter the lists against him.

* * *

ABOVE all, the pedlar, with a gift of the gab, should have licence to cry his wares sobeit he does so with enough eloquence and humour to coax his customers. A vast amount of ingenuity is expended by the real Autolycus; no customer should complain if he buys a worthless article after enjoying a worthwhile salesman's turn. The vehemence of their persuasion in itself gives value for money.

* * *

THE mighty engines of pleasure, suitably ensconced among the modernist statuary which sees man as monster and his limbs as dropsical trunks, will be the main pleasure of the people in the civic revels. But I cherish a faint hope that in some villages the lonely showmen will still be seen in their antics, blessed by genuine summer days whose only showers will be those of coppers in the hat.

(Special to The Examiner from the London Observer.)

Beachcombers

(The Washington Post)

Like Tahiti, New York has its beachcombers. But on Broadway, they're called phone-book combers. Broadway beachcombers can ply their strange trade only one month a year—during that period when last year's phone directories are exchanged for new ones.

It takes, I hear tell, more than 500 men, using 50 trucks, to deliver the phone books in the Greater New York area. One hotel, for example, receives 2,500 books at a clip, and a cigar store in Times Square uses up a telephone directory every 48 hours.

Beachcombers go into their act after old books are turned in. Many of the items they find between the pages of worn-out directories are never reported. But some of them have been; scores of insurance policies and love letters, a postcard from Winston Churchill turning down an offer of free cigars.

And one batch of directories yielded five marriage certificates . . . and a divorce decree.

A WALK IN THE SUN

Carretta from Sicilia

(NEW YORK TIMES)

GENERAL Marshall now owns a Sicilian donkey cart which depicts on its ornately carved and brightly painted sides the story of Marshall Plan help to Europe. Of all the scrolls, commendations, testimonials, medals and memorabilia that he has received in his time, surely none is more striking or remarkable a gift than this little yellow cart. The cart is Sicily, and Sicily is in the cart; no other place in the world makes them, and even on the Mediterranean island they are constructed and painted one at a time. Best of all, the gift is from the peasants, for the painted cart is still their regular transportation. It is the plume in their poverty, their travelling book, carrying along the dusty roads of Sicily the romance and poetry of their homeland.

* * *

THE General first saw the carts on a visit to Palermo—the cartmakers' Detroit—in 1910 but "never dreamed I would own such a cart as this." So the General intends to keep his cart at his Leesburg (Va.) home; if this is the only Sicilian cart in the Dominion State no one will be surprised. But it is not the only such cart in the United States. There is at least one more. Where it is is a mystery but how it got here is not. When the Americans invaded Sicily they were captivated by the colourful carts. One formidable G.I. noticed that it was not one but many pieces—sides, tailboard, frame, wheels, axle, and so on. And with a little effort the whole works was detachable. When he visited the post-office the surprised clerks said that it was against the rules to ship home vehicles. No, said the G.I., this is not a vehicle, this is a work of art. That axle? asked the clerk, and the G.I. answered: Of course; it's painted beautifully. And so it was. Piece by piece the dismantled Sicilian prize—purchased with sergeant's pay—was shipped to America.

* * *

IT is history which trots behind the carratti of Sicily. Rarely does a modern theme—such as this special-order Marshall Plan painting—appear on the carts. The subjects include all the traditionss of Sicily and its mixed races, all the events of classic times when this island was at the centre of the world, all the epopees of the knighthood, of that great puppet-hero, Orlando Furioso, the bravest one of all. Here is the Queen of Sheba, the Death of Virginia, the Burning of Troy, the Rape of the Sabines, the Orlando at Roncevaux, the Treason of Ganelon, Charlemagne and his Paladins, and quantities of King Rogers: Coronation of Roger, Roger Entering Palermo, Roger's Deeds. From later history, Columbus before Ferdinand and Isabella, Charles V and Francis I, Napoleon leading his army at Arcola or bidding adieu to the Old Guard.

And on top of the paintings? Loads of hay, lumber, sand, rock, vegetables, tangerines.

THE artists and artisans who paint history upon the rolling carts of Sicily do so only after a long apprenticeship. They work in small, badly lit shops off the Via Roma or Via Maqueda and there are not many of them. Perhaps this Marshall Plan cart was executed by Francesco Cardinale, a master in the field. He learned his art from Giuseppe Lamonico, most famous of modern wagon illustrators, who died in 1942 and is mourned with sorrow due to a Da Vinci. Francesco's shop used to be filled with wagons in various stages of dress.

Francesco used to paint a whole cart for about 7,000 lire. (You furnished the cart, of course.) It took about five days to do the job in the winter but less in the warm weather, when the paint dried faster. The basic colour always was a canary yellow, followed by red and green. Here was a boy scraping the soft wood and removing bits of old paint from a figure's eyes or mouth; a second putting on an undercoat of drab; another painting a second of yellow, another mottling this with daubs of red and green. Over in the corner, in the room lit only by sunlight, an artist, palette in hand, painting little heads with fine camel's-hair brushes.

And what happened to the Sicilian who, fascinated by the little jeeps that skittered around his island, demanded that his cart be painted olive-drab? Niente doing: He was told to tell his story walking.

* * *

IN spite of his talent, the cart-painter modestly denies that he is an artist. Mostly, he will say, he paints from memory but sometimes he will look at a reference book for subjects. Do you want the Downfall of Carthage? Or Ruggiero and Angelica? He'll paint it in technicolour. And as for his competitor near the Julius Caesar Square, well, says the "cartisan" with professional jealousy, he paints with a broom, not a brush.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die....

And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof: and the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man. (Gen. 2: 16, 17, 21, 22.)

* * *

Now the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die: for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat. (Gen. 3: 1-6.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Jones keeps pigeons, and Brown, next door, tries to keep pigeons—quite a different state of affairs. Brown is constantly losing birds while Jones is constantly suspected of finding them.

The other morning Brown, with a smile and a nickel, approached the youthful son and heir of Jones.

"Willie," he began, holding up the coin, "did daddy find a bird yesterday?"

Willie nodded.

"And was it a blue bird with some white feathers in its wing?"

"Dunno," responded Willie, pocketing the nickel. "You can't tell their colour when they're in a pie!"

Will Destroy Dogs

TORONTO, May 8.—(CP).—At least 20 of 60 purebred dogs found starved and half-crazed in a barn at nearby Pickering will be destroyed. Toronto Humane Society officials said only two of the animals were found "to be in comparatively good condition." Most of them were suffering from malnutrition and distemper. The dogs, worth about $10,500 when in top shape, had existed on bread and water for a month prior to their discovery Friday, the society said. They were locked up in small crates and boxes.

Canadians Go To Wainwright

EDMONTON, May 8 (CP). — Three troop trains carrying about 1,000 soldiers of Canada's special force to Wainwright military camp, left Fort Lewis, Wash., at one-hour intervals on Monday night.

An army announcement said the soldiers, members of the 25th Infantry Brigade replacement group which remained at Fort Louis after the brigade itself went to Korea, are scheduled to arrive on Wednesday at Wainwright.

They are being permanently transferred to the 130,000-acre training area 135 miles east of Edmonton to train as reinforcements for Canada's brigade in Korea. A small rear party will be left at Fort Lewis.

Brig. W. J. McGill of Vancouver, officer commanding the replacement group, will take charge of the whole Wainwright camp.

Try To Improve Radio Measures

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP).—Representatives of the Canadian and United States Governments Monday began drafting an agreement to unify and improve safety radio measures for use on ships operating in the Great Lakes.

The agreement would extend to the Great Lakes some of the provisions of the international convention for the safety of life at sea.

William Benedickson, parliamentary assistant to Transport Minister Chevrier, said:

"It is believed that the promotion of safety measures on the Great Lakes can best be served by making provision in common agreement for radiotelephone communication for safety purposes, including radiotelephone communication as an aid to and instrument of navigation."

Urges Pressure On U.S. Gov't. To Hurry Seaway

OTTAWA, May 8 — (CP). — Gordon Graydon, External Affairs spokesman for the Progressive Conservative Party, proposed in the Commons Monday that Canada put more heat on the United States to get action on joint development of the St. Lawrence seaway.

Speaking for his party in an External Affairs debate, Mr. Graydon said the US should be told clearly;

1—Canada wants the waterway started at once, and as a joint undertaking.

2—Failing joint action, the project will have to be undertaken by Canada alone, or alternative means found to get power to meet Ontario's requirements.

If Canada decides to go ahead with the seaway alone, Mr. Graydon suggested, she should investigate whether US shipping would be entitled to the free passage through the deepened St. Lawrence, it now enjoys.

Mr Graydon said that, on the basis of defence needs alone, the seaway is regarded as an urgent "must." The Canadian point of view should be advanced in unmistakeable terms in the hope it might influence decisions at Washington.

The Hydro Commission plans an expansion program totalling $150,000,000 this year. Recently it negotiated a $30,000,000 loan locally.

Science Progresses
For 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of acidity, insolubility and bitter taste. It is called 'DISPRIN' and is sold at druggists everywhere.

'DISPRIN' is available in Bottles of 26 tablets or Handy Pocket Folders of 8.

"Headache?..take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.
DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives relief without delay.
DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Howard Pammett has some interesting bits on sports here in his history of Peterborough. Of course, water sports, racing afoot, with horses and with bikes, as well as weight-lifting and wrestling, were oldtime favorites when the town was young. Cricket perhaps was the oldest organized sport in Peter Robinson's borough, but English football was an oldie, too. Lacrosse started in 1872, the rugged field type. First covered rink for hockey was built the year before, shinny having been played previously on frozen ponds and lakes. Baseball started here around '72, four years before the National Baseball League organized.

* * * * * *

It had been played in various forms many years before over in the States, coming to Canada about 1860. Around 1840, four-foot stakes were the bases but guys kept getting hurt, so they started using flat rocks for bases. They used hard rubber balls with no masks or mitts worn for a long time. Catcher stood away back of the plate and took the ball on the bounce. This persisted for quite a spell and oldsters living here at present may recall such play as boys. A far cry from the games of today, but our grandpops and great grandfathers undoubtedly had fun at their athletics when this was quite a small town indeed.

"Don't Be Too Friendly"

Manager Ed Whitehill of the Petes—like Eddie Murphy last year—doesn't believe players should fraternize with opposing players. He'll agree with Manager George Toporcer of Buffalo who recently told an Ottawa Journal scribe: "I don't say you can't be a good fellow and still win. I don't mind my ball players being friendly off the field, but I don't want to see them chatting and being friendly with the opposition while on it before a game. I tell them that they can't expect anything from the opposition. Pitchers will still knock you down in a tight spot and base runners will pile into you. I warn them that you never get any place trying to ingratiate yourself in a highly competitive sport." Durocher put it this way: "Nice guys finish last."

When Lou Vitarelli's juniors and Don Crowe's seniors meet in the lacrosse exhibition here Friday night, they'll start off from scratch. That is, both coaches will stand pat on starting lineups. Later, if the tilt threatens to get too one-sided, the defences and goalies will be switched to make for an even, exciting contest. But the coaches want to see their regular teams working together for a time in actual competition. Both clubs have high hopes this year of annexing both provincial and Dominion honors, though of course there's a long season just commencing. Fans will be able to assess the teams' chances much better a month or so after the schedules open. Anyway, a big night is promised Friday to start the gutted-stick season.

Folding Their Tents, Eh?

Coach Doug Gillespie of Owen Sound says there's no chance of the Mann Cup champions fielding a team in the OLA senior "A" race this season. He claims the current money arguments between the hockey Mercurys and the arena there have nothing to do with it—the trouble is the club has no finances, with no backing in sight. Also, three of last year's champs have left for other centres, and three or four more say they're hanging up the gear for good. Even though the classy Crescents won the Dominion title last fall, they made no money. We know there was dissatisfaction among the Owen Sounders over this state of affairs since the Mann Cup finals. So the loop will go May 16 with seven clubs in a schedule calling for 30 games each.

Milt Schmidt, starry veteran captain and centre of Boston Bruins in the NHL, won the Hart Trophy this year. He was rated the most valuable player and gets an award of 1,000, beating out Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Canadiens. The 33-year-old ace waited 12 years to win this trophy but he had a great year, being the unanimous choice as centre on the all-star squad after playing 62 scheduled games and having 61 scoring points. Top scorer for Bruins with 22 goals, he was third highest in the league and played a terrific two-way game through the league and in playoffs. The Kitchener star now makes his home the year around in Boston. He and Dit Clapper have been close friends for many years.

Hints On Sports

By FRED MAYBEE

Playing Second Base

Second base is known as the keystone-sack and baseball coaches and managers like to have a dependable man there. He must throw right, of course, just as at all infield positions except first base and, of course, the pitcher, who may throw either hand, as may outfielders.

A second-baseman should be fast with a sure pair of hands and need not be extra tall though height is not a handicap at any position. But we all have to play and we all can't be tall. A boy should seek the spot that best suits him.

The throws for a keystoner are not as long as for the other infielders except throws to the plate when necessary, but a good arm is essential because of the fact that the plays around second are hurried as a rule and time is a big factor.

The second-baseman and shortstop should work closely together as a team and each should know what move to make when the other moves. For example, when a runner is on first and a ball is hit to the second-baseman, on the side nearest first, takes the throw to force the runner and is set to complete a double-play by throwing to first to retire the batter. If the ball is hit close to second however, the second sacker can often handle the putout and assist himself. On a throw from the catcher to catch a runner at second, either man may cover the bag depending on circumstances, usually the player nearest at the time.

Each time a hitter reaches first a possible double-play looms up, so both shortstop and second baseman must be ready to cover the base, depending on which fields the ball and must whip the ball accurately to first.

So work out often with your partner on your team, boys, if you play either second or short. Learn his ways and you will get good results and win ball games.

Next installment: How to play third base.

Say Crescents Needed Financial Backing

OWEN SOUND, May 8 (CP). — A shortage of top material and a resulting lack of financial backing were the reasons given Monday for the withdrawal of the Owen Sound Crescents from the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior series.

Doug Gillespie, coach of Crescents, who last year won the Mann Cup, said a recent disagreement between the Mercury Hockey Club and the Arena commission in this city had nothing to do with the decision to drop out.

The chairman and two members of the Arena commission resigned after a dispute over disposal of proceeds from the Allan Cup final here.

Even with a championship team last year, Gillespie said, Crescents went into the red. Seven members of his former team would not return and players of a similar calibre were not available to replace them.

Mercurys Force Seventh Game Score 7-4 Win

OWEN SOUND, May 8 (CP) — The Allan Cup series, all square after six games, will be decided Wednesday night.

Owen Sound Mercurys forced the playoff to the full seven games by defeating Fort Frances Canadians 7-4 Monday night before a small crowd of little more than 1,000 fans.

It was the first time in the best-of-seven series that Mercurys have had to come from behind. They had been ahead after the first and third games but Fort Frances took two in a row to lead the series 3-2.

Owen Sound played it safe on Monday night, pulling into a 2-0 lead in the first four minutes and adding another before Canadians got their first goal. Mercurys led 3-1 at the end of the first period, were ahead 6-3 at the end of the second and then split a pair of goals with the desperate Canadians in the final period.

Top Man

Top man on the offence for the winners was Pat McReavy with three goals and an assist. He was given great help by his centre, Doug Gillespie, who assisted on three goals.

Jack Ingoldsby got two unassisted goals for Owen Sound while Mike Bukacheski and Tommy Burlington were the other scorers.

Ed Kliner, Ike Eizensoph, Verne O'Donnell and Sam Fedoruk divided the four Fort Frances goals.

Canadians suffered a blow when centre Doc Johnson hurt his knee in the first period after being spilled by Harry Kazarian. It was considered unlikely he would see further action in the series. Owen Sound had six of the nine penalties.

Confeds Get Tilt

Confederation of the School Softball League trounced King George 19-8 yesterday, scoring 12 runs in the big second inning. They got six in the first and one more in the third, being held well the rest of the route. King George fought back to tally five in the fourth and three in the fifth. Simmons fanned six but walked nine, while McIlmoyle and Ellis of King George whiffed none and walked four. Brown shone with two fine catches. Teams:

Confederation; Floyd, Chesher, DuMoulin, Simmons, McIntosh, Brown, Little, Chamberlain, Goldie, Linsey, Corner, Graves, Hamilton.

King George: Barker, McIlmoyle, Rogers, Butcher, Nurse, Simpson, Ellis, McKenzie, Dack, Roote, Johnson, Harding.

Umpires: B. Scrutton and H. Currie.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Fifty-seven Canadian - bred thoroughbreds are still eligible to compete in this year's King's Plate race at Toronto Woodbine Track May 26, the Ontario Jockey Club announced Monday. The list was cut by 29 from the number eligible last Dec. 1, but one of the largest fields on record is expected to enter the Canadian turf classic—oldest continuously-run race in North America.

The 57 three-year-olds are the property of 42 different owners who are shooting for the King's 50 guineas and a total prize estimated at $21,000.

Largest entries are from the Toronto stables of E. P. Taylor and Bill Beasley. Each has four listed.

The Taylor colorbearers include Britannia, a filly and the winter book favorite, and Mighty Battle also high on the list.

First disqualification of Toronto's 1951 racing season occurred Monday at Dufferin Park. Bard of Avon, ridden by Jimmy Lynn, interfered with Galena in the sixth and feature race of the card. As a result Bard of Avon which finished second was placed third and Galena, in third, was placed second.

Jockey Lynn was suspended for 10 days under the new rules of the Ontario Racing Commission. Havahome was an easy winner in the race.

Jackie Robinson had to step up the pace to .400 to stay out front in the National League batting race last week. With Dick Sisler of Philadelphia and Bob Elliott of Boston roaring along at .397, the Brooklyn second baseman boosted his average four points to hold the lead. All averages include Sunday's games.

In the American League, two Chicago White Sox rookies and shortstop Chico Carrasquel held the first three spots. Newcomer Orestes Minoso, acquired last was in the lead with 14 hits in 35 trips for an average .400. Jim Busby, up from Sacramento, Calif., was second with .388 on 26 hits in 67 times at bat. Carrasquel had 27 hits in 79 trips for .342.

Rangers shut out Patrick Thistle 2-0 in the final of the Glasgow Charity Cup soccer competition Monday night.

Brooklyn Dodgers Monday optioned right-hander Rex Barney to their Fort Worth farm club in the Texas League. The 26-year-old fire-baller can be recalled in 24 hours. After a disappointing spring showing, he asked to be placed on the voluntary retired list.

Bill Dewitt said Monday he's getting tired of denying that his St. Louis Browns are up for sale. They are not, he told reporters. Latest rumors had the American League club going to Bill Veeck, former owner of Cleveland Indians, and Sidney Salomon, Jr., St. Louis insurance executive.

Leroy (Satchel) Paige, legendary Negro pitcher who had a 1948-49 fling with Cleveland Indians, Monday agreed to join the Chicago American Giants of the Negro American League.

Curlers Name Executive For Next Year

By HERB MARTIN.

Eight of last year's board of directors of the Peterborough Curling Rink Company were re-elected to the board last night at the annual meeting in the club rooms, with about 60 shareholders present.

The new board is F. Stenson, S. Lowe, H. Bradburn, N. Hamley, T. Doughty, Dr. C. McKee, O. Price, Dr. McCartney of last year's board and B. Grant and R. Payne, the two new members, replacing J. Sinclair and W. B. Gordon. The directors will meet shortly to elect officers and choose a chairman.

In opening the meeting president F. Stenson paid tribute to all who had helped make the past season a good one. He briefly reviewed the highlights of the season.

Secretary Ira Moore presented the secretary's report and the financial statement.

There were 15 nominated for the board and while the ballots were being checked many suggestions were put forward.

A Boys' Club

The idea of forming a junior boys' club was strongly supported and another suggestion which seemed to gain favor was a two-year term for the board, the highest five two years and the other five, one year. Those ideas are for the new board to consider.

The attendance was not as large as it should have been, and after the result of the vote was announced, the meeting adjourned.

Length Of Club Should Decide Player's Stance

By JIMMY DEMARET
Three-Time Masters Winner

On all long shots make sure that your right shoulder is back of the left shoulder with reference to the line of aim.

That, to me, is the most important feature of the stance.

The same applies to the right foot. It must be slightly behind left, along the line of aim.

This is called the closed stance.

As I wrote in the PGA Teachers' Guide, for the most part the stance can be boiled down to the length of the club determining it.

As for the position of the ball, a drive should be played off the left heel.

On the fairway, the ball can be played more between the feet.

When extra backspin is required for approaching closely-trapped greens, it is advisable that the ball be played more nearly opposite the right heel.

On long shots, with longer clubs, a closed stance is used, and the ball is played off the left foot.

With medium-length clubs, the ball is played from between the feet.

On short shots with the shorter clubs, the ball is played from more of an open stance and off the right foot, which is slightly ahead of the left.

POSITION — Claude Harmon demonstrates how a drive should be played off the left heel.

Ammonia Leaks Postpones Game

By AL VICKERY.

WINNIPEG, May 8 (CP). — The Dominion junior hockey final between Barrie Flyers and Winnipeg Monarchs will resume here tonight after a postponement due to leaking ammonia at the Amphitheatre rink.

Barrie Flyers, holding a 3-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven series, will be out to make it four straight.

The two clubs were ready for action Monday night when Jimmy Dunn of Winnipeg, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, called off the game.

A broken valve on an ammonia pipe in the freezing unit sent the fumes throughout the building, even down to the basement dressing rooms.

Gordon Menard, in charge of ushers at the rink, first discovered the break as he made his rounds to test exits. He said he heard "a sizzling sound" in the engine room, and was greeted by the fumes as he opened the door to investigate.

Menard suffered minor burns to the thigh but was released from hospital after treatment.

Dunn made the announcement of the postponement after a huddle with fire chief Davis Clawson, Jack Roxburgh of Simcoe, Ont., president of the Ontario Hockey Association, coach Happy Emms of Barrie and manager Pat Lyons of Monarchs.

Senators Club Indians 11-10 Fans Wonder If It's Mirage

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Even the most ardent Washington rooters are convinced that manager Bucky Harris is doing it with mirrors.

Any moment they expect to wake up and find that the Senators' place among the American League's elite is a mirage.

Capitol rooters, who have had little to cheer about for nearly 20 years, see their much-maligned cast-off crew yapping at the heels of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Three weeks into the campaign the Nats lead such highly-regarded contenders as Boston, Cleveland and Detroit. The Yankees have a mere 1½-game edge.

The amazing part of the Senators' upsurge is that they've been doing it without any help from Sid Hudson, their ace pitcher. The tall, lean righthander, burdened by a hip injury, hasn't pitched an inning yet.

In Hudson's stead, Cuban righthanders Conrado Marrero and Sandalio Consuegra are the mainstays. Each has won three against no defeats. Mickey Vernon, Irv Noren, Sam Mele and Gil Coan have spearheaded the hitting attack.

Edge Indians

Consuegra, for the first time this season, wasn't up to the mark Monday night. However, his mates made up for this lapse by clubbing six Cleveland pitchers for 17 hits to outscore the Indians 11-10.

The Nats teed off on starter Johnny Vandermeer and rookie Gerald Fahr for eight consecutive singles in the fourth inning to tally five times. They added five more runs in the fifth. Consuegra yielded four runs in the fourth and was blasted out in the fifth. Mickey Harris finished and got credit for the victory despite ninth-inning homers to Larry Doby and Allie Clark.

Every starter had a hand in Washington hit parade. Gil Coan, Cass Michaels and rookie catcher Frank Saska each got three hits. Irv Noren drove in two runs.

Gene Bearden, recently sold by Washington to Detroit, was the star of the Tigers' 10-6 victory which snapped the Yankees' eight-game winning streak.

Does His Stuff

Working in a relief role, the lefthander set the Yanks back with five hits in seven innings for his first victory. He also got a home run in the eighth off Tom Ferrick. Other four-baggers went to Dick Kryhoski and Hoot Evers The loss was charged to Fred Sandford, who replaced starter Tommy Byrne in the sixth.

Gene Woodling and Yogi Berra paced the Yankees with home runs. Woodling also collected two singles and drove in two runs. Berra got a single and also accounted for two tallies.

Willard Nixon was the whole works as Boston Red Sox blanked the Browns in a St. Louis night game. He allowed only two hits and got half of Boston's four safeties off loser Ned Garver. One of Nixon's hits was his first major-league home run.

Brooks In Third

Brooklyn moved into third place, edging out St. Louis Cardinals 4-3, in the only game in the National League. The Cards forced the game into overtime on a ninth-inning homer by catcher Del Rice, then took a temporary 3-2 lead. The Dodgers bounced back with two runs in their half of the 10th.

The Redbirds retained their first-place lead over Boston.

Preacher Roe, an ex-Redbird, went all the way to earn his fourth straight win. Gerry Staley was the loser.

Peanuts Lowrey at third base was first the hero, then the goat for the Cards. It was his single that drove in Cards' tie-baeaking run in the 10th. And it was his double error on Carl Furillo's grounder that opened the gates for Brooklyn's tying and winning runs.

Warner Sale Marks End Of Pioneer Era

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 8—(AP)—The apparent sale by Warner Brothers of their movie interests marks the end of the pioneer era of the movie industry.

This is the first time that any of the great builders and developers of the movie business has retired voluntarily from the Hollywood scene.

The great part of the film dynasty has remained in the hands of the men who got in early. These men include Louis B. Mayer, a native of Saint John, N. B., Nicholas and Joseph Schenck, Adolph Suker, Sam Goldwyn, Soyrous Skouras, Jack and Harry Cohn.

Now Warner Brothers have announced their intention to leave that pioneering group after a saga that led them from a bicycle shop to a multi-million dollar enterprise.

Ups And Downs

Benjamin Warner left strife-torn Poland in 1888 and brought his family to the United States. They landed at Baltimore and at first had difficulty making ends meet. Harry, the oldest of the boys, helped out by selling papers.

The family kept moving, seeking success in Virginia and in London, Ont. In 1896, young Harry set out for himself. He opened a shoe repair shop in Youngstown, O., and business got so good that he sent for his father. Harry was 15 at the time.

The Warners branched out with a bicycle shop. They also went into other enterprises—from selling vinegar and soap to working on the railroad. They began to shape up as a team. Harry the captain, Sam the mechanic, and Albert and Jack the salesmen.

Sam, the mechanical mind, became interested in the new Edison kinetoscope. He got a job at $8 a week as assistant projectionist. They then rented some equipment and a print of "The Great Train Robbery" for $150. Soon the whole family joined him in the enterprise. They opened a theatre in Newcastle, Pa., with a capacity of 99 persons.

Steady Climb

By 1912 the company had grown until it started making its own pictures. The first was a three-reeler called "Peril of the Plains." In 1916 they opened a small studio in Hollywood.

During the 1920s, Sam was tinkering with the idea of sound movies. He sold his brothers on the idea and then went to work with Western Electric on a metho.

Finally, on Oct. 6, 1927, Al Jolson appeared on the screen of the Warner Theatre in New York with the words, "You ain't heard nothing yet, folks; listen to this." It was the first time an actor had spoken dialogue on the screen and it revolutionized the industry. Sam died before he could see the impact of his work on the business.

Toronto Economist Sees Tougher Money Policies

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

A Toronto economist has ventured a look into the future to see what we may expect in the way of further inflation.

The economist is Wallace Goforth, who gave his views Monday in an address to the Toronto Chapter of the Institute of Chartered Life Underwriters of Canada.

He carefully said they were not a "prophecy" but were what we may "reasonably expect" in Canada "provided that our own and other governments are not completely remiss in their duties during the gathering storm in which we now live." Here is what he sees:

"Perhaps a temporary pause in the rise of prices and the cost of living during the next few weeks or months, except for a two-point rise resulting directly from increased taxes.

"In this period the recent moderate 'brakes' (of fiscal and associated government policy) may possibly begin to work effectively, and rearmament, except in spots, will still be in the blueprint stage, so far as Canada is concerned.

Renewed Inflation

"Renewed inflation pressures by late summer, or early fall, with tighter 'brakes' being applied by the monetary authorities. A further rise in the cost-of-living index is then possible, though the 'target' should be no rise at all.

"A much tougher national budget in 1952, heavier expenditures on rearmament, and increased monetary restrictions. The same progression can be looked for through 1953 and perhaps 1954, always with the objects of keeping prices and costs close to their present level."

In addition to the steps already taken to put brakes on inflation, "we can go much further, with complete success, if the Canadian public will stand for it; because further steps will hurt somone, perhaps everyone, though in the long run all will gain."

More Restriction

Some of the "tough" things that remain to be done, if and when they are needed, are

"Successive raises in the Bank of Canada's discount rate, perhaps from the present two per cent to as high as five per cent or more;

"Further restrictions on instalment buying, up to 100 per cent if required;

"Reducing and adjusting the present exemptions on personal income tax schedules; first to reach the mass-buying group; but also, and secondly, to encourage wives to enter the labor force, and their husbands to work overtime when needed."

Mr. Goforth found this encouraging sign:

"There is some evidence, though, by no means conclusive, that the means of payment, per head in Canada, have fallen sharply in the early months of 1951. If this trend continues—and we have reason to believe the government intends it to continue—we may, just possibly, have reason to control inflation at the source which is the best and surest way of controlling it at all."

Commons Approves Pension Resolution

OTTAWA, May 8 — (CP). — The Commons Monday quickly approved a constitutional resolution designed to open the way for a national system of contributory old-age pensions to Canadians of 70 and over regardless of means.

The resolution asks the British Parliament to amend the British North America Act, Canada's constitution, to give the Federal Government power to set up the plan. A similar resolution is expected to pass the Senate today.

As the Commons resolution was adopted, Prime Minister St. Laurent annaunced that provincial representatives will meet with the Federal Government here on May 21 to consider what legislation would be appropriate for pensions to the needy of 65 to 69.

House Members Duck Debate To Hear Play

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP)—Some Commons members ducked Monday night's debate on Canada's role in the troubled modern world to cock an eye on a lyrical version of the days when things were really tough and $4,000,000 was a lot of government money to throw around, even in the west.

On the hill, External Affairs Minister Pearson steered the House through a debate on foreign policy. Down the hill, in the Little Theatre, a group of amateur actors ran through a light and laughing play written by one of Mr. Pearson's staff, Graham McInnes.

Mr. McInnes and his music-writing partner, Norman Gilchrist, lay their irreverent hands on the history that arose with the building of the CPR and its completion 66 years ago.

They call it "The Last Best West" and they ring in about everything associated with the west, including the Hudson's Bay Company, pioneers, Louis Riel's Metis, a polygamous and erudite Indian chief, the Mounties, impossible Englishmen, a dirt farmer, CPR building—and, by a slight twist of singing narrative, this year's $65,000,000 federal payment to the wheat farmers. The play is being presented this week by the Ottawa Drama League.

Nice Contest

The $65,000,000 stands out as a nice piece of historical and fiscal contrast to Sir John A. MacDonald's hesitations before laying another $4,000,000 of Ottawa money on the line for completion of the CPR.

Sir John A. is on hand in all his glory, for Mr. McInnes and Mr. Gilchrist deal with history with the same expansive hand as that which characterised their effort last year—a light, bright satire on Newfoundland's union with Canada.

In the end, the CPR gets finished. Mr. Pearson, up the hill listening to people tell him where Canada should go and why in this squirming world, would have envied Mr. McInnes the finality of his plot. But he, at least, was one member who couldn't duck the debate.

LAKEHEAD FLOODS—Flood waters in and around Port Arthur, Ont., caused considerable damage to park property, railway lines and waterfront industries. Boulevard Lake reservoir water broke through sandbag revetments and gouged this 30-foot canyon in Current River Park. Sewer and water pipes were bared and ripped from their locations.

Ask For Change

LONDON, May 8 (CP)—London city council Monday night asked the Ontario government to take over the full cost of care of wards of the Children's Aid Society, now split between the city and the province. A resolution by Sudbury council requesting a 50 per cent governmental assumption of the cost was quickly rejected as too mild by aldermen of this Southern Ontario community.

Thomson Praises New Employment Act

TORONTO, May 8 (CP)—Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, Monday night commended the Progressive Conservative government for its recent legislation of the Fair Employment Practices Act.

Mr. Thomson was addressing the Toronto Lodge 836, B'nai B'rith convention.

The government made a definite step in stamping out racial discrimination in Ontario, the Liberal leader said.

Mr. Thomson said he honored B'nai B'rith for its aims in overcoming prejudice in Canada and urged the inter-relationship of all people no matter what their race or color. Jews should not congregate together as they do now but should merge with other nationalities.

VOL. CII. No. 108 TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1951

15 Volunteer For New ArmyBrigade

Group To Form Part Of North Atlantic Pact Force

Peterborough and district men were applying at the rate of one every six minutes when the recruiting office opened today at the armouries.

Monday when the recruiting office was just being set up by the commanding officer of the 56th H.A.A. Regiment, Lieut.-Col. M. E. Clarke, 10 men from the city made application for Canada's 27th Infantry Brigade which will be part of the North Atlantic Treaty organization force.

Today when the office opened officially under Captain Frank Frape, Royal Canadian Regiment, now attached to the 50th HAA Regiment, district men kept the one-man staff hopping for the first half-hour. He interviewed five men and had them fill out applications for the force.

First to enlist Monday were Herbert Charles Bowen, 128 Hazlitt St. and Donald J. Edwards, 719 Walkerfield Ave. They were followed by J. F. Cupoli, 529 Elm St., E. J. Edwards, 210 Antrim St. W. A. McPhadden, W. J. Byrnes, R. Livingston, Roy Ellis, Roy Hotts and Kenneth Moher.

First In

Today the first into the office were Orville Wesenberg, 220 Caddy St. and M. J. May, 1st Lift Lock house. They were followed in quick succession by George Joseph Roberts, 692 Stewart St., Elywin Murduff, 522 Edison Ave., and James Stuart Smith, 644 Hawley St.

Out of the 15 applying for service only six men have previous service records. These saw action with the Westminster Regiment, the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Regiment, the Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment, the RCAF and the RCN.

Capt. Frape said today that he was well-pleased with the first day's results taking into consideration that the office wasn't quite prepared to accept applications until today. Most of the men so far, he added, have chosen to be career soldiers rather than enlisting for the 3-year period. They reason that the army offers them more security in the pensions, medical, dental, clothing and family allowance than civilian life.

Several inquiries were made today after the army announced Monday that single men between 18 and 23 without previous military experience are eligible for short-term commissions under a new officer-procurement plan.

Direct Entry

This new system, known as "direct entry" involves a continuous one-year training program divided into five phases designed to place candidates in units as quickly as possible. The minimum academic requirement is junior matriculation or its equivalent.

Peterborough has the only full time recruiting office in the district part-time offices are now open at Lindsay under the 4th S.P. Regiment, at Cobourg under the 33rd Medium Regiment and at Port Hope under the Midland Regiment.

A number of today's and Monday's applicants left today for Kingston for M-tests and medical examination.

ASSIZES OPENED — Senator W. Rupert Davies, of Kingston, High Commissioner of Montgomeryshire, Wales, pauses after church services preceding the opening of the Assize Court at Welshpool to chat with Assize Judge Sir Wintringham Norton Atable. With their backs to the camera are, left, Canon W. J. Rees, vicar and surrogate of St. Mary of the Salvation, and Col. G. R .D. Harrison, Under Sheriff. Beside the mace-bearer at left is the Mayor of Welshpool, Alderman W. C. Ainge.

Boy 14 Missing From Home More Than Week

The father of 14-year-old David King, Lloyd King, RR 6, Peterborough, Coldsprings, is searching for his son missing from his home for more than a week.

The boy left his home the morning of April 28. He was seen once or twice in the south end of the city during the week, but then disappeared. Mr. King believes his son has not wandered too far.

His grandparents, both elderly, are not in good health and the boy's disappearance has had a serious effect on them.

The boy has been doing well at school and the father can think of no reason why the boy would run away. He is described as being five feet, four inches tall, with fair hair and blue eyes, wearing a blue cap, a blue and red plaid jacket, blue denim trousers, brown shoes with black rubbers.

Anyone seeing this boy should notify city or provincial police.

Driver Sees Child 2, Brakes Truck In Time

Twenty-one month-old Ronald Eggleston escaped being run over by a neighbour's truck Sunday when he was knocked down by the truck and suffered cuts about the face.

Ronald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eglestone, R.R. 3, Peterborough, was taken to Civic hospital where his condition was reported as good.

The neighbour was backing up his truck and apparently knocked the boy down and rear wheels straddled the youngster's body. The driver looked down as he was about to turn and saw the child's head in the path of the front wheel. He stopped and pulled the youngster out.

Bylaw Cancels Right To Use Market As Vending Place

Bylaw No. 4970, passed by the council Monday night, extinguishes the market square as a public place for the vending of agricultural produce. It was the instrument, a word from legal usage, authorizing the corporation of the city of Peterborough to use the property "for the parking of vehicles thereon."

Pay For 1950 Work

Three financial bylaws introduced by Ald. T. D. Miller provide the money for municipal work done last year.

In other words they fix the authority for issuing debentures by which money borrowed, repayable over a term of years.

Pavement of Monaghan Road and Park St. cost $62,712 as recalled in its bylaw.

A long list of sewers that was mentioned several times when the work was authorized amount to $184,760. That is the money the council has to provide as its part of the total cost by the local improvement plan. Some of those streets were in Ashburnham, and others down near Wallace Grove section of the city at Cameron St. and Monaghan road. Some of them were McFarlane, Swanston, Juliet, Welsh, Watts, Cameron, Steele, Fairbairn, Parkhill Road,

Ald. Miller said they had been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board after their second reading.

There was an item of $4,013.16 for sidewalks on Knox, Wolsley, Hillcrest and Parkhill Road.

Total cost of these works was $251,485 as finally reflected in the total borrowing.

Two Cars Crash Badly Damaged

Two cars were badly damaged when they collided at Hunter and Rogers Sts. about 11:40 Monday night.

George F. Rodger, 242 Munroe Ave., was driving east on Hunter St. and started to make a left turn to go north on Rogers St. Allan R. Powers, 748 Herman St., was driving west down the Hunter St. hill.

The right door of the Rodger car was smashed, both right fenders dented, the body behind the right door crumpled and the running board nearly torn off. Damage to the Powers car was a bent front right wheel, a dented front right fender and damaged grill and front bumper.

Patrol Sergeant Harold Mesley investigated with Constable Victor McConnell.

Timber Workers Get Pay Boost

About 30 production workers at the plant of Timber Structures of Canada Ltd., Peterborough, have signed their first agreement collective bargaining with the company. It includes a 15-cents-an-hour increase—10 cents retroactive to February 1, and the other five cents beginning May 10.

The workers are members of Local 509, International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL), a composite local consisting of production employees at the Peterborough plant. Negotiations on behalf of the workers were made by H. Landon Ladd, Eastern Canadian director of the CIO woodworkers. Albert Maskell is president of the composite local.

Structures' contract include five statutory holidays with pay, checkoff by the company, a week's vacation after six months of employment, seniority rights, and

Inspect Cadets At Nicholls Park

Two major changes have been made in the annual PCVS Cadet Corps inspection which will be held on Thursday.

Inspecting officer this year will be Peterborough man, Col. J. A. Dewart, M.C. In the last few years the corps has been inspected by Brigadier Geoffrey Walsh, officer commanding the Eastern Ontario area. This year he is inspecting units which he has not visited in the past two years. Assisting Col. Dewart will be Capt. L. J. Hyslop, cadet training officer for the Eastern Ontario area.

The inspection will be held at Nicholls Park. The corps, the senior in Eastern Ontario area, has increased so much in strength that the parade ground is too small for the manoeuvres. Stands will be erected for the spectators.

At 1.30 p.m. the inspection will begin with the general salute and the inspection of the regiment. This will be followed by the march past in review order and advance in review order.

The demnostrations will then take place. These include battery and troop drill, the band, mass physical training by the corps, displays of first aid, signals, bren guns, map reading, range discipline, field craft and battle drill.

After reforming the cadets will be presented with the annual trophies, the IODE shield for the best battery and the best troop trophy by the cadet training officer.

The day will close with the annual route march.

Labor Board Certifies Two Unions

Both Are Chartered Under the CCL, Affect 130 Workers

Two unions—both chartered directly to the Canadian Congress of Labor and involving more than 130 industrial workers in Peterborough—have been certified by the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

They are Local 231, Outboard Marine Workers (office workers) and Local 231, Industrial Union of Automotive Employees.

Local 231, at Outboard, applied for certification and were given a hearing by the OLRB on February 7, the same date as the 340 production workers at the plant. However the OLRB took a longer time to grant certification because of doubt over what employees came within the officeworkers' jurisdiction. More than 50 employees are affected.

A vote was not required.

First draft of contract terms later to be presented to the company, will be drawn up tonight (Tuesday) at a meeting of Local 231.

The production workers, also chartered directly to the CCL, are members of Local 230.

Five Garages

Garage workers and auto mechanics at five Peterborough garages have already been certified as part of the composite local, Local 234. They are Cliff Towle Ltd., Reuben Wilson's, Gillespie's, McWilliams' Motor Sales and Gray's Garage.

Because of an element of doubt, the OLRB has ordered a vote Friday at 5 p.m. in Lillico Motors and at 1 p.m. in Duffus' Motors.

Union officials say about 80 workers are affected, and organizational work is continuing among other garage workers. Lawrence Johnston is president of Local 234, and W. D. Johnston is the secretary-treasurer.

Spend $50,000 Enlarging Service Station

Cities Service Oil Co. received permission from the council Monday night to enlarge their service station at the CGE gore by the moving of three houses along the tip of Rubidge St. to Rutherford Ave.

The company is buying the land from Garth Braund who is acquiring from the city for $1,800 a property on Rutherford Ave., to which the three houses are to be trundled.

Ald. J. E. Gillespie enquired whether the application of the oil company should be referred to the town planning committee.

Industrial Area

The answer to that was that the triangular property at the junction of Park and Rubidge Sts. is zoned as an industrial area. To the east of it is the Colonial Weaving Co. and to the west is the Canadian General Electric Co.

It was reported that Cities Service will spend close to $50,000 in the purchase of the land and in the building of the new service station. They have occupied the present premises, part of the whole area they have acquired, about twenty years, on rental from R. C. Braund.

Plans of the project have been approved by City Engineer Chalmers. They indicate that pumps will be set near the point of the gore, and that the station building will be at north side of the lot that is to be cleared of its present three dwellings. That will leave a fairly broad open space in the layout, which has been mentioned as an aid to visibility of traffic approaching the CGE plaza by way of Park and Rubidge Sts. "People certainly will Rutherford Ave. property was the value set by the Assessment Commissioner, J. E. Davis. There is a frontage of 292 feet on Rutherford and a depth of 85 feet, 6 inches.

The motion authorizing issue of a permit to Cities Service was moved by Ald. Gillespie, seconded by Ald. Waddell.

Planned Landscaping At Civic Hospital, Appointed To Capital Planning Commission

Mr. Gordon Culham, landscape architect who prepared the five year plan of the grounds of Peterborough Civic Hospital, has been appointed to the National Capital Planning Committee by the Federal District Commission, Oshawa.

Mr. Culham will represent the Canadian Society of Landscape Architects and Town Planners on the committee. It is the honorary organization of eminent Canadians responsible for advising the Federal District Commission on the plans for the suitable development of Ottawa as the national capital.

A graduate of Harvard University, he was born in Hamilton in 1892, and received the degree of Bachelor of Scientific Agriculture at OAC.

He enlisted in 1916 in the Guelph Battery of the Canadian Field Artillery, and went overseas in 1916 with the rank of lieutenant. After that war he obtained the degree of Master of Landscape Architecture and City Planning at Harvard, and for six years was with the firm of Olmstead Brothers, city planning consultants in Boston. Returning to Canada he has had extensive experience as a landscape architect and city planner.

Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman of the parks committee, said today that Mr. Culham was engaged by the city several years ago to prepare plans for the permanent landscaping at Civic Hospital. They are being carried out by the city as a five year project.

Steelworkers Plan New Drive

TRAIL, B.C., May 8 (CP).—A new organizational campaign will be started at once by the United Steelworkers of America (CCL) to gain bargaining rights at the Trail plant of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

Bert Gargrave, organizer for steel, said he will call a membership meeting immediately to start campaign plans.

His decision was announced following a ruling of the British Columbia Labor Relations Board to not reconsider application of the steelworkers for certification.

The workers at the Trail plant now are represented by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.).

"The steelworkers used a red smear in order to blackmail us and it just didn't work," said Harvey Murphy, regional director of Mine-Mill, in commenting on the board's decision.

"The men in Trail are just as loyal as any in Canada and I'm satisfied the majority are in Mine-Mill and always have been."

Award Pulitzer Prize For Conrad Richter Novel

NEW YORK, May 8. (AP) — Conrad Richter's novel, The Town a story of an American family growing up in the wilderness of the 19th century, today won the Pulitzer prize for fiction.

There was no award this year for drama in the theatre.

Awards for meritorious public service in the newspaper field went to the Miami, Fla., Herald and the Brooklyn Eagle. Both were cited for crime reporting in 1950.

Columbia University trustees, who announce the Pulitzer selections, named six foreign correspondents — including the first woman ever so honored—as prize winners for international reporting.

Marguerite Higgins of the New York Herald Tribune, was cited for her work as a war correspondent in Korea.

Shares Honors

She shares honors with five men, including a colleague, Homer Bigart of the Herald Tribune, who became a twotime winner. He first won a Pulitzer prize in 1946 for his Second World War reporting in the Pacific.

Besides Miss Higgins and Bigart those named for Korean War reporting were Relman Morin and Don Whitehead of the Associated Press, and Keyes Beech of the Chicago Daily News.

The sixth winner in that field was Fred Sparks, also of the Chicago Daily News, for a Berlin series on reborn German nationalism.

Cyrus L. Sulzberger of The New York Times was given a special citation for a number of exclusive interviews, including one with Archbishop Stepinac of Yugoslavia in the prelate's prison cell.

There was no 1950 award for national reporting. But Arthur Krock's exclusive interview with President Truman was called the outstanding instance of national reporting for the year.

Krock, Washington Bureau chief of The New York Times, was ineligible for a Pulitzer Prize because he is a member of the advisory board of Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism. The board makes the recommendations from which the trustees select the prizewinners.

Krock won Pulitzer Prizes in 1935 and 1938.

Best Photograph

Max Desfor of The Associated Press snapped a picture of refugees fleeing across a wrecked bridge in Korea and this was selected as the best news photograph of 1950.

Top cartoonist was Reg (Reginald W.) Manning, whose cartoon, Hats, showed a bullet-pierced helmet in Korea in contrast to the [illegible] United Nations [illegible] Republic of Indonesia. [illegible] Bigart, another two-[illegible]ner, in the 34th annual series of awards in many fields of creative endeavor, was Carl Sandburg, who won a poetry award for his complete poems. Sandburg won a Pulitzer Prize in history in 1940 for his Abraham Lincoln: The War Years.

The history award this year went to R. Carlyle Buley for his The Old Northwest, Pioneer Period, 1815-1840.

For biography, Margaret Louise Coit was cited for her John C. Calhoun: American Portrait.

In the field of music, Douglas Stuart Moore's three-act opera, Giants in the Earth, won the prize.

A $1,500 travelling scholarship in art was awarded to Arthur Howard Hansen of New York City adjudged the most promising and deserving art student.

No explanation was given for failure to pick the outstanding stage drama. The last time this award was omitted was in 1947.

Longer Work Week Rapped By Millard

TORONTO, May 8 (CP)—The longer work week suggested Monday by Finance Minister Abbott was described as a retrograde step by C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL).

No country produced as much as the United States did in the last war on a 40-hour week, said Mr. Millard, commenting on an address by Mr. Abbott at Grand'mere, Que.

Longer hours did not mean more production because of the fatigue and nerve strain under the pressure of high speeds.

Steel mills now were running 24 hours a day, seven days a week, fabricating mills and factories were so short of steel that many couldn't work 40 hours a week.

"Where circumstances permit we have no objection to working additional hours, providing the basic work week is maintained."

British Press Said Aiding Russ Efforts

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP).—Rodney Adamson (PC-York West) said Monday Russian efforts to cause political trouble among the western powers have a "marvellous ally" in the British press.

Participating in a Commons' debate on external affairs, Mr. Adamson, who recently spent several months in ritain and Europe, said:

"In January when the first onslaught of the Communist Chinese hordes all but drove the United Nations forces, including a United Kingdom and Commonwealth brigade, out of Korea, the British press did nothing but cast doubts on the effective direction of the war.

. . . "When reverses took place, the British hatchet brigade in Fleet Street was mobilized to a man. Questions were raised about the fighting qualities of the United States troops. Even The Times, whose power to thunder now has degenerated, until it has merely the status of a pompous squeaker, with little warm words of petulance and pontifical editorials of corroding doubts, joined the fray.

"If the United Kingdom press had no salacious sexual abnormality to report, they concentrated on some anti-social behavior in the United States and treated American news generally, either with derision or scorn.

"So obnoxious did this become that I, as a Canadian who was educated in England and regarded her as a spiritual home, turned from her in disgust. . . . This campaign of derision and scorn carried on by the British press, is in every truth playing Stalin's game."

Junior Homemaking Clubs Tour City's Industries

Peterborough was toured Monday by approximately 80 girls from centres in Northumberland county. It was the first trip to the lift lock city for the majority of the girls.

The visitors are all members of the Junior Homemaking clubs sponsored by the Women's Institute branches in their district. In addition to a general tour of the city, the group was conducted through industries and plants.

Arriving at 9:30 a.m., the three busloads of girls ranging in age from 8-16 were taken to the Silverwoods Dairy, the Empress Hotel, the lift lock and the Examiner were visited before lunch. In the afternoon the visitors were conducted through the Quaker Oats Co. and the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co.

The trip through the Quaker factory was of special interest to the girls. At present their clubs are engaged in the project, "Cereal Shelf".

The girls were accompanied by Miss Jean Noble, home economist for the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham and Victoria. Also in attendance were representatives of the Women's Institute branches which sponsor these clubs and financially assisted the girls in this tour.

The clubs represented on the tour were: Seymour East and West, Percy, Wooler, Colborne, Castleton, Grafton, Wicklow-Vernonville and Baltimore.

Monday's visit was the third tour Miss Noble has supervised in Peterborough. Durham and Victoria counties' clubs visited the city in March, 1950.

32 Instructors Given Civil Defence Course

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP) — A total of 32 provincial instructors gathered at nearby Connaught Ranges Monday to begin an intensive, three-week course in civil defence.

Connaught, about 10 miles west of Ottawa, is the site of Canada's technical civil defence school, the first of its kind in North America.

The idea is to get the instructors so trained that they can return to their various communities and begin an efficient building up of civil defence groups in their own areas.

Nobody Wants House

LOS ANGELES, May 8 (AP) — The $120,000 home of actress Veronica Lake was put up for auction Monday. Nobody would start the bidding at $65,000. Internal revenue officials who want $63,000 in unpaid income taxes said another auction will be held soon. The actress and her husband have filed voluntary petitions in bankruptcy.

Film Councils Watch National Output

Canadian film councils would be the first to complain of waste in the National Film Board should there be waste, William Graff, Peterborough librarian and director of public relations of the Ontario Association of Film Council told the Rotary club Monday.

Mr. Graff was commenting on a statement by Senator N. M. Paterson (L-Ontario) that the Film Board had at first been formed to tell Canada and her allies what this country was doing in the Second World War but now was "developing into entertainment—a Hollywood affair."

From the National Film Act 1939 Mr. Graff defined film board's functions: to make and distribute films, filmstrips, photographs and other graphic material designed to help Canadians in one part of Canada understand the ways of living and the problems of Canadians in other parts covering all aspects of Canada—its landscape, resources, industries, agriculture, national life and character of the people.

Five Projectors

After the war, said Mr. Graff, the need for films was very evident and film councils were formed. From its beginning in 1945 the Peterborough film council now has five projectors and 230 organizations using the equipment.

The main job at the present is to show people how to use the films other than for entertainment. This work has started amongst the churches, schools, industries and other groups and results so far indicate a trend to only one or two movies followed by a discussion on them.

From a beginning of 44 film libraries in Canada the group has now grown to 265 libraries and 308 film councils.

Largely dependent upon the National Film Board for movies, the 14 film councils in the Eastern Ontario Federation this summer plan to organize a film pool. Each group will give from $200 to $300 to purchase new films.

177 Films Completed

In 1949-50, said Mr. Graff, of the 177 films completed 125 were major productions from one to three reels. Of the major productions, 31 were designed for theatrical production. The remainder were 12 newsclips and trailers and 38 short-length film stories designed for television release and inclusion in commercial newsreels.

Theatrical distribution of Film Board productions reached 24 countries in 1949-50, said Mr. Graff. Of the 38 newsreel items submitted to the commercial newsreel pool in New York and to television outlets in the United States and Great Britain, 28 were accepted for news release and 11 for television.

The colored film, Trooping the Color, was show after Mr. Graff's address.

Robert Allen introduced Mr. Graff, who was thanked by Herbert Bradburn.

Warns Labrador Ore May Go Overseas

DETROIT, May 8 — (AP). — Francis G. Winspear, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said Monday iron ore from the Labrador deposits may go overseas unless the St. Lawrence seaway is built.

He made the statement in response to a question following a speech before the Economic Club of Detroit.

"The Labrador ore," he said, "will probably go overseas unless the seaway is developed so it can be brought to the mills of the Mid-West. Probably it will go to England, because she is as short of iron ore as we are."

In his speech, Winspear suggested the need of American capital to develop new deposits of ore and oil and other minerals in Canada.

You are calling to ask a club member to head a committee.

WRONG: Confess that you have already asked several members, and that if she doesn't take the job you don't know who you can get.

RIGHT: Be more tactful. Nobody likes to be considered a second or third choice, so don't mention that you have already tried to get several others to take the job.

DOROTHY DIX

Mother Orders Housework Daughters Who Support Her

DEAR MISS DIX: My sister and I are stenographers. We pay all the expenses of our apartment and our mother keeps house for us. She constantly nags and complains because we do not help with the housework and tells all our relatives and neighbors how she slaves and that we do nothing but dress up and fly around. Our mother is middle aged, healthy and strong. I am anaemic, thirty pounds under weight. When I get home in the evenings I am thoroughly exhausted and it takes every bit of spare energy to do the things I must. I do my own laundering, keep my clothes in order, clean my bedroom, and I have no strength left to do housework. I have worked for five years and never missed a day from the office. My sister has worked for six years. All this time we have been supporting our mother. It seems to me we are doing our part and that it is terribly unfair for her to give us the reputation of being lazy and selfish. Am I right? EXASPERATED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your mother is certainly most unfair to you, but justice is one of the things that mothers seldom show to their daughters. They give them love, but not a square deal.

Girls Can't Win

Nothing else in the world is so strange and inexplicable as the different attitude that a mother takes toward her sons and her daughters. If you two girls were boys who were supporting your mother, she would never dream of such a thing as expecting you to put on aprons as soon as you got home from business and help with the cooking and scrubbing. But because you are girls, she takes all that you give and thinks that isn't enough and it never occurs to her even to say "thank you."

Perhaps one reason that mothers are often so unfair to their daughters is that they are bound by the old tradition which made it incumbent on girls to help Mother with the housework, which was all well and good and no more than she had a right to expects when daughter had nothing to do.

Mothers do not realize the terrible strain that working in an office or clerking in a shop puts upon a girl. They have no conception of the weariness of standing on one's feet all day, of the strain of keeping on the smile that won't come off and trying to conciliate unreasonable customers and cranky bosses. There is no remedy for the situation except for the girls to go on strike, or get Mother a job and let her see what working downtown means.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am in love with a girl and we are thinking about getting married this summer. I am 19. She is 18. Our parents on both sides are much opposed on account of our age. They say we are too young, that we cannot afford to get married. Do you think that we should get married, despite objections of our parents?

DOUBTFUL BUD

ANSWER: I don't think that any man has a right to marry and expect his parents to suport his wife. If you are able to earn enough money to provide for yourself and your wife and the babies that are sure to come, then you may possibly be justified in defying your parents and marrying against their wishes.

But it is a dastardly thing for a boy to marry and lay the burden of another family on his poor old father's and mother's shoulders. It is a shameful thing for him to do because he is taking advantage of his knowledge that their love for him will never permit them to let him want, and deny themselves a little more and do without the comforts they had expected to have in their old age.

For most people bringing up a family of children, feeding and clothing and educating them, means years of toil and sacrifice. It is a poor return their children make when they marry before they are able to stand on their own feet and meet their own responsibilities.

Before you marry decide how much you are willing to give up for your wife, and I think you will decide that you had better wait until you can afford marriage. Don't forget that the reason that divorce is so comomn among the young is because they found that they couldn't take it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a daughter 17 years old. She is in the 11th grade. She goes with a boy who is 19 years old. He works sometimes, but just when the notion strikes him. When he gets mad at her he won't work. What do you think my daughter should do? A. M. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: What you should do is break up this friendship just as fast as you can, pulling no punches and giving no quarter. No marriage is as surely doomed to failure as one with a loafing husband. If a boy has no ambition at 19 he never will have, that's sure.

Fishermen Using Ancient Methods

PORT ROWAN, ONT.,—(CP)—Fishing methods of Biblical times are repeated on the shores of Lake Erie's Long Point Bay near here by fishermen who cast their seines into the shallow water and draw them into shore.

One end of their long nets is anchored close to shore, and the other pulled through a long semi-circle by men wading or in boats.

The draw-seiners catch carp, dogfish, pickerel, perch, suckers, catfish, rock bass and sunfish. Although only the pickerel and Perch are generally considered good eating, the carp are shipped alive as a delicacy for special markets in both Canadian and United States cities.

The carp are kept in sunken scows, and transported in tanks. They keep in good condition even on trips as far as Louisville, Kentucky, but the largest markets are Montreal, New York, Toronto and Buffalo.

The fishermen begin their season when the ice leaves the bay, and end only when it freezes over.

Happy over the experience, Miss Belaney is ready to go to the movies again. Longevity runs in her family. An uncle lived to be 97 and another relative to 93.

WASHING'S NO PROBLEM NOW!

"Mummy took Auntie's advice"

'It takes seven colours to make true white,' Auntie said. 'One of them is blue. That's why you must use Blue in your wash. Just swish Reckitt's Blue through the rinse. It prevents that yellow tinge and you avoid taking chances with anything that may damage fabrics.' Reckitt's Blue costs so little, mummy says, 'and out of the blue comes the whitest wash.'

FLAG OF NEBRASKA

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Chocolate Cake Big Favorite With Young People of Today

After the performances of the amateur play that my young people are in, the church group sponsoring it always gives the cast refreshments.

Since I am a perennial hanger-on (being make-up artist—amateur standing) I'm present at these bun feeds and watch what is most popular with the young people. Invariably the chocolate cakes disappear first—you could tell this with your eyes shut.

The recipes for one of these rapidly devoured cakes was given to me by another hovering mother—who had made it. It is the Fudge cake you will read below. If you use her filling too you will have a super cake that will bolster your baking reputation.

The other cake is one that goes through a double-boiler stage—and the finished cake has a texture reminiscent of custard. Quite delicious. Pete the Starveling likes it. Marianne the Cake Connoisseur chooses the Fudge Cake.

Mrs. Piper's Fudge Cake

One and three-quarters cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine or best quality shortening, 1½ cups fruit sugar (very fine granulated sugar will do), 2 eggs, yolks and whites separated, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup milk, ¾ cup boiling water. Sift and measure flour then sift it 4 times with all other dry ingredients. Cream the shortening until it is so full of air it looks white. Sift in half of the sugar gradually, while beating. Slowly add remaining sugar, beating for at least 1 minute between additions.

Beat yolks until light and pale and fold them in, then give this mixture another good beating. Add melted chocolate and vanilla. Sift some of the dry ingredients over and stir them in alternately with the milk, about one-third of each at a time. Stir in boiling water, and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. The batter is and should be thin. Bake in greased and lined layer cake tins at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 to 35 minutes. Do not open oven door until they have been baking 25 minutes at least. Put together with Chocolate Cream Filling: In top of double boiler heat 1 cup milk with 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, and when hot beat with rotary beater to mix. Mix 2 tablespoons cornstarch with ¾ cup corn syrup, and ¼ teaspoon salt, and stir into chocolate-milk mix until thick; cover and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir small amount of this into 1 beaten egg, return all to double boiler and cook 2 minutes, stirring. Remove from heat add 1 teaspoon butter and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cool thoroughly before spreading between layers.

Two-Stage Devil's Food

One cup milk, 2 cups brown sugar, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, 3 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup shortening, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon warm water, 2 egg whites. In top of double boiler mix ½ cup of the milk, 1 cup of the sugar, the chocolate broken, and 1 egg yolk and cook stirring until thick. Cool mixture and add vanilla. Cream the shortening and cream in sugar very well. Add remaining yolks and beat until very light. Sift flour over top, pour in remaining milk, cooked chocolate mixture and soda dissolved in warm water and mix thoroughly. Fold in beaten whites. Bake in buttered, paper-lined pan 12" x 7½". Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. 35 minutes. If you would like a quick, simple, boiled chocolate frosting let me know.

Iceland Official Leaves For Moscow

STOCKHOLM, May 8 (AP).—Dr. Helgi Briem, Iceland's charge d'affaires in Stockholm and Helsinki, left today by air for Moscow to present his credentials.

He will be accredited in the same capacity in all three capitals.

He denied reports that he was to deliver a message to the Soviet Government on the landing of United States troops in Iceland Monday.

The troops form the defence force of the strategic North Atlantic Alliance member.

Slugging Match But Who Was Aggressor?

Four charges against four men who were fighting in a Charlotte St. restaurant Saturday evening were all dismissed when they wer heard in police court.

Two of the men were brothers, Grant, 24, and Norman Howard, 19, of 144 London St., both home on leave, Grant from the army and Norman from the navy.

The other two men involved in the fight were Roy Cranston, a soldier from Camp Petawawa, and Donald Roy Shea, Peterborough.

Constable Dennis Trayner said tables and chairs had been knocked over in the fight.

Cranston seemed reluctant to tell how the fight started, but Shea gave this version in court today: He and Cranston were walking into the restaurant. After they passed a booth, someone yelled at Cranston to come back.

Cranston went back and said "What'll you have?"

Grant Howard, wearing a lance corporal stripe on his sleeve, said, "Don't, what'll you have me. Stand to attention when you're talking to a corporal."

He asked Cranston if he had a pass. Cranston told him as far as Howard was concerned he didn't have one.

With that Howard jumped at him and the fight started. Shea tried to stop the fight and someone yelled behind him. He turned and saw Norman Howard. The younger Howard kicked him twice. He grappled with Howard and finally got him around the neck. When he released Howard, the sailor came at him, wielding a chair. He admitted he had been drinking.

Grant Howard said the fight started when Cranston and Shea passed him sitting at a booth and one of them said "Look at the lousy corporal."

Howard answered, "If you don't like it, don't look at it." The two then came back and in an argument a punch was swung at him.

"Him being a junior rank, I figured I didn't have to take it," said Howard, so he jumped over the man sitting beside him to get at Cranston.

He said he believed Shea was the one who started the fracas by edging Cranston on.

Norman Howard said he had been phoning. When he came out of the phone booth, he saw a scuffle at his brother's table. He said Shea was on his brother's back and he tried to pull him off. He said Shea turned around and gave him a knee.

"Before he hit me, I hit him," said Howard. He added that Shea kept coming back at him and "there was nothing I could do but fight him off."

Grant Howard and Cranston had been charged with causing a disturbance. Shea and Norman Howard each charged the other with assaulting him.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., decided it was almost impossible to determine who had started the affair and dismissed the charges.

"Well, Your Honor, I'm not satisfied," said Shea.

As Shea and Norman Howard walked out, the magistrate commented, "You'd better see nothing develops in the building."

Dies In Chair For Rape After 5 Years

LAUREL, Miss., May 8 (AP).—Willie McGee, who fought a long, losing fight against being put to death for rape, died in the electric chair early today.

Political issues colored the final months of the legal battles on behalf of the 37-year-old Negro truck driver, convicted of raping a white woman 5½ years ago.

The case attracted world-wide attention.

Up until the final hour, supporters sought a stay of execution from Governor Fielding Wright, a district judge, an appeal judge, Chief Justice Fred Vinson of the United States, and President Truman. All were denied.

All appeals were denied on the case which the state Supreme Court of Mississippi had ruled upon three times, and the United States Supreme Court had refused to review another three times. Governor Wright had once before declined executive clemency asked by members of the Civil Rights Congress.

Political demonstrations at Jackson, Miss., and Washington marked the final efforts made last week-end to save McGee. In Washington Monday, about 25 persons picketing the White House carried signs saying "Old soldiers never die—but lynch victims do" and "You fired MacArthur—now fire Jim Crow."

Authorities brought McGee to Laurel Monday night. Under Mississippi procedure, execution for a capital felony is carried out in the state's portable electric chair in the courtroom of the courthouse in the county where the felony occurred.

Toronto Model Triumphs At U.K. Festival

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, May 8 (Reuters) — The Festival of Britain marks an unusual triumph for Pat Kerr, 23-year-old dark-haired model from Toronto.

Six days a week for five months starting June 4, she will play the leading role in a fashion show designed to compare current styles with those of 1851.

Wearing a copy of the gown chosen by Queen Victoria for the opening of the 1951 British exhibition, Miss Kerr will introduce a team of 12 girls at the festival gardens in London's Battersea Park, one of the main festival sites.

The strangest thing about her appointment is that Britain picked a Canadian girl to model British fashions as part of a festival designed to exemplify the British way of life.

Her only worry is the weather. The gown worn by Queen Victoria had seven petticoats made from 100 yards of material, including linen, taffeta, net and lace.

Very Warm

"You can see it will be simply stifling if the weather happens to be hot," the Canadian girl said in an interview.

Dark-eyed Pat at 118 pounds is slimmer than the Queen who wore the original, meaning the dress must be carefully pinned and tucked.

The off-shoulder, pink-and-silver moire gown was copied from a portrait and from details given in Queen Victoria's diary. The dress and other 1851 designs were on display when Princess Margaret officially opened the festival gardens.

Miss Kerr became a model by accident. Three years ago she came to London from her home in Toronto intending to stay with relatives for a year. Soon she became a free-lance model, then was offered a job as the first salaried mannequin in The City, London's financial district.

Increase Sugar Price Half Cent a Pound

Peterborough shoppers will be paying more for sugar in about a week's time. Two-pound packages will be boosted one cent to 26 cents and five-pound packages two cents to 56 cents.

Wholesalers were notified last week that sugar refineries had raised the price 25 cents a hundredweight.

The reason for this boost was explained as stemming from world sugar market conditions.

All retail grocers in the city approached—stated that they had a good supply of old price sugar on hand. As a result it is expected that it will be a week before the new prices will go into effect.

Report 285 Executed In Shanghai In Day

HONG KONG, May 8. (Reuters)—Chinese Communists executed 285 men and women in Shanghai April 30, according to official newspapers reaching here today.

This is the largest number the Communists have yet admitted shooting in a single day.

The reports said the executions were in three Shanghai suburbs.

The accused were variously charged with being "imperialist running dogs, traitors, special agents, local tyrants, reactionary leaders of secret societies, smugglers, robbers and gangsters responsible for the death of workers and the raping of women."

Comedy Staged By Selwyn YPU

SELWYN, May 8—(ENS)—The Selwyn YPU presented their three-act comedy, "Raggedy Nan," in the church hall on Friday evening. This was the first time the Young People have presented their play and great credit is due to their directors, Mrs. Evans Blewett and Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald.

The play is the story of an orphan girl, Raggedy Nan (played by Miss Sheila Wilson) who runs away from the orphanage and takes refuge at the home of Gramp Withers, an elderly farmer (Arnold Fitzgerald).

Phineas Scragg, the richest man in town (Orville Thomas) and Constable Crothers, the village policeman (Roy Belly come to Gramp's home looking for the urchin, and Gramp hides her in a closet and when she is discovered there by Mrs. Finnegan, a gossip neighbor (Pauline Fitzgerald) she has changed to Gramp's overalls and old hat and he introduces her as the new hired man.

Gramp's daughter - in - law, Agatha (Mrs. J. McIlmoyle) and her daughter Florence (Grace Tully) who live with Gramp, try a scheme to elect William Scraggs (Ralph Sweeting) as president of the Farmers' Co-op, but is overrun by Tommy Wyatt, a young farmer (Ivan Davis) who in the long run falls in love with Raggedy Nan.

Tillie, the maid in the Withers' home (played by Mrs. Ruth McIlmoyle, adds a touch of humor when she and the constable engage in some love scenes.

As a climax, Raggedy Nan is discovered to be Nancy Edwards, heiress to a large sum of money, and she comes into her own.

Between the acts, Barry Fitzgerald sang three delightful solos, "Mocking Bird Hill," "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," and "It Is No Secret," accompanied by his mother at the piano.

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP). — Milt Schmidt, 33-year-old captain of Boston Bruins, was voted the Hart Trophy, as most valuable player to his team, the National Hockey League announced Monday night.

It was the first individual award the Kitchener native has won in his 12 seasons in the league. He was recently chosen as centre of the NHL all-star team.

Schmidt received 40 of a possible 54 points in the voting by 18 hockey writers and broadcasters, three selectors from each NHL city. Schmidt had 10 first-place votes. The award was on a 3-2-1 basis.

Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens was second with 28 points, 12 behind Schmidt. Richard had five first-place votes.

Red Kelly and Gordie Howe, both of Detroit Red Wings, had 11 points each. Others considered, with their points, are Ted Kennedy, Toronto Maple Leafs, 8; Bert Olmstead, Canadiens, 6; Bill Quackenbush, Boston, 2; and Al Rollins, Toronto, and Roy Conacher, Chicago, one each.

THE MONTREAL ROYALS didn't have any spare runs in the first game Sunday against the Ottawa Giants, so George Pfister put his best foot forward to get this one home in the eighth inning. Catcher Neal Watlington of Ottawa has a pained expression as the throw came too late and George Shuba of the Royals flags his mate across. Ottawa and Montreal split a double header in the Capital on Saturday by identical 7-3 scores and drew again on Sunday in the Metropolis. Royals took the first game 5-2 but gave way to the little Giants in the nitecap 6-0.

Mrs. Wilson Heads County WCTU At Annual Meeting

GORE'S LANDING, May 8. — Annual WCTU convention for Peterborough and Northumberland Counties was held in Gore's Landing United Church, with a good attendance.

Convention was called to order with prayer by the president, Mrs. J. Gordon Mann, who presided for both sessions.

Opening worship service was taken by Smith union when Mrs. W. D. Wilson and Miss Margaret Milburn took part.

Mrs. Austin Poast was appointed secretary for convention in the absence of the recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Westington, through illness.

Mrs. Elmer Milburn and Mrs. J. Tinney were appointed on the courtesy committee.

The Rev. A. E. Larke, minister of the entertaining church, voiced the address of welcome.

The treasurer's report showed receipts amounted to $193.78; expenses, $154.41; leaving a balance of $39.37.

Several resolutions were presented by the Rev. D. P. Morris, who was made a county life member last year.

A large number of posters were on display and judges appointed for the posters were Mrs. Jack Harrison, Mrs. Ewart King, Mr. Morris and the Rev. A. E. Larke.

The noontide prayer was given by Mrs. W. A. Herriott of Plainville.

Peterborough union conducted a memorial service when Mrs. H. T. Rehill and Mrs. E. Alton took part. Flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. Ben Shortly of Peterborough, Mrs. Wilbur Cole and Mrs. John Tinney of Plainville and Mrs. Ernest McManus of Smith.

Miss Clara King read the report of the nominating committee as follows: Past president, Mrs. J. Gordon Mann, Smith; president, Mrs. W. D. Alton, Peterborough; treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Milburn, Smith; YTC, Mrs. Wesley Bell, Smith; LTL, Mrs. Max Archer, Smith.

Before convention adjourned for lunch a vote of thanks was tendered the retiring president, Mrs. Mann.

Afternoon session was opened with worship service by Camborne union. Mrs. E. Lean, Mrs. H. Lander, Mrs. P. Brown, Mrs. M. Linton and Mrs. W. Jibb took part.

A pleasing interlude was a duet, "I Have Heard of a Land," by Mrs. M. Heriott and Mrs. S. Herriott.

The highlight of the afternoon session was the adress of the Rev. Walton Tonge of Lakefield United Church. Mr. Tonge chose as a text, 2 Timothy, chapter 1, verse 7, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love and of a sound mind."

The speaker, who spent three and a half years as a missionary in China, related many of his experiences and made comparisons of the liquor traffic in this country to that of China. He made the statement that in all his time spent in China he only saw one drunk.

Canada and the United States are the most intemperate countries in the whole world, he stated. "All Christian people have a great task ahead. We must have sound minds, make sound statements that will stand, not gossip. We must dare to stand, proclaim God's word and His faith," Mr. Tonge said.

Mrs. Elmer Milburn presented the courtesy report.

Mrs. M. F. Ames presented prizes for the scientific temperance course written examinations. Those receiving prizes were: Marion McMullen, Myla Bulmer, Barbara Bulmer, Edith Whetung, Diane Rowland, Joe Milburn, Ronald Gibson, all of Smith; Donald Sandercot of Camborne and Jack Barrett of Plainville.

Choral Society Plans Concert

For their final concert of this season the Peterborough Choral Society will be heard Saturday night at the Collegiate Auditorium in a popular program.

William Sims, the director of the mixed chorus, has chosen a program of familiar light classics featuring such numbers as The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise and Song of Songs. Some of the ballet music from Gounod's Faust and Schubert's Rosamunde Suite are included in what promises to be a musical treat.

In keeping with the choice of the chorus the assisting artists, the well known and popular Searles Trio, will include among other classics such numbers as the Frasquita Serenade by Franz Lehar, They Didn't Believe Me by Jerome Kern. Their popular cellist Gabriel Tatrallyay will play as a solo Tarantelle by David Popper.

1st Reparations Payment Made

TOKYO, May 8. (Reuters)—Allied headquarters in Tokyo today announced the first allocation of reparations payments totally 100,000,000 yen (about $280,000) from the sale of German external assets found in Japan.

The civil property custodian said the property sold had formerly belonged to German residents in Japan classified as "objectionable."

The property had been vested with Britain, France and the United States, but they had voted to make the proceeds available to all member countries of the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency.

Largest share of the first distribution—just over 28,000,000 yen (about $80,000)—went to Canada.

Greece received the second largest allocation followed, in order of size of their respective shares, by India, Czechoslovakia, Britain, Australia, United States, France, New Zealand, Pakistan and Albania.

TORONTO — (CP) — Shirley Marks, 14, corresponds with a "pen pal" in Korea named Gang Hosok and she's a little confused. Her brother serving in Korea tells her it is an awful place, "but the Korean boy tells me it is a place of beautiful mountains," she said.

Gizzo Freed

KANSAS CITY, May 8 (AP).—Tony Gizzo, who recently testified before the Senate crime investigating committee, was freed Monday of bookmaking charges. Gizzo and two others were charged with taking bets on five college basketball games. A directed verdict of innocent was returned for all three because police had no search warrant when they gathered evidence.

Education TV

NEW YORK, May 8 (AP). — The first television network devoted exclusively to education is planned in New York State, to consist of 10 stations and cost $3,000,000. The State Board of Regents Monday night said the network is intended to give rural areas cultural and other benefits available now only in cities.

Director Resigns

LONDON, May 8 (Reuters). — Dr. Karl Rankl, musical director of Covent Garden Royal Opera House in London, resigned Monday night. Rankl has been in charge of the premier opera house in England since its reopening after the Second World War.

Savoie Wins TKO Over Pierre Montane

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP). — Armand Savoie of Montreal Monday night won a second-round technical knockout over Pierre Montane when the European lightweight champion failed to come out for the bell at the second round.

The bout was stopped seconds before the bell ending the first round after Savoie opened a gash over Montane's right eye. Referee Tommy Sullivan halted the fight but the victory wasn't officially awarded Savoie until the Montreal Athletic Commission doctor said Montane couldn't answer the bell for the second round.

Savoie weighed in at 136 and Montane at 133½.

The Montrealer launched a torrid attack mid-way through the first round, catching Montane with a right hand to the eye. He peppered away at the injured eye for the rest of the round and Montane staggered around the ring blinded.

The Frenchman was putting up no resistance and his face was spattered with blood when Sullivan stopped Savoie's attack.

Orioles Down Rochester 6-4

By The Associated Press.

Jack Schmitt, promising left-hander for Baltimore Orioles, is proving that the jump from Class B ball to the triple-A International League is not too difficult.

Schmitt, who won 21 games for Terre Haute in 1950, posted his third victory of the season Monday night as the Orioles downed Rochester 6-4.

Schmitt was wild, walking nine Red Wings, but he fanned seven and his mates came up with four double plays.

The Orioles jumped Johnny Yuhas for three runs in the first inning. Marv Rickert supplied the punch with a two-run homer, his fifth. The Orioles picked up single runs in the second and third innings and were never headed.

Walt Dubiel pitched Springfield Cubs to a 7-5 victory over the league-leading Syracuse Chiefs in his International debut. The Cubs piled up a 7-0 lead in four innings and breezed home. The Cubs collected 12 hits. Jack Wallaesa got two doubles and a single.

The other clubs were idle.

Breslau Takes Title But Hasn't Any Money

KITCHENER, May 8 (CP). — Talk of commercialism in sport doesn't impress Breslau Redshirts, Ontario Rural Senior Hockey champions. Reason: the team hasn't any money.

Doug Blake, club secretary, said the team was so broke after winning the final series with Haliburton that it had to go before Waterloo township council for financial help. The council gave the team a grant of $200 to buy seven new players' jackets and sponsor a championship dinner.

An idea of how the team got into its financial hole was offered by Blake, who reported that in the final game with Haliburton which produced $719 the ORHA got 20 per cent, the Arena got 50 per cent and the visitors got $75 travelling expenses and then after advertising was deducted the two teams split the remaining $114.

Queen Mary Victors

Queen Mary intermediates and Queen Elizabeth staged a wild School Softball League affair yesterday, winding up in box-car numbers of 35 to 23 for Queen Mary. They got no less than 15 runs in the first, adding four next time up, five in the third, one next frame and 10 in the fifth. The losers counted six each the first two stanzas, one in the third and five each in the fourth and fifth. It was strictly a loose one. Teams.

a revolutionary building material, permanent as stone, yet applied with ordinary tools...

• Another outstanding example of Johns-Manville engineering and ingenuity! Asbestos and portland cement processed under terrific hydraulic pressures into an all-purpose building board that becomes literally "a sheet of stone" . . . immune to moisture, easy to work and practically imperishable.

J-M Flexboard can't burn, rot or decay. It is easily painted yet needs no paint for preservative purposes. Light in weight, J-M Flexboard is incredibly strong; yet with all its toughness, is readily worked with ordinary tools and can even be curved if desired!

J-M Flexboard has a hard, smooth gray finish that resists scuffing and is easily kept clean. For indoor and outdoor building purposes, it has countless uses. For free folder on Flexboard, see your J-M dealer or write Canadian Johns-Manville, Dept. N-23, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

ASBESTOS in action

Asbestos is truly one of nature's miracles — it can't burn, rust, rot or wear out.

Through Johns-Manville research, asbestos has been "harnessed" to serve in countless ways. For example, one of the more recent J-M accomplishments is Transite asbestos-cement Pipe.

Today, hundreds of forward-looking municipalities count on Transite Pipe for clear, sparkling drinking water . . . it is also widely used for safe, efficient sewage disposal, house connection and drainage purposes. Industry specifies Transite Pipe to solve tough venting problems and to carry electrical and telephone cables. Yes, every day new uses are being found for this product of asbestos research!

Tent Caterpillar Plague Expected To Be Widespread

The forest tent caterpillar is expected to be more widespread in Ontario during 1951, according to the Forest Protection Division, Department of Lands and Forests, which bases its announcement on reports from entomologists of the Federal Department of Agriculture. The Department is concerned with this situation and is willing to co-oprate with summer cottagers, tourist operators and other owners of forest land, in considering proposals for insect control which may be made by municipal organizations representing groups of these owners.

Motorists in the Kawarthas on Sunday report trees along the roadsides already hit by the plague.

The forest tent caterpillar causes extensive defoliation of poplar, hard maple and oak trees as well as of other broad-leafed trees and undergrowth. When abundant, the caterpillars completely strip the trees of leaves. Healthy trees on good sites are able to survive repeated defoliation; but trees which are less vigorous because of advanced age, poor site or other causes usually die.

Any program of control, to be effective, must be developed well in advance of May first when the caterpillars will be again crawling about. The insect passes the winter in the egg stage on the twigs of trees, being most numerous on the upper branches. The eggs hatch in May about the time the leaves begin to appear.

The caterpillars are hairy, dusty-brown in color, with a slate-blue stripe down each side. Along the back there is a row of conspicuous diamond or keyhole-shaped white spots. Mature caterpillars measure about an inch and a half in length. When the caterpillars are fully grown, in the latter part of June, they seek out sheltered places among foliage and branches or often in the crevices of fences and buildings, and spin yellowish cocoons in which they spend the pupal stage. The inconspicuous rusty brown moths emerge in late July or early August and lay their eggs in the twigs of trees, thus completing the life cycle.

New Zealand Government Plans Big Timber Scheme

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent.

AUCKLAND, NZ, May 8 (CP).—The New Zealand government has announced conditions under which it seeks the co-operation of private enterprise in developing a vast pulp, paper, newsprint and timber project in the North Island. It will be the largest industrial undertaking in the Dominion's history.

The total cost of the scheme in initial phase will be about $82,000,000, but of this $41,000,000 will be spent by the government in providing railays, a deep-water port, electric power and housing.

The government is asking private enterprise to take over the installing and operation of the pulp, paper and timber project, which will cost another $41,000,000. It is also prepared to take 15 per cent of the capital, but the rest will be left to outside sources which will have direction and management of the enterprise.

It is anticipated that a large proportion of the capital will have to come from abroad, as will much of the management and skilled labor. Proposals for taking part in the scheme must reach the government by November 1. Overseas investors will be permitted to transfer net profits from the country each year.

The proposal is based on the Kaingaroa State Forest, the biggest man-made forest in the world, now nearing maturity over an area of 260,000 acres near Lake Taupo. The organization operating the pulp and paper plant will obtain the right to buy from the government 23,000,000 cubic feet of timber annually for 75 years. A further 5,000,000 cubic feet can be purchased if desired.

It is estimated that the possible annual yield from the "working circle" around the mill area is 30,000,000 cubic feet annually. It is believed that nowhere else in the world is such a large wood supply concentrated within so short a radius of the site of the plant. The average haul to the plant will be less than 20 miles.

Suitable For Pulp

The timber, mainly californian pine, douglas fir, Corsican pine, and ponderosa pine, has been tested in Australia and the United States. All four pines proved suitable for the production of sulphate pulp, and the Californian type produced newsprint with only minor shortcomings expected to be corrected in commercial production.

It is anticipated that the project when in full operation will supply a substantial portion of the pulp and newsprint needs of Australia and New Zealand. Production for sale is estimated at 70,000,000 board feet of sawn timber a year, 50,000 long tons of newsprint, 10,000 long tons of printing and writing papers, and 25,000 long tons of sulphate pulp.

The government considers that by operating the project as an integrated pulp, paper and timber plant, all the products will be able to compete at world price in the Australian and New Zealand markets.

On the public works side, the government proposes to build about 42 miles of railway to link Murupara, which will be the centre of the scheme, to the main railway system. It will also develop a deep water port at Mt. Maunganui, on the east coast. The rail haul from Murupara to Mt. Maunganui will be only 90 miles.

Murupara is expected to develop into a town of 10,000 people. The government will undertake extensive electric power reticulation and will build over 1,000 houses for renting to employees at the pulp and paper project and its own forestry employees. It will assist in the immigration of skilled workers if the purchaser wishes to bring them to New Zealand.

Letter In Paper Causes Furore

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 8 (CP)—A letter in the correspondence columns of the Daily News came under fire in the Legislature on Monday and a select committee was named to decide whether any action should be taken against the paper.

Deputy Speaker John R Courage charged that an anonymous letter criticizing a ruling he had made in the House committed a breach of privilege. Stating the letter implied he had been influenced in his ruling by the Premier, Mr. Courage called for a public apology.

Mr. Courage's ruling, denying the right of former Resources Minister Edward Russell (Ind.-Bonavista South) to answer an article in a weekly newspaper, was made last week.

Premier Joseph R. Smallwood said the House should "take a grave vgiew" of such critical statements made in any newspaper.

New Tariff Pact Gives Canada Trade Concessions

OTTAWA, May 9. (CP)—Canada has passed another milestone on the road to free world trade with the conclusion of long-term tariff-trimming agreements with 16 countries. The new concessions, third round of post-war tariff cuts by countries representing 85 per cent of world trade, were announced Tuesday night. Most significant were reductions by the United States on about 400 items of interest to Canada. However, the effects are not expected to be felt immediately by the man on the street.

Finance Minister Abbott, explaining the concessions to the Commons, said they may work, "in these times of inflation and high prices, to help ease the burden for the Canadian consumer."

Trade Minister Howe said the agreements "will add strength to Canada's commercial position."

The agreements represent the fruits of seven months of negotiations at Torquay, England, by 34 countries, members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The concessions go into effect June 6 for Canada, the U.S., France and a number of other countries. All of the concessions are expected to be in operation by Nov. 20.

Big Business

Total reductions granted and obtained by Canada represent commodities on which she does about $600,000,000 or more worth of world business each year. Most of this is with the U.S. Canada's total trade each year runs to more than $6,000,000,000.

The American concessions range from aluminum to Douglas fir plywood and canned salmon. Here's the way some of the others may help Canada:

1. Fifty-per-cent reductions on chemicals, first since the U.S. rates were increased in 1930, are expected to open new markets in the U.S. for petroleum by-products from Alberta's expanding oil industry.

2. Concessions on aluminum, lead, zinc, and a host of other metals will lead to tariff savings by major Canadian industries. Some of these savings may dribble down to the consumer by way of an expanded prosperity.

3. Concessions on agricultural items, including cheddar cheese, may help agriculture boost exports to the U.S. Cheese ship-

Pats Ride Tanks Striking Deep In Red Territory

Editor's Note: Since the start of the abortive Chinese spring offensive in Korea late in April, no mention of Canadian troops, the Princess Patricias or of individual names was permitted to pass through the tight censorship. Other United Nations units had been identified, but only now can it be disclosed that the "United Nations Mountain Troops" who stopped the Chinese cold on one sector of the front were the Princess Patricias.

By BILL BOSS

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Korea, May 9. (CP)—The Patricias are in action again. Riding atop great American Patton tanks, a patrol moved deep into enemy territory Tuesday in an action that earned the commendation of Maj. Pat Tighe of Victoria, commanding the Patricias during the absence of battalion commander Lt.-Col. Stone who was at rear headquarters.

It was the first time that the Patricias had worked so closely with tanks. From the success of Tuesday's operation, it clearly will not be the last.

The foray produced four Chinese prisoners, dug out from a well-fortified, two-room bunker at the point of the bayonet. They came out without a fight, making no use of the potato-masher grenades with which they were plentifully suplied.

"They seemed scared," said Pte. Pat Cullen of Weyburn, Sask.

The patrol was led by Capt. Wally Mills of Winnipeg who, last April 24 at the start of the Chinese offensive, played a heroic role in stopping the enemy drive on the Canadians' sector.

Pats Encircled

That night, the enemy hordes flung themselves upon the Canadians' positions, moving, heedless of losses, literally within inches of the defenders. The ammunition of some forward units ran out but the line held, though the defenders were outflanked and encircled.

That night, too, Capt. Mills fought his first action as a company commander. When his men's ammunition ran out, he ordered them into slit trenches and called artillery and mortar fire directly upon his position.

For three hours, while the massed fire of three regiments of artillery and a battalion of mortars rained upon his front, Mills directed the fire. The enemy broke and gave way.

(Boss, in his cables at the time, was permitted only to say that United Nations mountain troops had held up the enemy at that point. The action, though on a short front, was important in

Two Children Not Poisoned

NEWMARKET, Ont., May 9 —(CP)—Two small children in the Lake Wilcox district, believed earlier to be suffering from the effects of poisoned dog biscuits, had nothing more than a common bilicus attack, a medical examiner said Tuesday night.

Dr. J. P. Wilson, summoned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cox, said there was no indication that the two children had come in contact with poisoned dog biscuits.

Thirty-eight dogs and an unknown number of cats died since Saturday in the area.

Obey UN Cease-Fire Israeli Border Quiet

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 9 (AP) —Quiet prevailed on the troubled Israeli-Syrian frontier today after an order from the United Nations Security Council demanding an immediate cease-fire.

There was some pre-dawn skirmishing from the demilitarized area north of the Sea of Galilee, but 12 hours after issuance of the cease-fire there was no renewal of hostilities on a major scale, an Israeli military spokesman said.

The spokesman added: "It is now up to the U.N. to see that the Syrians leave the demilitarized area, which is Israel's territory."

The Syrians say they have no troops in the demilitarized area. They do not recognize Israel's claim to the territory. Dispatches from Damascus accused the Israelis of "new aggression" in the region.

Four Bullets Fired In Break-in Chase

TORONTO, May 9 — (CP).—Four police bullets were fired on Tuesday night in a chase after two youths suspected of breaking into a west-end garage. Police arrested and charged Calvin Platten 19, of Toronto, and a juvenile companion with the break-in.

Constable David Jefferson said he chased Platten down a lane and vaulted a six-foot fence after him.

"He fell on his face as he landed over the fence, and I landed on top of him," Jefferson said. "There wasn't much of a struggle."

KINGSTON, May 9.—(CP)—The City Amateur Softball League has a new entry, the Kingston Saints, but the team will play only home games. The Saints are convicts in the Kingston Penitentiary. They have in recent years played exhibition games against outside teams within the prison's walls, and this year received permission of R. D. Gibson, commissioner of penitentiaries, to enter a regular league.

Investigate Swindle Ring Milking Victims In Victoria

VICTORIA, B.C., May 9 (CP)—A government investigation was authorized Tuesday following claims that a swindle ring had milked elderly persons of $250,000 during the last 10 years.

Two men, one a disbarred Victoria lawyer, both now in jail, were named as the ringleaders by a man who said he was one of 47 persons who had been vicitimized.

W. A. Scott, who said he deliberately ran up bills totalling $5,500 in an attempt to be brought into court so he could testify as to swindlers' operations here, told a police commission meeting:

"I knew I had unearthed one of the major legal scandals and series of swindles that perhaps ever hit British Columbia."

The meeting was held Monday night. Tuesday, Police Chief John Black was authorized by the commissioners to seek the asistance of Attorney-General Gordon Wismer in a full-scale investigation.

Mr. Scott named as ringleader Clyde Gillies, now serving seven years in the penitentiary for theft and fraud, and Percival J. Walls, former barrister, serving a three-year term.

Four other alleged swindle victims were present at the hearing. Also present were John Stanton, Vancouver lawyer, representing the Quarter, and Conrad Watling of the National Investigation Agency.

Mr. Stanton said Gillies' swindles went back to 1938, involved at least $250,000 and 47 persons in Victoria and Vancouver "that we know of."

Mr. Scott, who lost $9,000, said in a brief to the police commission that he realized in May, 1948, that Gillies had swindled him, and that he resolved to crush the "swindle ring."

Details on how the alleged ring carried out the swindles were not revealed.

Mob Attacks, Shooting In Panama

Uprising Sweeps Across Capital Against President

PANAMA, Panama, May 9. (AP)—Shooting and mob attacks broke out in this capital today during a general strike against the president which paralyzed the whole tense city.

The radio station which has been supporting President Arnulfo Arias was attacked by a mob. Eyewitnesses said equipment was destroyed.

The attack, the witnesses said, was made under fire from the radio station in which some persons were wounded.

Police went into action to round up persons carrying firearms, and at the same time truckloads of supporters of Arias began arriving in the city from outlying areas. They rode in government trucks.

The general strike followed the president's switching of constitutions in a move to give himself broad powers against what he called the threat of Communist subversion in this country, a vital link in the western world's defence system because of the location here of the Panama Canal.

On Verge of Break

Arias and the police army which put him in power appeared on the verge of an open break, although both factions expressed hope of averting bloodshed.

The general strike was 100 per cent effective.

Before daybreak the show windows of seven business establishments were smashed. Buses which attempted to make their runs were overturned.

Following a meeting with the "strong man" national police chief, Col. Jose Antonia Remon, a police delegation told the president it wants to retain the 1946 constitution. Arias, in a decree Monday night, swapped it for the 1941 national charter written during an earlier term.

Arias announced earlier Tuesday that he will call a plebiscite in which the people can decide which constitution they prefer. Observers felt, however, that the stand for the 1941 charter he expressed to the police group might cancel this projected poll.

Arias' decree also had dissolved the National Assembly, suspended the right of habeas corpus

Ottawa Calls Four By-Elections

OTTAWA, May 9—(CP)—The Federal Government today called four Federal by-elections for June 25.

They will be in the Prince Edward riding of Queens, the Ontario riding of Waterloo South and the Manitoba ridings of the Brandon and Winnipeg South Centre.

All are vacant through the death or resignation of the sitting member.

Three of the seats formerly were held by Liberals and one by a Progressive Conservative.

A MOTORCYCLE-TRUCK CRASH at Downer's Corners today sent rider Earl Morrison, 21, of RR 7, Peterborough, to hospital with a broken leg and head injuries. Won't Use Japanese Troops

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Defence Secretary George Marshall said today no Japanese are serving with the United Nations troops in Korea largely because a Chinese-Russia defence pact is aimed at Japan. He implied the fear was that using Japanese against the Chinese Communists might bring the Russians into the Korean war. Marshall was in the witness chair for the third day before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. They are inquiring into the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far Eastern commander and the policy differences back of his removal.

Senator Harry Byrd (Dem.-Va.) brought up the question of the Japanese. Some lawmakers have been contending that Japanese volunteers ought to be permitted to serve with the UN forces. Noting that the Sino-Russian pact is directed at any resumption of Japanese aggression, Marshall testified:

"The fact that the pact directly referred to the Japanese—possible intervention on the mainland of Asia—I know controlled the action of this government in not using any Japanese whatsoever in Korea."

Ask Clearer Answer

As Marshall resumed the witness stand, Senator William F. Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) said Republicans will demand a "clearer answer" on how the U.S. government expects to end the Korean war.

Marshall testified Tuesday that he expects eventual victory will be won by inflicting "terrific casualties" on the Chinese Communists, destroyed their trained armies and breaking their morale.

Marshall also supported President Truman's firing of MacArthur. He said MacArthur had disregarded admonitions not to speak out on policy and was so out of sympathy with administration plans that he had to be removed.

On the dismissal point, Sen. Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.) today questioned Marshall about a message dispatched March 24 by the joint chiefs of staff to MacArthur. This message called the general's attention to a Dec. 6 directive for clearance of statements relating to the government's foreign and military policies.

Charge Navy Hasn't Enough Ships To Fight Enemy Subs

OTTAWA, May 9. (CP)—Canada's Navy hasn't a single effective team of warships and planes to tackle its primary wartime job of fighting submarines, the official Opposition's military critic charged Tuesday in the Commons. That accusation was made by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC-Nanaimo) who coupled it with statements that Russia now has 750 subs and that it was the submarine, more than any other weapon, which nearly licked the Allies in two world wars.

To it, Lt.-Col. Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East) added the charge that, in the switch to American arms, Canada has been stripped of half her army weapons without replacing them and that the army may be swapping some good arms for US weapons which aren't nearly as good.

The statements were some of the many made in the first day of a free-ranging defence debate touched off by Defence Minister Claxton's introduction of estimates of $1,600,000,000 for his department this fiscal year.

Need More Men

Members saw both Mr. Claxton and Gen. Pearkes agree that the three-year $5,000,000,000 defence program will require even more than 115,000 servicemen to fulfill the obligations Canada has undertaken.

Gen. Pearkes maintained that Canada's one aircraft carrier, the Magnificent, 18,000-ton kingpin of the navy, is out of date and will have to be remodelled or replaced "in a very short time," said the fleet air arm is "totally inadequate for the protection of our two oceans" and wondered when some of the new, vaunted anti-sub escort vessels are going to start coming off the production line.

There was no immediate reply from Mr. Claxton, but he will

300 Acres Of Forest, Sawmill Camp Burned

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 9 —(CP)—A forest fire, burning out of control and fanned by strong warm winds, destroyed a sawmill camp and 300 acres of forest land near Rocky Island Lake, about 60 miles north of Blind River, Tuesday. Blind River is 90 miles east of here.

Started by a spark from the camp kitchen, the fire is not yet under control but has been checked. All available fire fighting crews in the district were rushed to the scene of the blaze. Key personnel from the Sault, Sudbury and Gogama districts flew in to the lake.

Workers were recruited from the nearby Mississagi salvage project, where a disastrous fire in 1948 destroyed more than 3,000 acres of forest.

Ninety men, nine pumps and bulldozers fought the fire throughout Tuesday night. Additional pumps and hose were taken in today by rail from North Bay and by plane from Blind River.

Second Actress Tries Suicide

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 9 (AP)—An actress who was with Mary Astor's husband Monday night, when Miss Astor took sleeping pills, was herself in a hospital today. Police said she had taken an overdose of a sleeping potion.

The actress was identified as Joan Blair Casparis. 33. Police said Miss Casparis was taken to hospital in Los Angeles after broker Thomas Wheelock, Miss Astor's husband, had tried to rou her by telephone.

Detective Joe Gebhardt said Wheelock told him Miss Casparis was a friend of 20 years' standing. He quoted Wheelock: "This situation has nothing to do with Miss Astor's action."

Police said Miss Casparis' action was attempted suicide.

Several hours after she was found in her hotel room, hospital attendants said she was still unconscious.

Wheelock told police that he, Miss Casparis and another man had made a round of bars Monday night.

Census-Taker Persistent Man

OTTAWA, May 9— (CP)—If you're away on holidays during census taking time this summer, don't worry, the census man will catch up with you eventually.

Dominion census officials, whose enumerators begin counting Canadian noses June 1, said today they are prepared to take census information in advance from Canadians who expect to be away from home for a prolonged summer holiday

Those who expect for example, to visit Britain or other lands abroad can write beforehand to the director of the census division, Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, for a census form. They just fill it out and mail it back.

For others who might be away on their regular vacations when the census-taker calls, they don't have to worry. He'll be back.

Plan Prepared

WASHINGTON, May 9—(AP)—President Truman said today a "definite, concrete plan" for greater military strength and industrial mobilization has been developed in case Moscow is "reckless enough" to start a third world war.

312 Allied Aircraft Hit Enemy Air Force In Biggest Raid Of War

Report Chinese Angered At Russian Failure To Supply Tanks, Planes; U.N. Pilots Batter Camouflaged Area

TOKYO, May 9. (AP)—More than 300 Allied planes today ripped into part of the Chinese Communist air force in the biggest air raid of the Korean war. They blasted and burned Sinuiju airfield in northwest Korea, where the Chinese were reported gathering their Russian-made planes for the first big Red air strike. Seventy to 100 planes had been spotted on the ground there. The attack was made by 312 fighter planes. Eighty Russian-type jet fighters were parked on an airfield at Antung, Manchuria, across the Yalu river from Sinuiju. Fifty rose.

But Lt.-Gen. Earle E. Partridge, US Fifth Air Force commander, said only 13 crossed the Yalu. A few air fights flared.

However, Pilot Robert Dixon said the Red jets were out in strength.

"It's a massacre," he said, "and they are being massacred, not us."

Field dispatches said one Russian-type MIG-15 was probably shot down and another damaged. One US plane was damaged.

Continue To Withdraw

The big blow at Sihuiju followed front-line reports that Chinese were angered at Russian failure to supply tanks or planes for their spring offensive. The air show completely overshadowed ground operations. Red troops continued to pull back from armored Allied jabs.

South Koreans advanced the western end of the UN line two more miles Wednesday. They were helped by tanks that literally over-ran 14 Red guns. Other South Koreans moving up on the east seized control of the supply highway between Hongchon and the Red base at Inje.

Allied intelligence reports said about 70 to 100 camouflaged planes had been massed in Sinuiju revetments. The long-expected Red air strike was believed imminent.

It's a Fine Thing Donkeys Fool Cavalry

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, May 9. (AP) — Stories of captured Chinese mules kept coming back to headquarters. When the latest batch of about 20 was reported, the general went up to the line to see for himself.

He came back blushing.

"What has our outfit come to?" he lamented.

"I saw those critters and there wasn't a mule in the lot. They were just little donkeys—our men didn't know the difference."

Iran Denies UK Charge Oil Nationalization Red Act

TEHRAN, May 9 (CP).—Iran disclosed today—and denied — a British charge that the recent nationalization of British-controlled Iranian oil resources was a Communist act.

The denial was made in a diplomatic note to Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison of Britain, in which Prime Minister F. Mohammed Mossadegh said that the takeover of the giant Anglo-Iranian Oil Company will stop discontent in Iran and lead to better relations with Britain.

Meanwhile, the Senate gave Mossadegh a vote of confidence, with 48 of the 51 members present backing the new national front Government. Three abstained. The Senate action followed an overwhelming confidence vote by the Majlis (lower chamber) on Sunday.

Foreign Minister Bagher Kazemi made the Iranian note public at a press conference. He said Iran has no intention of retreating from the go-ahead with oil nationalization, despite British protests.

It was the first disclosure of details of the Iranian-British diplomatic exchanges and revealed for the first time that Morrison viewed the nationalization of Iranian oil as a Communist act.

The charge angered Iranian officials who said Britain's Labor Government has nationalized many of its home industries.

Mossadegh's note said nationalization of industry is "the sovereign right of every state."

"Though agreements or concessions may have been made or granted to individuals or private companies . . . (they) cannot impede the exercise of national sovereign rights, nor is any international authority competent to investigate this matter," said Mossadegh.

His letter said the "activities and behavior" of British-controlled company had led to discontent among the people.

But it professed Iran's desire to strengthen her bonds of friendship with Britain. It said that the law permits the Government "to examine the claims of the former oil company."

Army Pleased At Number Joining Brigade

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—The army announced today that 509 men have been enlisted and another 1,499 are in process of enrolment in its recruiting drive for the new 27th Brigade, destined for service in Europe.

Officers said the totals up to late Tuesday were incomplete since they did not include final figures from the eastern, central and western commands.

The recruiting target is 5,500 to 6,500 men. Here is the breakdown by regional commands: Eastern, 56 enrolments and 370 applications in process; Quebec, 49 enrolments and 563 applications; central, 187 enrolments and 338 applications; prairie, 22 enrolments and 128 applications; western, 194 enrolments and 100 applications.

Army Pleased

A spokesman said the army is "quite pleased" with the response to the campaign, which opened Monday.

He said it is expected that a greater proportion of those now in the processing stage will finally be accepted than in previous campaigns since applicants for the new brigade receive a preliminary screening by reserve units.

This means that men who might be over-age or otherwise ineligible are turned away before they reach the actual recruiting process.

Police Fire On Strikers

PAMPLONA, Spain, May 9 — (AP). — Police fired on a crowd of strikers demonstrating today against the high cost of living. Five were severely wounded.

Five workers taking part in a general strike which has paralyzed this industrial city were arrested as "instigators" of the stoppage, which began Tuesday.

Civil Governor Luis Valero Bermejo gave the strikers an ultimatum to return to their jobs or face "grave sanctions." The workers defied the ultimatum, showing up in front of the factories but remaining outside discussing Tuesday night's skirmish with police during a previous demonstration.

Stores and cafes remained closed and transport services halted.

No disorders were reported during the early morning. City police concentrated around the civil governor's palace, apparently to break up any protest march that might develop.

(A Reuters dispatch from Madrid quoted unconfirmed reports of one death and two persons seriously injured in shooting outside a factory at Pamplona.)

Club-swinging police and guardsmen firing into the air halted the strike demonstrators last night.

Inch-by-Inch Search Of Seabed For Sub

LONDON, May 9—(Reuters)—An inch-by-inch search of the seabed still is being made on a 14-mile front along the route of the ill-fated submarine Affray, which disappeared April 16 with 75 men aboard, Viscount Hall, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the House of Lords today.

He said indications are that the Affray suffered some damage which resulted in sudden, major flooding, preventing any attempt at escape. There has been no trace of her since she left Portsmouth on a training cruise.

Elevator Strike Strands Office Workers

NEW YORK, May 9 (CP) — Elevator service in most commercial buildings and skyscrapers, stalled Tuesday by a building-service workers' strike, returned to normal today but the union pushed "mop-up" strikes against other buildings.

The Building Service Employees International Union (AFL), seeking a $4 weekly wage increase and $1 in welfare benefits, said it will call strikes in at least 50 buildings today. Pay scales range from $50 to $58.83.

Union officials said that after Tuesday's walkout in 100 buildings, operators came "into (union) headquarters with contracts like crazy." Many settlements were made before tenants could become footsore.

With elevators out of service, lunch-hour throngs trudged down and back up many flights of stairs. Some, however, just sat the thing out in their offices or went home.

About 100 office buildings were affected at the height of the walkout. There are about 500 normally serviced by the striking union.

By mid-afternoon, service was resumed in all but about 30 buildings as wage and welfare demands were settled.

About 500 elevator operators, porters, janitors and other service employees were involved. They belong to the Building Service Workers Union (AFL).

They demanded a $4-a-week wage increase, plus $1 in welfare benefits. Present wages run from $50 to $58.83 a week.

A strike of apartment houses is threatened in the current dispute between the union and building operators.

The city's biggest skyscrapers —the Empire State, Chrysler Building and Rockefeller Centre were not affected by the service strike.

In many cases, arrangements were made by the union to give elevator service to persons who were ill.

Lauds Soviet People For Winning War

LONDON, May 9. (AP)—Pravda pinned a few editorial laurels on the Russian people today for what it described as the single-handed feat of winning the Second World War.

"It is six years since the day of the victorious conclusion of the great patriotic war of the Soviet people against the Hitler invaders," Russia's Communist party newspaper said in an editorial broadcast by the Moscow radio.

"As a result of the heroic struggle . . . German imperialism was turned to dust. Soon after the winning of this victory the Soviet army and navy crushed Japanese militarism."

"The two sources of world aggression," Pravda concluded nonchalantly, "in the west and in the east, were liquidated."

Received Benefits, Had Jobs, Fined $15

Two men pleaded guilty in police court today to charges of getting unemployment insurance by telling the commission that they were out of work when they had jobs. Both were fined $15 and costs

Thomas Holmes, 728 Victory Crescent, obtained $8.40 when he reported to the commission that he was out of work Sept. 6 to Sept. 9.

Edgar M. White, 20 Whitlaw Ave., received $9 from the commission when he reported that he had no work May 1 to May 4.

Commission Inspector Eric C. Taylor said both men had returned the money.

(Nor was he permitted to identify a sergeant who flung his empty rifle like a spear into the face of the enemy. The name of the sergeant has not yet come through censorship.)

Following the late-April battle fought at a cost of eight dead and 21 wounded compared with at least 150 enemy casualties, the troops moved into positions north of the Han River on a series of 300- foot hills east of Seoul. They spent the intervening time laboring on formidable defences in preparation for possible renewal of the Chinese attack.

Tuesday, Mills' patrol moved out from these strong positions, probing north. After capturing the four prisoners, they held a hill position until late in the day before returning to base.

Maj. Tighe summed up the operation:

Besides these concessions, Canada obtained others with 15 countries including France, Italy, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Indonesia, and India, as well as the six new countries entering into the broad general agreement. These are war-torn Korea, West Germany, The Philippines, Turkey, Austria and Peru.

Canada didn't get these concessions without giving concessions of her own, and here she trod on a delicate commonwealth issue — the question of British preferential tariffs.

Major Shadow

This problem was the one major shadow darkening the Torquay talks. Britain and other Commonwealth countries, except Canada, declined to barter away any more of these preferences in return for a new agreement by the U.S.

Canada declined to follow the British policy and instead eliminated 47 preferences in return for lower tariffs from non-Commonwealth countries.

Canada's concessions to the U. S. and other countries included tariff reductions in machinery, artificial silk fabrics, wooden furniture, rubber tires, jewelry, bananas, grapefruit juice, cocoa beans, confectionery and tobacco.

Would Control Ammunition Sale

TORONTO, May 9. (CP)—Control of the sale of ammunition to criminals would be improved if provisions of the Explosives Act were included in the Federal Criminal Code, W. H. Stringer, Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, told the Legislature's Crime Committee today.

Commissioner Stringer said that Herbert J. McAuliffe, convicted and hanged for the murder of two men in Langton, Ont., last year, had a "regular arsenal" in his Windsor home.

Only part of the weapons were registered, the commissioner said. Police could not find where other weapons were obtained. The murder weapon, a Thompson submachine gun, had been part of a consignment to the United States army.

C. E. Janes, Progressive Conservative member for Lambton East, suggested that weapons brought into Canada as war souvenirs should be made inoperative.

likely comment either today or later.

Mr. Claxton, launching the debate, did in effect supply a reply to another charge by Gen. Pearkes. He said that if recruiting rates hold up at anything like their present level the target of 115,000 servicemen and 35,000 civilians for defence jobs by March 31, 1954, will be reached 18 months ahead of schedule or in half the time originally planned.

Gen. Pearkes had other ideas. He said the 115,000 estimate is too little, won't provide enough men to match Canada's commitments and "may throw out of gear the whole concept of our plan" to build up the forces.

Mr. Claxton interjected that the target now is "more than" 115,000.

Haphazard Methods

Gen. Pearkes went on from there to charge that Canada still is adhering to haphazard methods of raising manpower. Individuals were allowed to make up their own minds where they could best serve. There had been little if any consideration of the manpower needs of industry or agriculture.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, contended that members don't know what's going on in defence and called for a committee similar to the wartime war expenditures committee which, he recalled, could meet in camera and get background information confidentially.

Leonard Stick (L-Trinity-Conception) suggested that a group of members of parliament be flown to Korea to tell Canadian soldiers Canada is really behind them.

Ray Thomas (SC-Wetaskiwin) accused the government of not getting across to the people the real urgency of the world situation. Canada, he said, is in a war "right up to her neck."

Outlines Development

In a typical wide-ranging defence debate, Mr. Claxton made these statements:

1. More than 1,200 men sought enlistment in the new 27th Brigade for Europe on the first day of recruiting Monday and the target should be reached without difficulty. It wants 5,500 to 6,500 for the brigade itself plus replacements.

2. Manpower in the regular forces jumped to 70,361 in April with a net intake for that month of 1,934—down some 300 from the average in the past three months.

3. It is intended, during three to four years, to tap all reserve army units for manpower contributions to the 27th Brigade so they, in turn, can build up groups of seasoned officers and men. This would hasten mobilization if war came.

Then the Allies struck. American and South African fighter planes hit in two waves.

The first wave swept through heavy flak, rocketing, bombing, and strafing anti-aircraft guns.

The second wave hit revetments and the airfield with high-explosive, fragmentation and fire bombs.

"I don't think the Reds will fly any more planes off that strip," said Capt. H. L. Williams. "The napalm (Jellied-gasoline fire bombs) covered the whole place."

Good Camouflage

Returning pilots reported they hit the revetments squarely. But they could not see whether they sheltered planes—"they were so well camouflaged," one officer said.

"We watched the build-up of enemy planes in this area," said Maj. Carl G. Carolson, intelligence officer," and when it got so far we had to hit it. We think a good job was done."

Associated Press correspondent William Barnard reported no UN planes or airmen were lost. The damaged Red jet was hit by long-range fire.

The power of the UN strike compared to the opposition it met underscored reports of Chinese dissatisfaction over inadequate Russian aid.

Bogged Down

A front-line dispatch from AP correspondent Jim Becker said absence of Russian-made armor bogged down the recent Red offensive after it had broken through UN lines. Becker quoted a high-ranking Allied officer as saying:

"We have learned from many sources that the Chinese did not follow up their break-through because they had planned on using planes and tanks and the Russians did not deliver them.

"We hear that many top Chinese generals are disgusted by this Russian failure to deliver."

Since the drive fizzled, the Reds have made strenuous efforts to re-equip their front-line forces.

Trading Stays Dull On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 9 (CP). — Trading continued irregular and dull as the session progressed on the stock exchange today.

Industrials were fairly mixed with fractional price changes. Papers, agricultures, textiles and retail stores showed a majority of losses. Refining oils and constructions were higher and the rest of the section about evenly mixed.

Base metals were fairly mixed but the tendency was to decline. Noranda, Consolidated Smelters, Falconbridge, Golden Manitou and United Keno Hill posted small losses.

Western oils were fairly mixed. Golds showed little change in trading.

50 Soldiers Stage German Cafe Brawl

KARLSRUHE, Germany, May 9 (Reuters)—Several United States soldiers were severely injured in a clash btween about 50 white and Negro servicemen in a German cafe here Tuesday night.

A U.S. army spokesman said the incident is under investigation.

Germans in the cafe said a dispute between the white and Negro soldiers developed into a melee. All the cafe's furniture was smashed to pieces.

Military police eventually subdued the battling soldiers and carried them off in trucks.

A Nice Catch

MIDLAND, May 9. (CP)—Mayor Charles Parker of Midland went looking for a fish-story the other day. He came back with a 12-pound rainbow trout. Mayor Parker made his haul in a pool in the Severn River, near Tay, 10 miles east of Midland. His equipment—A jack-knife with which he cut himself a pole; a line given him last year by a visiting United States tourist; a 1½-inch hook; some dew-worms. The trout measured 29½ inches in length.

Driver Acquitted On Driving Count

Frank McGavin, 755 Stewart St., was today in police court found not guilty of a charge of drunk driving when he told the court of attacks of pain to which he is subject, a result of war injury received in Belgium, made him semi-conscious.

Patrol Sergeant Gordon Trennum and Constable Reg. McMillan testified that they found McGavin drunk behind the wheel of his car parked on Hunter St. near Aylmer St. after midnight April 10. They took his car keys away from him, but after circling the block, found that McGavin had driven away.

They arrested him as he was getting out of his car at his home.

Dr. Russell Morgan called as a witness said McGavin had frequent attacks of pain in the side of his face as a result of a type of neuralgia of the facial nerves. There was no cure except the drastic measure of cutting the nerves from their connection to the brain.

"In my opinion there is no question about it. The charge is dismissed," said Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

Premiere Honors Earlier Stars

HOLLYWOOD, May 9 (AP). — The film capital dipped into the past Tuesday night with a movie premiere to salute the stars of the silent era.

Hollywood, noted for its bad memory, did an about-face by honoring the faded film personalities "for the pleasure you have brought to millions the world over." The event had all the trappings of a glamor premiere.

Some of today's stars were there, too.

But the guests causing the most commotion were the magic personalities of another era. Francis X. Bushman, heartbeat of the silent era and a radio actor now, looked dashing as he escorted starlet Piper Laurie. Betty Blythe also on radio now, looked younger than her years.

Thousands March

The police visit to the president came after thousands of Panamanians marched on police headquarters Tuesday night clamoring for the president's ouster. Remon and the national police constitute Panama's only army. They led the bloodless coup which boosted Arias back into power in November, 1949.

Remon assured the demonstrators his force would guarantee the people's rights.

Earlier Tuesday night, Arias announcing the plebiscite, told a crowd of 6,000 outside the palace: "If the people want us to leave the presidency, we would do so."

Later he told reporters he intends to remain in office until a new Assembly sets an expiration date for his term. The 1941 constitution provides a six-year presidential term; the 1946 charter four years.

Special Force Name Goes Into Discard

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—As a term, the army's special force is dead.

Now it is simply the 25th Brigade Group Ilus the replacement group for that formation.

It was recruited last August and September, with special terms of enlistment, to back Canada's obligations to the United Nations or Atlantic Pact. The bulk of its men now are in Korea.

Efforts have been made within recent months to get the men to transfer to the regular army. No report has been made public on the success of this campaign, but headquarters say the situation has reached the stage where it has been decided to eliminate any differences and to treat the 25th Brigade as simply another branch of the army.

So the term special force—originally designed to indicate that it was a force specially recruited to serve Canada abroad—is being dropped.

In the Commons Tuesday, Defence Minister Claxton reported that it recruited 10,587 men. A few days ago it was reported officially that another 1,300 men were posted to it from the regular army.

Mr. Claxton said there now are 6,100 men with the 25th Brigade in Korea plus 1,100 in a reinforcement pool. Of these, 5,770 were men who joined the special force.

In addition there were replacements in Canada. Headquarters later reported these total about 2,750, including more than 1,000 now moving to Wainwright, Alta., from Fort Lewis, Wash., plus another 1,650 who will go there from other bases in Canada.

These figures indicate the force which used to be the special force took in a total of 11,887 men, specials and regulars, or roughly 2,000 more than it now has.

The last official report on discharges showed they totalled more than 1,000 some three months ago.

Raps $84,000 Jump In Education Costs

KIRKLAND LAKE, May 9 — (CP)— An $84,000 jump in Teck township's education costs was criticized Tuesday by Reeve Ann Shipley, who charged trustees of both public and high school boards with breaking an agreement to hold down this year's budget.

"The council is left standing in a hole," she said. Teachers' salaries had increased as much as $800 while some civic employees were given raises of only $60.

H. L. Copper public school superintendent, said the highest increase any public school teacher will receive this year will be $380. The township's 75 public school teachers would each receive a $200 wage increase on Sept. 1.

New Grader Arrives

COBOURG, May 9 — (ENS) — The town's new $15,000 grader arrived yesterday and was put into use after the town foreman was given some tuition in the operation of some of its new features. With the streets of the town admittedly in bad shape, the grader will be put through its paces at once.

Plan Kindergarten Graduation Exercises

COBOURG, May 9 (ENS). — The Public School Board Tuesday night heard Principal Grant Sine report a total roll of 766 for April, with an average attendance of 686.9 and a percentage attendance of 95.98.

Mr. Sine pointed out that graduation exercises for the kindergarten pupils held last year went over very well, and it was intended to repeat it this year. New kindergarten enrolments would be taken early in June, he announced.

The principal also informed the board that the school would be sending a mixed choir of 30 voices and a choir of 45 girls to the Northumberland County Music Festival at Brighton next week.

He recommended bicycle racks for the 100 or more bikes strewn about the school yard and the board authorized their construction.

The board served notice that, while they didn't mind the Public school grounds being used for ball practice after hours and on holidays, broken windows which were not reported would result in the privilege of using the grounds for playing ball being withdrawn.

The board instructed the secretary to write the Toronto chimney sweep who recently cleaned the chimney that he would not be paid until he did a proper job. The school janitor had reported that the chimney cleaner had only cleaned out the bottom of the stack, an hour-and-a-half job, and the board had been billed for $25.

In Czechoslovakia

LONDON, May 9—(AP)—Moscow radio announced today that Russian Marshal Ivan S. Konev and Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin are in Czechoslovakia. Unconfirmed reports in Prague last January said Konev would take over a high command function in the Czechoslovak defence organization. The official announcement said the two are attending a liberation celebration.

Old Age Pensions Provoke 2-Hour Senate Debate

OTTAWA, May 9, (CP).—The government's petition to the United Kingdom parliament for a constitutional change to pave the way for a contributory plan of old-age pensions in Canada provoked a two-hour debate in the Senate Tuesday.

It was approved after Senators aired criticisms against the wording, against the effect on Dominion-Provincial relations and against the "rush" to get it through parliament.

One Senator, Arthur Roebuck (L-Ontario) predicted it would wind up before the Supreme Court in a legal interpretation tangle.

The constitutional amendment will authorize the federal government to inaugurate a program under which pensions of $40 a month will be paid all Canadians over 70 regardless of means. It also will authorize the government to share on a 50-50 basis with the provinces the cost of a $40-a-month pension to the needy between 65 and 69 years.

Senator William Euler (L-Ontario) said he realized this was an exceptional case. But a way should be found to abolish entirely the need for getting United Kingdom approval for changes to the Canadian constitution. Otherwise "all this talk of Canadian autonomy is just so many words."

Runaway Truck Crashes Into Tree

A parked milk truck ran away Tuesday morning down the Reid St. hill north of McDonnel St. and hit a tree 155 feet away before it stopped.

Kenneth Floyd, 451 Brioux Ave., driver of the truck, parked on the west side of the hill and went into a house to make a delivery.

Police said the air brakes on the truck apparently let go and the truck ran down the hill, diagonally across the street, and hit a maple tree.

About $300 damage was done to the truck. Constable William G. Scott investigated.

The Cost Of Municipal Recreation

The Ontario Recreation Association will meet in London during May, for its sixth annual conference. In 1945 there were only eighteen communities in Ontario which had organized programs of recreation; now the number is close to two hundred. This is a very rapid growth, and in its preliminary publicity the Association says with pride that organized recreation in Canada has now reached a point where it can be independent of the U.S.A. and "move ahead geared to the Canadian environment." We shall be interested to learn precisely what is meant by this.

* * *

No one will easily deny that there are considerable benefits to be derived from municipal organization of recreation, and that the existence of a Recreation Commission such as we have in this city simplifies many problems, and lifts many burdens from the shoulders of the City Council, and in particular the Parks Committee. But it is also a fact that in municipal life what is well done is also, as a usual thing, expensively done, and that our organized recreation costs us a good deal of money. It is only fair to point out that many of the expenses which are now charged against the Recreation Commission existed before it was brought into being, and were taken care of in the estimates of other municipal bodies. But it is a fact that municipal recreation is costing us more now than ever before. We are getting value for our money, but we still have to find the money.

* * *

Virtually all of the money which is spent on recreation comes from the civic tax on property. Once again, we point out that the great burden of the maintenance of all city services and benefits rests upon the property owners; we do so because, although property owners are fully conscious of this fact, many citizens who are not property owners are apt to forget it, and to make demands upon civic bodies without any reference to it. And at a time when municipal tax rates are higher than ever before, municipalities will feel that organized recreation is one civic expenditure which can be kept in check. After all, many of the most recreative activities are possible without any sort of organization at all.

* * *

When the Ontario Recreation Association meets in London, therefore, we hope that it will not spend too much time in devising ways of spending more money. If recreation is to be in their own phrase, "geared to the Canadian environment," it will be plain that serious consideration will have to be given to high taxes, the greatly increased cost of living and all the unpleasant facts of municipal finance. If organized recreation is to continue as an element in Ontario municipal life its directors must be determined to watch their budgets with the greatest care.

The Administration Hits Back

After General MacArthur's testimony it is now the turn of the Administration. Both Mr. Truman and General Marshall have put their finger on the weak points in MacArthur's arguments. It had previously been inferred that General MacArthur's judgement was unsound by the revelation of his opinion given to the President that Communist China would not come into the war. So far as technicalities are concerned the General is still right. Communist China is still not officially in the war: the Chinese troops are still grotesquely called "volunteers" by Peiping; but in all essentials his forecast was erroneous.

Now the Administration, having undermined the doctrine of MacArthur's infallibility, gives its own views on the probable results of MacArthur's policy. In the first place it does not believe that bombing Chinese bases in Manchuria would bring victory in Korea. Moreover it might very well have disastrous consequences. The entry of Russia into the war, officially or unofficially, would bring a taste of atomic warfare to this continent. We in Canada could not expect the Soviets to exercise a nice discrimination between North and South of the border in the event of this happening. A decision to bomb Manchuria would affect this country every bit as much as the United States. How much more so the countries in Europe.

There is the very real danger pointed out by Mr. Truman that the United States might by unilateral action find herself without allies in war. As we pointed out at the beginning of this controversy the United States must march in step with her allies if she is to retain her leadership. The President realizes this. General MacArthur, however, still speaks as though the Korean war were an exclusively American affair. If his policy were followed it might very well turn out to be so, and Stalin's policy of splitting the allies would be accomplished neatly. Doubtless the Russians would have preferred to tackle the enfeebled European powers first, but they have been checked by a united front. The Korean conflict must be run on a United Nations basis, even though this may entail the sacrifice of military expediency to larger issues.

There are signs that American public opinion, always volatile and subject to violent fluctuation, is beginning to settle down. In his speech on Monday night President Truman received his greatest applause when he stated with all the emphasis at his command that foreign policy was not a political issue. After a lull in the applause he added that it was a matter of life and death.

Political Prisoners

The government of the U.S.A. is considering a proposal to prepare four detention camps, capable of holding 14,000 people who are known to be engaged in subversive activity—in other words, internment camps. Some Canadian papers have enquired whether Canada has any plans of this sort. Undoubtedly there are subversive persons at large in Canada who, in the case of war, would have to be interned, just as they were during the last war.

In wartime, every country has its political prisoners. Democracies do not like to admit the existence of such prisoners in time of peace. Yet there is, in a lunatic asylum in the U.S.A., a man who is sane, if the friends who visit him there may be believed, and who is detained for political reasons. He is Ezra Pound, the poet. If Pound were not in an asylum, he would have to be tried as a traitor, and for reason best known to themselves, the people who have locked him up do not want such a trial. We make no plea for Pound, nor do we assert his innocence. We mention him only to point out that his case is still in doubt, and that political prisoners are not a monopoly of any particular nation.

Our Pin-Headed Ancestors

A discovery of the greatest scientific importance has recently been made in Northern Iran, where the bones have been discovered of what are described as "three pin-headed cavemen"; it is estimated that they lived about 75,000 years ago. This is considerably earlier than the period at which the Neanderthal Man is believed to have flourished. The important point is that there were genuine men like ourselves (even though pin-headed) living long before the creatures who were not quite men, who have been regarded by some people as links between man and the apes. Perhaps, therefore, man did not evolve from an ape-like creature, but is a separate species.

This may strike a blow at the theory of evolution, or it may not. We are in no position to make a judgement on such a point. Our contemporary, the Windsor Star, feels competent to make such a judgement, and here it is:

> We kind of hope this will prove true and will deflate the old-school evolutionists. They have been a bit too forward in shoving their perhaps too-pat theory down our throats. It would show the Scopes trial of a quarter-century ago in a new light, and lift this old blush from Tennessee's cheek.

We have some familiarity with the work of the old-school evolutionists, and we have never detected in it any desire to make too pat a theory or to shove it down anybody's throat. And the Scopes trial was not specifically based upon a theory of evolution; it was a trial to decide whether modern scientific theories — simply as theories — might be taught in the schools of Tennessee if they happened to arouse doubt about the literal veracity of the Bible. True scientists will be ready to admit an error, if an error has been made, for their principal concern is to get at the truth. That cannot always be said of those who deride their work.

The discovery that pin-headed men existed 75,000 years ago occasions no surprise. The interesting thing is that their progeny may be traced, without a break, all through history to the present day, making what is surely the longest and most complete genealogy in the history of living creatures.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A doctor says that, in his experience, people are not afraid to die. With things as they are at present, of course, they may look upon it as a desirable economy.

A famous photographer says that a girl is beautiful if she can divide her face into three equal parts. Unfortunately too few girls get past the first division, which is opening the mouth.

Rita Hayworth seems to think that she had the worst of the bargain when she married Aly Khan, but we have no patience with the discontent of modern girls. She had an unusual opportunity to travel in the Orient, broaden her mind, and pick up interesting souvenirs. Try to look at it in the right way dear, and you will see that the whole thing was intensely educational.

ON THE MARGIN

Spiritual Odyssey

THE PILLAR OF FIRE, by Karl Stern (Harcourt, Brace, New York; George J. McLeod, Toronto).

THE dust cover of this book says that it is "a modern psychiatrist's personal story of his life and his spiritual voyage from Judaism to Catholicism". So it is, and it is a story which will catch many eyes. When any man of the cultural and scientific attainments of Karl Stern sets down his passage from a Jewish home in a friendly Bohemian German village, through Hitler's Nazilism, to a Montreal neurological institution and Roman Catholic conversion, he is bound to be read.

The account is quietly sincere, though with an articulate European's adroitness and zest to make himself, in these times, a part of cosmography. For instance, so charged and poignant are his references to the plight of Jews in Germany and to the war of liberation in which exiled German Jews could have little part, that one hardly remembers that the author himself was not pilloried, that he left Germany for England long before war broke out (in 1935 or 1936, it is not clear), and that in June, 1939 he was perspicaciously in Montreal, where he had asylum all during the war.

Such knowledgeable, literate Europeans with an almost intuitive feeling for humanity and its drift are a godsend to this country. They help to place it in time and space and to decide its direction. Even these following sentences, giving the objective view of an outsider, are an aid to Canadian national self-consciousness: "Montreal shows, in a coarsened and seemingly static form, all the imprints and traces of the quarrels of the European family of peoples. At home in high school we used to have 'living pictures', scenes in which an action was shown arrested at a certain point, in a motionless pantomime. When you look down from the top of Mont Royal, you can almost directly perceive currents of European history of the last few centuries in petrified form.

"THERE are French who seem to perpetuate the France of the time of Pascal, Monsieur Arnauld and the Port-Royal, a France which had dodged the impact of the Revolution. Here until a short time ago, political liberalism and the Catholic tradition were mutually exclusive. As in other Catholic countries there is much voluntary aceptance of poverty. In the province there is the genuine rural culture, with the family farm as a centre. The clergy is suspicious of industrialism and of the city, and one has a feeling that most of the Frenchmen who live in the city rely on the soundness and indestructibility of the village. Calvinist prosperity, at one with the rest of the British Commonwealth, seems to look down upon all this with amused self-assurance. This, in turn, spurs the French into national resentment of an incredible tenacity. To many of them the Church itself becomes a vehicle of national exclusiveness, obviously the opposite of what she actually is meant to be. In between are the Jews and the Irish, both of whom seem still to bear the resentment produced by the suffering in their European home countries. Thus, the city is parcellated, and everywhere there are frontiers of distrust."

Much of the theme of the book is, of course, the author's transition from Judaism to Catholicism and there is considerable philosophic disquisition about Thomism (St. Thomas Aquinas). His conversion took final form in Montreal. One wonders how easy this was in a city where French-Canadian and Irish priests of peasant stock dominate parishes, and not, as in England where cultured clergy are recruited from and ministering to an aristocratic or aesthetic taste. But Dr. Stern once accepted extreme Zionism and orthodox Jewish piety in Munich without offence to his cultural and scientific predilections.

It would be alien for Canadians to receive without scepticism European value-judgements. For instance, Dr. Stern, as do other European exiles, sees events subjectively. He reasons and explains from personalities and moods. What was said in his coterie, how he or others of it feel, becomes the authoritative assessment. In such autobiographical accounts a North American reader may get the impression that the author and his friends are superior in culture and intellect, and that they bring learning, light and understanding to rather immature, unperceptive Americans who have not the capacity to understand themselves or the meaning of history. Such Europeans may be Olympian but they are not the only oracles. To judge from facts—empirically—can be as valid as judgement from theories emotionally postulated.

CRADLED IN THE WAVES, by J. T. Croteau, Ph.D. (Ryerson Press, Toronto).

THE title of this book suggests that it is a traveller's guide or appreciation of Prince Edward Island. It is about Prince Edward Island, for sure, but not of its pastoral charms or maritime lure. It is about adult education on the island and a co-operative approach to economic problems which faced the Islanders. The author shared with Father Jimmy Tompkins, Dr. M. M. Coady (who was recently in Peterborough addressing farm and cattle-breeding groups) and A. B. MacDonald, the founders of the St. Francis Xavier movement, the belief that there is not much use in talking to a fisherman or a farmer about culture until you have 'put a shirt on his back and food in his stomach'.

It is the story of the founding of credit unions and co-operatives in Prince Edward Island. The book is not as dull as the subject sounds. It is vividly matter-of-fact; the clash of personalities and interests is echoed, and there are some wry, sly and bright observations given with good humour which the success of the movement inculcated.

In ten years from 1936 to 1945 the author helped to organize and served as secretary or director of the following: The Adult Education League, the Co-operative Council of P.E.I., the P.E.I. Federation of Agriculture, the Co-operative Union of P.E.I. and the Fisherman's Central Co-operative Association.

Such movements as these in the Maritime Provinces have had a profound effect on the thinking and economy of the people and districts. They seem to have arisen out of stark economic necessity—to put it bluntly, the poverty of the people, as they did in the West, while Central Canada (Quebec and Ontario) sat prim, stolid and secure on their money-bags. Young men with education and training returned to help their neighbours fend for themselves and improve their material lot. The movement in the Maritimes, mildly socialistic, has been sponsored by Laval and St. Francois-Xavier universities.

It is interesting that Dr. Croteau is an American by birth, though, as his name suggests, Canadian by ancestry. He taught at Prince of Wales College (the junior college on P.E.I.) and is now Associate Professor of Economics at the Catholic University of America, at Washington, D.C.

Letters To The Editor

ENQUIRY ABOUT COMMUNITY CENTRE

Sir: My main reason for writing this letter is that in so doing the citizens will be looking forward to seeing an advertisement advising them when a public meeting is to be called to discuss what has and as yet has not taken place in regards to the building of the Peterborough Memorial Community Centre for Health, Culture and Recreation.

A prominent M.P. has asked the Deputy Minister of National Revenue as to what information can be furnished from that Department.

If there is some way for you to advise the public this meeting will be held as soon as a hall is procured I will greatly appreciate you doing so.

The advertisement will appear in the Examiner. I hope the different groups of citizens will have delegations present at this meeting.

Yours truly,
M. E. KETCHESON.

THE DRIFT FROM THE FARMS

Sir: As an offset to that story in which the Ottawa statisticians announce that "March shows a drop of 97,000 farm workers from a year earlier", the following related paragraph in one of the national farm papers in the United States astonished me: "According to the Department of Agriculture, farm help is going into factory jobs where there s higher pay, despite the fact that farm wages during the past year have climbed 13 per cent. More than 100,000 farm workers have been lost during the year to the cities and to the armed services".... (From "Inside Washington" in April Co-operative Digest.)

I am wondering what interpretation is to be placed upon the above brace of figures—which are either disastrously too high for Canada—or relatively insignificant south of the Line?

And, while I've my pen in hand, maybe the following remarkable statement may be considered of interest, especially if read against the background fact that there are estimated to be 720,000 farms in Canada: "There are 717,756 fewer farms in the United States than in 1940. There were 5,379,043 farms last year—the decrease due to combination and mechanization." (Farm Journal.)

This steady drift from the farms may have certain current advantages, in terms of the industrial emergency defence labour needs—but it doesn't look so smart over the long term? It would be very curious if the trend indicated 'cheap food' or lower price-levels for farm products?

VEGETARIAN'S CASE STATED

Sir: Vegetarianism is a way of life followed by millions of people — and the highest animals—in many lands. It results in a healthier body, more efficient brain, domestic and national economy and keen aesthetic sensitivity and appreciation. Adherents believe it is just as immoral to take the life of an inoffensive animal as to kill a human being.

The most outstanding thinkers have been vegetarians—Daniel, Plato, Plutarch, Pythagoras, Voltaire, Wesley, Thoreau, Gandhi, Shaw—all humanitarians—to name a few. To such men, to be implicated in the killing of a sheep by eating mutton is just as cannibalistic as devouring a roasted infant.

For almost 3,000 years, world leaders have warned mankind of the deadly consequences of meat eating—ill health, shortened lives and war.

"Take not away the life you cannot give;
For all things have an equal right to live.
Kill noxious creatures which 'tis sin to save;
This only just prerogative we have;
But nourish life with vegetable food,
And shun the sacrilegious taste of blood."
(Ovid.)

"It is a vulgar error to regard meat in any form as necessary to life. All that is necessary to the human body can be supplied by the vegetable kingdom." (Sir Henry Thompson, M.D., M.R.C.S.)

"Comparative anatomy and physiology indicate flesh fruits and vegetables as the main food of man." (Sydney M. Whitaker, M.D., M.R.S.C., L.R.C.P.)

"Man by nature was never made to be a carnivorous animal, nor is he armed for prey or rapine, with jagged and pointed teeth, and claws to rend and tear; but with gentle hands to gather fruits and vegetables, and with teeth to chew and eat them." (John Ray, F.R.S.)

"I do not regard flesh-food as necessary for us at any stage and under any slime in which it is possible for human beings ordinarily to live. I hold flesh-food to be unsuited to our species. We err in copying the lower animal world—if we are superior to it." (Gandhi.)

There is a world-wide organization to coordinate the efforts of vegetarians of all lands—the International Vegetarian Union. The Canadian Vegetarian Union is a member, with units in Calgary, Ottawa and Toronto. C.V.U. issues a bulletin periodically, and lectures are given frequently.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou? And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.

And he said, Who told thee that you wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat? And the man said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life: and I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed: it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3: 9-15.)

Dog House

(The Manchester Guardian)

An elderly woman who was said to have kept 35 dogs on the ground floor of her house, yesterday succeeded at Liverpool Quarter Sessions in her appeal against conviction on a summons alleging that she caused unnecessary suffering to a number of dogs by omitting to provide care and attention.

The assistant recorder, giving judgement yesterday, said: "I cannot as a matter of general principle approve of a woman keeping 35 dogs on the ground floor of even a large house. I have every sympathy with the people who have to live upstairs. It is a state of affairs which ought not to exist and which ought not to be allowed to continue."

The test which must be applied was not whether the house was a clean and decent house but was it a clean and desirable kennel, for that was what the house was. "I am satisfied that there was ample accommodation for 35 dogs on the ground floor," said Mr. Steel. He was not satisfied that the woman had wantonly and unreasonably caused unnecessary suffering and allowed the appeal with costs.

Hunger H-Bomb Of Communism

MILLBROOK, May 9 (ENS)—The Rev. George Williams, of Toronto, associate secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the United Church of Canada, was guest preacher in St. Andrew's on Sunday morning.

He stated that the H-bomb of Communism was hunger. Jesus concentrated his efforts on the section of society that was most in need. It was everyone's responsibility to carry out God's plan

One person in every five in Canada in the census put himself down as belonging to the United Church, either as a member or adherent, yet all were not in the church.

He said the training of children was important because they were the church of tomorrow. He told how the Sunday school reached children by mail and air in outlying districts and of how they were given correspondence courses. Communion services by radio are also held for people living many miles north of Prince Albert in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Williams spoke of the work being done by the church in institutions and at the Fred Victor Mission for down-and-outs; of redemptive homes crowded beyond capacity; of hospitals where joint boards with the W.M.S. were maintained. He stressed the work being done for crippled children.

Mrs. Lawrence Winslow sang "He Smiled on Me."

How Times Change

No Guard Duty Or Fatigues This Army's Easy To Take

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON, May 8 — (AP) — Britain's so-called Z-men, reservists called up for 15 days' refresher training, are living life in the modern army.

Many regard it as an extra holiday, for footslogging 1951-style is not what it used to be.

Gone is the tough parade-ground technique, bellowed orders and terse commands. The men are greeted by a warm handshake and friendly smiles and at some camps are invited to a cup of tea, served by regular-force NCO's.

Newcomers are assigned to comfortable quarters, with spring beds, mattresses, sheets, pillowslips and wool blankets. Everything has been spruced up.

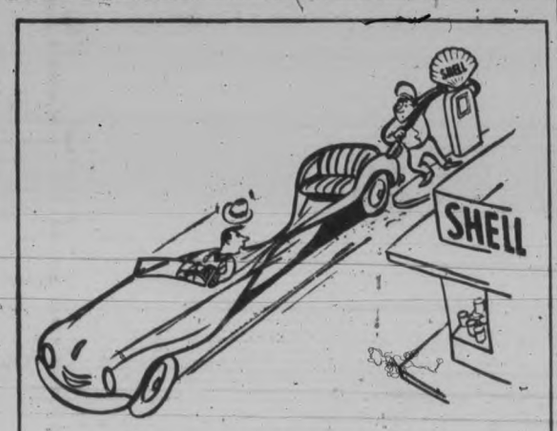
There is no guard duty, no fire picket. Potato-bashing and other fatigues will be forgotten—and there'll be no short haircuts. After the welcoming ceremony at an assembly centre near London, the trainees were taken around the encampment on a sight-seeing tour.

When the boys got back to their billet, they received another surprise as the sergeant-major trooped in.

"We are glad to see you and intend to do our best to make all of you happy," he said. Then he remarked: "You could do with a bit of fire in this room, lads. I'll see it gets lit straight away."

The rations also aren't hard to take. Breakfast on the first day consisted of cereal, bacon, egg and tomato, bread, marmalade and tea. Lunch brought out soup, lamb chops, peas, mashed potatoes and rice pudding.

The program calls for rigorous training routine but that also has been streamlined. Only 4½ hours are devoted to parades and drill during the two weeks, with classroom instruction kept to a minimum. The stress is on practical weapon training.



Officers say the idea is to put the men with the unit they will join if war breaks out, so they may become familiar with their jobs and meet the men who would go into action with them.

Have A-Bomb

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Defence Secretary George C. Marshall said Tuesday he is convinced the Russians have the atomic bomb. But whether they have scaled the scientific mountain that stands between "having" the bomb and developing it into a practical weapon of war is another question, he indicated to the closed-door hearing of the Senate's Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

Antarctic Whaler Makes Large Haul

LIVERPOOL, England—(CP)—The 15,360-ton factory ship Southern Harvester has returned to Liverpool after a six-month voyage in the Antarctic with a whale cargo valued at £1,200,000 (about $3,600,000). The ship also brought 92 penguins for the Edinburgh Zoo.

Delayed by gales and fog, the remainder of the fleet is expected to tie up with a total catch estimated to be worth more than £5,000,000.

Anders Herloffsen, a Dane with 20 years' harpooning service, was the Southern Harvester's top marksman. He accounted for 186 of the 1,600 whales killed which brought him a share of £2,000.

Indian Groups Get Together At Deseronto

ROSENEATH, May 9 (ENS)—The members of Alderville, Curve Lake and Tyandenaga Homemakers' Clubs held a get-together at Tyandenaga reserve on Friday afternoon, with the members of Bay of Quinte Homemakers' Club as hostesses.

A highlight of this social affair was the tour of the reserve, beginning at the Indian superintendent's office at Deseronto, with their superintendent, M. Cassel, and A. Adams, Indian superintendent of Peterborough, as guides. The members visited a cairn on the north shore of the Bay of Quinte, erected to commemorate the landing of the Mohawk tribe in 1780. The Rev. J. Savary, rector of Christ's Church, pointed out objects of interest in the church—a memorial window erected by the late Dr. Oroneytaka, the famed founder of the IOOF; the lectern made from an olive tree from the Mount of Olives, and large tablets in the chancel with the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments written in the Mohawk language were of special interest to the sightseers. Two of the four schools on the reserve were visited. The party were then entertained at the council house where a program of music was presented. A banquet was served in the dining hall, with Mrs. Brant, supervisor, presiding over a varied program of after-dinner speeches and musical numbers.

A dance in the evening concluded the festivities.

The proposed club executive, which will be submitted to the players for a vote of approval at Thursday's practice session, is: President, L. Graves; secretary, George Spalding; treasurer, H Lingard; transportation officer, L. McCarthy; executive, Leo Garnon, Dan Leguard, Jack Harrison, Jack Newton, Art Perfect, Ed Campbell, George Stevenson, George Gray, Bob Cooper.

GOALIE LORNE HOWSE was given plenty of help when Barrie Flyers took a 4-3 victory in third game over Winnipeg Monarchs at Brandon. Barrie captured the Memorial Cup, winning fourth game 9-5 on Tuesday night. That's Chuck Wood breaking away with the puck. Chiefs Trample Baltimore 3-1

By The Associated Press.

Art Hartley, 27-year-old right-hander of Syracuse Chiefs, is off to one of his best International League starts in years, primarily because he has left his "gopher" pitch in the locker room.

Last year Hartley won 12 and lost 13 and served up 18 home runs. This year he has yielded only two home runs while compiling a 4-1 record for the pace-setting Chiefs.

Hartley turned in his fourth victory Tuesday night as the Chiefs turned back Baltimore Orioles 3-1. Hartley limited the Orioles to six hits in beating Karl Drews.

Hartley's victory enabled the Chiefs to maintain their slight edge over Montreal Royals. Bud Podbielan pitched the Royals to an 11-5 victory over Buffalo Bisons. George Shuba paced the Montreal attack, driving in five runs on a homer and three-run double. Walt Post, down from Cincinnati, celebrated his debut with a homer and two singles.

Rochester Red Wings trounced Springfield Cubs 14-1. The Wings scored six runs in each of the first two innings to allow Jack Faszholz to breeze to his third victory without a defeat. Rookie Bill Hardin led Rochester's 17-hit attack with two doubles and a pair of singles.

Ottawa and Toronto were idle.

King Edward Victors

King Edward trimmed Prince of Wales 21-10 in a Public School Softball League encounter. A 10-run outburst did it in the fourth frame after they scored four in the first, six next time up and one in the third. The losers were good for a run each in the second and fifth, six in the third and a brace in the fourth. Teams:

Prince of Wales: Downer, Heron, Godfrey, Colt, Douglas, Hancock, Northrop, Brown, Kent, Trotter, Peirson.

King Edward: J. Sutherland, Curtis, Chalmers, Tarkington, Robbins, Orr, Phillips, McIntosh, Hill, Mills, Phillips, D. Sutherland.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting—Sid Gordon, Braves, socked a home run in the ninth to give Boston 2-1 victory over Cincinnati.

Pitching—Ray Herbert, Tigers, scored fourth straight victory in relief as Detroit edged New York 6-5 in 11 innings.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Sports seasons really overlap now. Hockey is still being played in Canada nearly a month after the baseball season opened. And you'll be seeing hockey commencing next autumn before the last baseball of the season is thrown. You'll also see lacrosse and softball playoffs going in late fall when the puckists are out there on the ice. With the gridiron game trying to squeeze in a short season between the long summer and lengthy winter sports campaigns. Floodlights and artificial ice are largely responsible, but don't forget the big yen for more money which means more games. Longer schedules and then drawn-out playoffs to get that everlasting dollar. But the fans seem to like it that way, so you can't blame the clubs.

* * * * * *

Summer sports start in earnest here when some of the major types of athletics get underway. And such is the case this Friday eve, though 'tis an exhibition game. We refer to the lacrosse match in Miller Bowl, a "father and sons night", with mothers and daughters of course included in the welcome. The senior OLA-ites (who start their schedule one week later) will be seen in action at this time, playing the local junior "B" champs, and that's officially the start of the summer sports semester in this borough. Senior ball follows shortly, and all the softball circuits will be in early action. Not to mention soccer, cricket, golf, tennis, lawn bowling, swimming, et al.

* * * * * *

Creighton And Curtin

Two former Petes' stars at the gutted-stick game (now club officials) will referee the juniors-seniors' tussle. The colorful Red Creighton and big Bob (Pup) Curtin. And there had better be no nonsense or Red and Pup will grab sticks and get into it themselves! Kids accompanied by adults get in free, and there'll be a 20-minute peewee tilt by the pick of the local lads, besides a flock of draws, introductions and other items of entertainment. Proceeds for the juniors, who have a hefty OLA grouping, too. The new stands at the south end of the Bowl have been built, so lots of room is available for what is expected to be a huge opening-night crowd. Starts at eight.

Whip and Bill Stack beat the Mask and his unhooded manager, Mayes McLain, in the main bout of the pro mat card here last eve—a team grapple scrap. The Mask wasn't in the ring at the time of the deciding fall, so he keeps his identity a secret till he's unveiled one of these weeks in Toronto. No more wrestling here till about next October. Kingston, Belleville, Oshawa and Sault Ste. Marie all have big arenas now hockeyless and ready — with hefty mat crowds looming—so the pros will go there. They never draw more than a thousand in warmish months here, but do well in the cold weather in Peterborough. Hi Lee won the semi-final last night over Lou Pitoscia, while Jack Wentworth took the prelim o'er Tony Lanza.

Men's Loop Organized

Men's City Softball League will operate again twice weekly in twin bills under the Ashburnham Bowl arcs, schedule probably opening the last week of this month. Teams in will be Lakefield, UEW, Revoy Motors and a league-sponsored squad to round out the four-club circuit the same as last year. Lots of talent around but not enough interested sponsors. However, softball fans will see plenty of keen action in the men's loop once more. Umpirical prospects should apply right away to Secretary John McPhee, 209 Murray St.—phone 24120. An executive meeting will be held Friday eve at 6.45 in the George St. hall to complete arrangements and deal with the summer schedule.

* * * * * *

Executive of the Peterborough Minor Baseball Association was elected last night with Alex Kay honorary president, Dit Clapper back as president, Ray Pammett vice-prexy, Gord Young treasurer, and Ed Woodcock secretary. Four peewees are in, two bantams and a couple of midget squads, but no juves or juniors so far. These last two may be amalgamated for a schedule, with teams later picked for OBA playdowns. No definite word at the moment from the Recreation Commission and the service clubs, but something expected in the next week or so. Financial matters and equipment came in for some discussion, and they decided to hold two rally nights—next Monday and Tuesday at 6.30—in Morrow Park when all players from peewees up are asked to attend for registration. A schedule can be drawn up now for the peewee teams. Nominating committee was Cy Whatley, Ray Pammet and Dit Clapper. From Len Symonds we learn that the school for managers, coaches and umpires will be Friday evening and Saturday of this week in the Ashburnham Bowl and dressing room. Films and so forth. More on it tomorrow.

Watson And Stack Winners In Last Team Grapple Bout

Whipper Billy Watson and big Bill Stack defeated the team of the Masked Marvel and the Mask's unhooded manager in the main mat bout here last night. However, as the Mask wasn't in the ring at the final fall, Referee Sammy Gotter ruled that he could not be unmasked. Less than a thousand took in the bouts at the Brock and it was announced that there would be no more grapple cards till next fall. Whip, at 237 pounds, pinned the Manager——scaling 258—in just eight minutes for the final fall with a series of whip holds. He and Bill worked in relays on the unfortunate Manager, though earlier Watson was in trouble as the villainous duo belabored him in their corner as a bewildered referee ran around in circles, usually warning the wrong party in the lively procedings. The fans cheered heartily when the favorites won out.

Mask Gets Bill

The 245-pound Mask flattened Bill Stack, going 239, in seven minutes for the second and equalizing fall, using three knee backbreakers. They worked in relays on him after getting him in their corner, the Manager and the Mask using all their rough stuff, while Gotter kept running over to chase Whip back into his corner, as the champ tried to break up the two-to-one stuff. Stack was punished plenty, but he still put up a fine scrap against heavy odds, and had the crowd with him. He even used whip holds in conjunction with Watson in the early stages of a hot match as the fans yelled all the way. The fans were sore at the ref at the windup.

Stack showed plenty to win the first fall in 17 minutes over the Manager with a mule kick and slam, after Whip softened him a bit with elbow smashes — taking time out to clip the Mask a few, too. There were four in the ring at times in a typical wide-open tag scrap, with Whip and Bill playing it cleanly most of the way, but meeting rugged opposition from their unscrupulous rivals. Gotter was in there for the ride. The Whip was easily top man with the Mask next, but not much ahead of the scrappy Stack, as the Manager trailed the field. The fans liked this windup bout of the season.

Lee Too Strong

Huge Hi Lee, at 291 pounds, won an unpopular semi-final fall in 16 minutes over Lou (Golden Panther) Pitoscia, 243, with crotch holds, throws into ring turnbuckles and slams. He got his opponent with fists after twice being slammed by Lou into the ropes, and that did the trick. The Panther was on the plump side and too fat around the middle for the shaggy-manged and husky-voiced Texan. The latter used all his nasty tricks, hair-pulling, fists, chokes, knees and the rest, but found broad-shouldered Lou better at infighting when they started throwing punches. Lee was too strong and took the duke.

Jack Wentworth was awarded the decision at the time limit in the prelim, the rough 228-pounder beating 217-pound Tony Lanza, though you couldn't prove it by the crowd at all. They wound up with Jack being chased around the ring after the bell and up the stairs to his dressing room by the angry Lanza. They were in and out of the ring in pretty lively going, with flying tackles, hair-yanks and punches aplenty at times. Jack sought refuge outside the hemp, and he took a beating for more than half the session, though both showed a lot of stuff. Wentworth was hot near the finish of it, and probably got the doubtful decision because of this —though he had to run for it after the bell.

Socks Other Manager Suspended 60 Days

HIBBING, Minn., May 9 (AP). —Glen Flanagan of St. Paul Tuesday night drew an on-the-spot 60-day ring suspension in Minnesota when he socked his opponent's manager after winning a 10-round decision over Pat Iacobucci of Cincinnati.

Flanagan, weighing 128 pounds had just been announced as a 98-95 point winner over the 127-pound Ohioan when he strode across the ring and without warning struck out at Ed Johnson, the loser's pilot. There was a flurry of punches before officials and spectators parted the pair.

Dr. Cyril Smith, Duluth, member of the State Boxing Commission, ordered the suspension from his seat at the ringside. Neither fighter was downed nor hurt during the main affray.

After the flare-up, Flanagan told reporters he struck out at Johnson because "he had been riding me all through the fight."

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

The Canadian professional tennis championships will be held in Quebec for the third straight year June 8-11, it was announced on Tuesday night.

Frank Kovacs, Oakland, Calif., professional, will defend his singles title. Mitchell Gornto White Plains, N. Y., winner two years ago, will also compete tournament officials said.

Only Canadian professional who has announced his intention of entering the tournament is Doug Grant, Montreal, who recently entered the money-ranks.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler Tuesday denied a plea by four Michigan members of the Class A League for $40,000 of the money paid the Detroit Tigers for radio broadcasting rights.

The four clubs—Flint, Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Saginaw—had asked for a share of the broadcasting money, claiming broadcasting of Tiger games in their territory violated baseball law and hurt their own attendance.

Russia came back strong in the second half to defeat Czechoslovakia, 53 to 37 in the European basketball tournament at Paris Tuesday. The Czechs were leading at halftime 26 to 25.

Shortly after play was resumed, Russia scored a basket and went on to win easily. Otar Korkidja led the Russian scoring with 17 points.

West Germany and East Germany must get together if they want to take part in the 1952 Olympic games, the International Olympic Committee decided on Tuesday.

A German Olympic committee, formed entirely of West Germans, was admitted unanimously.

But, the Germans were told, they will be kicked out again unless East Germans are admitted to the committee and East German athletes are allowed to compete on an equal basis with West Germans for places on a German Olympic team.

The two German groups were ordered to appear before an Olympic commission at Lausanne, Switzerland, May 20 and 21.

Outfielder Whitey Lockman of New York Giants was fined $25 and manager Leo Durocher $50 by president Ford C. Frick of the National League Tuesday for the use of "foul and abusive language" after Lockman was called out on the hidden ball trick in Sunday's game with Cincinnati.

The play, engineered by second baseman Connie Ryan of the Reds occurred in the 10th and final inning. Durocher was banished from the field during the argument which followed.

Lew Burston of the International Boxing Club said Tuesday night that Sugar Ray Robinson will defend his world middleweight title against Laurent Dauthuille of Montreal in Paris this summer.

Golfer Dies

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 9 (AP). — Leo Diegel, 51, veteran professional golfer best known for his arms-akimbo putting stance, died at his home on Tuesday night after a lingering illness with cancer. Diegel was Professional Golfers' Association champion in 1928 and 1929 and the defeated finalist in 1926, when the great Walter Hagen took the crown.

Barrie Knocks Off Winnipeg To Capture Memorial Cup

By AL VICKERY.

WINNIPEG, May 9 (CP). — Happy Emms' hard-skating Flyers Tuesday night gave the Central Ontario town of Barrie its first Dominion junior hockey championship.

The Boston Bruin-sponsored club walloped a game Winnipeg Monarchs aggregation 9-5 to take their best-of-seven Memorial Cup final in four straight games.

The one-sided series victory made up in some measure for Barrie's four straight losses to Port Arthur Bruins in the 1948 Dominion junior final—the only other time Flyers have been in the Memorial Cup classic.

Tuesday night's triumph gave Flyers their third four-goal margin of their series. They won the first two games by 5-1 scores at Winnipeg and edged Monarchs 4-3 in the third contest at Brandon.

Captain Real Chevrefils of Barrie received the cup from Jimmy Dunn of Winnipeg, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, in a centre-ice ceremony after the final game.

Good Sports

Monarchs were quick to skate over to congratulate their opponents, as were many of the 5,000 fans who swarmed over the boards at the final whistle.

Again it was Barrie's first-string line which sounded Monarchs' downfall. Chevrefils garnered four points on a goal and three assists. Leo Labine had two goals and an assist, and centre Jackie White scored once and set up two counters. Over the series, the trio collected 25 scoring points.

Jerry Toppazzini with two, Chuck Wood, Doug Towers and George Stanutz scored the other Flyer goals.

Little Ross Parke paced the Monarchs with two goals and one assist, while the other markers went to Laurie Mitchell, Elliott Chorley and Jim Zarie.

After being down 3-0 in the first period and 7-2 in the second, Monarchs again showed their best form in the third period, outscoring the new champions 3-2.

28 Penalties

Twenty-eight penalties were handed out in the rugged contest, with Barrie drawing 16. Labine and Regals' Johnny Novak drew majors for fighting and Wood received a 10-minute misconduct for shooting the puck away from the referee after a whistle. The remainder were minors.

Toppazzini, Wood and Chevrefils gave Barrie a 3-0 lead in the opening session.

The Flyers plunked home goals by Labine, Toppazzini and Stanutz in the second period before Monarchs replied with counters by Laurie Mitchell and Chorley. White raised the count to 7-2 at the end of the second as his shot sent the puck hopping along the ice and over goalkeeper Don Collins' stick.

Towers sandwiched a goal for Barrie between Parke's two markers in the third period, then Labine made it 9-4 at 12:48. Zarie wound up the scoring about one minute later as Monarchs threw everything they had into a last-ditch stand. But time ran out.

St. Mike's Take 1-Game Lead In Cup Final

By JIM BASTABLE.

TORONTO, May 9 (CP). — Twenty-eight players, who aren't too concerned today with their Alexander Cup finals, are miffed with the hockey fans.

The players, Valleyfield Braves, and Toronto St. Michael's Monarchs, figure they're not getting enough support. And it's cramping their style.

The fans weren't hepped up over Tuesday night's game. Only 1,592 of the die-hards were on hand as Monarchs took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series by dumping Braves 6-1. One game was tied.

Fifth game of the series is in Montreal Forum Saturday. The sixth will be played here, as well as any other games necessary.

Can't Compete

Playing coach Johnny O'Flaherty of Monarchs said he summed up the feelings of his players in these words:

"How the heck can we compete against baseball and other sports at a time like this. But, we should get more than 1,592 fans. A team can really move with a full house of fans."

Maple Leaf Gardens holds 14,000, and then some.

O'Flaherty said he asked that the remaining games be played in the Forum, but there's a circus coming to town after Thursday's game.

Whether the fans were with them or not, Monarchs had little trouble as they drove from a 1-1 tie in the first period to add three goals in the second and two in the third.

George (Dusty) Blair tried two goals for Toronto. Ken Watson, Ed Mulligan, Frank Sullivan and Johnny Ubriaco got singles. Georges Bougie tallied the only Valleyfield goal.

Port Hope Youngsters Hear Puck Greats

PORT HOPE, May 9.—More than 200 youngsters who play their baseball and hockey under the sponsorship of the Beaver Athletic Association received the thrill of their lifetime Monday night when five hockey celebrities attended their annual party. Present were Tim Daly and Jimmy Thomson of the Toronto Maple Leafs, Red Sullivan and Scotty Alexander of the Hershey Bears and Dit Clapper, former Boston Bruins' coach and player.

The five guests each said a few words to the young boys, stressing clean living and obedience to coaches as being two of the most important rules for an up-and-coming hockey player.

Pirates Crush Phils 9-3 Mixed Lineup Upsets Them

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Branch Rickey's manipulations with the Pittsburgh Pirates chessmen makes that old "who's on first, what's on second," gag as outmoded as a day game in St. Louis.

Pittsburgh fans were prepared for some changes when Rickey left Brooklyn to take over the Pirate reins. But not in their wildest moments did they dream:

That Ralph Kiner, the National League's home-run-hitting outfielder, would be at first base this year:

That Pete Reiser, who has done some infielding and outfielding in his day, would be classed as a catcher; or

Just when the bewildered faithful get used to these switches, Rickey sends them reeling with a new series of moves.

Today's box score shows a left-fielder at first, a centre-fielder at third, a shortstop at second and a third-baseman at short.

But there is method to Rickey's madness.

The opposition is more confused than the players and the fans.

Drub Phils

Tuesday night the Bucs drubbed the Phils under the Philadelphia lights, 9-3. It took the Phils eight innings to score off Mel Queen. It probably took them as long to get used to the mixed line-up.

Except for an error by Wally Wesflake, the new line-up did right well. Kiner swatted his fourth homer of the season. The Phils chipped in with three errors and managed only four hits as Ken Heintzelman went down to his third loss.

The Braves moved into first place with a 2-1 triumph over Cincinnati at Boston. A homer by Sid Gordon in the ninth ended a pitching duel between winner Max Surkont and Herman Wehmeier.

The Giants ceded the cellar to Cincinnati by defeating St. Louis Cardinals 6-2 at night in New York. Larry Jansen pitched a four-hitter. Monte Irvin collected three hits and drove in two runs.

Eight Cards were cut out of the game by the 'flu.

2-1 Triumph

Hank Sauer's home run with a mate aboard in the first inning gave Chicago Cubs a 2-1 triumph over the Dodgers. Bob Schultz, rookie southpaw, spaced nine hits for his third victory. The Cubs got only four off loser Carl Erskine.

A fluke single by Vic Wertz in the 11th inning drove in Jerry Priddy with the run that gave the Tigers a 6-5 victory over New York Yankees at Detroit. With two out and two on, Wertz tried to duck a pitch thrown by Allie Reynolds. The ball hit the bat and bounced into left field for the game-winning hit.

Bobby Shantz was rapped for 12 hits but got solid hitting support from his Philadelphia mates to pitch the Athletics to a 9-4 win over the White Sox in Chicago. Homers by Eddie Joost and Ferris Fain sparked the Athletics' 13-hit attack against loser Dick Littlefield and three successors.

Left Toes Amputated Still Crack Athlete

TORONTO (CP). — John Kiss, 27-year-old Toronto soccer player, typifies the spirit of the athlete who makes a comeback in the face of adversity.

Kiss comes from Hungary, and before he left was a player of international calibre. But he resolved to flee the Communist-dominated country. His escape route led on foot over the Alps to Italy and both legs were frozen in the mountain passes.

In Italy, doctors amputated all the toes on his left foot and part of the foot itself. It was six months before he learned to walk again, and longer before he could run.

Kiss came to Canada with the help of an uncle in Alberta. He's an expert tool and diemaker, and as playing-coach of an all-Hungarian team here is showing all of his old skill and much of his former speed.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

TELEVISION, whatever you think of it, has at least rendered a service to the International Baseball League. Almost singlehanded, it has chased the Little Giants from Jersey City, up and over the Canadian border and right into Ottawa's Lansdowne Park. The new communication medium cannot claim the entire credit for the move, however, for that stalwart, sporting gentleman, Tommy Gorman of Ottawa, was pulling like mad on the Canadian end of the tow rope. Now that the Capital boasts an International League club, it's expected that the well-seasoned rivalry of Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto will be sustained during the summer season, to be continued in the fall on the football gridiron.

Capital Sporting Centre:

There seems to be little concern whether Ottawa can support a Triple-A baseball entry, and this optimism is soundly based on the Capital's historical record as a rabid sport town.

Long a hot-bed of hockey and football, Ottawa will undoubtedly honour the Giants with the same enthusiasm which characterized their support of the great Senators in the years of their NHL glory and the die-hard backing accorded their Roughriders in the Inter-provincial Football League each season. No team could ask for more.

Tommy Gorman has renewed his lease on Lansdowne Park for another eight years and the club is considering a plan to renovate the present grandstand (capacity 12,000), while the addition of permanent bleachers to seat 2,000 is also being discussed should the baseball experiment exceed expectations.

All in all, the advent of the Ottawa Giants into the International League should do more than any other single factor to increase Canadian interest in baseball.

The Great Gorman:

This week we dropped in on Tommy Gorman to ask him about Ottawa's IBL prospects. Gorman had not the slightest reservation. "Ottawa has always been a great sport centre. During our years in the Border League we have built up a strong baseball following in the Ottawa Valley. The Giants just can't miss here. They're a natural."

Asked about the park itself, Gorman described his newly erected home run fence. "For a home run in Landsdowne Park, a batter will have to swat 315 feet to right or left field or 386 feet to centre," he answered. "But," smiled Gorman, "we've got the pitchers to discourage too much of that." By comparison, Maple Leaf Stadium's home run distance is 305 and 300 feet to right and left field, with a 425-foot drive to top the centre field wall.

Tommy Gorman believes that the growing shortage of younger American players (due to military call) should prove an opportunity for some of our Canadian ball players. With this end in view, the Ottawa scouts are already on the prowl for outstanding domestic talent.

Poland vs Becker:

The Ottawa Giants are lucky in their managerial choice, with Hugh Poland at the helm. A former major league catcher, Poland (like Toronto's Joe Becker) has risen rapidly in the New York Giants' baseball command. Now the two former big-leaguers are rival managers and the coming season should provide many a dramatic meeting between their teams.

One of the key men in the rebuilding of the Ottawa Giants is Carl Hubbell, the Baseball Hall of Fame southpaw, who now directs the Polo Grounds' farm teams and scouting departments.

With Poland, Gorman, Hubbell and the rest, Ottawa's Giants should prove a bright star in baseball's firmament.

Here's luck to them!

Heirs Refuse Title, Too Costly

LONDON—(Reuters) — A 600-year-old English title is going a-begging.

The title of Baron Cobham of England was left vacant in February when the 13th holder died in Australia.

There are four co-heirs. Two of them are women because this title, unlike most British peerages, can be inherited by a woman.

The two male heirs already have titles. They say they don't want any more.

One of them, Lord Strabolgi (a former Labor member of parliament) turned it down without any further reason.

The other, Lord Burgh, said he couldn't afford it. Lord Burgh's father had to claim his own title from the House of Lords because it had lapsed for 300 years.

"Judging by what it cost my father to dig the Burgh title out of abeyance, I could not afford to take on the Cobham title also," Lord Burgh said.

The two sisters of the late Baron Cobham must now decide whether they want the title and, if so, which one will take it.

They are Hon. Mrs. Mary Isabel Bazley-White and Hon. Mrs. Muriel Helen Thornely. They have not yet made up their minds.

If they too decide that they do not want to become Lady Cobham, a "commoner" (a man without a title) may decide to enter the lists and claim it.

He is 28-year-old London television engineer Patrick Alexander, son of the late Lord Cobham and his first wife. He was born in Australia in 1923 when Lord and Lady Cobham were living there as Mr. and Mrs. Alexander—the Cobham's family name.

The Cobham peerage was created in 1312.

Makes Boats Of Fibreglass

GEORGETOWN, Ont., May 8 (CP).—Leonard J. Bell, who manufactures a line of small boats in this town near Toronto, has a novel way of testing the durability of his product.

Occasionally he tossed a 15-foot boat out of a second-storey window. But instead of going "crunch" the boat bounces. They're plastic boats made of fibreglass bonded with synthetic resins.

The boats are strong, light in weight and low in cost. Bell has government orders for several of the craft to be used in the Arctic, because they don't even get brittle at 80 degrees below zero.

An important feature of these boats is that they're resistant to animals. Porcupines, for instance, delight in gnawing chunks out of resin-bonded plywood but they find no nourishment in resen-bonded fibreglass.

Another lakeshore pest that doesn't like these boats is the teredo, a worm equipped with a sort of brace-and-bit head which loves to bore into the bottom of wooden boats.

Settle Controversy

TORONTO, May 9 (CP). — Board of Control Tuesday settled a controversy over whether Toronto's proposed parking meters should work on dimes or on nickels. They'll take dimes. The rate will be 10 cents for 30 minutes in central downtown and 10 cents for 60 minutes on outer downtown sections.

Schools Get Steel

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—Defence Production Minister Howe said Tuesday in the Commons there is no prohibition on the use of steel in the construction of schools. Replying to a question by George Cruickshank (L-Fraser Valley), Mr. Howe said that the Federal Government cannot be responsible for allocating steel for the construction of schools.

Sales Jump Sharply

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—Sales of Canadian products abroad jumped sharply in the first quarter of this year, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday. Domestic exports to all countries were $809,200,000, up 25 per cent. from the $648,900,000 of the first three months of 1950.

Fay And Harvey Association Comes To End

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 9 (AP)—Another famous friendship has broken up—that of Frank Fay and Harvey.

Thus ends an association that ranks among the most noted in the history of the American theatre. Fay and the pooka (six-foot rabbit) cavorted together more than five years in New York and on the road.

"No, I don't believe I'll ever play the show again," he told me. "I have had two offers to do it again in New York. But I turned them down.

"I think it's a mistake to become too identified with one particular role. It can hurt your career.

"It's not that I'm mad at Harvey. I love the little fellow. But I think it's better that we go our own ways."

Good Role

Fay added that he never tired of playing the role. He offered a hint as to why he was the most successful of the many stars who played it.

"I didn't play to the audience, as the other fellows did," he explained. "I played to Harvey. He was a very good friend and he never let me down.

The actor expressed no bitterness about not doing the film version, which won James Stewart an Oscar nomination. "They didn't want me," he said frankly.

But Fay has his consolation: he gets 10 per cent of the author's rights to the film profits.

Back to Movies

Fay is now acting in his first movie in eight years. He has other film deals on the fire. Eventually he plans to revive his review, "If You Please," which recently had a misadventure in San Francisco.

The show was all Fay's. The program listed "music, lyrics, scenes and dialogue by Frank Fay." He had $70,000 of his own money in it, as well as "too many of my friends, I guess." At any rate, the Bay City critics gave the premiere a drubbing.

Modernistic Artist Answers Cultural Circles

LONDON, (CP).—Purchase for the National art collection of William Gear's modernistic painting "Autumn Landscape," has provoked a storm of criticism in British cultural circles.

The flare-up followed announcement that the government-sponsored Arts Council had acquired the painting, a broad canvas of vividly-clashing colors, for £500 (about $1,500) of the taxpayers' money.

Letters of criticism, variously describing the painting as "a monstrosity," "grotesque doodling," and its purchase "an insult to intelligence," have been published in the daily press.

Leading the attack was Sir Alfred Munnings past president of the Royal Academy and arch-foe of the modernists.

Taking the Arts Council to task, Sir Alfred wrote: "This thrusting of third-rate opinions down the throats of a public who still believe in tradition and drawing may either bring about their own ultimate end or temporarily seduce the fine arts to a dustheap."

Say Attacks Unfair

Hitting back at his critics the artist himself declared the attacks were unfairly based on newspaper reproductions of the painting. They gave no idea of color, tonal quality or scale and thus any criticism was a breach of justice and common sportsmanship.

He charged that whenever a serious manifestation of contemporary art appeared in Britain a sort of "academic art observance society" reared its head.

"Using as their motto, 'Any stick to beat a dirty dog,' they seek to discredit a Government-sponsored body by abusing the objects of its attentions without justification," Mr. Gear said.

"Similarly," he added, "the 1,000-guinea portraitist and animal artists, jealous of the least inroads on their preserves, are quick to sabotage any general appreciation or encouragement of modern art. In doing so they happily commit a gross breach of professional etiquette."

Three of her sons are World War II veterans.

KING FAROUK of Egypt and his bride, former Narriman Sadek, 17, in the Royal palace at Cairo, Egypt, recently, after their marriage ceremony. Later the royal couple travelled to Inchass, magnificent country mansion between Cairo and Ismailia on the Suez Canal. Farouk will take his bride to Mersa Matruh, "blue lagoon" on the western desert. There, according to legentd, Cleopatra used to go swimming.

Greater Care Of Eyes Urged

LONDON (CP) — Short-sightedness in children is often the responsibility of the mother and the school teacher.

So says optician Otto Rasmussen after a two-year investigation into short-sightedness among schoolchildren in Kent.

Writing in a trade journal, Rasmussen blames "overworked teachers who appear to have no time to clean chalk dust off the blackboard and even less time, with large classes, to write large, legible words and numbers.

Rasmussen says that thousands of normal-sighted children have to strain their eyes in badly-lit classrooms to see blackboards. They are then rushed to clinics unnecessarily "because they could not read illegible characters in semi-darkness."

Of 16,075 children sent to clinics spectacles were necessary for 7,455 and of the remainder only 2,231 were short-sighted. The trouble can often be righted by advising a teacher to seat a child closer to the board, Rasmussen said.

Mothers encourage short-sightedness by attaching dolls and rattles to pram and cot close to babies' eyes. A child then becomes accustomed to seeing things at close quarters.

Yelverton Drama Club Presents 3-Act Comedy

BETHANY, May 9 —(ENS)— Yelverton Dramatic Club presented their three-act comedy, "The Dutch Detective," in Bethany town hall Friday evening. The plot centred around the amateur efforts of the Dutch detective to capture two lunatics who had escaped from an asylum and who succeeded in placing everyone under suspicion except the right parties, which made a sequence of amusing incidents throughout the entire play.

Ralph Malcolm was outstanding in the part of Otto Schmultz, the Dutch detective; Mrs. Ralph Malcolm very capably acted the part of Katrina Kraut, a young Dutch girl who came to find her Otto; the two escaped lunatics, Plunk Jarleck and Hortensy Smatters, were played by Calvin McKee and Mrs. Ray Robinson; John Wright as Jabo Grabb was a typical "rube constable"; John McCabe was Augustus Coo, a newlywed who started his honeymoon without any money; Mrs. Murray Malcolm was Gladys Howler Coo, bride of Augustus and daughter of Major Hannibal Howler; Harvey Malcolm played the part of Major Hannibal Howler, who is pursuing his eloped daughter; Miss Audrey McKee, as Ambrosia McCarty, was a very cool, self-centred waitress in the waiting room of the railway station; Mrs. Norman Wilson took the part of Miss Araminta Sourdrops, a typical old maid. The play was capably directed by Murray Malcolm, and the entire cast are to be congratulated on the excellency of their performance.

BARMAID—Myra Bridge, 23, will be barmaid at the replica of an English "pub" at this year's Canadian International Trade Fair at Toronto. The blue-eyed Lancashire lass will hold court in the "Tudor Arms," an inn that dates back to the 16th century.

City Pupils Learn Woodlore

HUNTSVILLE (CP)—A course in woodlore may become part of Ontario's public school curriculum as a result of an experiment in which 44 city-bred boys participated near here.

The boys, between 12 and 14 years old, came from Forest Hill Junior High School, Toronto, and Pickering College at Newmarket, to learn something about wild life.

From their headquarters at a nearby lodge they spent a week journeying into the woodlots, visiting lumber mills and hacking their way through the bush.

The students who came this year paid their own way, but it is the hope of C. R. Blackstock, director of health and physical education at Pickering College, that such courses eventually may become part of the curricula of public schools, subsidized by the province.

At Hemsley, an instructor with the Ontario Lands and Forests Department attended the "classes" and showed films on conservation, wild life, thinning and planting of trees.

Experts Wary In Predicting Future Of U.K. Labor Gov't

By ALAN HARVEY.

LONDON, May 9 — (CP). — Britain's next general election has been so long anticipated and so long delayed that political comment is beginning to lose some of its bite.

There is no longer any novelty in the spectacle of a Labor government clinging to power on the basis of a few votes. Commentators who once cried "election" at each recurring Cabinet crisis, only to see Labor ride safely through the storm, now wonder whether the government has a charmed life.

A year ago, parliamentary reporters would have given long odds against the Attlee administration hanging on for six months. Now they are more cautious.

The split among the Socialists caused by the resignation of Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan and two colleagues has produced a situation in which 50 or 60 of the 300-odd Labor members in Parliament oppose some of the government's chief policies. Not all support Bevan, who resigned largely on a platform of "fair shares in rearmament," but all are critical of the government on various grounds.

On the Spot

Thus they are sometimes on the spot. They are determined to keep the Tories out. So they must vote for the government, even when they have just said they consider its policies despicable.

There are two main views of the current controversy. One theory is that conflict and difference of opinion are the life-blood of Socialism, and that the party will emerge from its ordeal refreshed and strengthened. The other is that the party has run out of new ideas and is slowly breaking into fragments.

Most independent commentators consider the underlying reason for the present malaise is Labor's inability, conditioned by its history, to look upon rearmament as something that must have priority in a world dominated by an "armed idea."

Opinions differ on the extent to which "Bevanism" has been swallowed by the rank and file. Some observers think his adherents form a section more notable for noise than numbers, but the anti-Socialist Daily Express says Bevan commands an army "which grows daily in strength."

Ask Permission To Seize 'Gear'

TORONTO, May 9—(CP)—W. H. Stringer, Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, Tuesday recommended that police be allowed to seize telephone and telegraph equipment suspected of being used by bookmakers and operators of race-news wire services who serve them.

Commissioner Stringer told the Ontario Legislature Committee investigating criminal justice administration that the Criminal Code tied police hands in getting convictions against bookmakers and race wire operators.

Commissioner Stringer said Ontario has had 29 unsolved murders since 1939. Police considered a murder case solved if a grand jury returned a true bill against a suspect, although he might be acquitted in his later trial.

Postal Official Dies

TORONTO, May 9 (CP) — Alexander M. Gibson, director of postal services for the Ontario region, retired Tuesday after 45 years of service. Succeeding him is W. W. MacLean, until now postmaster of Toronto.

New Broadway Play Likely To Be Success

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — Broadway first nighters had an unusual experience Tuesday. They had to get out of bed by lunchtime to attend a matinee theatrical premiere—a new play called "Stalag 17."

The customary Broadway opening is 8:30 p.m. and all first nighters seemed to agree that the show is good and probably will run a long time.

It is a comedy-melodrama about a group of American airmen interned in a German prison camp during the Second World War. It is authentic in that it was written from the personal experiences of the authors—Donald Bevan and Edmund Trzcinski.

Managing Editors Would Establish Union

STRASBOURG, France, May 9 (AP)—Managing editors of newspapers of 26 countries, completing a three-day conference here, Tuesday re-established the pre-war international union of managaing editors.

President of the union, Marc Rucart, a former French minister of information, said the organization has suggested the introduction of "an internationally-recognized press pass."

He said the union wanted to ensure that professional journalists accredited in one country would automatically be recognized in another member nation. Committee members are to put the suggestion to their home governments.

Talks With Spain

BARCELONA, Spain, May 9—(AP). — Stanton Griffis, US Ambasador, said Tuesday night the United States is negotiating a "mutually-satisfactory treaty of commerce, friendship and navigation" with Spain. He said in a speech the negotiations still were in the "exploratory state." At an earlier press conference he declined to say whether talks for a military alliance were going on.

Some Improvement

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—"Some improvement" in the condition of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull was reported Tuesday by physicians at Naval Hospital. Hull, 79, is suffering from a respiratory infection and heart trouble. His name is still on the critical list, but he is fully conscious.

Ontario Backs Seaway Plan

TORONTO, May 9 — (CP) — Premier Frost said Tuesday night that, if the Canadian government decides to proceed on its own with the St. Lawrence Seaway, Ontario is prepared to enter into a joint scheme with New York State to develop the river's power.

In an address prepared for delivery Tuesday night to the Young Progressive Conservative Association, he said:

"Nothing would appear to be gained by further delay. A division of the costs as between the canal portion of the scheme and the power portion can be arrived at and this would then be subject to adjustment betwen the Canadian government and the governments of Ontario and New York.

"The Ontario Hydro Commission has all the basic plans for the power end of this scheme already prepared and there need be no delay from an engineering viewpoint."

400 Office Workers Out At CGE

GE Spokesman Denies Claim By Union Of Threatened Firing

The Canadian General Electric Co., shortly before noon today, suspended 550 office workers at the Peterborough and Davenport plants until Friday because of "unauthorized absence" this morning.

Joe Wirtz, international representative of the IUE, said that the employees had been warned, verbally in Peterborough and by written slip in Toronto, that they would be fired if they did not return to work Friday.

This was denied by J E. Girven, assistant works manager, in a statement to the Examiner at press time.

"The company has not informed any employee involved that they would be discharged unless the returned to work," said Mr. Girven.

The company estimates that about 260, or fewer than half the bargaining unit are affected.

Mr Girven said that the CGE had never refused to carry on negotiations with Local 599, the accredited bargaining agent, and a tentative agreement had been reached on a number of contract items, including a new salary schedule.

"The company hopes that the employees will return to their work at the end of the suspension period, so contract negotiations can be carried on in accordance with labor relations procedure rather than have the employees "take the law ito their own hands and participate in further illegal action."

Mr. Wirtz said that 400 of the 426 officeworkers in Peterborough are affected and all of the 150 in Davenport.

Uses 'Scab' Label

"The union position is that the company has now locked us out and is preparing to scab on us by bringing in outside workers," said Mr. Wirtz.

He charged that CGE is already negotiating with International Business Machines, Toronto, for equipment to perform the work normally done by the 50 employees in the payroll department of the Peterborough plant. Former employees, acquainted with clerical duties, have been contacted by the company with a view to replacing the present workers, he said.

Mr. Girven had no comment about the importation of workers to replace the men and women on strike. He said he wanted to see the full union statement before commenting.

The two IUE officeworker unions—Local 599 in Peterborough and Local 567 at Davenport—are in joint negotiations with the company to arrive at their first collective bargaining agreement.

Impatient With Delay

Impatient with the delay in drawing up a contract, most of the Peterborough employees walked off the job a week ago today, and they were followed Thursday afternoon by their colleagues in Davenport.

The majority did not return to work for the rest of the week as the company suspended some of them on Thursday for the Wednesday walkout; others on Friday for a sympathy walkout.

Union orders were to return to work Monday while joint negotiations were resumed in Toronto. The parties became deadlocked Monday afternoon.

Mr. Wirtz said that the union originally planned an emergency meeting during the working hours Tuesday but was dissuaded by the company. When no progress was made all day Tuesday the IUE called for a plant-gate demonstration at 8 a.m. today.

Marched In Body

They marched up Aylmer St., along Brock St., to the Orange hall and held their meeting. Then they once more marched in a body back to the plant.

Orville Martin, president of Local 599, and Walter Dinesen, vice president, met first with Robert M. Hardie, personnel supervisor. Both claim Mr. Hardie just told them to inform the employees to report to their supervisors.

The supervisors handed them absentee slips stating they were suspended to Friday. In Davenport, however, the threat to fire those not returning Friday at 8 a.m., was reported by union officials.

As the suspended employees filed from the plant they struck up the tune: "So long, it's been good to know you."

The union has asked for a 19-cents-an-hour straight increase, plus a five-cents-an-hour cost-of-living bonus; time and a half for overtime; double time for holidays; retroactive pay; and pay for the suspension periods.

PETERBOROUGH'S FIRST VOLUNTEERS for Canada's 27th Infantry Brigade left Tuesday for the No. 5 Personnel Depot, Kingston, for M-tests and medical examinations. Interviewed Monday and Tuesday at the armories by recruiting officer, Capt. Frank Frape (foreground), were the 12 men: Herbert Charles Bowen (at the wheel) and J. F. Cupoli, Roy Ellis, R. Livingston, D. J. Edwards, W. J. Byrnes, Orville Wesenberg, M. J. May, Elywin Murduff, Joseph Roberts, Roy Hotts and Kenneth Moher (all in truck). Another group left today.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Badly Hurt As Motorbike Crashes Truck

Motorcyclist Suffers Broken Left Leg, Cuts To Head, Face

Earl Howson, 21, RR 7, Peterborough, is in St. Joseph's hospital with serious injuries received shortly after 9 a.m. today when his motorcycle crashed into the side of a dump truck on Highway 7, east.

The motorcycle slewed sideways onto the shoulder of the highway after the collision and Howson, still seated, was thrown heavily to the ground.

His injuries include a broken left leg, a gash on the head, and other facial cuts. His condition is described as "fairly good."

There were no eyewitnesses to the accident which occurred at Burns' service station, Downer's Corners.

Manley Neff, RR 1, Indian River, driver for Charles V. Wood, lumbermill, was backing his two-and-a-half ton dump truck into Burns, on the south side of the road.

Jim Hedger, Water St., was standing on the service station property and was signalling to Neff as the latter backed across the highway. He said he saw Howson approach from the east around a bend, about 200 yards away, but he only heard the crash as he had turned to speak to the proprietor.

Applied Brakes

Though he applied his brakes, Howson was unable to stop in time and he skidded into the truck, just ahead of the left rear dual wheel. His vehicle, with him on it, was thrown toward the rear of the truck onto the entrance of the service station driveway.

Howson, employed at Tully's service station, bought the motorcycle last winter. Chief damage to it was a smashed wheel and front mudgard. The truck was undamaged.

An ambulance took Howson to hospital.

OPP Constable David Coffey investigated.

Replacing Logs In Trent; Waters Receding

A decided drop in the water levels throughout the Kawartha lakes and rivers is expected this weekend by the Trent Canal department, thus ending this year's high waters. Since May 1 the water levels have been gradually dropping.

Charles Hurst, engineer, said today that stop-logs are being dropped into the dams in the system. Tuesday at Bobcaygeon 20 stop-logs were placed to hold back the water.

The rate of flow along the Otonabee River, registered at the Auburn dam, has decreased nearly 2,000 cubic feet per second since May 1. On Tuesday the flow was recorded at 9036, a drop of 830 cubic feet per second from Monday. On May 1 the water averaged a flow of 11,449 cfs. and rose to 11,632 on May 2, but since has dropped off rapidly.

Little Lake Down Two Feet

The smaller rate of flow through the river has resulted in a decided drop in water levels of Little Lake and Rice Lake. Little lake this year rose four feet above its normal level but has lowered now to only two feet. Rice Lake level is slower in dropping and Tuesday was reported eight inches below its peak level.

Other lakes along the systems are gradually lowering according to Trent canal daily reports. Stony Lake is now seven inches below its peak, Buckhorn and Scugog lakes six inches below their peaks, and Sturgeon Lake nine inches.

All the storage lakes which include Kenesis, Crab, Mud, Hawk, 12-Mile, Horseshoe, Gull and Elliott's lakes are now full. Mr. Hurst said that the department hopes to keep them that way as long as possible in case there should be a dry summer.

Rainfalls will not affect the lake levels to the extent where there will be serious flooding, Mr. Hurst explained, as the rain will likely be absorbed in the ground.

Goodfellow Appoints Five To Study Children's Aid

A committee of five has been set up by the Ontario Department of Public Welfare to study Children's Aid Societies' work throughout the province. This action was publicly announced for the first time by the Honorable W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario Minister of Public Welfare, in Peterborough on Tuesday night. Mr. Goodfellow was guest speaker at the annual dinner and meeting of Children's Aid Society held at the YWCA.

"The object of this survey will be to report on any posible improvements that could be developed in child welfare work in the provinces," he stated.

Name Members

Members of the committee are: chairman, William Bury, director of York County Children's Aid Society; Miss Reba Choate, School of Social Science, University of Toronto; Mrs. Grace Burk, deputy reeve of Essex county; the Rev. John A. Macdonald, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Ottawa, and Ken Thomson, managing editor of the Galt Reporter.

The Welfare Minister explained that this committee would in no way interfere with the present societies' program, and emphasized this statement by stressing the importance of maintaining this work under private rather than public administration.

Last Great Welfare

"In children's aid societies we have the last great private welfare," the speaker contended. "In the last few years there has been a gradual trend toward social welfare — public administration instead of private. I feel that the most effective job is done first, by interested individuals in the community; second, by the interested group in the community and only as a last resort should this type of work be turned over to public welfare and services administered by a department of government."

In an outline of the work carried on by children's aid societies, the speaker referred to them as "a great autonomous organization involving the welfare of neglected children."

He said one of the greatest problems in child welfare work was 8,000 children now in the province who because of mental and physical diabilities or age were placed in an unadoptable category.

Asks Active Interest

"Communities should take an active interest in these children and give them the security they now lack," he contended.

Another problem outlined was that of desertions of homes by one or both of the parents; a field worker has been appointed by the department to investigate these cases.

"I hope that you will continue to show such a keen interest in the neglected children of your community," Mr. Goodfellow concluded. "It is our responsibility that we do everything for them that they may be good citizens of this community and country."

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan of Murray St. Baptist Church and thanked by N. J. Crook.

Reports Development

T. T. Rodger, in the president's address, reported the successful development of the Peterborough society during the past year in attaining "A" grading. He expressed the appreciation of the board for substantial financial gifts that had been received during the year and thanked the board for their co-operation during his term of office.

Mayor M. J. Swanston brought official greetings from the council and on its behalf expressed appreciation for the work done by the society in this community.

Mrs. Leslie McLaren was guest vocal soloist for the evening accompanied by H. Northrop at the piano.

Guests from outside communities included Miss M. Hancock, superintendent of the Ontario county Children's Aid Society and eight representatives from that county and Mrs. M. M. Fitzsimmons and Miss J. Wright, representing Victoria and Haliburton counties.

Cars Crash Head-On On Hospital Driveway

Two cars crashed head-on on a driveway in front of the Civic hospital Tuesday evening as one of the cars was completing a right turn.

Wilfred Gedge, 537 O'Connell Road, was driving west along one driveway. As he reached another driveway running at right angles, Douglas Dobson, 675 Weller St. driving north turned right to go east.

The cars hit head-on. No brake marks showed from the Dobson car although there were brake marks from the Gedge car.

About $90 damage was done to the front fender and bumper of the Dobson car. Damage on the Gedge car was a broken front bumper, smashed grill and left headlight. Constable Andre Dalton investigated.

High City Wages Get Boost In UK Bulletin

"High wages in Peterborough" is the featured caption of a half-page reference to this area in a six-page folder entitled "Ontario Bulletin," April issue, printed in England, for distribution through the agency of Ontario House. It is a publication of the Ontario government.

The Peterborough paragraphs are illustrated with a familiar photograph of the Lift Lock. Text follows:

"The largest increase in employment in Ontario (1950) was recorded in the Peterborough area. The Ontario Bureau of Statistics and Research report 9.7 per cent over 1949. Average employment in manufacturing was higher last year in the ten zones known as the Kawartha Lakes Area.

"Since 1939 employment in this area has risen 221.3 per cent. Total payrolls in the area increased 530.6 p.c. and in one year jumped over 100 p.c. The average weekly wages in December last year were $53.31.

"These remarkable figures are indicative of the opportunities for employment in Ontario. One of Peterboro's major industries, the Canadian General Electric Company, has at present a representative in the U.K. at Ontario House."

18 Men Apply For Service Want To Be Career Soldiers

Recruiting for Canada's 27th Infantry Brigade group for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization force was slower today at the Peterborough armouries. The early morning rush was nothing compared to Tuesday's early applicants. Recruiting officer Capt. Frank Frape, Royal Canadian Regiment attached to the 50th HAA Regiment (RF) RCA, sent the first group of 12 to Kingston for M-tests and medical examinations on Tuesday. Those sent were: Herbert Charles Bowen, J. F. Cupoli, Roy Ellis, R. Livingston, Donald J. Edwards, W. J. Byrnes, Orville Wesenberg, M. J. May, Elywin Murduff, Joseph Roberts, Roy Hotts and Kenneth Moher.

Tuesday afternoon and early today five more applied for service with the brigade. Many of those applying seek to enlist as career soldiers rather than the three-year term. First in Tuesday afternoon were W. C. Smith, 367 Armstrong Drive and R. J. Rusk, 520 Elm St. They were followed by W. C. Haunt, 57 Crescent St., R. J. Collins, 262 Munro Ave., and Douglas Gallagher, 137 Stewart St.

These recruits with E. J. Edwards, 210 Antrim St., who applied Monday were sent to Kingston at noon today for further examination. Mr. Edwards served with the Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment in World War II.

So far this week only three members of the 50th Heavy AA Regiment have joined the brigade. Two of the first to join, Mr. Bowen and D. Edwards were followed Tuesday by Mr. Rusk. Other reserve units especially in Toronto have responded with fairly large numbers joining.

To date the Canadian Highland Battalion and the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps have been the favorite choices of the recruits. In the Highland Battalion the 48th Highlanders of Toronto has been popular. A few have selected the Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment with which a large number of Peterborough men served during the last war. Some have chosen the 1st Canadian Provost Company.

W.O.2 E. A. Killingbeck, 50th H.A.A Regiment, is now assisting Capt. Frape in the mornings with the recruiting duties.

Asparagus Crop 8 Days Earlier

Harold Doig clipped his first asparagus Monday May 7, eight days earlier than last year. This morning he took off 90 dozen bunches at his suburban place on the west side of Monaghan Road, north of Crawford's Grove.

The soil is cold, and the asparagus needs more sunshine to bring up a big crop, Mr. Doig remarked today.

Foliage of the trees up Water St., looking from the Examiner corner at Hunter St., is one month behind the leafage on the day President Franklin D. Roosevelt died, April 12, 1945. That was a detail of spring fixed in memory by an event of world importance.

The Otonabee River is slowly receding from its recent freshet peaks. Tops of the stanchions at George St. wharf are emerging again, the water is retreating from Riverside Park, and also out of some of the cellars adjacent to the river and Little Lake.

Ralph Banbury of Brighton, agricultural representative in Northumberland county, said today that this whole area needs a full week of favorable seeding weather.

Airmen Revisit Yorkshire Base

MIDDLETON ST. GEORGE, Yorkshire, England — (CP) — Fighter pilots from Canada's Red Indian Squadron made a brief good-will visit to the RAF station here.

Sqdn. Ldr. Bob Davidson, commanding officer of the Canadians, renewed wartime associations with the station commander, Group Capt. Coles.

During the Second World War Middleton St. George was a Canadian bomber base from which RCAF Lancasters and Halifaxes flew to bomb Berlin.

Canadian pilots who accompanied Davidson were FOS. John Greatrix, Peterborough; G. A. Debenham, Sintaluta, Sask.; Bruce Sheaby, Medicine Hat, Alta.; and Bob Wood, Lloydminster, Sask.

The Canadian squadron is stationed at Odiham, Hampshire for a year's training with the RAF.

WRONG ADDRESS

The Bernard Murphy mentioned in Tuesday's Main Street Topics was of 90 Park St South, not of 521 Monaghan Road.

Muscle Building Bucksaw About Vanished In City

Peterborough Fuel and Transfer Co., Aylmer St., are junking their old sawing and chopping machine that was years ago an innovation in time and labor saving at the wood yard on the west side of Aylmer St., north of the C.P.R.

This piece of equipment that was once decked with the word modern is being washed into the scuppers on a wave of fuel oil. So low has the old machine dropped in usefulness and rating of value that it is not being considered for scrap value. It is just being tossed out, and the covering structure is being pulled apart.

It was probably back in the days of the late William H. Buller, a veteran member of the city council and also mayor of Peterborough in 1914-15, when he was head of Peterborough Fuel and Transfer that the power sawing outfit was set up.

Incidentally, Mr. Buller was mayor when the nation was plunged into the Teutonic Allies war against the rest of the world. It imposed suddenly a new experience in community responsibility to the families of men joining the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Fuel and Transfer was organized in 1908, taking over the established fuel dealing site of Wills and Good at the northeast corner of Aylmer and Townsend Sts.

Wood was once the bulkiest item of fuel in the company's buying and selling. And as contrast, Haig Kelly, present head of the company said today chief interest was in fuel oil and commercial coal. Even the body hardwood that used to be held in respect for its BTU's, its heating units, is off the list at the old piling yard across Aylmer St. from the office of Fuel and Transfer.

"When you pay around $15 a cord at Apsley and another four dollars for getting the stuff down here, and have to sell it close to $19," said Mr. Kelly, "it's not worth bothering about."

The oil furnace has replaced the maple and birch fires as far as F. and T. are concerned from here on.

That sounds like the end falling of another institution. The muscle-building bucksaw has just about vanished, at least from active operations, and may be on the way to the dignity of a museum piece. The mechanical saw is now moving off in the same direction of relegation.

Reactions Vary To Reductions In Tariff Laws

TORONTO, May 9 (CP).—Tariff reductions announced in the House of Commons Tuesday night met with varied reaction from Canadian manufacturers whose industries will be affected by the changes.

Greig B. Smith, manager of the Rubber Association of Canada, said the lowered Canadian barrier on rubber tires and hose is unwelcome.

"Canada is right next door to the biggest rubber industry in the world, in the United States," he said. "There has always been a certain amount of difficulty with U.S. competition. Naturally, any reduction will be unwelcome to us."

C. V. Fessenden, secretary of the Furniture Manufacturers' Association, said he believes there will be a stir in the furniture industry as a result of the reduction in tariffs on domestic household furniture.

At present, he said, there is a slump in the demand for furniture in the United States, a condition which makes the Canadian market more attractive. Large U.S. firms could produce furniture at lower cost than Canadian plants and the lowered tariff would make it more difficult for the industry in this country.

Little Effect

Charles Heath of Belleville, secretary of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association, said the cut in the United States tariff on cheddar cheese would mean little to Canadian cheese producers.

B. Napier Simpson, general manager of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers' Association, said the tariff changes on electrical products might enable Canadian industries to export to the U.S., but a study would have to be made before this could be determined definitely.

Rhys M. Sale, president of Ford of Canada, said at Windsor that study would be required to determine how the Canadian automobile industry would react to lower Canadian tariffs on car parts.

Some of the effect on the consumer was reflected by remarks of L. W. Beebe, vice-president and general manager of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. He said any lowered costs resulting from tariff changes on food would mean lower prices in food stores.

Cut Telegraph Wire To Racing Sheet

HAMILTON, May 9—(CP)—A telegraph wire between Toronto and the Sporting News, a racing scratch sheet here, was cut off by the Canadian National Telegraph Company, Arthur G. Taylor testified in court Tuesday.

Taylor and William H. Shaver, operators of the scratch sheet, are being tried on charges of keeping a betting house, and supplying betting information.

He testified that the wire which brought race results from Toronto was cut off by CNT about the same time a police search was made of Sporting News offices March 30.

Taylor said the action was taken because CNT felt the Sporting News wasn't a legitimate newspaper.

Give Second Reading To U.K. Finance Bill

LONDON, May 9 (CP) — The House of Commons Tuesday night gave second reading without a vote to the finance bill which legalizes the April budget.

Approval in principal came after Hugh Gaitskell, chancellor of the exchequer, said he was certain Britain would be able to carry out her defence program.

Canada Signs New Sugar Pact

OTTAWA, May 9 — (CP) — Trade Minister Howe Tuesday night announced a new trade deal with Cuba under which Canada agrees to purchase 75,000 tons of raw sugar yearly for a three-year period.

The announcement formed part of a statement made by Mr. Howe in the Commons, commenting on the concessions obtained at Torquay, England.

The sugar agreement was made outside the terms of the Torquay agreements, but it will have the effect of trimming some of the tariff preference traditionally allowed to Commonwealth sugar suppliers.

Trade officials said the preference was great enough to allow Commonwealth suppliers to cut their sugar prices by about 85 cents or $1 a hundredweight. Instead, they tended to lower their price by about 15 cents a pound, sufficient to undersell the non-Commonwealth supplier.

Aexander To Receive Degree From Oxford

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP) — Viscount Alexander will go to Britain next month and will receive an honorary degree from Oxford University June 20, government house officials said Tuesday.

It was announced Tuesday at Oxford the university has offered the doctorates to the three. To receive the degree, the recipient must be at Oxford for the ceremony.

At one time he sponsored a hockey game in Cleveland between two women's hockey teams from Cornwall and Ottawa.

Ontario Borrowing More Money From U.S.

TORONTO, May 9 (CP)—Ontario is borrowing in the United States, departing from a policy of more than 20 years. The action follows anti-inflation measures in Canada which has made borrowing here more difficult and raised its cost.

The borrowing will be through an issue of $50,000,000 3¼ per cent debentures, dated May 15, 1951 and payable May 15, 1971, in United States funds, which is being offered in New York. The offer to the public is at 98 and interest, U.S. funds. Announcement of the issue was made Tuesday by Premier Frost.

Proceeds will be advanced to the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario for its power-development program.

Leading Chefs Reveal Secret Of Their Favorite Dishes.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY.

NEW YORK, —(AP) — The "Gourmet Festival" in honor of the 2,000th birthday of Paris, spiritual home of the epicure, which has just ended here provided top-secret recipes of world-famous chefs.

Chefs of famous eating places each presided for a week at a time in the kitchens of the expensive Chambord Restaurant and each disclosed his favorite recipe. Gaspe salmon was the choice of the only Canadian chef, Erneste Schmid of the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec. Here's his recipe for "La Darne de Saumon de Gaspe, Frontenac":

Chop fine a pound of mushrooms, a half-pound of white onions and a sprig of parsley, and saute them in butter until golden brown. Blend into them a half-pint of Hollandaise sauce, whipping gently until well mixed. Chill the sauce in the ice-box until firm.

Plan on three-quarters of a pound of salmon per person, and poach gently in a frying pan, covered with a pint and one-half of dry white wine, until the salmon is a bright pink color and the wine has been reduced below the salmon level.

Remove the salmon and place in a baking dish, covering each piece with a generous spread of the firmed sauce. Bake for five minutes under a moderate flame until the sauce becomes golden brown. Serve in a hot dish with the poaching wine poured over.

Fine Soup.

"Germiny Froid et Chaud" of Louis Barthe of Maxims, Paris:

Chop fine a quarter-pound of soreel and saute gently in an ounce of butter. Add to this two quarts of rich chicken broth and bring the mixture to a boil. Add four egg yolks and remove from fire. Add one-half pint of heavy cream, stirring in slowly. If serving the soup cold add a small amount of chopped chives.

"Le Souffle d'Orange" of Marcel Grange of Cafe Chambord, New York:

Boil three cups of milk, adding two ounces of butter folded into a teaspoonful of flour, and mix them boiling for a half a minute. Remove from the fire and fold in 12 egg yolks and the grated skin of two California oranges. Add three ounces of cointreau and mix slowly with a wooden spoon. Then fold in the whites of six eggs, beaten until stiff.

Grease a shallow baking dish with butter and sprinkle the bottom and sides with powdered sugar up to a quarter-inch from the top of the bowl. Pour the mixture into the dish, and put it in a hot oven for 15 to 18 minutes. When the souffle starts to rise, remove it from the oven and scrape around with a thin knife on the inside of the dish. Complete the cooking until it has risen. Serve immediately.

Money Troubles Shadow Peerage For Young Pair

By JOHN RODERICK

LONDON (AP)—The girl with soft red hair putters around the kitchen in her duplex, making lunch sandwiches for her young husband, a radio engineer at $30 a week.

She looks like any other suburban English housewife, which is what she likes to be. But fate has made the girl who was just plain Wendy Bell a year ago at once a peeress and a girl with a million dollar headache.

When she was married in the village church at Cookham last year her husband was plain Mr. Arthur Liddell. A month after the marriage an uncle died, and he became the eight Baron Ravensworth. Wendy, 25, became a baroness.

This spring came another shock. Although the title is genuine, the wealth is not. Arthur had been left a gross estate of £409,000 pounds, or about $1,227,000. Almost half the legacy is in nearly worthless real estate, including a run-down old castle at Gateshead near Newcastle.

Worse Off

Various duties and legacies totalled £267,496 ($802,488). And this must be paid out of the personal estate which totalled only £164,219 ($492,657). So the young baron and baroness are a lot worse off financially than if they had never got the title.

Despite this, letters have poured into their home from all parts of England asking for slices of the "fortune." It got so bad that their solicitor gave a statement to he press asking that no further references be made suggesting that he had inherited a fortune.

The executors are having great difficulty with persons mentioned as legatees in the will," said the solicitors' letter, "and feel that Lord and Lady Ravensworth should be allowed to meet their problems without further publicity."

Meanwhile Wendy, or Lady Ravensworth, is more concerned with making up Arhur's mid-day lunch than with being a baroness. Neither she nor her husband use the title, and she lines up with the rest of her neighbors for the weekly meat ration. Arthur, Baron Ravensworth, has no intention of quitting his job as an engineer with the BBC.

St. Luke's WA Selects Two As Life Members

Mrs. G. R. Langley, 239 Burnham St., loaned her home Tuesday afternoon for a meeting of the WA of St. Luke's Anglican Church.

As a special celebration of the 75th anniversary of the church by the Afternoon Branch WA, two life memberships were given. The recipients were chosen by ballot and are Miss Elizabeth Stewart and Mrs. Mark Burnham.

Miss Stewart commenced work with the WA in 1910. Then with the senior group she was for many years on the Dorcas committee and headed it from 1935 to 1945, as well as working in almost every organization in the church. She is still an ardent supporter but deafness has limited her public activities.

Mrs. Burnham came to St. Luke's after her marriage with grounding in mission work well started at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. She has held office in the WA continually since 1941 and her work has been outstanding. By her own interest in learning the history, inner and outer working of the Association, she has broadened the outlook and inspired the members to greater work and wider knowledge.

Presentation of the certificates and an address were made by Mrs. R. G. Maniece, president, and the gold pins were pinned on by Mrs. Langley.

Present for this occasion was a life member, Mrs. F. J. M. Jamieson, Harvey St., who at 91 is active in WA work, though unable to attend regular meetings. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. Diamond who is 87.

WA members who were greatly missed and were mentioned for their ardent support and work are Mrs. Roy Parsons, at present in hospital; Mrs. Harry Adams, also a life member and who is ill at present, and Mrs. Thomas Moore.

A brief business meeting was conducted and delegates from the WA Diocesan meeting at Toronto, Mrs. W. J. Gilling and Mrs. Gordon White, gave their reports.

Afternoon tea was served with Mrs. Mark Burnham presiding at the tea table.

The bride wore a street length dress of pale green brocaded satin with white accessories and a corsage of American beauty roses She was attended by her sister Mrs. E. N. Lowes, who wore canary yellow silk jersey with mauve accessories and had a corsage of talisman roses.

Mr. Robert H. Hamlin was groomsman.

Following a reception at the bride's home, 630 Little St., the couple left for points in Western Ontario and after their honeymoon they will live in Toronto. For travelling the bride wore a brown tweed suit with matching accessories.

Sell Siamese Girls To Soldiers for $30

LAICHAU, Indo-China, May 9 (Reuters) Thai (Siamese) beauties are being sold to French soldiers for 500 piastres (about $30) on two-year "contracts" in the Shangri-La valleys of Indo-China.

Among the 250,000 Thais who inhabit the rich Tonkin rice valleys the girls may be sold on "life contracts" by their families in exchange for a water buffalo, a dozen mountain boars, or perhaps a bolt of cloth.

But the two-year agreement suits the soldiers whose time of service has about expired by the time the "marriage" ends.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Special-Purpose Menu Informal Company Dinner

Informal Company Dinner
Chicken Stew with Dumplings
Mixed Vegetables: Carrots, Potatoes, Celery, Onions
Boston Lettuce, Pepper Grass and Cucumber Salad with French Dressing
Pineapple Sherbet
Sour Cream Cookies
Coffee

✧ ✧ ✧

Directions

Chicken stew brings them running to the table when I call.

For a company meal it is easy and straight forward—especially if you have a daughter who dearly loves to stir up the dumplings and a son who insists on making all frozen desserts. They are fall guys for praise and I can dole it out—wholesale.

Simmer cut up fowl in water to cover for 3½ hours, or until tender. In a separate pot boil the vegetables, starting with small whole onions, 40 minutes ahead of serving time. Change the boiling water after 20 minutes then add the cut up carrots and potatoes. Put in cup-up celery stalks (outer ones are best) 10 minutes after that. This way all vegetables are tender at once and retain good color. Add dumplings to stew, being sure to keep cover on for 12 minutes before you peek.

Dumplings (Snowy and light)

Two cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅞ cup milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together, then quickly stir in milk. Drop at once onto boiling stew from dessertspoon. Cover at once. Boil 12 minutes without lifting lid. If smaller dumplings are desired drop from teaspoon. If you dip your spoon in the hot stew before dipping out batter it will slip easily from spoon.

The Pineapple Sherbet is a two-layer affair.

Pineapple Sherbet

Drain 1 cup crushed pineapple. Save the pulp to mix with 1 cup cream whipped for top layer. Add the juice to 1½ cups orange juice and ½ package of orange-flavored jelly dessert dissolved in 1 cup hot water. Add ½ cup sugar and when crystals are dissolved freeze in freezing tray. Leave until firm. Then fold the cream into the crushed pineapple and spread over frozen mixture. Serve cut in cubes so that layers show.

The above is delicious served with

Sour Cream Cookies

One cup white sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup heavy sour cream, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ cup butter or lard or good quality shortening, ¼ to ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon baking powder, about 4 cups sifted cake flour—just enough to roll, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream the butter or shortening, beat in the sugar thoroughly, then beat eggs and add them and the sour cream. Sift together the sifted flour, soda, nutmeg, baking powder and add them with the vanilla. Roll out on lightly floured board. These are usually cut out with 3 or 4-inch fluted cutter. Sprinkle sugar over before baking and put a raisin or nut in centre of each cookie, or omit sugar and brush with beaten egg to give a glaze.

Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. on greased cookie sheet being careful when watching as these will burn if neglected.

Variation: You may use sour milk but only ½ cup, and increase butter or shortening to 1 cup. Use all brown sugar or all white sugar if desired, and add ½ to 1 cup plump raisins.

"That was a swell reel you sold me—I caught all this with it!"

DOROTHY DIX

Never Ceased to Reproach Man on Renounced Love

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A married man, very honorable, conscientious and religious, became acquainted with a young unmarried woman of the same high character. They were members of the same church and met quite often in church work. They were attracted to each other and before they realized it this attraction had deepened into love. They never held an intimate conversation and were never alone together at any time. They do not approve of divorce and realize that because of the nature of the man's profession divorce would ruin his life. But he felt that he must confess to his wife. He thought that she would be understanding and compassionate and that they could remain together because, although they have no children, they have much in common. So he told her what had happened. She was furiously angry and had no sympathy or pity for him. She has never ceased to reporach and nag and torture him. They quarrel continually and she has left him many times and gone home to her people. She has made it almost impossible for the other woman to continue in church activities by her hatred and bitterness and her proud, arrogant and patronizing attitude toward her. To bring about peace the girl would withdraw from the church and leave the city if she could, but cannot because of responsibility at home. What should she do?

DISCOURAGED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," and this wife who had herself superseded in her husband's affection by another woman will never stop until she wreaks vengeance upon her rival. She will torture her in every way in her power and do everything possible to disgrace her and drag her down.

Girl Must Leave

There is no way in which the girl can defend herself against this bitter hate. The wise thing for her to do is to go away from the scene of strife. It is the only possible way in which she can save not only her life but also her reputation, which is dearer than life to her. She should do this even if it involves causing her family to make some sacrifices, for it will save them from more suffering in the end. Away from the jealous wife the girl will at least have peace and a chance to rebuild her life.

It is, of course, a tragic thing for a man to fall out of love with his wife and in love with another woman, but the heart is an unruly member that we cannot always control. In this case, at least, the husband kept the letter if not the spirit of his marriage contract, and that is all that any human being can do. But he knew little of the nature of women if he was foolish enongh to think that his wife would understand. It would take a bigger brain and a deeper heart than many women posses to do that. A man never makes a greater mistake than when h tells his wife of any other woman he has ever loved. It only gives her food for jealousy.

DEAR MISS DIX: My sister has been married to a seemingly nice man for 21 years. He is a splendid electrician, radio man, carpenter, plumber or painter and would be a good handyman in a hotel or apartment house, but he has had trouble finding a job and has gotten so discouraged that now he doesn't seem to want to work. When he has a job, he works hard at it and is well liked by the people he has worked for. In order to keep busy, he recently painted the interior of a neighbor's house and spent a great deal of time there, eating several meals with her while he did the work. As he received no pay for the job, he felt he was entitled to the meals, but my sister has become upset over the amount of time he spends at the neighbor's. My sister and I have kept up the payments on our home for five years but I am not too young any more and will soon have to retire. Could you suggest any way my brother-in-law could get a job? He is 43 years old.—C. G. L.

ANSWER: Your brother-in-law sounds like a paragon that anyone would like to employ, especially in these harrassed times when help is scarce and so many young men are in the armed services. The kind of work he does is needed by every householder and I should think a small ad run in the newspaper would bring more offers than he could handle. You live in an area abounding in small homes where the services of a handyman would be very welcome in the spring.

This newspaper carries many "Help Wanted" ads for positions that seem ideal for your brother-in-law, and I simply can't see why he has difficulty finding work. I'd suggest a thorough check-up by a good doctor to relieve his mind about his physical condition, and from there on I think the matter is simply a queston of giving him a little push to get him out on his own.

There's no doubt but that a steady job, with less time to offer his services to neighbors, will keep him home and give him and his family peace of mind.

Children's Aid Completed 44 Adoption In '50

"We are happy and proud to have completed 44 adoptions this year—the highest number on record for our society," Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society, stated Tuesday night.

Miss Young gave her superintendent's report at the society's annual meeting held at the YWCA.

Service was given 348 families with a total of 821 children. Eleven investigations were made for family allowances and 15 under the Matrimonial Causes Act. Unmarried parent cases given service totalled 118 and 254 children were given service in the Children's Home and foster homes. Seventy-five children were admitted to care and 80 were discharged. The society's staff made 5,708 visits and held 1,942 office interviews.

Two Problem Types

"Two types of problems present themselves in our work," Miss Young explained. "The first is physical neglect—families where the housekeeping provides less than the minimum standard and children are filthy and inadequately clothed. In these cases protective action is administered by the society. "The children are either placed in our care by the court or assistance is given to the family to raise the standards of the home."

The superintendent stated that marital problems, separations and desertions, make up the second type of problem.

"However our greatest problem," she contended, "is public misinterpretation. Unfortunately we are still too frequently associated with the idea that our main function is removing children and too frequently also we are used as a means of discipline by parents and others in the community who do not know how to handle their problems otherwise."

Every Effort Made

In an outline of the work done by the Children's Home, the superintendent explained that every effort is made to make the children's introduction to the Children's Aid Society as fine as possible.

"We recognize the importance of medical and dental care for our wards," she said. "This care is provided for each child by unstinting service from our doctors and dentists. Clothing adequate and suitable is provided and special talents such as music are encouraged."

Miss Young also paid tribute to the work done by the society's sewing committee who have clothed 70 children. Under the convenership of Mrs. C. Collins and Mrs. L. Maguire, 91 volunteers gave approximately 400 hours of service during the year making and mending 1091 articles.

"Despite this splendid co-operation, our plans often bog down as the perennial problem of securing foster homes presents itself," the superintendent concluded. "Our objective in the forthcoming year will be to have foster homes waiting for children rather than children waiting for homes."

Two Miners Killed By Slide Of Rock

SUDBURY, May 9 —(CP) — Two employees at the Creighton Mine of International Nickel Company, 12 miles west of here, were killed Tuesday night when struck by a fall of loose rock in a stope some 4,800 feet underground.

The two were Norman C. Clifton, 33, of Sudbury and Arley L. Dwyer, 30, of suburban Minnow Lake.

A company statement said the two men were preparing to install timber in the stope when the fall of ground occurred.

They were rescued almost immediately but both had died instantly.

Clifton, a stope boss, had been employed by the company since 1943. Dwyer, a driller, joined the company in 1949. Clifton leaves a wife and three children.

Favor Beer Vote At Bobcaygeon

LINDSAY, May 9 —Bobcaygeon residents petitioned the village council recently to hold a vote to decide whether beer and liquor will be sold there. The deputation that arranged the petition appeared at the May meeting.

Representing more than the 25 per cent necessary to have the petition accepted, 211 who are eligible to vote on the question signed the petition. Some 644 persons are believed eligible to vote.

Instigators of the vote favor only the warehouses and are not making application to have beer sold in hotels.

It is now necessary for the village to apply to the Liquor Control Board of Ontario for permission to hold the vote.

Drew Says Inflation Victory For Soviet

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said Tuesday night that if "inflation continues uncheked, Russia can win a decisive victory without firing a single shot."

In a speech prepared for broadcast in the CBC's "Nation's Business" series, Mr. Drew said inflation can cuase economic chaos and can paralyze defence production. It also is a great menace because of the legacy of hatred, bitterness, and distrust which it leaves behind.

Canadians could force their government to take action to combat inflation.

"Our strongest weapon is democracy itself," said Mr. Drew. "No governmetn can ignore the clearly expressed demands of the people it was chosen to serve."

Says Eastern Canada Last To Be Dieselized

LONDON, Ont., May 9 (CP) — Eastern Canada will be the last area in the country to be dieselized by the Canadian Pacific Railway, C. R. Crump, vice-president in charge of operations, said in an interview Tuesday.

Mr. Crump was one of seven top CPR executives who arrived in London from Montreal and Toronto to join a London goodwill cavalcade to Oshawa today.

"We bought our last steam engine three years ago," Mr. Crump said, "and the aim of the CPR is for complete dieselization in Canada."

Marmora's First Weekly Paper Published In 1893 By J. Bonner

By W. J. COTTRELL.

MARMORA, May 9 (ENS).— This village's first weekly newspaper was called the Marmora Advocate. Its first issue came out on May 4, 1893, and the name of H. J. Bonner appeared as editor and publisher.

The paper was published in the Arcade Block on Main St., which at the time was one of the most important business blocks in the village. It contained a general store, hardware, harness, tailoring and millinery shops and the printing office.

Mr. Bonner issued the Advocate for two or three years along with job printing plant. He also built the main part of the residence on Madoc St. now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Gano. Just when or how he disposed of the Advocate, no one seems to know but the paper was next issued by the late Zed Lafontaine, who changed its name to the Marmora Herald and carried on the business for five or six years before selling it to the late Rendol Snell. Mr. Lafontaine (the family now use the original French name La Fontaine) came to Marmora from Tweed.

He was a clever lacrosse player and in those days Marmora was noted for its lacrosse team.

After selling the Herald Mr. Lafontaine returned to Tweed where he started a new paper which he called the Tweed Advocate. This he carried on for a few years and eventually sold it to the Tweed News Company and it was amalgamated with the Tweed News. Mr. Snell before he purchased the Herald business was principal of Marmora public school for several years.

The Arcade Block was razed by fire in 1904 and all the files of the Herald were destroyed. Thus it is almost impossible to secure a definite record or dates as to the early ownership of the printing office. After the fire, Mr. Snell persuaded the late William Flynn to erect a new building on McGill St. for a printing office. This building, later converted into an apartment house, is a short distance north of the present Herald office and was occupied by the Herald from the time of its completion until 1942 when the Herald moved to the premises it now occupies.

In December 1906, Marmora's weekly newspaper was purchased by Howard W. Sabine and the only change in its ownership from that year to the present year, was from 1922 to 1928 when a joint stock company was formed with Mr. Sabine retaining controlling interest. Accordingly the Marmora Herald Printing Company Limited was formed and S. L. Bennett and the late Mrs. Bennett were engaged to manage and carry on the business. The new venture fell through and the former owner took over again the sole management of the Herald in 1928.

In the years of his residency in Marmora, Mr. Sabine has in public as well as through the medium of his paper, advocated support of all projects which have served the best interest of the citizens. A son of the manse, he has been a pillar in St. Andrew's United, formerly the Methodist Church, at the same time having the interdenominational outlook serving for years the local branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society as secretary, then president. Patrols In Munsan After Wiping Out Red Flank Threat

TOKYO, May 10. (AP)—Allied armored patrols today stabbed into Munsan, 21 miles northwest of Seoul, after wiping out a Red threat to flank the old South Korean capital. Tanks and South Korean infantrymen hunted through Munsan without opposition, then withdrew. Elsewhere along the 100-mile-wide front the greatest obstacles encountered by probing tank patrols were mine fields covered by small arms fire. Chinese armies are "wilting on the vine" because of lack of supplies, said Lt.-Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the United States 10th Corps.

The Reds have withdrawn to keep out of range of artillery. Nevertheless, Almond cautioned, they presumably are preparing for another attack.

"We are prepared for them," he said. "We are killing large quantities of the enemy and will kill them in the future."

An Eighth Army spokesman said 6,000 North Korean Reds who had threatened to outflank Seoul were either killed or routed.

South Koreans were mopping up remnants of this force Thursday west of the Seoul-Munsan road.

Little Opposition

The tank-infantry patrol on the highway ran into no opposition. On a neighboring highway between Uijongbu and the 38th Parallel, another armored force hit a small Chinese screening unit 19 miles north of Seoul.

Other armored forces roamed the central front, re-entered Chunchon 45 miles northeast of Seoul and clanked into Inje on the eastern front without opposition.

(Bill Boss, Canadian Press staff writer with the Princess Patricias, reported the Canadians passed an uneventful day Thursday.)

The Fifth Air Force reported it still was studying the results of Wednesday's raid on Sinuiju airfield by 312 U.N. planes but it was clear they inflicted "considerable damage."

American F-86 Sabre jets flew patrol over Sinuiju Thursday, within sight of Russian-type jets parked on an airfield across the border in Manchuria. The Red planes remained on the ground.

Today, 275 US Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers struck at rail yards in half a dozen North Korean industrial cities.

In ground actions Wednesday the retreating Reds suffered 2,130 casualties, the US Eighth Army reported.

The US defence department has reported 2,311 American casualties for the two weeks ended May 4. This did not involve other Allied losses, including a Commonwealth brigade that was badly cut up.

Simultaneously the Communist radio at Pyongyang said the Reds killed or captured 20,792 UN troops between April 22 and April 30—the height of the Communist spring offensive. The Allied command has made no announcement of its losses for that period.

Boy 14, Missing 13 Days Found In City

David King, 14, of Coldsprings, missing 13 days from his home, was found today at 1.30 p.m. in a lineup at a theatre.

The boy first said his name was George Wilson, aged 15.

Three young girls told Patrol Sergeant Claire McGillen on the street that they were sure David King was in the theatre line-up. One of them had gone to school with him.

Told To Stay At Home

The boy, tall and thin with a pinched face, said that a week ago, Saturday his father, Lloyd King, had told him not to leave the house. However the boy rebelled and left the house.

After playing most of the day away from the house, he was afraid to return home because he thought his father would "give him a licking."

He wandered off and ended up at the exhibition grounds. He spent the night in one of the barns there and most of the nights since.

He said he hadn't had anything to eat except a few candies since he left home more than a week ago, but police were skeptical. He said he found a 25-cent piece and was going to use that to go to the show. He didn't know why he preferred the show to something to eat.

Earlier reports today that the boy had been found proved to be false. Police received a report that he was seen in the exhibition grounds, but when they checked they could see no sign of him.

He said he had seen a police officer ride past him on a motorcycle when he was down by the Otonabee river.

The lad was doing well at school and was in Grade VIII.

Police notified his father immediately.

Says UN Armies Blocked Soviet

TOKYO, May 11—(Friday)—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said Thursday the United Nations battle in Korea may have started the defeat of Communism's efforts at world domination.

The UN commander's comment was contained in an answer to Lt.-Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Allied field commander, congratulating Ridgway on his nomination to full General.

Ridgway said it is "quite possible" that because of the UN fight, "history will record that the crest of the Communist wave has been broken against your arms and . . . that the flood of this menace, reaching its high mark on your front, thereafter began its recession."

Find 30 Show Horses Starving In Barn

TORONTO, May 10—(CP)—Two veterinaries are today treating 25 to 30 Clydesdale show horses, victims of malnutrition, which were found Wednesday by Toronto Humane Society officials on a farm two miles north of nearby Malton.

Inspector Robert Johnstone of the Society said there was no hay or straw in the barn and the horses had been standing in 15 inches of filth.

"It is obviously a case of the horses being neglected all during the winter months," said Col. George Reid, president of the Society.

Johnstone said the only reason given by the farmer for neglect was that he was too busy seeding his land. Some of the horses had been exhibited last year at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Deny Rumors Of Secret US Weapon

Marshall Declares Ridgway Talk Not Like MacArthur's

WASHINGTON, May 10. —(AP)—Rumors of a new secret weapon were heard in the United States Senate today but were widely discounted. The rumors developed like this:

Two senators said a third senator remarked at an appropriations meeting that Defence Secretary George Marshall had referred to a new weapon in secret testimony in the MacArthur hearings.

But the senators also said army ordnance representatives who were present denied the existence of such a weapon.

Senator Harry Byrd (Dem.-Va.), who has listened to most of the Marshall testimony, told a reporter he had heard no such testimony. Five other senators said the same thing.

Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N. H.) said he recalled "some reference to such secret project but Gen. Marshall said it was classified and so must be off the record.

Top U.S. military officials several times have projected publicly more powerful atomic weapons, including atomic artillery shells and warheads for guided missiles.

Different Case

Defence Secretary George Marshall brushed aside today a suggestion that Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had made statements of the kind that led to the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He said they were not "parallel."

For the fourth day, Marshall was in the witness chair before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

Truman Denies Story Acheson Will Resign

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—President Truman said today there is no foundation in fact to reports that State Secretary Dean Acheson may leave office within a few months.

Truman also told a press conference reports he will recall William O'Dwyer as Ambassador to Mexico likewise are rumors.

The question of Acheson's future in the administration was raised by a reporter who told Truman there had been reports Acheson was getting out.

Charge Mountie In Death Crash

HAWKESBURY, May 10 (CP)—An RCMP constable will be charged with dangerous driving following a crash in which a car passenger was burned to death, District Crown Attorney W. R. Hall said today.

A Coroner's Jury Wednesday night found Constable John Malkin of Rockcliffe RCMP barracks, near Ottawa, responsible for the crash in which Andrew W. MacDonnell of Green Valley, Ont., was burned to death. The accident occurred on the main highway here shortly after midnight April 30.

The jury held that the car was driven "at an excessive rate of speed." One witness estimated that the vehicle was travelling between 70 and 75 miles an hour when it careened off the road.

Von Hapsburg Archduke Gives Lost Kingdom Empress, Weds Princess With Great Pomp

NANCY, France, May 10 (CP)—Archduke Otto Von Hapsburg, heir to the defunct Austro-Hungarian throne, gave his lost kingdom an empress today. He married a blue-eyed German princess in a lavish display of 18-century pageantry.

Scores of Europe's throneless royalty thronged here for the double rites uniting the 38-year-old Otto and 25-year-old Princess Regina of Saxony-Meiningen, whom he met while touring refugee camps in Bavaria.

A civil ceremony in the city hall was followed by impressive Roman Catholic rites an hour later in the Church of the Ropemakers, where many of the bridegroom's ancestors are buried.

Forbidden by Austrian law to visit the country where his father, the Emperor Karl, was the last Hapsburg ruler, Otto came here for his wedding because it is the ancient capital of the once-independent Duchy of Lorraine. Otto still claims the title of Duke of Lorraine, along with about 24 others.

Archduke Otto and Princess Regina were wildly acclaimed last night when they stood up in their box at the Grand Theatre. Through the night crowds paraded along flood-lit streets and orchestras played old Austrian military marches.

The church ceremony was a colorful one. At the altar the couple knelt on cushions sprinkled with dirt so it could be said the wedding took place on Austrian soil.

The Pope sent his blessing.

Russians Selling India 50,000 Tons Wheat To Help Famine Areas

NEW DELHI, May 10. (CP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today that Russia has agreed to sell India 50,000 tons of wheat to help her famine-stricken areas. He also said India will not trade atomic-energy materials with the United States for wheat sought there. Nehru said Russian ships already are en route to India with the precious cargoes. The full consignment, bought for cash, would be delivered by the end of June. Russia has offered to supply a total of 500,000 tons.

Nehru was cheered loudly when he expressed his gratitude to the US for "efforts they have made to send food grains." The US Congress has under consideration two bills concerning 2,000,000 tons of wheat.

No Political Condition

He said these bills "in our view have no political or discriminatory conditions attached to them, and there can be no objection on these grounds to our accepting either of these two."

His statement appeared directed toward conciliating the American Congress. Indian differences with American policies, especially in Korea, have contributed to a delay in final Congressional action on a grant or loan of 2,000,000 tons of wheat.

Observers say the delay has increased anti-American sentiment in India.

Recently Nehru stressed India's refusal to accept outside help to which political strings are attached.

The Prime Minister, noting the U.S. suggestion that India pay for the wheat with strategic materials, including minerals used for atomic production, said:

"We would be glad to supply the U.S. such materials as we have available. But it is a fundamental part of our foreign policy not to supply such materials as are mainly related to atomic-energy production to foreign countries."

TO HAVE OPERATION

LONDON, May 10. (AP)—Mrs. Winston Churchill will enter a hospital Monday for an operation, her secretary said today. Mrs. Churchill is 66. The secretary said the operation is not a serious one.

Red Purge Trial Judge Dead

MOSCOW, May 10 (AP)—The army newspaper Red Star today announced the death of the colonel-general of justice, Vasily Vasile-Vigch Ulrich, 62. It said he "devoted all his conscious life to the cause of the party of Lenin and Stalin."

Ulrich presided at the celebrated blood-purge trials in the mid-1930s, in which many Russian military and party leaders were executed and thousands deported in an alleged plot on the life of Stalin.

Ulrich presided at the production of a phenomenon now well known to the world—the confession technique. In the bloody trials he directed, the defendants with monotonous unanimity all confessed their guilt and heaped censure on themselves. This process now has been repeated many times, notably in the recent purge trials of Soviet satellite countries.

When, on Dec. 1, 1934, Sergei M. Kirov, old friend of Stalin member of the Politburo and foe of exiled Leon Trotzky was assassinated, Ulrich was judge president of the military collegium of the Supreme Court. He had sprung to prominence before that in presiding over the trial of six Britons in Moscow who were accused of spying. The case sent British-Russian relations to a low point.

The assassination of Kirov was the signal for a wave of arrests throughout the Soviet Union which was to lead the great Stalin purge. This was to eradicate all Stalin's opposition, including many of Lenin's followers among the "old Bolsheviks," and permit Stalin to reign supreme and unchallenged as absolute dictator.

UK Refuses Give China More Rubber

Says Large Orders Already Filled Meet Civilian Need

LONDON, May 10. (CP) — China will get no more rubber from the British colonies this year because she has already had enough to meet her normal civilian requirements, Sir Hartley Shawcross told the House of Commons today.

He made the announcement after Winston Churchill, opening a debate on China trade, had demanded the rubber shipments be suspended.

Sir Hartley, president of the Board of Trade, said Chinese imports of rubber the first three months of this year had been so "abnormally high" that her civilian needs for the year could be regarded as "fully satisfied."

The Colonies concerned had been instructed that no more rubber was to be shipped this year, he added.

Sir Hartley said that "apart from rubber, our trade with China, whether direct or through the colonial territories, could have had no significant effect on the military potential of China in Korea."

"A very careful watch" would be exercised on trade remaining with China, he said.

Sir Hartley said Britain would give "full support' to a United States proposal now before the United Nations to limit trade with China, but pointed out this proposal was not intended to impose a complete embargo.

Churchill said Americans had a "valid complaint" about the way China was getting Malayan rubber and urged that shipments be stopped at once.

Churchill said Britain, which recognized Red China's government in 1949, is "in the illogical position of having diplomatic relatons wth a Chnese government formally censured by the Unted Nations, and which is engaged in attacking United States soldiers, United Nations soldiers and also our small contingent in Korea."

Prior to opening of the debate, Sir Hartley told parliament that Britain and its colonies had sent $327,000,000 worth of goods to Red China in the nine months after the fighting began in Korea.

If Snore Conquered He Gets Wife Back

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP) — Richard Michalak was called to court today to reveal whether he has conquered his big snore.

If so, his wife, Florence, an attractive 20-year-old blonde, has promised to come back to him and drop her suit for separate maintenance.

Michalak's wife said his snoring was injuring her health. Thirty days ago she agreed in Superior Court to give him a month to try to get his snoring muted.

Liberal MPP Told To Watch Step In Ontario Inquiry

TORONTO, May 10. (CP)—William Houck, Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature for Niagara Falls, today told the Legislature's Crime Committee that he has received two threatening telephone calls telling him to watch his step. Mr. Houck made the statement at the opening of today's session of the seven-man committee investigating administration of criminal justice. He is a member of the committee which has recently been investigating the operations of bookmakers.

Mr. Houck said the anonymous calls were made on the committee's second day of hearings, after he had moved to call on the Bell Telephone Company of Canada to explain "why it was providing lines for bookies."

WILLIAM HOUCK, MPP

"I was told to watch out what I was saying," he said. "I may point out that these threats didn't bother me any."

Won't Be Called

The committee agreed with a suggestion by its chairman, Attorney-General Porter, that representatives of telephone and telegraph companies should not be called to testify at present.

Mr. Porter said he would rather hear police evidence first dealing with communications facilities supplied to bookmakers.

CCF Leader Jolliffe said:

"If anyone thinks the course of this committee will be influenced by anonymous phone calls or letters he is mistaken. I know there are people who don't want to see this committee get very far in its deliberations."

"No anonymous phone calls will stop me from doing my job on this committee," said Mr. Houck. "I think all of us on the committee are trying to do a good job and I think an aroused public opinion can do more than any other one thing."

The attorney-general said he had received no anonymous calls since the committee began its hearings, although he sometimes received them on other matters.

4 Ships Combine Efforts To Save Sailor

TOKYO, May 10 — (AP). — Naval Lieut. Michael Barrow of Toronto, stricken with acute appendicitis during operations off Korea, probably owes his life to the combined efforts of warships of four navies.

Barrow was stricken on the Canadian destroyer Huron during a carrier offensive. A Navy release today said the other ships that helped out were the British light fleet carrier Glory, the United States light carrier Bataan, and the Australian destroyer Warramunga.

The Canadian is reported improved in a US army hospital.

Authorities released this story:

Barrow became ill while the Huron was in a destroyer screen for the Glory The Huron's doctor, Surgeon Lt. William Cooke of Toronto recommended Barrow's removal to the Glory, where better facilities were available.

A rigging was set up and the patient sent across in a stretcher to the Glory. There, Surgeon-Lieut. I. B. Crawford of London operated successfully, but two days later Barrow suffered a relapse. He became dangerously ill.

The Glory's principal medical officer, Surgeon-Cmdr. J. H. Mitchell, flew in a helicopter to the Bataan for consultation with Lt. J. McBride of the US Army Medical Corps.

They decided to rush Barrow to hospital ashore.

Again Barrow was placed in a stretcher. This time he was transferred to the Warramunga. The Australian destroyer proceeded to the base at full speed, and Barrow was removed to the army hospital.

Slight Change In Performance

LONDON, May 10 (AP). — Those hurried little steps across the stage were not part of the Sadler's Wells ballet performance Wednesday night. It was just that the scenery kept falling down.

For 10 long minutes two ballet soloists at the Royal Opera House flitted back and forth across the stage as if it were all part of the performance of "Les Patineurs" —The Skaters.

The audience gasped at first, then maintained stoic British silence as seven pieces of scenery suddenly began to sway, then came crashing down one by one onto the stage.

Soloists Kirna Mossford and Rosemary Lindsay just kept dancing and dodging. Royal Opera House officials explained later that someone had bumped into a pivotal piece of scenery backstage.

Pats Fought Till Bullets Gone, Hurled Bayonets Like Spears

Canadian Platoons Hang On Stubbornly Against Wave After Wave of Chinese To Stop Offensive Cold During Heavy Night Assault

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following account of Canadian action in Korea was delayed by censorship which prevented the release of unit identifications during a critical period.

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, May 10 —(CP)—Canadians fought until their ammunition was exhausted, then hurled their rifles with bayonets attached like spears into the attacking Chinese when the 2nd battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, stopped the latest Chinese offensive cold in its tracks in Korea's west central sector.

Brunt of the initial attack was borne by a company under Maj. Vince Lilley, of Hamilton, when the Chinese advanced wave upon wave to storm the Canadian positions.

The Patricias were guarding the approaches to the vital Chunchon-Seoul highway, in hills three miles to its north and near the villages of Kail and Cheryong.

They took their positions while Korean troops were streaming back from a front that had sagged 20 miles in the initial 25 hours, a retreat so disorganized that the vanguard of the Chinese force got in among them and into the holding positions established by the 27th British Commonwealth Brigade.

Bogged down ultimately by a stubborn British and Australian stand April 24, the Chinese diverted their weight in the sector to ar assault on the hills held by the Patricias.

The first slit trench attacked was in the section commanded by Cpl. G. R. Evans. It was on the hump of a hog's back spur occupied by a platoon under Lieut. Harold Ross, of St. Catharines, and jutting out from the main line of Lilley's Ridge.

(Cpl. Evans, who enlisted in Vancouver and whose next-of-kin live in Norwich, Norflok, England, was reported killed in action in a casualty list issued at Ottawa May 1. Lieut. Ross apparently had recovered from wounds suffered earlier in the campaign. He was listed as wounded in the first Korean casualty list issued at Ottawa March 2. It listed his next-of-kin as his father, Henry Ross, Winnipeg.)

Said Sgt. Roy Ulmer, of Castor, Alta., Ross' platoon sergeant:

"Just before dark we saw them coming out of the hills to the north But once night fell we lost sight of them.

"They're good night fighters, and are well on top of you with those rubber shoes of theirs before you know it: quiet as mice.

"They came in on Evans first. He spotted them just as the first wave was coming in. He put up a fierce fight that lasted an hour and held them off.

Headquarters Stand

"Then they tried McLennan's (L. Cpl. Neil McLennan, of Ottawa). They got on top of Mac's and he opened up and held them off until one of his men was hit in the stomach with a grenade. All the time they were mortaring us—just to keep us interested. Mac's men brought the wounded man back to platoon headquarters and returned to find their position over-run. They just grabbed their ammunition and high-tailed it back to platoon headquarters, where they jumped into the slit trenches and fought with us from there."

Still sleepy after the battle, grimy and unshaven, Ulmer, a former company sergeant-major with the Loyal Edmonton Regiment during the Second World War, continued:

"They would keep on coming in waves. Just like the descriptions we'd heard.

"There's a whistle, they get up with a shout about 10 feet from our positions and come in.

"The first wave throws its grenades, fires its weapons and goes to ground. It is followed by a second which does the same, and then a third comes up. Where they disappear to I don't know. But they just keep on coming."

Not Quiet Long

Evans' forward corner wasn't quiet long. The storm spilled along to the whole company front and half an hour later he had been wounded in the leg and in the chest. On he fought. He wouldn't give up.

It was his bren gunner, Pte. Ken Marsh, of Toronto, who reported the Chinese right among the Canadians. So Ross ordered Evans' man, too, back to the headquarters area.

Evans wanted to fight on right there and finally had to be carried out by Marsh and Pte. Bob Tolliver, of Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., his friend.

Around Ross' headquarters the men by then were four and five in slit trenches dug for one or two. They shared their ammunition and got what they could from another section, still holding out under Cpl. Archie Wabaska, of High Prairie, Alta.

Still the assaulting waves poured in.

Said Pte. Carl Deschamps, of Carleton Place, Ont.: "They would come up from a little hollow about 25 yards from the top, and in the moonlight they made wonderful targets."

Ammunition Almost Gone

The fight was carried on from there until almost all the platoon's last round was gone, and all its grenades.

Then Ross said: "We're out of ammunition, there's no use staying. Pick up the wounded. Let's go."

Lilley confirmed the decision and ordered him to fall back. The distance was 50 yards.

Deschamps saved a situation by hurling his bayonet at a Chinese.

Ulmer earned another moment by throwing his rifle, bayonet attached, like a spear into the body of an advancing Communist, knowing that he could rearm himself later with a weapon from one of the casualties.

While the others picked up what they could, collected all the wounded and carried them back to the main company perimeter, Ross and three others stayed forward to give them covering fire.

Ross and his runner, Pte. Dymytry Fodchuk, of Vancouver, fired from their slit ternches. And Ptes. Wayne Mitchell, of Winnipeg, and Marsh got up with their bren guns, and firing from the hip, held the still-oncoming hordes at bay. Mitchell remained in battle though twice hit in the face, and has refused to be evacuated as a casualty.

(But Mitchell apparently was forced to, later. He was listed in an Ottawa casualty list issued April 30 as wounded. His next-of-kin was given as his brother, Sherwood Mitchell, of Virden, Man.)

By morning the Chinese appeared to have had enough.

Said Lilley: "They just couldnt keep that up indefinitely without having to reorganize."

They fell back and the little bit of ground Ross abandoned during the night was effortlessly retaken in the morning.

Within inches and feet of the Patricias' trenches were 17 bodies the enemy hadn't carried away. Another 50 were found in hastily-scratched graves. More, together with the wounded, must have been carried away. The Chinese seldom leave casualties, and few dead on the battlefield.

Won't Register Manpower At Present Claxton Tells Commons

Labor Department Statistics Satisfactory But If Further Survey Desirable Pledges Government Will Undertake It

OTTAWA, May 10. (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton indicated Wednesday that he feels there is no need for a national registration of the country's manpower at the present time. Replying in the Commons to Opposition demands for an appraisal of the country's manpower resources, Mr. Claxton said appraisals made for a special purpose can soon become out of date. He added: "The Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Department of Labor have continuous appraisals, and I have been told that from most points of view the information they have is quite adequate for statistical planning with regard to manpower in this country.

"To have a further survey for this purpose may be desirable, and it may be done. That matter is being considered by the advisory committee on manpower, and if they report in favor of it, no doubt the government will see that it is done.

"But the information so far put before me from the point of view of planning—and we have planned it out for several years ahead—is that the information is fully available on which to do the job."

Mr. Claxton spoke during debate on his record $1,600,000,000 defence budget for this fiscal year. He replied to suggestions and accusations thrown at the government.

Answers Purpose

Noting that Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes V.C., (PC-Nanaimo) had charged that Canada's present method of recruiting is "haphazard," Mr. Claxton said:

"It is felt that the present system is working as well as anything we could devise. There is no evidence whatever that we are taking on men who should be engaged in industry. In point of fact we are not taking on as great a proportion of tradesmen as we would like to have.

"This matter is thoroughly worked out. . ."

Turning to other matters, Mr Claxton said Canada regrets the "failure" to standardize western arms and added that the most discouraging factor is that the United Kingdom and the United States can't even see eye to eye on arms they are adopting for the future.

He disclosed that the defence department has been looking for five years for a huge area—100 miles by 30—large enough to train army formations as large as a brigade. It has its eye on one in the east but it is hoped that brigades ticketed for overseas won't have to do winter training in Canada because much of the time would be spent shovelling snow.

Cheaper in U.S.

The US kept Canada's special force 25th Brigade at Fort Lewis, Wash., for $20,000 a day or $2.46 a man—cheaper than Canada could have done it herself. Canada would have had to spend millions to rehabilitate a camp to handle the training of the brigade, now in Korea.

Canada, he said, will be getting the most modern US tanks—Pattons—among the equipment being sent here to replace the two divisions of British-type equipment sent to Europe.

Providing Canada had a formation as large as a division in the field in any war, he could see no great difficulty about operating abroad with either US or UK arms because either one or the other of those powers—and likely both—would have large forces in the same theatre.

Mr. Claxton said original plans for production of military motor vehicles in Canada have had to be modified because the cost would be "fantastically high" per vehicle. Canada now would manufacture those vehicle parts she could turn out most economically and buy others from the US.

Referring to the Royal Canadian Navy, Mr. Claxton said it will be late this autumn before the first of Canada's new anti-submarine escort vessels are launched and it will be a "considerable time" longer before they are at sea. Plans to produce them were announced more than a year ago.

Prices Ease Quietly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 10. (CP) — Prices eased quietly as the session progressed on the stock market today.

Industrials slipped slightly with declines ranging to more than a point. Papers, steels, utilities, liquors and retail stores showed a majority of losses. Banks and constructions were firm and the rest of the board was mixed. Trading in the section was mostly featureless.

Base metals made an early moderate advance but soon lost ground. United Keno Hill, Quebec Manitou, East Sullivan, Falconbridge and Golden Manitou dipped fractions.

Western oils were off pennies.

Golds showed little trading or interest. Senior producers were mostly steady and quiet while a few secondary golds weakened.

President Bows To Police, Keeps '46 Constitution

PANAMA, Panama, May 10 — (AP).—President Arnulfo Arias bowed today to police and public pressure and agreed to restore the 1946 constitution which he scraped last Monday. By the action, he hoped to stay in office with police support.

Aria's decision came after a day and a night of rioting. At least three persons were killed and 110 wounded as angry crowds clamored for the president's ouster.

Panama resembled a dead city today in the wake of Wednesday's violence. Few persons ventured on the streets and transportation was at a standstill. Business houses and stores were closed.

The National Assembly, suspended by Arias, met in secret Wednesday night and adopted a resolution impeaching Arias. It swore in vice-president Alcibiades Arosemena as president.

The action apparently was nullified when the "strong man" police chief, Col. Jose Antonio Remon, said it had no right to swear in Arosemena since it technically was in recess.

Wait and See

"We will wait and see what the people's reaction is," Remon said.

Remon's statement indicated that the police—Panama's only army—would support Arias in office.

It was Remon who spearheaded the drive to retain the 1946 charter. He and the president negotiated for hours Wednesday night until Arias acceded to the police head's demands.

Arias remained in the seclusion of his palace, ringed by a police guard which Remon said was taking orders from the president.

The crisis arose after Arias issued a decree Monday replacing the 1946 constitution with the 1941 version drawn up when he held office before.

Panama City became a scene of raging violence Wednesday as anger over Arias' action reached fever pitch. Administration and opposition mobs clashed in the main square, where there was heavy shooting.

Big Industry Aids Growth Of Small Firms

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Big industry supplies strength and growth for small business, says Herbert H. Rogge, president of Canadian Westinghouse Co. Ltd., Hamilton.

He made this comment at a press conference in Toronto in which he discussed his company's plans for expansion.

"More than 10,000 small dealers in Canada are selling our appliances," he stated. "And some 6,000 suppliers sell us $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 worth of goods a year. Without small business we would have no business."

Bigger Plans

Mr. Rogge said the company's present expansion program will cost $10,000,000 or more, but it plans much more than that. The present program includes two new buildings at Hamilton, where the company has three plants. With another plant at Etibocoke (near Toronto), one at Three Rivers, Que., and a subsidiary (B. F. Sturtevant Co. of Canada, Ltd.) at Galt, Westinghouse manufacturing floor space equals about 12 city blocks. The company recently opened an office building and service department in Edmonton, and new facilities will be built at Montreal and Winnipeg.

The additions at Hamilton are designed to produce electrical apparatus, electronic equipment and supplies for the armed services and defence program.

"Canadian Westinghouse, like other key industries, is making every effort to meet Canada's defence needs," said Mr. Rogge. "At the same time, we are providing facilities to keep pace with the expansion of Canada's requirements."

Ask Confidence Vote On French Election Bill

PARIS, May 10 (AP).—Premier Henri Queuille today asked for another National Assembly vote of confidence—his ninth in three weeks—on his plan to hold general elections in June.

He made his request only a few hours after he received an overwhelming 410-to-187 confidence ballot. The vote rejected a Communist motion to delay voting on a bill to end the life of the Assembly July 4.

The new vote asked by Queuille will be on the bill itself.

20,000,000 Pounds Cheese Sold To UK At 30 Cents

BELLEVILLE, May 10. (CP)—Britain will buy at least 20,000,000 pounds of cheddar cheese from this Province, the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board announced Wednesday. The board said it had signed a direct contract with the British Food Ministry calling for delivery of the cheese at 30 cents a pound f.o.b. factory, plus two cents transportation to seaboard. The 1951 price represents a seven cent gain over last year's, negotiated through the Federal Government. It also is four cents above the floor price for cheese recently announced by Ottawa. The contract is expected to raise the price of butter and other dairy products in the province.

Butter usually sells at twice the price of cheese. The federal floor price on butter, now 58 cents, would have to be increased to 64 cents to maintain the normal ratio.

The Marketing Board also announced agreements with buyers for a domestic price of 36 cents a pound for first grade cheese, f.o.b. factory, 35 cents for second grade and 34 cents for third grade. Prices of ungraded cheese and cheese below third grade will be decided by the factory and the buyer.

At 9:30 o'clock on Wednesday night representatives of the Marketing Board were still negotiating in Belleville, with a five-man committee representing the trade on prices for domestic sale Producers were reportedly seeking 36 cents a pound

Plenty of room has been left for expansion in cheese production, since the British contract calls for 20,000,000 pounds from Ontario, plus as much more as can be produced Other provinces will bring the Canadian total for the British market up to at least 40,000,000 pounds

Ontario last year produced 69,000,000 pounds of cheese, but that was a low production level, and it is expected considerably more will be produced this year Cheese men noted that while Federal support prices were weighted in favor of butter, 58 cents to 28 cents—or more than the two-to-one ratio—the position had now been reversed Hopes of Federal agricultural authorities for heavier butter production were therefore liable to be upset

No Big 4 Parley Acheson Hints

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP). —State Secretary Dean Acheson said Wednesday the United States has about come to the end of its rope in negotiating with the Russians on terms for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting. His words implied that the whole project may fall through.

The Russians in their talks with American, British and French representatives at Paris are in effect demanding that the West suspend its defence program, Acheson said. He said that is too high a price for a Big Four meeting.

The aim of such a meeting would be to ease world tensions and try to make some progress toward real peace. Acheson said the US has presented plans for a conference which are the ultimate in reasonableness. But the foreign ministers' deputies are deadlocked over what Acheson called Russia's outrageous insistence on its own kind of arms reduction formula.

Acheson said Andrei Gromyko, Russia's deputy foreign minister, has taken the attitude that there can be no Big Four meeting unless his formulation of the arms reduction section of the proposed agenda is accepted by the other powers.

Dollar Down

MONTREAL, May 10 (CP) — The American dollar today opened at 5 15/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/16 lower than Wednesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 15/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.96⅞, down 3/16.

They are inquiring into Gen. MacArthur's dismissal and the Korean war policy differences behind it.

At the outset of today's session, Senator H. Alexander Smith (Rep. N.J.) quoted a statement made two months ago by Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway which said "It would be a tremendous victory for the United Nations if the war ended with our forces in control up to the 38th Parallel."

Smith asked if that wasn't the very kind of statement MacArthur has been criticized for making without first clearing it with Washington.

Marshall replied: "I don't think there is a sufficient of a parrallel there, Senator. We have for example, no general public discussions regarding the 38th Parallel so far as the commanders in the field and the government here in Washington (are concerned).

"There Ridgway was saying something to the encouragement of his forces."

In advance of today's session, Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) told reporters he thinks the testimony has shown the Truman administration is attempting to clap a "complete gag" on military field commanders.

In effect, Marshall already has discussed the charge of a gag. He said Wednesday that MacArthur was always free to argue with Washington over Korean war policy. He was fired, Marshall said, because he aired publicly his views, thus raising the issue of "what voice spoke from this country on foreign policy."

ST. ANNE'S SCHOOL

St. Anne's Parent-Teacher Association meeting was held at the school Monday evening. President J. P. Hallihan handed out copies and explained the proposed constitution drawn up for next year. Mr. Bert Davies, chairman of the nominating committee, gave his report and the floor was open for nominations.

Mr. E. Boland, principal, demonstrated the new film strip machine, which had been bought with money raised through efforts of the children with paper drives, white elephant sales and also by senior boys checking wraps at social evenings sponsored by the PTA. The film "Care of an Aquarium" was shown to demonstrate the value of films in education. Mr. Boland explained just how important films are in teaching social studies, science and religion.

Two other films, "Family Ties," and "Prince Edward Island" were shown.

Miss Belanger's room (kindergarten) won the attendance prize with 16 parents present.

Members of the social committee served coffee, sandwiches and cookies in the kindergarten room. The table was centred with a basket of yellow daffodils and yellow doilies carried out the color scheme.

Deny Requesting More UK Troops

PARIS, May 10 (Reuters). — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Atlantic Pact commander, has made no specific request to Britain for an increased contribution to the Atlantic Pact army, a spokesman at his headquarters said today.

The purpose of Eisenhower's visit to Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Norway, the spokesman said, had been to persuade them to increase their armed forces.

But no specific request had been made to Britain, since War Minister Emmanuel Shinwell pledged four divisions before the end of 1951. There had been reports that Eisenhower asked Britain for additional troops but had been turned down.

9 Soldiers Injured.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, May 10 — (Reuters). — Nine United States servicemen were injured during a race riot here Tuesday night after an American sailor reprimanded a German girl for talking to negro soldiers in a cafe. The girl told the sailor to mind his own business and then hit him over the head with a beer mug. That started a free-for-all between about 100 white and negro servicemen.

Special Session Hinted by Frost

LONDON, Ont., May 10 (CP)—Premier Frost intimated Wednesday that he will call a special session of the Ontario Legislature this summer to deal with legislation paving the way for all in Ontario over 70 years of age to receive old age pensions without the means test.

The premier in London attending the annual meeting of the Western Ontario Progressive Conservative Association said he expects the provincial house will meet probably in September.

Recently Ottawa and the provinces came to an agreement whereby the Dominion for the first time will share in the cost of old age pensions with the provinces.

The Ontario leader is hopeful that the higher pensions will be paid to the aged not later than January of next year.

Mr. Frost told a dinner meeting of the association that the nine-man advisory committee on forestry will meet "within a few days" to study methods of obtaining an integrated forestry program at the lakehead, where "there has been a great deal of friction between lumber and pulpwood interests."

Describes Plan To Pipe Gas From Alberta

MONTREAL, May 10 (CP) — Dr. G. S. Hume of the Federal Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, Wednesday told the 65th annual meetinng of the Engineering Institute of Canada of proposals to pipe Alberta natural gas to Toronto and Montreal.

Dr. Hume said a group of Texas operators have asked the Alberta government for an export permit to bring gas from Alberta as far as Montreal at a cost estimated at about $250,000,000.

Starting in the Princess area, the line would go eastward to Winnipeg and thence via Fort William, Port Arthur, and Sudbury to Toronto and Montreal, with a branch line to Ottawa. Various routes across the pre-Cambrian shield from Fort William to the vicinity of Sudbury are being investigated.

This pipeline, as proposed, would be 30 inches in diameter and capable of carying initially 365,000,000 cubic feet a day, increasing to a maximum of about 500,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Describing the proposed eastern line, Dr. Hume said that in addition to the gathering lines in Alberta, the main line to Toronto, which would be 30 inches in diameter, would be approximately 1,780 miles, but might be somewhat more, depending upon the route.

Toronto Line

The line from Toronto to Montreal would possibly be 24-inch, with lateral lines from Morrisburg to Ottawa, and from Toronto to Southwestern Ontario. The main line from the Princess area would thus not be less than 2,100 miles.

Company officials and engineers have stated that such a line can be built at prices competitive with present prices for fuel oil or coal, Dr. Hume said.

Summing up the merits of a natural-gas pipeline system in Canada, Dr. Hume said: "the building of a Canadian natural gas pipeline from Western to Eastern Canada could be as important a natural asset as was the building of the Canadin Pacific Railway across the precambrian area.

"Thus, national considerations in reference to the use of the great natural-gas resources which the prairies will ultimately have for disposal may be expected to have a considerable bearing on the ultimate decisions that will be made in reference to pipe line projects. The developments that will result from the utilization of the gas cannot fail to bring great benefits to Canada."

Youth 18 Convicted Of Manslaughter

TORONTO, May 10 (CP) — Richard Cosentino, 18, charged with the April 2 murder of his stepfather, Richard Shepherd, was convicted Wednesday on a lesser charge of manslaughter.

He will be sentenced May 11.

Cosentino's lawyer, Eric Marsden, said he would appeal the verdict.

Five Veterans Join Campbellford Legion

CAMBELLFORD, May 10 — (ENS)—Branch 103 of the Canadian Legion, BESL, met in the Legion hall. Five new applications for membership were accepted on motion of the members. These were John R. Connor, C. Alley, Wm. R. Holmes, Claude Nicholas and Charles Shaw.

An organization meeting will be held on May 15, at which time it is hoped the foundation for a Ladies' Auxiliary for the branch will be formed. The provincial president and provincial secretary will be present at this meeting to assist in the organization. It is hoped a large number of wives, mothers and sisters of the veterans will be on hand.

The board of trustees was instructed to look into the matter of what action should be taken regarding a new fence for Legion property. Comrade President A. MacDonald reported on the zone meeting held in Trenton recently, and notified the members that a district meeting would be held in Madoc on Sunday, May 13.

Volunteers were called for to be present on Thursday night for a painting bee, at which time the exterior of the hall will receive a fresh coat of paint.

Wants Canada Build Seaway

OTTAWA, May 10 — (CP) — Gordon Graydon (PC, Peel) said Wednesday the Canadian government should announce "at once" it will go ahead alone with development of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Speaking in the Commons during a debate on defence, Mr. Graydon said it now appears unlikely the United States Congress will act this year on a treaty providing for joint development of the seaway.

He continued:

"We have waited for years for the treaty to be ratified and implemented. No one in the United States or here could rasonably expect us to wait longer in this atmosphere of acute and compelling urgency. We should, in my opinion, go it alone."

Didn't Know Husband Had Divorced Her

VANCOUVER, May 10 (CP).—A Vancouver woman claimed in court Wednesday that she had lived with her husband for 11 years without knowing he had divorced her.

The claim was made as proceedings began to nullify the divorce of Mrs. Grace Irene Simpson from Albert Simpson, wealthy race track owner, who died last year.

Simpson left an estate valued at $275,000.

Mrs. Simpson claimed she knew nothing of the divorce until after her husband's death. The decree was granted seven months after their marriage 12 years ago.

Simpson died without a will and if Mrs. Simpson is not legally his widow—if the divorce is let stand—the estate will go to a daughter of a previous marriage.

However, if the court nullifies the divorce, Mrs. Simpson will share the estate with the daughter.

Army Fund to Help Finance Education

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP)—Veterans of the Second World War financialy unable to give their children vocational training may obtain up to $150 a child under terms of a new program announced Wednesday by the Army Benevolent Fund Board.

Applications to the Army Benevolent Fund may be made through the Veterans Affairs Department or branches of Veterans organizations and Welfare agencies.

Committee Calls Telegraph Officials For Evidence

TORONTO, May 10 — (CP) — Officials of three telegraph companies—the Canadian National, Canadian Pacific and Ontario Northland Railways — will be called to testify before the Ontario Legislature Committee investigating administration of criminal justice.

Attorney-General Porter, committee chairman, Wednesday gave instructions that the companies prepare to give evidence.

The order was made after W. H. Stringer, Provincial Police commissioner, showed the committee photographs of a gambling establishment in suburban Etibocoke township which had both telephone and telegraph outlets for transmitting horse-racing information to bookmakers.

The committee also announced recently that a responsible official of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada will be called to give evidence on the supplying of communications facilities to bookies.

In day-long questioning Wednesday, the commissioner said he felt every municipality in Ontario with its own police force should have a police commission "absolutely independent of local politics."

C. E. Janes, Progressive Conservative M.L.A. for Lambton East, urged that all weapons brought into Canada as war souvenirs be put out of action.

In answer to a question by William Houck, Liberal member for Niagara Falls, Commissioner Stringer said he knew of no OPP officer being paid for protecting a criminal. A few had been dismissed for taking bribes.

A Profitable Confession

Several of our contemporary newspapers are devoting columns of space these days to a series of articles called "How I Took The Stone of Scone" written by one Ian Hamilton. The Examiner was offered these articles, but we declined to publish them because we disapprove of what Mr. Hamilton did, and think that the word "Stole" would be more appropriate than the word "Took" in his title. Mr. Hamilton must be making a very good thing out of his exploit, but we feel no urge to contribute to his purse.

* * *

Let us consider briefly what Mr. Hamilton did: he broke into a cathedral, stole a relic, held it until it was plain that the police were after him, and then gave it back; he is now telling how he did it, for money. Now it will be argued that he stole the Stone in order to draw attention to a grievance which he felt had been done to his race; it will also be argued that the Stone has had no market value, and that taking it did not rank, therefore, as ordinary stealing—as if, for instance, he had pinched a pair of candlesticks or a cross from an altar. But the alleged high-mindedness of Mr. Hamilton's action seems to us to be cancelled out by his behaviour in writing—or perhaps merely signing—a series of articles which are being sold for considerable sums of money, soon enough after the robbery to cash in on its value as sensation.

* * *

A daring exploit, undertaken in a romantic cause, attracts our sympathy; when the exploit is immediately commercialized the exploit is cheapened and the cause tarnished.

Two Ways Of Doing Things

At the time of the transfer of power in India the Viceroy, Field-Marshal Lord Wavell, distinguished soldier with a brilliant war record, was replaced by Lord Mountbatten. It is now known that he was dismissed because he disagreed with the policy of his government. If Wavell's advice had been followed, British troops would have remained in India until the transfer of power had been safely completed. Everybody knows what happened. The troops were withdrawn hastily and the appalling massacres of East Bengal ensued, costing approximately 8,000,000 lives, over half the population of Canada. Yet Wavell carried the secret of his disagreement with the government to the grave. There were no press releases or statements to the House of Commons, no triumphal processions. He had tried to do his duty, and when he found that he could not conscientiously carry out his government's policy he faded away—quietly.

Long To Reign Over Us

There are disquieting reports that the King, whose tour to Australia was cancelled owing to illness, is suffering a recurrence of his old ailment. This may be just gossip, and Court gossip is no more or less reliable than other varieties; but if there is any truth in it we are deeply concerned. We would not be surprised if the news were true: the life of a modern constitutional monarch is one of continual devotion to duty, and His Majesty does not spare himself. Week in, week out, laying foundation stones, taking salutes, inspecting factories, and at the same time keeping in touch with affairs of state, his life is no sinecure. It entails a good deal of travel and a tremendous amount of standing, which cannot be good for his leg.

It is to be hoped that His Majesty will be guided by his medical advisers, and that they will dissuade him from undertaking too much. His recovery from illness which was so gratifying must not be followed by a relapse. His youthful appearance belies the fact that he is fifty-five years of age. We trust that he will be spared for several more years of single-hearted service to his people.

Food For India

The decision of the Indian government to wait until the next Canadian wheat crop before accepting a Canadian offer of $25,000,000 worth of grain on the grounds that present Canadian stocks immediately exportable are of low grade is hard to understand in view of the serious famine that is raging over many provinces of that country. In our view it would have been wiser to ship as much as possible at once in order to alleviate conditions.

The provision of Canadian wheat alone would only be of assistance in the North and West of India, where wheat is a staple crop. In other parts, where rice is grown, the people cannot be induced to change their diet even when they are starving. It is not merely a question of religion, as wheat is allowed by all religions, but the Indians are extremely conservative in matters of food and would in many cases rather die than change their diet. During a famine some years ago rice was imported from Burma which the Indians would not toueh as it was a different variety and the flavour was not quite the same.

This may seem very stupid on the part of the Indians, but we must remember that we too have certain prejudices in the matter of food. Some people in this country will not stomach brown-shelled eggs; in England on the other hand, white-shelled eggs were until the last few years spurned. It may be argued that few people would carry this to the point of death, but the prejudice against horse-meat is more deeply ingrained although it is tasty and nourishing, according to all accounts. The most deeply-rooted dietary taboo amongst civilized people is of course the prohibition of cannibalism. There was a recrudescence of this revolting practice during the last war, and few of the many horrors of that period caused a greater outcry than the reports of cannibalism amongst the Japanese troops and in the concentration camps.

The Hindus are vegetarians because they believe in the transmigration of souls; thus the eater of mutton or pork is in the same category as the eater of "long pig". We must not be too hasty in condemning their dietary practices because we happen to be bountifully supplied with food ourselves.

A Check On Premier Duplessis

Premier Duplessis of the Province of Quebec has been ordered to pay damages amounting to $8,123.53 to Frank Roncarelli, a Montreal restaurateur. It is not in his capacity as Premier that Mr. Duplessis has been fined, but as a citizen who had done Roncarelli an injury. The facts of the case are these: Roncarelli furnished bail for several persons of the Jehovah's Witness sect who had been arrested for illegally distributing pamphlets; Premier Duplessis ordered the Quebec Liquor Commission to cancel Roncarelli's license, which was done. The Liquor Commission behaved spinelessly, and Duplessis behaved tyrannously.

However, neither spinelessness nor tyranny can be punished unless there is some legal means of doing so. Such a means existed in this case. Roncarelli had not, in all his years as a restaurant and bar proprietor, violated any section of the liquor laws. Therefore he brought suit against Duplessis, and the Quebec Superior Court found in his favour; Mr. Duplessis' influence does not extend to the Superior Court. The damages are no compensation for the loss he has sustained as a result of Duplessis' action, but his moral victory is complete.

It is good to have this proof that petty dictatorship can be restrained, and that the abuse of high office can be punished. Mr. Duplessis has done a number of things which suggest that his concept of liberty is a narrow one, and his concept of his own powers agreeably vague. Let us hope that the Roncarelli incident has reminded him that there are limits even to the powers of a provincial premier.

Putting Teeth Into The Act

The British government's bill to make a charge for false teeth and spectacles supplied under the national health service has been approved by the Commons, and only requires the Royal signature to become law. As it is a money bill the House of Lords is not consulted.

We should imagine that these items are particularly useful in present-day Britain. The spectacles are necessary to make out the small spot on the plate that comprises the week's meat ration. Perhaps they should be rose-tinted, to ward off pessimism. The teeth need to be of specially stout construction to deal with the sinewy flesh of reindeer, not to speak of camel hump. If they are made with outsize fangs they would be just the thing for grinning savagely at government inspectors and snoopers.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Nature is still the cause of many of our great disasters, says the Brantford Expositor, referring to the recent earthquake in El Salvador. Yes, and human nature accounts for all of the others.

A bank official says that a dollar bill now wears out in nine months. We notice that all the ones which come our way have a fatigued look, as though they had not been able to go as far as expected.

A statistician says that if you wish to be killed in a railway accident it will be necessary to travel about half a million miles by train. The cost in fares and tips alone makes this an uneconomic form of suicide.

A wasp's sting is one-twenty-eighth of an inch long. As the Kingston Whig-Standard ruefully remarks, the wasp must be near the top of the list when it comes to making a little bit go a long way.

Musical Notes

by
PETER PIPER

LAST Thursday evening the new Royal Festival Hall in London, claimed to be the most scientificially designed concert room in the world, was opened in the presence of their Majesties the King and Queen. Ever since 1941, when Queen's Hall was destroyed in an air raid, London has felt the need for a really first-class concert auditorium. The only available hall for large concerts has been the Albert Hall, a vast circular structure erected to serve as a completion of a memorial to Albert, Prince Consort, the chief instigator of the 1851 exhibition. The Albert Hall resembles a covered in Roman amphitheatre and seats about 10,000. Unfortunately its acoustic properties are very poor: the Albert Hall echo is notorious for its echo, which has not been much affected by an immense ceiling of fluted aluminum which was installed a year or two ago.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE new hall, with its sleek modern lines is a great contrast to the old Albert Hall. A remarkable triumph has been scored in excluding noises from outside. The site of the building is next to a railway bridge over which millions are rumbled to and fro, and near by runs the Thames with its hooting tugboats. Nevertheless these extraneous sounds have been cut down to such a point that only the most delicate sound recording instruments can occasionally pick up a slight murmur that has passed through the double walls and double ceilings and various sound absorbents. In any case these occasional murmurs are much slighter than the noise made by the average concert audience even at its quietest. Exhaustive tests have also been carried out to determine that there is no echo problem, that the hall has an excellent "singing tone" and that there is a high measure of clarity. It has been possible to adjust the acoustic properties of the hall by means of altering the amount of sound absorbent devices in the walls and ceilings. Acousticians say that any concert hall is as much an instrument as the violins and flutes that play in it. It certainly looks as though Londoners will have for a long time to come a first-class instrument. If only we had something even on a small scale with good acoustic properties!

✧ ✧ ✧

TWO weeks ago I promised to say more on the subject of originality. I pointed out that there is no such thing as absolute originality, inasmuch as the bricks and mortar of the art of music, the time signatures, the scales, the instruments, and so on, were not invented by one single "original" genius, but are the result of hundreds of years of trial and error, of action and reaction. Even the most revolutionary of composers starts by imitating his forerunners before branching out into new paths. The early work of Beethoven is strongly reminiscent of Haydn and the earlier works of Schoenberg betray a strong Wagnerian influence. Debussy's youthful works are mostly in the style of Massenet, a composer with a considerably higher reputation in his native France than elsewhere. Instances of this sort of thing could be quoted ad infinitum. The young composer is usually subject to all sorts of enthusiasms, and it takes time for him to find his own style. He uses his forerunners as models, and as a stepping-off ground into unknown territory. Yet even in these earlier works the germ of the individuality that developed later can be discerned.

✧ ✧ ✧

SOME composers are obviously very "original." A man like Debussy who forged ahead and invented a whole new world of sonorities is a typical example. Yet originality does not necessarily consist in the invention of new chords. Of all great composers Handel probably contributed less than anyone to the development of music. He was content to take for granted all the music small-talk of the early eighteenth century. At the same time he was profoundly original. His most masterly strokes are monumental in their simplicity. Handel's originality is all the more remarkable for being so apparently effortless: his personality is so forceful and vigorous that the idea of being original did not probably occur to him—he was just himself.

✧ ✧ ✧

I FEEL that some of our younger composers are trying too hard to be original—in the wrong way. They are scared to death of writing anything that could possibly be called reminiscent of anybody else. As a result they are forced to write freakish, forced music. They are on the wrong track. Originality, like happiness, does not come by seeking it, it is a by-product of personality and displays itself in a hundred different ways. It cannot be forced—it either develops or it does not.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE recent CBC production of "Cosi Fan Tutte" caused me certain misgivings concerning the suitability of opera for the radio. I was disappointed at the drastic cutting: whole chunks of the opera were slashed wholesale in order to comply with the clock. I also found it difficult at times to determine who was singing. In this comedy of mistaken identity there is an unusually high percentage of concerted numbers, and while it would be quite clear on the stage it became puzzling over the radio. After all, opera is still, as the Italians of the seventeenth century called it, "dramma per musica" (music drama), not just a concert in costume. Another incident, the singing of the soldiers offstage which creates understandable alarm and despondency in the breasts of the two erring wives, missed its point entirely in the radio version. It is something that has to be seen as well as heard. This is the sort of thing that makes me wonder at times whether operas ought to be broadcast at all. On the other hand, radio reaches hundreds of thousands of people who would otherwise have no opportunity whatsoever of going to see a live opera. Yet I feel that there is a very real danger of broadcast operas giving an inadequate and even false impression to this vast audience of the delights of opera. The English translation of the libretto was good, though it was of necessity considerably less spicy than the original Italian. At all events it avoided some of the worst cliches of "Operese" that strange language that was never spoken by man or beast.

THE SOLUTION

Two German fishermen were trying their luck on opposite banks of the River Spree. The angler on the British Zone bank was pulling in plenty of fish, while the fisherman on the Russian Zone bank couldn't get a bite.

The German on the Russian side shouted in irritation. "How do you manage to catch so many fish while I get none?"

"Very simple," replied the man on the British side. "The fish over here aren't afraid to open their mouths."

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

Humble Pie Is Eaten

(MONTREAL STAR)

JOSHUA and his army brought down the walls of Jericho by marching round them blowing, if we remember right, on rams' horns. Aneurin Bevan and Harold Wilson have not found entry into the British Labour party's citadels of power quite so easy. The scene at Westminster, as the two rebels meekly voted against their principles yesterday, must have been on the ludicrous side.

Mr. Churchill and the Conservatives had brought in a skilfully worded amendment to the budget which cited the precise words used by the rebels when they explained last week that the lofty nature of their principles forbade them to support the Labour Government's financial plans. But, when the vote came, party solidarity looked better to them than the principles on which they had quit. They came to heel. Somebody had read the riot act to them. We suspect it was Mr. Attlee and Mr. Morrison who had weighed the rebels in the balance and found them wanting.

Thus the Labour party has weathered a bitter crisis but no one should suppose the trouble is over. Loyalty is an essential of the parliamentary party system and the defection of two ministers will not be lightly forgotten, particularly since what they did makes no real sense.

Both men sat in on the Cabinet deliberations which, in the first instance, worked out a greatly expanded defence program. Both men, in the second place, accepted the budget designed to pay for it. It was more than a week later that they suddenly discovered their "principles" and quit. It would have made sense if they had then raised the banner of revolt and broken clean.

A few days of reflection—coupled with the probable discovery that their following in the country was not what they had hoped it was—brought them back to eat a huge dish of humble pie. They will be viewed with suspicion by their colleagues for a long time to come. They have both become, moreover, men of diminished stature, reckless and erratic in judgement, not to be trusted.

These are mostly matters of British domestic concern. The failure of the Bevan-Wilson coup has, however, a wider significance. British influence in international affairs is to continue on its present solid course. As Mr. Shinwell, Minister of Defence, remarked, Britain will not fail in its obligations to the North Atlantic partnership. This is what counts. It would be a bad day for all of us if men like Bevan and Wilson—on their present record—ever took over.

Letters To The Editor

PETERBOROUGH A DRIVER'S NIGHTMARE

Sir: If there is a city in Canada which is a driver's nightmare, that place is Peterborough. It seems that every traffic infraction in the book is violated at the same time. People walk with the red light, race the yellow light, jay-walk in all directions, trucks double parked, taxis hedge-hopping and weaving, and you drive for hours to find a spot to park.

I have travelled all over Canada and have yet to find any place which remotely resembles the chaos and confusion.

Yours sincerely,
JOHN ANSON.

MAILS—PROGRESS?

Sir: From time to time one reads of comparison between mail services in various parts of the universe, so much so that I would wish to draw the following to your attention.

On the afternoon of April 27th an important letter was mailed in Toronto, to my address in Peterborough—same being delivered p.m. April 30th.

At 2.30 p.m. May 7th I received an air-mail letter stamped "2.30 p.m." from an address in N.W. England, and dated May 4th.

Seems our postal authorities have very little to brag about.

Yours etc.,
"READER".

LOST BET

A matron once boasted she could make President Coolidge talk. Cornering him at a dinner, she sought to make good her boast.

"Oh, Mr. President," she said, trying to disarm him with frankness, "I have made a bet that I can make you say at least three words."

"You lose," Coolidge replied.

Press Agents

(The Moose Jaw Times-Herald)

Most of the outpourings of the so-called public relations experts make pretty dismal reading, but among the most dismal of all must be the wholly stereotyped efforts of the movie industry's publicity men.

Last week a Hollywood press agent wrote for the 5,000th time a story along the line: "Even the gateman didn't recognize Gloria Glump when she reported to work in her makeup today."

The gateman story is one of the oldest publicity stories in Hollywood. It is probably older than movies. No doubt previous gatemen and stage guards failed to recognize Edwin Booth, David Garrick, William Shakespeare and even Aristophanes.

Despite the age of the gateman story, it still manages to see circulation in Hollywood every few weeks. And so do a variety of other hoary gimmicks that should have been put out to pasture long ago. Among them:

Announcement that a sequel is being prepared for a current picture. This item is obviously designed to publicize the current picture, while the producers seldom have any notion of making the sequel.

The selection of a 10-best or 10-worst list. Some of these are legitimate, but most of them are designed to promote some press agent's client. Look down the list for a name you've never heard of. That's the client.

The twosome. Some romantic linkings may have interest to some readers. But most of such items are designed to publicize the twosome or the restaurant at which they cavort.

The items about an actor and actress being introduced on the first day of a picture and then going into a torrid love scene, is tiresome.

Also overworked is cheesecake or leg art. But who's complaining about that?

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life... In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it was thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return. (Gen. 3: 17, 19.)

Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned: (for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law. Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come....For if by one man's offence death reigned by one: much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)

Therefore as by the offence of one judgement came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. (Rom. 5: 12-14, 17, 18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. (I Cor. 15: 22.)

PROOF

"Gus," said Bill, as he caught up with Gus on the way back to camp, "are all the rest of the boys out of the woods yet?"

"Yes," said Gus.

"All six of them?"

"And they're all safe?"

"Yep," answered Gus, "they're all safe."

"Then," said Bill, his chest swelling, "I've shot a deer."

Launch Drive To Back Report

TORONTO, May 10—(CP)—The United Church of Canada has launched a campaign to urge the Ontario government to override Roman Catholic objections to the Hope Report recommendations on education.

Dr. Gordon A. Sisco, secretary of the United Church General Council, in a letter to more than 2,000 United Church groups in Ontario, has urged that resolutions be passed by church authorities and letters be written by individuals to members of the Legislature and cabinet ministers asking that the recommendations be carried out.

The Roman Catholic hierarchy objects to the recommendation that the present two divisions of instruction be changed to three—elementary, secondary and senior grades. They believe the change would deprive Catholic students in Grades VII and VIII of two years of separate school religious teaching.

Five Picturesque Ships Pulled Off Lakes

DETROIT, May 10 (AP)—The Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company announced Wednesday it is pulling its five picturesque old passenger ships off the Great Lakes.

The century-old D & C has been operating mainly on runs between Detroit and Cleveland and Buffalo, with some excursions to other lake points. Only four vessels were running in the latter part of last season after the City of Cleveland III was damaged badly in a collision with a freighter in Lake Huron.

Death Rate From T.B. Lower In 1950

TORONTO, May 10 — (CP) — Canada's campaign against tuberculosis resulted in a reduction in the death rate from the disease in 1950, the Canadian Tuberculosis Association was told Wednesday by its executive secretary, Dr. G. J. Wherret of Ottawa.

The death rate shrank from 30.4 persons per 100,000 in 1949 to about 27 per 100,000 last year, he told the Association's annual meeting here.

The campaign was sparked by $30,000,000 in government grants and private donations. More than 2,500,000 persons across Canada received chest X-rays, and the number of hospital beds for tuberculosis patients increased to more than 17,000.

Dr. Wherret noted recent criticism of certain financial campaigns by charitable organizations and criticized a suggestion that such appeals be licensed by government.

Dr. Wherret said a new sanatorium has been opened at Corner Brook, Nfld. There also have been increases in facilities at St. John's.

New Brunswick has increased facilities at the Vallee Lourdes Sanatorium at Bathurst while Ontario has improved its position with new construction at Ottawa, Hamilton, London and Weston.

In Alberta the Aberhart Memorial Sanatorium at Edmonton will be ready late this year; the new sanatorium at Vancouver also is under way.

Guerrilla Warfare

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — (CP). — There is no letup in the bitter jungle fighting that has been waged in Malaya for nearly three years. British armed forces currently total 32,000 men, of whom 17,000 are united Kingdom troops, 11,000 are Gurkhas, and 4,000 belong to the Malaya Regiment.

Court Rules Rights Separate For Alberta Gas, Petroleum

EDMONTON, May 10 (CP). — The Supreme Court of Alberta Wednesday ruled in a judgment that natural gas and petroleum are distinctly different products.

The judgment is of great importance in Alberta, where unprecedented development of petroleum and natural gas is going on hand-in-hand.

George H. Steer of Edmonton, counsel for the plaintiff who alleged that peroleum and natural gas were different, said "the case will have a bearing on a great deal of land in the province which was bought without reservations against it in the early days."

But a high government official said the case will have little effect on most properties.

The official, H. H. Somerville, Assistant Deputy Minister of Mines and Minerals, said the Alberta Government hold title to 90 per cent of all the mineral rights ouside of Dominion parks in the province.

He said these mineral rights cover both peroleum and natural gas.

The judgment will concern only a small portion of the remaining 10 per cent of mineral rights, Mr. Somerville said. The government has taken over mineral rights on some of this 10 per cent for tax forfeiture under the Mineral Taxation Act of 1941.

High level sources said the judgment, handed down by Chief Justice W. R. Howson of the Supreme Court's trial division, almost certainly will be appealed, perhaps being the last Canadian case to go to the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

The judgment said that Michael Borys, a farmer, owned the natural gas within, upon and under his quarter-section of land in the heart of the rich portion of the Leduc oilfield, 21 miles south of Edmonton.

Defendants were the Canadian Pacific Railway, which sold the land to Borys' father, and Imperial Oil Limited, lessee of the petroleum rights to the land which the CPR reserved for itself when the sale was made.

The defendants maintained that by reserving the peroleum rights the natural gas also had been reserved

Mercurys Win Allan Cup Fight Way Back From Defeat

OWEN SOUND, May 10 (CP). —Owen Sound Mercurys climaxed a fight from the brink of elimination Wednesday night by defeating Fort Frances Canadians 3-1 to win the Allan Cup and the Canadian Senior Hockey championship.

The series went the full seven games before Mercurys ousted the Canadians, breaking out of a scoreless deadlock with three third-period goals.

The victory was a sweet one for Owen Sound and the capacity crowd of 2,300 fans. At one time, Fort Frances had led the series 3-2 and needed only one win to take the trophy.

Mercurys brought this Georgian Bay city of 17,000 its second national sports trophy in a year. Last fall the now-defunct Owen Sound Crescents won the Mann Cup, emblematic of Canadian senior lacrosse supremacy.

Five members of the hockey Mercurys also played for the Crescents. They were Harry Kazarian, Doug Gillespie, Bill Allum, Freddie Smith and Tommy Burlington.

Anybody's Game

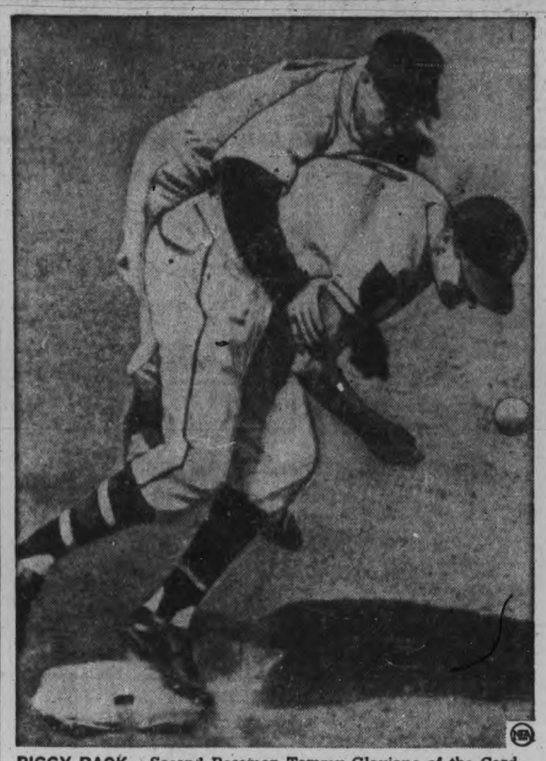
For two hard-fought periods Wednesday night it was anybody's hockey game.

Then at 3:26 of the third period Pat McReavy, working with Doug Gillespie and Hayward, caught the lower right-hand corner. Burlington scored on a passing play with Jack Ingoldsby seven minutes later and Mike Bukacheski made it 3-0 at the 13-minute mark, McReavy assisting.

Fort Frances fought back, but a solo goal at 14:30 by Ike Eizensoph was the best the westerners could do.

From then on, Mercurys checked the Canadians into the ice and provided blanket protection for the two-goal lead.

After the game, George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association presented the Allan Cup to team captain Pat McReavy. The John Ross Robertson Trophy, emblematic of Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" supremacy, was presented to goalie Bob Gillson by Tory Gregg, second vice-president of the OHA.



All games of the close series were played in Owen Sound, a fact which didn't meet with pleasure among Canadians.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Formal opening of the season at the Peterborough Golf Club is a week from this Saturday with president vs. vice-president team competition in the aft and dinner in the eve. Frank Jobbitt is club president, R. G. Maniece vice-prexy, T. A. Mackay secretary, other directors and committee chairmen including: G. H. Cutmore, O. A. DeGraw, G. H. Munro, L. G. Lawrence and C. R. Stacey. A busy season is scheduled right up to the last part of September, starting with Midland League play at Kawartha on May 26. Alf Hill is the new golf pro and he has a big supply of equipment in his shop, including a popular model of caddy cart. Starting May 12 for five Saturdays, he conducts a free group lesson for members under 16 years. Lesson is at 9.30 a.m.

* * * * * *

Free lessons also are being offered baseball and softball managers, coaches and umpires here Friday and Saturday this week. They meet at Riverside, with outdoor instruction at the Bowl and indoor films and lectures in the dressing room beneath the bridge. The two-day school is run off by the local Recreation Commission and the provincial Department of Education, with Barry Lowes of Toronto in charge of instruction. Open to those mentioned above from peewee managers up to and including senior, baseball and softball. A good chance to sharpen up on various phases of these games.

* * * * * *

Program For The School

It starts at 7.30 Friday evening with rules for coaches and umpires. Saturday at 9.30 a.m. it's analysis of fundamentals, dealing with the various positions on a team. Winds up Saturday aft with a 1.30 lesson on coaching aids and strategy. This is but a brief outline, as all angles are dealt with thoroughly, aided by a goodly number of films and film strips brought down by Mr. Lowes. These have been compiled by experts in the diamond sports and are bound to benefit managers, coaches and umpires, if they take in the two-day course and are anxious to improve themselves. Similar schools are being conducted in other centres about the province this spring.

* * * * * *

The registration of minor baseball players will be held next Monday and Tuesday nights at 6.30 in Morrow Park, and all boys of peewee age to junior, inclusive, who want to play ball should be on deck. No zone system this year, but the executive wants an accurate check on players to place them in their age groups—and it must be done these two evenings. The four peewee clubs will have a schedule drawn up shortly but the other groups aren't lined up as yet, and no action can be taken until the PMBA is assured of enough players. A good working executive has been installed and it's up to the boys now. Lights in Riverside and a strong senior Petes' team should encourage the youngsters to enjoy a fine season on the diamond.

* * * * * *

OLA Juniors And Seniors

Lacrosse fans are in for a large evening on the morrow down at Miller Bowl. It's "father and son night" and it's also a "meet the players' night". Meaning the junior and senior OLA gutted-stick performers, who stage an exhibition tilt after being introduced to the gallery. Presentations, a short peewee exhibition, a flock of draws for prizes, faceoff by Mayor Max Swanston, and other interesting parts to a snappy program assure the fans of lots of fun to start off the popular lacrosse season. Kids accompanied by adults get in free, and everyone gets a number of chances on good prizes. However, the main thing, we feel, is to get a look at the senior "A" Petes in action for the first time. It's a much stronger squad than last year, one with a real chance of taking the title this year. So, let's follow 'em right through from the start, eh?

* * * * * *

Prexy Bill Flint of the Girls' Softball League is calling a meeting for next Tuesday p.m. at 7.30 at his home at 47 Park St., south, to close entries and discuss general schedule plans. The loop will go thrice weekly under the arcs at the Bowl, starting May 28. Definite starters are Westclox, Ashby's, Marines and Woollens, with CGE practically certain, too. One more entry would round out a neat six-club circuit, and there's the possibility looming of working out an interlocking single schedule with the lasses of the Lakeshore League down Cobourg way. Some exhibitions may be arranged, as well, to help pay the rental of the park to the city.

2 Star Players Say Bean Ball Has Its Place

By JOE REICHLER.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP). — Does the duster pitch really endanger the life and limb of the batter? Should the bean ball pitcher be punished?

Recent protests have drawn attention to "high and close" pitching in the majors that has had batters going up and down like yo-yos. It came to a head when Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson deliberately bumped Sal Maglie after the Giants' pitcher had made him hit the dirt.

Enos Slaughter of St. Louis Cardinals and Eddie Stanky of the Giants, two scrappers who probably have been forced to "bite more dust" more often than their contemporaries, were asked their opinions.

"There's nothing wrong with the duster," was Slaughter's reply. "Why outlaw it? Just because a few panty-waisted cry-babies are afraid they might get their uniforms dirty?

"If these little Lord Fauntleroys think there are a lot of bean ball pitchers around today, they should have been playing around 10-15 years ago. Guys like Dizzy Dean, Burleigh Grimes, Freddy Fitzimmons would think nothing of sticking one in your ear.

Would Do Same

"Dusters never bothered me. I realize the pitcher is just trying to prevent me from taking a toe-hold at the plate. I would do the same thing if I were in his place.

"Heck, if I were a pitcher and I had two strikes and no balls on a long-ball hitter, you bet your life that next one is a duster."

Stanky echoed Slaughter's sentiments. The spunky little second sacker, who's been low-bridged "millions" of times, said he never once challenged a pitcher over the duster.

"That's his stock-in-trade," said Stanky. "Otherwise the batter would be gunning down his neck. I don't think there is a pitcher today who throws at batters maliciously—with an intent to hit him."

"Pitchers have been throwing dusters for years but it wasn't until the guy (Robinson) started crying that anybody took any notice of it."

Trophies for Winners In Major Bowling Loop

Trophies were presented the winners at the annual windup banquet of the Major Bowling League at the Kawartha Club to conclude a successful trundling season at Playfair. The event drew 160 bowlers and loop officials, and an enjoyable time was had throughout the evening's program.

Harold Legrow received the Cherney Cup for high average of 237 for the season, and he also won the Labatt Trophy for high three of 935 of the schedule. Doug Abraham took high single of the year and the Carling Cup for his 445 effort. Bickell's won the Ostrander Trophy as league victors, with Cherney's runners-up, then Caccavella, Edgewater, with Plazas and Wade's tied, these being the top six clubs in the circuit.

STINGRAY STUNG—A giant stingray, brought up from a depth of 60 feet by the buckets of an Auckland, N. Z., harbor dredge is proudly displayed by workmen. The ray, unpopular with sportsmen because of his reluctance to fight, burrows in the sandy ocean bed.

Bout Cut Short When Zaduk Hurt

HAMILTON, May 10 (CP).—The main bout of a boxing card between Danny Saunders of Hamilton and Mike Zaduk of Guelph was cut short at 58 seconds of the fourth round and declared a draw Wednesday when Zaduk suffered a head butt.

Up to the time referee Tony Brandino called a halt, Zaduk appeared to have an advantage. The cut over his eye was suffered just before he knocked Saunders out of the ring. The fight was scheduled for five rounds.

Alexander Cup Series Will End This Week

TORONTO, May 10 (CP).—The mid-May Alexander Cup finals between Toronto St. Michael's Monarchs and Valleyfield Braves will be ended this week, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ruled Wednesday.

George Dudley, the association's secretary-manager, said the remaining games in the major hockey championship series will have a two-game value.

That would mean that St. Michael's, who lead the seven-game series 2-1, with one game tied, could win the title in tonight's game in Montreal. A sixth and sudden-death game, if Valleyfield wins today, will be played in Toronto Saturday. The Monarchs defeated Valleyfield 6-2 here on Tuesday night.

Lopat Still Cleveland Jinx As Yanks Trip Indians 9-2

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer.

As long as Cleveland is in the American League, Eddie Lopat has a steady job. Since June 17, 1949, the chunky New York Yankee lefty is 10-0 against the Tribe.

With a lifetime 29-6 edge over the Cleveland gang, Lopat is money in the bank for Manager Casey Stengel.

Lopat's ability to flim-flam the Indians is one of the important reasons for Stengel's great success at New oYrk. He never was better than Wednesday night in his 10th straight success.

They criticized old Case last summer when he used Lopat and Tommy Byrne as pinch-hitters against this Cleveland team. But Wednesday night Lopat proved his batting power once more. He hit a three-run homer and drove in five Yankee runs in their 9-2 triumph.

Lopat now tops both majors with a perfect 5-0 record for the year although his string of 32 innings without an unearned run was snapped when Cleveland scored two in the fourth inning. Loser Bob Lemon, knocked out in the sixth, was followed by Lou Brissie and George Zuverink.

It was the Yanks' seventh win in nine starts on their first Western trip that ends today at Cleveland. They stretched their first-place American League margin to two full games and left the Indians in third.

Giants Clicking

The Yanks' victory probably was the most important of Wednesday's action, but New York Giants' 17-3 romp over the makeshift St. Louis Cards started more tongues wagging. Leo Durocher's crew now has won eight of its last 10 starts.

Throwing off the shackles of their horrendous opening slump, the Giants have climbed out of the National League cellar. With eight Cards bedded down by flu, the Giant sluggers ripped into Max Lanier and three "savers" for 21 hits. The hit and run totals tied the season high in both leagues. Sal Maglie curve-balled his way to his third striagh win with a five-hitter.

In the upper brackets of the National, Boston Braves took advantage of the Card collapse to widen their lead to two games. Vern Bickford allowed only two Cincinnati singles in winning his fifth straight 4-0.

Jim Konstanty, the Phillies' ace reliefer, picked up his first win after three defeats as the Phils took a 10-inning game from Pittsburgh 6-5.

Konstanty rescued Russ Meyer in the ninth with Pirates on third and first and one out. He forced Gus Bell and Ralph Kiner to ground out. Then he blanked them in the 10th while the Phils got to reliefer Joe Muir for the winner.

Clyde King tamed the Chicago Cubs for a 5-4 Brooklyn victory. A timely double by Cal Abrams scored two runs to break a tie in the sixth.

The American League got notice to expect the worst from Hal Newhouser from now on as the Detroit lefty shut out Washington 4-0, with seven hits. After three wobbly starts, the veteran ace has pitched two fine games in succession.

Philadelphia A's scored six in the 10th to drub St. Louis Browns 8-2 after tying the game on Eddie Joost's homer in the ninth.

The Boston at Chicago night game was rained ou.

Syracuse Chiefs Whip Baltimore 5-1

By The Associated Press.

Bruno Betzel's Syracuse Chiefs continued to set an amazing pace in the International [illegible]e. If they keep it up, B[illegible] go into the league's "Hall of Fame" as a manager who won pennants in three different cities. He already has done the trick at Montreal and Jersey City.

Buck Tanner turned in a four-hitter for the Chiefs Wednesday night to whip Baltimore 5-1 on a four-run eighth inning.

With one out in the eighth the Chiefs spurted on Ben Zientara's triple and Loren Babe's double. Two walks and Ed Shokes' single sent two more home. Carden Gillenwater scored from first when Shokes' poke got past Stan Hollmig in left field.

Rochester went 11 innings to shade Springfield 7-6 on an error by Jack Wallaesa, scoring Nippy Jones from third. Reliefer Bob Habenicht was the winner over Tony Jacobs. Earlier in the game Wallaesa homered for the losers.

Ottawa downed Toronto 7-2 in their first International League meeting at Ottawa in 53 years. George Bamberger, sent down to Ottawa from the parent New York Giants, coasted home with a four-hitter in his first start. Bobby Hofman, who also spent spring training with the Giants, led the 14-hit attack on veteran Russ Bauers with three doubles. Les Fleming of Toronto hit the only home run.

The Montreal-Buffalo game was postponed by rain.

BULGING NET—Owen Sound Mercurys forced the Allan Cup playoffs into a seventh and deciding game with a 7-4 win over Fort Frances Canadians in Owen Sound Monday night. The seventh game Wednesday night gave Owen Sound the Allan Cup. Mike Bukacheski sank one for the winners here with goalie Harry Barefoot flat on the ice after a goal-mouth scramble. Linemates Pat Reavy and Doug Gillespie, beside the net, both got assists on the play. Dunn Sampson, Fort Frances defenceman, (3) was caught out of position.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Part of Friday will be a civic holiday in honor of the Barrie Flyers who won the Memorial Cup and Canadian Junior A hockey championship.

Flyers won the best-of-seven final series against Winnipeg Monarchs in four straight games. They played the final game on Tuesday night and are expected to arrive in nearby Allandale about noon Friday.

Mayor Marjorie Hamilton Wednesday night proclaimed the holiday period 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the Chamber of Commerce plans a parade to follow the large float on which players and club officials will ride into Barrie.

At Sandown, England, North Carolina, a 50-1 American-owned outsider in the English Derby, came from behind Wednesday to win Sandown's Derby trial stakes at 1¼ miles.

North Carolina, running in the colors of Mrs. Josephine Hartford Bryce of New York, scored by half a length and paid 5 to 1. He was ridden by Harry Carr, the King's jockey.

North Carolina is one of two American hopes for the 1½-mile Derby May 30 at Epsom. The other is the 10-1 favorite, Turco II, owned by New York banker William E. Woodward.

At London, England's favored soccer team surged from behind in the last nine minutes Wednesday to nose out Argentina 2-1 in an international match played before 100,000 spectators on the slippery turf of Wembley Stadium.

With nine minutes to go, Stan Mortensen tied the score for England and five minutes later Jackie Milburn headed in the clincher.

The English all-Star soccer team Wednesday night beat the American League All-stars 4-0 at New York. The English team, en route to Australia, left later for San Francisco.

West Germany will take part in the 1952 Olympic games, Olympic Chancellor Otto Mayer declared Wednesday.

He said the West Germans participation did not depend on them reaching an agreement with the East Germans.

He added, however, that if current negotiations between the East German and West German Olympic committees—aimed at forming one unified committee—became "tragic, we have the right to withdraw our recognition of West Germany. I do not think this will happen."

Jerry Reid, 22-year-old Indianapolis centre, Wednesday was named winner of the American Hockey League's Jack Fox Memorial Trophy.

The trophy and a $300 cash prize goes to the player who best combines efficient playing ability with clean and gentlemanly conduct during games. The selection was made by the league's five referees.

Reid spent only four minutes in the penalty box while playing 69 regular season games. The six-footer from Owen Sound, Ont., an outstanding playmaker, compiled 68 scoring points on 17 goals and 51 assists.

The Canadian Rugby Union is buying a $12,000 tarpaulin to protect the University of Toronto stadium field for the 1951 Grey Cup finals.

Myer Insky, president of the CRU said Wednesday night the tarpaulin has been ordered from an Ottawa manufacturer.

The covering, similar to the ones used in the United States, will be made of a waterproof canvas, and is expected to be completed by October.

Make Backswing Natural, Strictly Vertical In Golf

By JOHNNY PALMER

Former Western Open Champion

Leave your horizontal swing on the baseball field.

The golf swing must be strictly vertical.

The easiest way to develop an upright golf swing is to allow your shoulders all the freedom needed for ease of movement.

Perhaps the simplest way to describe this motion is to point out that the left shoulder comes around under the chin on the backswing and the right shoulder comes around under the chin on the follow through.

Let me stress—be natural in your swing. Don't strain or get into uncomfortable positions.

If you do, you're making a mistake somewhere.

Relax.

Swing the club back slowly and easily.

As you do, your body will turn or pivot to the right.

The weight will be properly distributed.

The left knee will bend slightly.

The wrists will cock.

All this will be automatic with your backswing.

After a pause at the top, you start the downswing. It follows naturally that your wrists will uncock, unleashing their power.

The weight will shift forward to the left leg.

The hips will pivot—first to be square with the ball at the moment of impact, then to turn away from the flight of the ball on the follow through.

Any deliberate attempt to control, say the shifting of weight, will upset your grace and naturalness as well as your timing and rhythm.

As I wrote in the P. G. A. Teachers' Guide, relax, be natural and never hurry.

Next: Lew Worsham on the nine iron.

BACKSWING — Al Ciuci, Fresh Meadow's famous teaching professional, demonstrates how the [illegible] around un[illegible] backswing.

HART WINNER — Milt Schmidt, 33-year-old captain of Boston Bruins, has been voted the Hart Trophy, as most valuable player to his team, in the National Hockey League. It was the first individual award the Kitchener, Ont., native has won in his 12 seasons in the league. He was recently chosen as centre of the NHL all-star team. Maurice Richard, of Canadiens, placed second.

Hints On Sports

By FRED MAYBEE

PLAYING THIRD BASE

Third base is known as the hot corner of the diamond, and not without good reason

Many hard drives come to third territory with the result that the player at that position must be alert with a sure pair of hands. He must be prepared to get in front of solid smashes that come in his direction, field them cleanly, and make the long throw across the diamond or start a double or triple play at second or third base.

A hit through third particularly to the baseman's right, near the bag often goes for extra bases and may prove costly. Therefore, a guardian of the hot corner should study the batters and play near third and the shortstop should move over also on "pull" hitters who drive into left field generally.

Another important duty a third baseman has to perform is that of fielding bunts for himself as well as for the pitcher, if the latter is weak at it, and many are. With a man on first and less than two out, if a run is needed badly, most managers order the hitters to sacrifice by laying down a bunt. The object is to advance the runner or runners on base. With this situation up, the third baseman must move in a little towards home and be prepared, when the hitter bunts, to swoop in, get the ball and throw quickly to first base if he is unable to cut off an advancing runer at any other base. This is where judgment comes in; a player must size up the situation in a split second and act on instinct. If you have time, always cut off the advancing runner.

All players should ask themselves a question before the pitcher throws the ball, namely: "What will I do with the ball if it comes to me either on the ground or in the air?" Be prepared to act quickly and accurately. Don't get excited. Practise faithfully and master the details of your position. Nothing can take the place of practise. Get the gang together. Make your fathers and the men in charge of affairs in the town or city lay out playing fields for you and help them, too.

Next instalment: Outfielding.

Council Splits On Vote For Waterworks

Sacred Heart school made a clean sweep of all Separate elementary school events Wednesday at the exhibition grounds when St. Peter's High School and the separate schools held their annual field day.

Out of 20 possible events offered the pupils of grades seven and eight of the separate schools, Sacred Heart students finished first 13 times. This feat allowed the school to capture the championship with 59 points. The closest rival was St. Mary's with 34 points. The remainder were: St John's 16, Immaculate Conception 9; St. Alphonsus 4, St. Anne's 3, St. Peter's 0.

John Martyn highlighted the separate schools' competition with 12 points for the junior boys' honors. In the five events, 100-yard dash, high jump, running broad jump, relay and bicycle race he placed every time, chalking up three firsts.

Senior Champion

Leon Blodgett, also of Sacred Heart, became senior boys' champion with eight points by virtue of two firsts and a second in the relay, bicycle race and running broad jump.

Both girls' championships for the separate schools went to Sacred Heart. Shiela Theobald with six points for two firsts in the relay and bicycle race was the senior champion, and Mary McDougal, with nine points from the 60-yard dash, softball throw, relay race and bicycle race, junior champion.

Grade 13 students romped through the senior events for St. Peter's High School to win that championship. They collected 40 points in the 13 events. Grade 9C pupils easily ran through the junior high events for the junior championship, massing 49 points.

Bob Fitzgerald, Grade 13, edged Jack Richardson for senior high school boys' honors with 21 points. Fitzgerald ran up three firsts, five seconds and two thirds in the 13 events for the senior boys. Richardson featured in the 220-yard and 440-yard dashes winning both.

Led the Girls

Rosemary McMurray, a Grade 11B student, led the way in the senior girls' competition with eight points. She placed first in the 60-yard dash and the softball throw and second in the bicycle race.

Boys' junior championship for the high school went to Carl Simmons with 20 points. He placed first in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, running broad jump, rail toss, hop step jump, and the relay race.

The only tie in the field day was in the girls' junior championship won by Rosemary Jones and Joanne Kearns with seven points each. Rosemary Jones was first in the softball throw and relay race and third in the 60-yard dash. Joanne Kearns was first in the three-legged race with Marion Hobbins, and second in the bicycle race and 60-yard dash.

Just what the effects of new Canadian-United States tariff changes will be on Peterborough firms has not yet been gauged by Peterborough manufacturers. Most declined comment when asked Wednesday.

Articles made in the city that will probably be affected by the lowered tariffs are: canoes, paddles toboggans, packing boxes, oatmeal, rolled oats, cereals, and breakfast foods.

Reg. R. Faryon president of the Quaker Oats Co. of Canada, said all Quaker exports were handled by his firm's New York office, and tha he wouldn't venture a comment.

At the CGE, J. E. Girven, assistant works manager, said he had no time to review the tariff changes and could not comment.

Bert Cutmore, of the De Laval, said his firm would ont be affected, and spokesmen for other city firms had no comment to offer on the effects of the changes.

More than 400 articles of interest to Canada were included on the new U.S. schedule of concessions, which listed 750 items. Canadian exports to the United States of these goods in 1949 totalled about $120,000,000.

The changes were announced following talks in Torquay, England.

Pearson Has 4 Principles For Free Nations

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA—(CP) — Canada is expounding a four-point, keep-your-eye-on-the-ball policy as a guide for the free world in case the Communists spring any more "secondary aggressions" similar to Korea.

The view has been enunciated twice recently by External Affairs Minister Pearson, once in a speech, once in the annual report of his department on Canada and the United Nations.

The gist of it is this: the free nations still aren't strong enough, tough enough to be able to stamp out every aggression that may occur. They should govern themselves accordingly. They should "conserve their limited resources in order to be able to apply them where they are most needed."

And the main front for the free world, Mr. Pearson says, still is Western Europe.

In his address to the Ontario section of the Canadian Bar Association, the minister described the world as being "shared between two great super-states around which most of the rest of us gather in varying degrees of confidence or uneasiness."

Now that the Communist sphere had shown it is prepared to risk general war, the dilemma of how far the United Nations could and should go in enforcing collective security by military action in a two-power world had become acute. It first became acute when China invaded Korea and the dilemma still remained squarely before the democracies.

Big Problem

"We are still faced now more than ever with the question whether the United Nations should try to take military enforcement measures against a secondary aggressor when that action might either dissipate our strength in the face of the main aggressor or lead to a new world war in which our strength would be so dissipated," said Mr. Pearson. "What should we do if the potential aggressor should exploit the provisions of the United Nations Charter for the maintenance of peace everywhere in order to weaken us so that one day the peace cannot be maintained anywhere?"

Mr. Pearson went on to suggest that "the outlines of a way out of this dilemma are beginning to emerge." They would require the acceptance of four main principles:

1. In every situation, our obligation under the charter to do whatever we can to maintain the principle of collective security should be discharged . . . We must recognize unprovoked aggression, whether committed by great or small powers for what it is, and take appropriate action. This action may have to vary, however, according to circumstances.

Delay Condemnation

2. We should never formally condemn an aggressor until the fact of his aggression is clearly proven by impartial evidence, and until the mediator and conciliatory functions of UN have been exhausted.

3. Condemnation of agression does not mean that in every case economic and military sanctions must follow. The enforcement action to be taken against an aggressor must be related to the practicability of such action; to the general strategic and political situation, and to the possibility of such enforcement action weakening the peaceful and law abiding powers in other areas, thereby tempting another and a far more serious threat to the peace.

4. We should recognize our limitations in this way, even when condemnatory action has to be taken. There is nothing immoral in this. It is immoral, however, when passing resolutions at the United Nations condemning aggressors, to give the impression that they will be followed by strong and effective economic and military action, when we know that, in fact, such action will not or cannot be taken.

Scholarship Honors Prof. Harold Laski

LONDON —(CP)—The British Labor party has decided to establish a travelling scholarship as a permanent memorial to Harold Laski, who died last year.

An appeal for contributions to finance the scholarship has been made to all sections of the party.

Laski, a member of the Labor party's executive committee from 1936 until shortly before he died, was regarded as one of Labor's great theorists. His influence was particularly great among students.

His first teaching job was at Montreal's McGill University, where he lectured in history from 1914 to 1916. Later he went to Harvard and the London school of economics, where his impact was

Urges Oshawa Acc... Housing Scheme

OSHAWA, May 10 —(CP)—Oshawa should accept the Ontario government's offer to help finance a local housing scheme, T. D. Thomas, CCF member of the legislature for Ontario riding, told a city council housing committee Tuesday night.

Mr. Thomas said Premier Frost had offered a financing plan under which the federal government would supply 75 per cent of the cost and the province and city share the remainder.

"Houses were built in Ontario, but none of them through the efforts of Queen's Park," said Mr. Thomas. "Mr. Frost has offered a workable scheme for this community, and now it is up to those in authority to see if he is bluffing."

Sacred Heart Captures Schools'

LAKEFIELD, May 10—(ENS)—Lakefield's village council was divided Wednesday night over the issue of whether or not to vote again on the waterworks project.

Reeve W. C. Grant and Councillors K. Jakins and Al Fraser were in favor of the vote. Councillor Arthur Kingdon said he realized that water is necessary but he would not vote for water and sewerage as the village could not afford the expenditure. He added that he would like to see a petition requsting a vote signed by a number of responsible citizens.

Councillor Kenneth Morris was strongly against the waterworks project at the present time. He said that with present price conditions as they are the project was likely to finish costing twice as much as the 1946 estimate of $500,000.

A letter from the citizens' committee was read requesting a vote on the waterworks. It included a statement by Lakefield plumber, Ralph Millage, at the waterworks committee meeting on May 2 that only one residential plumbing installation was in the village properly vented and that could be connected to the sewerage system without venting alterations.

Considering this a matter of vital importance to the ratepayers with those installations the committee requested that council have the statement checked by a qualified inspector.

After a heated discussion Councillors Jakins and Kingdon moved that a letter be sent to the Department of Health explaining the statement and asking the minimum requirements for any residential plumbing installations in regard to venting whether it be for a septic tank or sewer.

Spring Fire Hazard Given High Rating In Trent Area

According to a bulletin released this week by the Department of Lands and Forests, the spring fire hazard has risen to a high rating in the Trent district which has required a constant vigil by towermen, periodic air patrols and general alert of the suppression forces. There have been no outbreaks to date. Officials feel that new green vegetation should spring up sufficiently within the coming week to alleviate the danger of fires running through dry surface fuels.

A comparison of last year's record shows that on this date there had been 17 fires. An extreme fire hazard had developed due to lack of rainfall and winds of hurricane force. These winds snapped transmission lines and stirred up the beds of old brush piles that had been burned under permit as much as two weeks previously.

Maskinonge Egg Collection

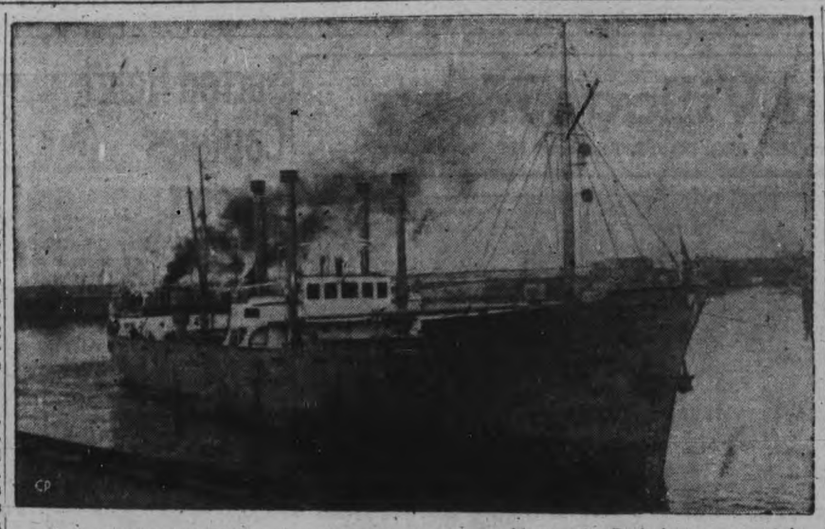
This past week saw the termination of maskinonge spawn-taking operations in the Trent District, the department reports. In spite of adverse weather conditions, the total collection amounted to some 4,500,000 eggs. As the eggs hatch, a number of the fry will be planted in hatchery ponds for rearing to fingerling size and the remainder distributed to suitable public waters.

Sucker Egg Collection

The successful rearing of maskinonge fingerlings is largely dependent on the amount of food available in the hatchery ponds. When approximately two inches in length, maskinonge fingerlings begin to feed on live fish and an unlimited supply should be available. In order to augment this food supply, the Department has been taking sucker eggs at several places throughout the Province. The fertile eggs are taken to Deer Lake hatchery for incubation and the resulting sucker fry are fed to the maskinonge fingerlings.

To date, some 2,750,000 sucker eggs have been taken in the Parry Sound district in the vicinity of Skeleton Lake hatchery.

The department is particularly interested in locating a late "run" of redfin suckers or June mullets—fish that spawn in late May or early June. District suckers spawn and hatch too early to be of much value in maskinonge fingerling production and the Lindsay office of the Department of Lands and Forests would appreciate any information concerning the above problem.



Speckled Trout Distribution

The distribution of speckled trout throughout the Trent District continues and has been greatly accelerated due to more normal road and stream conditions.

Open Seasons

Pickerel season opens officially throughout the Trent District on the date of Saturday, May 12.

In the counties of Durham, Northumberland, Victoria and Peterborough it is unlawful to troll or use any artificial bait from a boat until July 1. Anglers may fish from an anchored boat when using natural bait, only, such as worms, frogs or minnows. Artificial baits as well as natural baits may legally be cast or used from shore.

Synthetic Fibre Causing Concern To Wool Growers

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, N.Z.—(CP)—The threat to world wool markets from development of synthetic fibres is becoming a real problem for wool growers, suggests R. G. Lund, chairman of the International Wool Secretariat.

The Secretariat was formed in 1937 when wool growers undoubtedly had the threat of synthetic fibres in their minds. Lund, on his current tour of New Zealand, has been telling farmers that the threat today is much more serious.

Many new synthetics were being brought on the market, especially in the United States, and enormous sums were being spent to improve these products and to persuade the buying public that they are substitutes for wool. Lund says there is no real substitute for natural wool.

The powerful incentive for development of synthetics afforded by the present period of high wool prices may result in wool growers themselves being asked to make a greater contribution to the cost of research and promotion of the use of natural wool.

Big Budget

On behalf of the international secretariat Lund has placed before the wool boards of Australia and New Zealand the largest budget in its history. He said the secretariat feels that at this time its work must be intensified in all directions, especially in the fields of research and education.

Wool has become important not only to such producing nations as South Africa, Australia and New Zealand, but to the Commonwealth as a whole, he said, since raw wool is second to rubber as the largest dollar earner.

Lund was wary about the synthetic program. Asked if expansion of synthetics might mean an increased demand for natural wool for blending purposes, he said the whole purpose of blending synthetics with wool was to cheapen the resultant product. He believed the continued use of synthetics for blending with wool was likely to result merely in damaging the reputation of wool itself.

Otonabee Mill Rate Down By 3.5 Mills

KEENE, May 10—Tax rate for 1951 for Otonabee township was announced as 36.5 mills at the May meeting of Otonabee council.

The bylaw dealing with this matter received three readings and was passd stating that the following rates will be collected: county, 16.69 mills; township, 13.50 mills; general school grants, 6.31 mills.

This is a total mill rate of 36.5 mills as compared with the 40 mills in 1950. The Peterborough high school rate has increased from 7.40 to 10.73 mills while the Norwood high school rate decreased from 4.60 to 3.68 this year.

Township school area levy will be 5.57 mills. Sections 6 and 18 rates are 1.5 mills; sections 17 and 19 are 9.37 mills while sections 9 and 15 will have a rate of 5 mills. Separate school 8 will be 14 mills and separate school 17 will be 11 mills. There will also be a rate of 1.79 mills to apply on school area debenture debt.

Grants of $25 were given to the Millbrook, Norwood and Lakefield fair boards for 1951.

Donald Wood was given permission to erect six cabins and a restaurant adjoining his service station on Highway No. 7.

A by-law received two readings to incorporate school section 11 into the township school area. Third reading will take place when the by-law is approved by the Ontario Municipal Board.

The clerk and road superintendent were given instructions to see that the by-law to prohibit garbage dumping on township roads was enforced.

Leaders Discuss Care Of Gardens

The planting and care of gardens was the theme of the training school for leaders of Junior Homemaking Clubs in Peterborough county held at the Department of Agriculture Tuesday.

The school was conducted by Miss Jean Noble, home economist for Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland and Durham counties.

During the morning Librarian William Graff showed a film entitled "Garden Insects"

The value of food, especially vegetables and how they can be used and methods of canning, freezing and storage were discussed.

Literature and seeds were given to the leaders to be distributed to club members.

Those attending were Mrs. Edward Bowen, Cordova Mines; Mrs. Clarence Mann, Fairview; Eleanor Whitfield, Fraserville; Mrs. Clayton Fitzgerald and Mrs. Evans Blewett, Selwyn; Mrs. R. Hazeldon and Mrs. B. K. Sinclair, Bailieboro; Mrs. R. E. Drope and Mrs. Frank Stephens, Harwood; Mrs. Althouse and Miss King, Belmont.

Vietnam People Very Slow To Develop Independence

SAIGON —(Reuters) — Vietnamese generally are showing little enthusiasm for the state's newly won independence within the French union. After four years of war and devastation, the average Vietnamese wants only to be left alone to grow his rice and sell it at a good price.

The attitude of the masses toward nationalism in the Franco-Vietnamese occupied areas of Indo-China is in sharp contrast with that in many other parts of Asia which have won independence.

The toll of the prolonged war between the French Union forces and the Communist-led Vietminh forces has been as much responsible for the "pacification" of the country as the existence of the hundreds of army outposts that still dot the vast expanse of ricefields.

Neutral observers here describe the Vietnam government as a state administration rather than government. It has so far always been "hired and fired" by the Annamite Emperor, Bao Dai, the official head of state.

Want Change

But now those in and around his "administration" are anxious to change this situation.

According to usually reliable sources, three factors have prevented the Vietminh — which wants complete independence from France and is getting military aid from China to fight for it— from mounting a new offensive.

1 They need time to train and equip reinforcements in Southern China to replace their heavy losses in their last attack.

2. French Hell-cat and King Cobra fighter-bombers are playing havoc with their military concentrations and disrupting their difficult Tonkin mountain communication lines.

3. French Union forces are expanding and becoming better equipped with American weapons, setting a tougher problem for Vietminh strategists.

Spring Strategy

Further attacks this spring will undoubtedly again be aimed at punching a hole through the French Tonkin Delta defences. If the Vietminh cannot get through this year, some French officials believe they will become more and more dependent upon China. For the Tonkin Delta is their prospective reservoir of men and food.

They also believe that the Vietminh's Communist leader, Ho Chin-minh, will find it more difficult to retain Asian sympathy as a Nationalist if he is forced to rely more and more upon China.

For these reasons, this year appears the appropriate time for the French-sponsored Vietnam state to get on with political reforms and convince the rest of Asia that it is not just a "French puppet state."

France gave Vietnam this lead last December when she signed convention's extending Vietnam's self-governing powers to complete internal independence.

Most neutral observers consider that the attitude and activity of French officials in Vietnam since then indicate that France meant what she said in the conventions. But the Vietnamese have been slow so far in taking up where France left off.

Iceland Fields Too Short For New Planes

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Strategic Iceland's airfields will be almost useless for modern American heavy bombers and jet fighters until and unless they can be rebuilt.

None of the runways of the four fields constructed during the Second World War is long enough for handling fully loaded planes such as the B-36 or the swift jet fighters, an investigation Wednesday indicated.

But Iceland—where U.S. army, navy and air forces have landed under an agreement with the Icelandic government to help defend the island under the North Atlantic treaty provisions—has two other major functions in guarding against possible Russian attack across the Arctic:

1. As location for radar air raid warning stations.

2. As a base for submarines and surface craft patrolling the high Arctic latitudes on watch for airborne attackers.

Extensive harbor facilities, includuiung fuel storage dumps and unloading piers, were built by the U.S. during the Second World War and presumably are still usable after some repair and rehabilitation work.

Yugoslav Officials Deny Tito Shot

BELGRADE, May 10 (AP)—An official Yugoslav spokesman today termed "malicious and completely invented" a report in the Italian newspaper Il Tempo that Premier Tito had been shot and wounded in a recent assassination attempt.

The denial statement was issued here through the ministry of information several hours after the newspaper story appeared.

Organized Bandit Torpedo Eritrea's Self-Government

By OSCAR RAMPONE

ASMARA, Eritrea, May 10 (AP) The dreaded shiftas (bandits) of Eritrea are a major obstacle on the road to stable government marked out by the United Nations for this former Italian colony.

The UN General Assembly decided that Eritrea shall be united to neighboring Ethiopia under a federal government, with Eritrea retaining a great deal of autonomy.

Observers here, however, feel UN commissioner Eduardo Matienzo may be hard put to complete his task of preparing Eritrea for self-government and its new status by Sept. 15, 1952—the deadline set by UN—under the present conditions of instability and fear.

(The Ethiopian government has charged that continued bandit activity in Eritrea is caused by "certain elements" and their "foreign instigators."

(This charge followed published reports quoting the UN commissioner as saying "it would be impossible to transfer power to Eritreans as long as pro-Ethiopian shiftas were not eliminated.")

Daily Routine

The shiftas have scourged the country for the last five years, despite repeated campaigns by the British administration. Reports of shifta raids against Eritrean and Italian farms, of assassinations, robberies and holdups have become a daily routine.

This has brought Eritrea's economic life to a virtual standstill.

Official figures show that last year 260 Eritreans and 19 Italians were killed by shiftas. About 20,000 cattle were stolen and many farms burned and ravaged.

Out of 500 Italian farms scattered over 12,000 acres of land, in 1948, only 30 have survived. These have been transformed into fortresses to repulse the shiftas' frequent raids.

The campaign against the bandits is being carried out by two British battalions in co-operation with an Eritrean police force of 1,200 men. Although some success has been achieved, complete eradication of the shiftas still seems remote.

The bandits hit and run, retreating to rugged regions where pursuit is difficult.

College Education Costs More in Canada

MONTREAL, May 10—(CP)—A university education costs students more in Canada than in other countries, Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, said Wednesday night.

"A young Canadian from a family of modest circumstances has less chance of getting a university education today than a youth in any other country with which I am familiar," Dr. James told the annual meeting of McGill Associates.

He urged governments to participate in the cost of education because "work of the universities is of vital importance to the community and the government has not lived up to this responsibility in Canada during the last two decades, as far as the education of civilians is concerned."

Student fees in Canada increased from 36 to 40 per cent, and government grants fell from 40 to 29 per cent, he said.

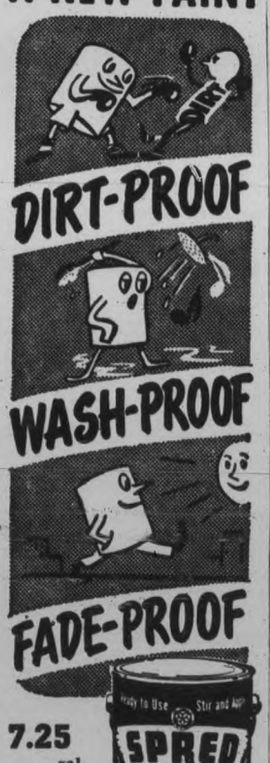
Expecting US Arms

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—The first large shipment of American arms for the Canadian army is expected to reach this country within the next week or two. It will allow the army to move ahead with the switch from British-type to U.S. arms and with the arming of the new 27th Brigade for Europe. Canada is shipping British-type arms to European allies. Enough for one Netherlands and one Belgian division have already gone and Canada is committed to arming an Italian division.

Up Income Tax

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—The Ways and Means committee of the House of Representatives voted tentatively Wednesday to increase individual income taxes approximately $3,000,000,000 a year. The raise would be three percentage points across the board, in each surtax bracket.

Beef Price Rollback



CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—The government's new beef price rollback program went into effect Wednesday. There were some cuts in wholesale prices but fewer animals were shipped to market. Retail ceilings will be rolled back four to five cents a pound Aug. 1 with another four to five cents slash due Oct. 1.

Kissing Bandits Given Life Sentences

MONTREAL, May 10 —(CP)— Kenneth and Albert Wingfield, known as the kissing bandits, kissed society goodbye Wednesday for the rest of their lives.

They were sentenced by Judge Oscar Gagnon to 17 consecutive life terms for 17 armed robberies in Montreal earlier this year. They pleaded guilty to all charges.

Their woman companion, Louise Montambault, 23-year-old unmarried mother of two girls, was sentenced to six concurrent two-year terms.

All three wept as they pleaded guilty to multiple charges of conspiracy and holdup.

The Montambault woman pleaded for clemency, claiming she had been drugged by the brothers when she helped them commit a bank holdup.

The Wingfields corroborated this, saying they put sedatives in her beer.

"She may have been your victim but she pleaded guilty to serious charges," said Judge Gagnon.

The brothers were dubbed "the kissing bandits" because they kissed two women bank employees during a holdup.

Says Lack of Funds Deters Health Group

GENEVA, May 10 (Reuters)—Dr. Brock Chisholm of Ottawa, director-general of the World Health Organization, said Wednesday the W.H.O. is facing its most crucial moment through lack of funds owing to constantly-rising costs.

Addressing the fourth World Health assembly, he said that unless a budget of not less than $8,500,000 is voted for 1952, the W.H.O. will not be able to fulfil its obligations and responsibilities.

"As it is, this year will not be one of progress but of regression, of retreat from our undertakings," he said.

Charge Tito Wounded In Assassination Try

ROME, May 10 (AP) — The newspaper Il Tempo said Wednesday night Yugoslav refugees reaching Trieste from Belgrade said Marshal Tito had been shot and wounded in a recent assassination attempt at his palace. There was no confirmation of the report from any other source.

According to the refugees, Il Tempo said, the attempt on Tito's life was "covered up" by recent reports from Belgrade that the Yugoslav chief was in the hospital after a gall-bladder operation.

67 Indictments

BOSTON, May 10—(AP)—A federal grand jury Wednesday returned 67 secret indictments in connection with a payroll-padding fraud at South Postal Annex. Postal officials disclosed recently the United States government was defrauded of $50,000 through falsification of time cards. One form of the scheme was for employees to hire other employees to punch their cards in and out while they were elsewhere.

Suffers Blackouts

PORT ARTHUR, May 10 (CP)—Police said Wednesday that Dorothy McGregor, 22, who survived a 125-foot plunge down the Kakabeka Falls, 20 miles west of here, told them she suffers from "blackouts." The girl, a clerk in a florist's shop, is being held on a charge of attempted suicide. She was remanded a week for mental observation.

Crude Slavery

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 10—(AP)—A special United Nations committee reported Wednesday that "slavery, even in its crudest form, still exists in the world." The report is the result of a study made by four experts. It goes to the U.N. Economic and Social Council for consideration this summer. The experts did not name the countries where crude slavery now exists, but other U.N. quarters said it was most widespread in Yemen and Ethiopia.

Discuss Deal

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 10 — (AP). — A Hungarian delegation will arrive here today to discuss with American officials the return of Hungarian property in Germany which was promised in return for the release of Robert A. Vogeler. United States high commission officials said on Wednesday the discussions "will involve certain vehicles removed from Hungary in 1945, cultural objects and other movable property of Hungarian origin of unestimated value."

Raps Wavering

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 10 — (AP). — Ernst Reuter, anti-Communist Mayor of Berlin, assailed Wednesday night the "wavering and shyness" of Western policy toward Russia. He said the danger to the world was the West's weakness, not the East's strength. Addressing a Frankfurt press club dinner in his honor, Reuter said, "I am convinced the Soviets will not go to war. I am convinced that as they see the West grow stronger they eventually will be inclined to giveg up what they cannot digest."

FISHING GOOD—Tired of hearing fishing in the Lake Simcoe district is poor, Mayor Charles Parker of Midland, cut himself a pole and headed for a nearby pool. Here he displays a 12-pound rainbow trout he caught. The fish measured 29½ inches. Record for Ontario is the 14-pound, four-ounce whopper caught near Sault Ste. Marie in 1935. Previous record for the Lake Simcoe area was 10-pound, four-ounce rainbow caught in 1946 in the Pine River.

Urges Hollywood Make Films In Other Spots

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 10 (AP)—"Get out of town before it's too late, my love."

The refrain of that old Cole Porter song provided the theme song for today's essay on the problems of the film industry. The trend is put out by a young man named Russell Rouse, a film writer-director and one of the creators of a new film called "The Well."

"The Well" was largely filmed in two small northern California towns. Rouse advises that other filmsters should do more out-of-town shooting if they hope to cure the ailing box office.

"The pictures business is in a strange condition now," he explained. "Even good pictures sometimes don't make money. The only sure money-makers are the very unusual and the very good films.

"I think that one reason for the public's lack of interest in movies is because people are fed up on the phoniness of Hollywood films. The glossy glamor of studio-made pictures is too far from reality. People know that life isn't the way it appears in the films."

Two Plots

Rouse and his partner, Clarence Green, aimed "The Well" to qualify as a "very unusual" film. They had been working on two subjects—one concerning a race riot and the other about a well rescue along the lines of the little Kathy Fiscus story. One day Green came up with the idea of combining the two plots into one picture. The fusion stretches the imagination, but is fairly logical and certainly qualifies as a "very unusual" subject.

The backers of the film urged that it be shot in Hollywood, but Rouse revolted.

"Of course, I could have shot it on the back lot of some studio," he said, "but that's just what it would look like—the back lot of a studio. No matter how skillful are the set designers, a studio street always looks phony."

Rouse went looking for a typically-American town.

After 15 days of checking, Rouse decided on Marysville and Grass Valley. He used local citizens for bit parts and extras. This resulted in economy as well as realism.

"We were getting sometimes 50 and 60 different camera set-ups a day," he remarked. "In a Hollywood studio, you're lucky if you get 10. As a result, we made a picture in a little over 21 days; it would have taken 50 or 60 to do correctly in Hollywood."

New Pipeline Bill Gets Second Reading

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP) — A new pipeline bill for incorporation of a company which plans a gas pipeline both to the west coast and to eastern Canada from the gas fields of Alberta, was given second reading in the Senate on Wednesday.

The measure, introduced by Senator G. P. Campbell (L-Ontario), was for inncorporation of Champion Pipeline Corporation, Ltd. Senator Campbell said the company would be backed by a Canadian group with the aid of a New York financial house.

Makes Daring Trip

TOKYO, May 10 — (AP). — Brig.-Gen. Crawford Sams, chief of the UN command's public health and welfare section, has received the Distinguished Service Cross for a daring trip behind enemy lines in Korea to check reports of widespread disease among Communist troops. The citation said the doctor made an amphibious landing in enemy territory the night of March 13. For 3½ hours, he gathered information on pestilence among the Communist forces.

Making War Weapons

DUESSELDORF, Germany, May 10 — (Reuters). — The Hoerster steel firm of Solingen in the British zone of Germany said Wednesday it is making bayonets of a type used by the British Army for a foreign country. It refused to identify the country. This was the first disclosure that war weapons are again being made in West Germany.

PUSAN, South Korea, May 10 (Reuters). — Lee Shi-yong, Vice-President of the Republic of Korea, resigned today in protest against corruption in the South Korean Government.

Scientists Study Mice In Forests

TORONTO — (CP) — Mice and their habits are being studied by the Research Division of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests working in the "wilderness area" of Algonquin Park. The tiny rodents have a good deal to do with the regeneration of forest land.

Research workers say that studies of habits and population figures are important because mice figure largely in the diet of many other animals. The mice feed largely on tree seeds and in this way work to some extent against forest regeneration. Department workers say that knowledge of their physiology and habits is important to all game management and forest operations.

One of the many research projects covers an effort to discover a suitable protecting material for seeds—especially coated seeds—to be used for reforestation.

Of hundreds of repellents tested to date, the forest specialists found that mice don't like tear gas.

Complete Sale Of Houses In Park Hill

Block of 250 Homes Bought Mostly By Former Tenants

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has sold the last of the 250 houses of its Park Hill Road project, John W. Wocker, manager, informed the Examiner today.

Buyers have been predominantly tenants, who have had first option on the houses they have been occupying.

To date, the corporation has sold 545 of its houses with no change in values since the purchaseable projects were offered in 1947. Other realty in the city has generally advanced in prices to buyers during those four to five years.

One effect of this multiple turnover of dwellings to private owners transfers them to the category of full and regular municipal taxes from the collective payments that were arranged by agreement with the city when the various projects were undertaken.

Up To Owners

Maintenance of the houses in good condition becomes the responsibility of their private owners, who presumably will continue the upkeep and painting and other details of repair where Central Mortgage leaves off.

The first Wartime Housing project of 81 houses at Burnham's Point, built on land leased from Peterborough Lumber Company, was sold to Eastern Trust Company, who have disposed of them to tenants and other private owners.

The block of 125 houses in the so-called race track project between High St. and Western Ave. has been sold except three which are still in tenancy.

The McKellar St. area block of 128 houses of both frame and brick veneer construction have also passed into private possession, except sixteen that will be prospectively unsold at the end of this month.

Five Unsold

Of the 100 houses built on Brioux Ave. and elsewhere for ex-service men, in 1947-48, it is expected that all will be gone from Central Mortgage hands by the end of July. At present only five remain unsold.

Mr. Wocker's office still has 452 houses listed in their files. They are the block of 12 dwellings on the Hatton property at the west end of Charlotte St.; the 226 of the 1948 project and the final 100 houses that were laid down in 1949 in the concluding agreement with the city. They are west of Monaghan Road.

As previously mentioned, the purchase values of the houses were set in 1947. Buyers are asked for a down payment of 10 per cent, and the instalment payments approximately amounting to the previous rent charges, include principal and interest on the capital invested, taxes and insurance, spread over a maximum period of 25 years.

Hopes of successive city councils in their negotiations with the government's Corporation have been substantially realized in these purchases and transfers.

Plan To Build New School On Reid Street

Trustees of the Separate School Board have tentative plans made for a new elementary school to be built near St. Peter's high school.

Property has been bought between St. Cecilia's convent and Brock St., on Reid St., for the site of the new school.

Need for the school became apparent to the board as accommodations at St. Peter's school became more crowded.

No estimate on the cost of the new building is available, as the board has yet to consult with the architect, and after that, call for tenders.

Two British Adjudicators For Kiwanis Music Festival

"Three exceptionally high calibre adjudicators, and a large number of entries both from the city and outside centres promise to make the 1951 Peterborough Kiwanis festival an outstanding success." This statement was made today by W. M. Gemmell, chairman of the festival committee.

The 5th annual Peterborough Kiwanis Club Music Competition Festival will be held at Murray St. Baptist Church May 15-22.

"Festival plans are progressing according to schedule," Mr. Gemmell continued. "This year, for the first time, we have been fortunate in securing the services of two British adjudicators, who are specialists in their respective fields. The festival committee believes that these two men will do a great deal in raising the standard of the festival. Their remarks should prove both beneficial to the entries and interesting to the attending public."

Gordon Thorne, B.A., Mus. Bac., F.R.C.O., L.R.A.M., and John Clements, F.R.C.O., will adjudicate the music classes and the verse speaking classes will be adjudicated by Miss Irene Fairclough, L.R.C.T.

Successful Careers

Mr. Clements and Mr. Thorne come to Canada with extremely successful careers recommending them in England. Mr. Clements' studies included violin, pianoforte, composition and voice. He has been associated with the festival movement in Great Britain and the British Broadcasting Corporation. Mr. Thorne is a music graduate of Christ's College, Cambridge, and also studied piano, organ, composition and conducting at the Royal and Trinity College of Music, London. This is the first visit to Canada as adjudicator for both these men.

Miss Irene Fairclough, who is adjudicating verse, choral and public speaking classes has had wide training in this field not only in Canada but in the United States. She is at present teaching at the Hamilton Conservatory. She has been associated with the Tampa Little Theatre, Florida, and the Little Theatre at Los Gatos, Long Beach, California, where she was assistant director of the annual pageant there. She has been an adjudicator at numerous festivals throughout Canada.

District Well Represented

The festival program reveals that outstanding musicians, including vocal, instrumental and choral groups are included in the more than 600 entries in this year's festival. Approximately one-half of the total entries are from communities outside the city and one sixth from the town of Port Hope.

A large number of entries have been received from Cobourg, Norwood, and Lindsay. More than 30 of the competitors will represent Toronto. Peterborough entrants are competing at all classes.

One of the outstanding highlights of the festival is the opportunity given to choirs competing in the Peterborough festival to try for the city of Lincoln, England, trophy. The award was presented to the Canadian Music Festivals by the Lincoln Music Festival, England.

The festivals which will qualify for this award in 1951 will be Toronto, Kingston, Chatham, Peterborough, Fort William-Port Arthur, Stratford, British Columbia, Calgary, Manitoba and Saint John.

The trophy will be awarded by the choral adjudicator on the chain of Canadian music festivals for the best adult choral performance at the festivals at which he is adjudicator. At the conclusion of the tour of festivals, the adjudicator will inform the Canadian Federation of Music Festivals the choir winning the award which will be announced at the annual general meeting of the federation.

Salary Wrangle Comes Before Joint Meeting

WHITBY, May 10 (CP).—The Whitby district school board will meet the Ontario Teachers' Federation to discuss proposed salary increases, it was announced today.

The Whitby board recently came under fire by the Federation when it refused to grant across-the-board pay boosts to four of its 13 teachers. The board also refused to meet with the Federation.

Three of the four teachers involved in the dispute have since resigned.

FLY-IN THEATRE

Patrons of Peterborough's outdoor theatre on the Lakefield highway had more than the picture to talk about Wednesday night. Harry Oakman, local aerial photographer, decided to be "first in Canada" with a novel stunt. With one passenger in his light airplane he landed on the Drive-In Theatre grounds; he taxied up and took his place without any fuss or ado alongside some wide-eyed motorists. The speaker was installed in the airplane and reception was reportedly tops. As a form of salute drivers honked their car horns loudly. And there's now talk about the Oshawa Flying Club making a group descent to take in a show.

Halt Talks Until Workers Back

McRae Says Company Won't Condone "Illegal Stoppages"

Contract negotiations between Canadian General Electric Company and the CCL International Union of Electrical Workers will not resume until 400 office workers in Peterborough and Toronto return to their jobs, a company spokesman said today.

The office workers were suspended Wednesday for two days by company order for "unjustified absence."

Their union is seeking a general wage increase of 19 cents an hour, plus a five-cent cost-of-living bonus. CGE production employees, represented by a rival union, the Independent United Electrical Workers, recently accepted a contract giving smaller increases.

At 4 p.m. today, representatives of IUE local 567 from the Davenport works will meet here with members of the Peterborough local to decide a course of action.

In a letter received today by the office workers Works Manager Ian F. McRae re-iterated that the company had not threatened any employees with dismissal unless they returned to work.

"Contrary to union statements, the company has not informed any employees that they would be discharged unless they return to work," he said. "The company hopes that all employees will return to work on Friday and that negotiations may then be resumed if that is the wish of the union. I am sure that all employees realize that a proper agreement is only reached by the parties conducting their dealings in an orderly and lawful manner."

Mr. McRae warned that the CGE cannot condone a continuation of these "illegal work interruptions." And he hinted at possible counter measures.

Illegal Stoppages

"The company hopes that it will not be forced by the union persisting in this practice, to institute proceedings under the Labor Relations Act for these illegal stoppages and require the imposition of the penalties which the Act provides for the union and the employees concerned."

Tentative agreement had already been reached on many contract items, said Mr. McRae, including a new salary schedule. But on Monday, he said, the union withdrew the tentative agreement. The offer ranged from $3.60 to $6.84 a week, plus a $2-a-week cost of living bonus. This would be the equivalent of 14-22 cents an hour for the 40-hour week.

In addition, said Mr. McRae, the escalator clause allows the employees an extra 40 cents a week for each 1.3 rise in the cost-of-living index.

Still unresolved, according to Mr. McRae's statement, were the effective date of a new salary schedule, overtime premium, and some details of the cost-of-living adjustment.

After Monday's talks the two parties, particularly because of the disagreement over a salary schedule, were further apart than before, Mr. McRae intimated.

Truck Skids To Stop On Foot Of Small Boy

A large lumber truck skidded and stopped on the foot of three-year-old Jerry Glover, 292 Simcoe St., as he ran across Stewart St. between Charlotte St. and Simcoe St. Wednesday afternoon.

The youngster has a badly bruised foot from the ankle to the toes, but X-rays revealed no bones were fractured.

Truck driver E. W. Godfrey, 61 Robinson St., was able to stop just before he hit the boy. He had been driving north on Stewart St. when he saw the boy run out from the east curb on an angle toward the north. He slammed on his brakes and skidded to a stop just in time.

Constables John Conlin and Patrick Gillis investigated.

Gasoline Stolen From Dep't Truck

Thieves, in the dark hours of Wednesday morning, broke into the Department of Highways garage on the eastern edge of Norwood and stole 15 gallons of gasoline. It was drained from the tank of a department truck.

OPP Constable J. G. Healey who investigated found that nothing else had been stolen and there had been no attempt by the thieves to damage property inside the building.

Entry was gained by scaling a 15-foot wall where a window was left unlocked. The lead thief then unlocked a door so his companions could get in.

LAC J. H. Pickett First In Class

CLINTON, May 10—LAC John Harris Pickett, 454 Wolsley St., Peterborough, was graduated on Wednesday as honour student in his course at the RCAF's Radar and Communications School, Clinton, it was announced today by the Commanding Officer. LAC Pickett, who graduated as a Communications Technician Air, stood first in his class and obtained a "Distinguished Pass" mark of 85.6%.

LAC Pickett joined the Air Force in January 1943 and trained as a pilot at Centralia. Upon graduating with his pilot wings he was sent to Summerside, PEI where he instructed student pilots until his discharge in September 1945. On March 13, 1950, LAC Pickett came back into the Air Force.

The Commanding Officer of RCAF Station, Clinton, commended LAC Pickett highly on the standing achieved in his course.

Received Goods Stolen From Car Police Say

William Nicholson, 26, 263 Townsend St., was charged in police court today with receiving stolen vacuum cleaner equipment and remanded to Friday on $500 bail.

Nicholson was arrested Wednesday in Etobicoke, a west suburb of Toronto, and was brought here for trial.

Saturday night, April 28, city police received a report that the car of E. E. McNab, 308 Burnham St., was stolen from his laneway. In the McNabb's car, was about $400 worth of vacuum cleaner equipment used for demothing rooms and other work.

The car was found the next day on Albert St. but the equipment that had been in it was gone.

City Council Will Discuss Proposal To Celebrate Statutory Holidays Monday

Both Workers and Management Favor Weekend For Holiday, Require Resolution To Government

Statutory holidays such as May 24 may be celebrated on the nearest Monday in Peterborough instead of the day they happen to fall on. Mayor Max J. Swanston said he would bring the matter up at the next meeting of the city council. If the council approves, a resolution will be sent to the Federal Government in Ottawa asking it to approve the shift which would mean long holiday weekends for workers in the city. "It would be a good thing for Peterborough," the mayor said. He pointed out that this year May 24 falls on a Thursday. That means that industrial plants would close down Thursday, open up Friday and close down again for the weekend. Mr. Swanston said he believed most plant managers felt that it hardly paid to open the plant for the one day in between.

May Shift Holiday

It is believed some industrial plants are considering shifting the May 24 holiday to Friday, giving their employees a holiday from Thursday night to Monday morning.

If the suggested new scheme were in force, the holiday would be automatically held probably on Monday, May 28.

Mayor Swanston said he believed almost all owners and managers of businesses in the city would be in favour of having long holiday weekends instead of having statutory holidays chopping up the working week. There is little doubt that workers would much prefer the long weekend.

The mayor commented that if all municipalities and chambers of commerce and similar organizations would petition the government, it would be more likely that some action would result.

He explained that although the city council had power to proclaim a civic holiday, it could not change a statutory holiday without the permission of the dominion government.

The mayor of Ottawa is seeking the approval of his board of control to approach the government on the same issue. If the board approves, a delegation will meet a federal government spokesman to get the government's reaction to the proposal. Depending on the outcome of that meeting, the board of control may seek the approval of the city council to petition the government.

The federal government has already received two other separate proposals for a change in statutory holidays to the weekends. Last year the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Manufacturer's Association presented the Secretary of State with a brief urging the adoption of the new holiday plan.

A private member's bill is already before the house outlining such a plan and has received first reading. But it may get no further during this session because the house may prorogue before there is time to deal with it.

The suggestions put forward by all parties is that Easter, Christmas and New Year's holidays remain unchanged.

Survey conducted by the Board of Trade in Montreal reports that an overwhelming majority of manufacturers and business men in that city favor the holiday weekend plan.

Several other Canadian cities are conducting similar surveys.

Entrance Class Parents Visit Collegiate

More than 190 parents of the grade eight pupils of Peterborough's public schools visited the collegiate Wednesday night to see the programs available for their children in the fall. Approximately 270 students from the city's grade eights are expected to enter PCVS' grade 9 for the 1951-52 term.

Howard Moebus, director of career planning, described the five courses, general, industrial, home economics, commercial and the terminal, offered the grade 9 students. The parents were then taken on a tour of the departments.

The rooms included on the tour were electrical laboratory, woodworking, construction, machine shop, drafting, school office, library sewing, typing, cooking, model office and art rooms. In each room there was an adult worker from an allied field of work, the teacher of the subject and some graduating students in that field of work.

During the last week in June the pupils of the grade eights in the city and county elementary schools will visit the collegiate. After being shown through the school they will decide what course they want to take. Classes for the fall will be formed and the students told what books they will require.

JELL-O IMPERIAL

A colorful, delicious dessert with party manners—yet it's economical and easy enough for any day!

1 package Raspberry Jell-O
2 cups hot water
1 banana, sliced

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Set aside ⅓ cup. Pour half of remainder into mould, chill; when firm, arrange banana around edge of mould, pour in other half of cold liquid Jell-O, chill. When the ⅓ cup Jell-O is slightly thickened, set in bowl of ice; whip fluffy, pile on firm Jell-O in mould. Chill. Unmould. Garnish. 6 servings. For large mould, double recipe—but use only 3½ cups water.

or JELL-O FIESTA

Chill Strawberry and Lemon Jell-O in separate bowls. When firm, break into small flakes with fork. Pile Strawberry Jell-O flakes in one side of dessert glasses, Lemon Jell-O in the other. Two of Jell-O's seven wonderful "locked-in" flavors in one gorgeous dessert, that can be enhanced if you like with any fresh fruit. 8 to 10 servings.

or PEACH TINGLE

Make it in minutes! Dissolve Cherry Jell-O in 1 cup hot water. Add ½ cup cold ginger ale. When slightly thickened, fold in 2 or 3 canned peach halves, diced. Chill. Such a quick, easy, flavor-filled dessert—equally good with other fruits. 5 servings.

or CABBAGE-APPLE SALAD

Marinate ½ cup shredded cabbage in 4 tsps. vinegar, ½ tsp. salt. Fold into slightly thickened pure fruit flavor Lemon Jell-O, with 1 cup diced red apple and ¼ cup chopped walnuts. Chill in individual moulds. May be served with lettuce and mayonnaise. 6 servings.

or JELL-O FRUIT SQUARES

Arrange 6 drained canned pear halves in shallow pan; sprinkle with chopped nuts or candied ginger. Cover with slightly thickened, pure fruit flavor Lime Jell-O; chill. Cut in squares. 6 servings. Remember — only Jell-O gives the most entrancing colors . . . the most delicious flavors!

or ORANGE MOSS

Dissolve 1 package Orange Jell-O (the flavor is pure fruit!) in 1⅓ cups hot water. (Yes, Jell-O dissolves in water that's hot, not boiling — retains more flavor.) Add ½ cup orange juice, 2 tsps. grated orange rind. Chill. When slightly thickened, set in bowl of cracked ice; whip frothy, adding ⅓ cup undiluted evaporated milk. Chill. 8 servings.

Instal Officers At Havelock H & S Meeting

HAVELOCK, May 10 (ENS)—The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh conducted the installation ceremony for the officers of the Havelock Home and School Association, all the officers being re-elected.

They are: President, Mrs. H. J. McNeely; vice-presidents, Mrs. L. J. Harrison, Mrs. B. Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Donald Kirk; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Anderson; Wilde, G. Hubbel, H. Pollock, D. Wilde, G. Hubbel, H. Polock, D. Scott, J. Calnan.

Mrs. D. Scott presented the auditors' report which showed that the association closed the year with a bank balance of $110.

The secretary's report showed that the one money-making project, the amateur night, was a real success. There was an enrolment for 1950-51 of 32 members. Nine meetings were held with an average attendance of 20. The association had assisted the Women's Institute in sponsoring the oratorical contest for grades 7 and 8 pupils of Havelock and district by donating prize money. A donation of $10 had also been given for commencement awards. Other activities were the entertaining of the teachers to afternoon tea in June and the mothers of the beginners' class were also entertained at afternoon tea in September. A training school for members of the executive committee was conducted by Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Chambers of Peterborough, district chairman and past district chairman of the H and S Association. Founder's day was observed, as well as the 14th birthday of the local association.

Mrs. L. H. Cooke, health convener, reported health topics had been given at seven meetings and films had been used. Mrs. F. McKay, program convener, and Mrs. G. Hubbel, membership convener, reported.

Mrs. W. J. Cornell, reporting for the literature department, said $37.85 had been paid out for literature, and explained the different magazines and subscription rates.

Miss P. Belt of the High school staff was the guest speaker, taking as her subject "Falsehoods" and the problem this presents to parents and teachers.

A vocal duet was sung by the Misses Lorraine Thompson and Dorothy Graham, and a piano solo played by Mrs. D. Scott.

For the health topic, Mrs. L. H. Cooke distributed safety check lists among the members on which points were awarded for every item that could be answered "yes."

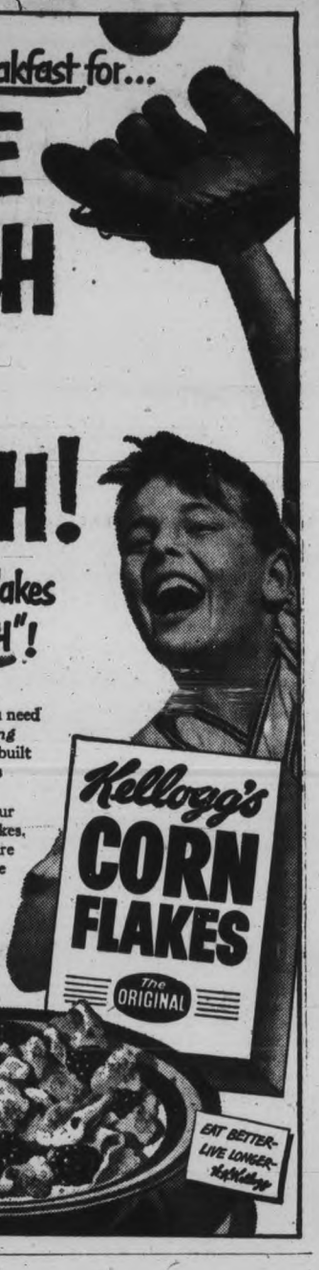
The attendance shield and prize of $1 were won by the High school and presented to Miss Belt by Mrs. McNeely.

MECHANICAL IMMIGRANT — Leons Ziemanis, 100,000th displaced person to enter Canada since the Second World War, wants to become a mechanical engineer. He listened carefully as engineer Elmo Hall of Halifax explained the operation of the big C.N.R. locomotive when Leons arrived in Halifax. Along with his family, Leons came to Canada through the help of the International Refugee Organization.

School Board Promises Vote On Addition

LINDSAY, May 10 —An acute accommodation situation in Lindsay's south ward has prompted the Public School Board to notify the Town Council that it plans to call an immediate vote on building a two-room addition to the South Ward School.

John R. Wilford, secretary, in a letter to the Council, said that the promise to call an immediate vote did not constitute an ultimatum, but was made because the situation is so acute.



The School Board pointed out that it was re-affirming its stand for the two extra rooms. It maintains that a census of the children who would be starting to school in the next two or three years indicated that there is going to be a shortage of space in the school by 1952. The proposed project is to cost $35,200.

The letter was filed without discussion by the Council.

Montreal Says Ads Enticing, Homes Elusive

By STEWART NEBBS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL —(CP)— Housing shortage in Montreal? It may not appear so from the weekend ads but footsore home hunters, trying to find something to fit the small man's budget, say this town is as badly off as any for housing.

This is the case depite a building splurge since the end of the Second World War which outstrips anything Montrealers can recall.

With May 1—traditional moving day in Quebec—less than a month away, signs already are liberally posted throughout the city proclaiming in both languages that living quarters are available—at a price. If the price is right, usually something else is wrong.

For instance there is the five-room apartment in the town of Mount Royal, badly in need of repair of course but the landlord will re-decorate at $45 a room. He wants $110 a month for it. And the tenant undertakes to let the janitor have right of way through the apartment at all times as he goes and comes from his room in the basement.

In $100 Class

For $100 a month you can have a heated 5½-room apartment. But it's nearly 20 miles from town. Closer in town the same thing rents for $130. Or you can have 4½ rooms close to Mount Royal for $10.

The average-pay white collar worker just skips over these ads and it's true—you can find five rooms listed for $66. The catch is you must buy the furniture in the flat, or maybe the landlord doesn't want children; or may be there are extras to be charged for the refrigerator and stove.

Then, there's the "cheaper" range—$50-60. The catch here is that these places are usually unheated and consist mainly of 2½ or three rooms. You can add a good $10 a month for heating.

For $65, if you're lucky, you might get a heated, three-room flat. Of course, you pay the water tax and you'll probably have to buy an electric range because "these new places aren't equipped with gas."

For those who have the price there are nice four-room apartments with all the trimmings for $200 to be had within walking distance of Montreal's business section.

Rental agencies say there are still many apartments accommodating two families. They don't hold out any great hope that things will improve in the immediate future for persons seeking moderately-priced accommodation.

Drain and add together with 2 tablespoons of the drippings to the "Cream of Wheat" mixture. Mix thoroughly. Separate egg yolks from egg whites. Beat egg yolks until light. Add hot mixture and mix well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased 1½ quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 40 minutes or until firm. It Just Seems like everyone's talking about Personal Planning these days. Not only are my friends intrigued by this new system of family financing, but I frequently hear it being discussed on streetcars and buses, too. Folks are beginning to discover that it works. As Margie said the other day — "You don't go uselessly wishing for more income when you've discovered what Personal Planning can do for the income you have!" Yes, you'll find that Personal Planning is wonderfully rewarding in making your money go further — do more. Why not try it? Pick up a copy of "PERSONAL PLANNING" at your neighbourhood branch of the BANK OF MONTREAL today and find out how perfectly—with this system of money control — you can tailor your income to suit your needs and wants.

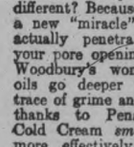
Hungry As Bears are the youngsters when they come racing in from school! And no wonder! Research shows that a normal, healthy child burns up almost twice as much energy as a hard-working man. And that's why HORLICKS is so good for your children! For it's an extra-energy food drink that practically doubles the energy-value of milk, makes it easier to digest. You see, Horlicks is a balanced food made from full cream milk, plus nutrients of wheat and barley, modified by enzymes to increase digestibility. Your whole family will benefit from drinking Horlicks — so ask for it at your drug or food store next time you shop!

Discovered — a blob of butter on friend husband's jacket — and just before he has to hurry off to that important meeting. What to do? Why just use ENERGINE CLEANING FLUID. For Energine gets rid of grease spots in a jiffy . . . leaves no tell-tale rings nor lingering odour. It's grand, too, for removing fresh paint, tar and chewing gum. Energine has no caustics nor acids . . . perfectly safe to use on even the most delicate fabrics. What's more, it won't affect the colour of fast-dyed material. So, be prepared for those little accidents that will happen and keep Energine on hand . . . "saves the day"—saves cleaner's bills, too. As little as 25c at drug and department stores.

Oops! . . . there comes the rain — just after you've washed your car! But that's no cause for worry when it's so easy to wash it again with that grand C-I-L SPONGE! And I'm sure your husband will agree that a C-I-L Cellulose Sponge is the handiest thing he ever used for washing the car! Those large, flat surfaces speed up the job and it's velvet-soft when wet—kind to the finest finish. So economical, too! Tough and durable — and so long-lasting! When squeezed damp, it can be used as a chamois. Ask for a large-size C-I-L Sponge at department, drug, variety, grocery or hardware stores. That C-I-L label is your assurance of quality!



My Little Cabbage was the hit of the dinner! Imagine an everyday vegetable like cabbage winning compliments! I, in turn, pass the compliments on to SUNKIST Lemons — because they made the vegetable. Until you've tried it you won't believe the difference that a dash of tangy lemon juice can make. Here's all you do — Cut a small head of cabbage into eighths and boil 10 minutes . . . then blend ¼ cup melted butter and 2 tablespoons of Sunkist lemon juice, and pour it over the cabbage. Serves 4 — and, my it's good! You'll serve cabbage for party fare when it's dressed with Sunkist Lemons.

Here's Something You Can Be SURE Of! One of the most economical and delicious desserts you can make is a JELL-O PUDDING. Many's the time I've pleased the family's sweet tooth with a creamy Caramel, velvet-smooth Vanilla, flavourful Chocolate or rich Butterscotch Jell-O Pudding. And for just a few cents a serving! Jell-O Puddings are marvelous time-savers, too, and make desserts that can be prepared in a matter of minutes. And when you want a specially good tapioca dessert, don't forget the Jell-O Tapioca Puddings — Orange Coconut, Vanilla and Chocolate.

A Shade For Every Summer Mood . . . and that's not all this marvelous nail lacquer has! It's perfumed! Yes, truly—the new PERFUMED DURA-GLOSS NAIL LACQUER is as fragrant as a summer garden . . . as lovely as a May moon. Do try it! . . . you'll be thrilled with the way the perfume is excitingly evident when the lacquer is dry on your nails! There's one thing I'm very sure of . . . Perfumed Dura-Gloss Nail Lacquer is going to be "part and parcel" of my summer wardrobe. It gives me ten lovely salon shades to choose from . . . and, of course, there's that wonderful Dura-Gloss durability! Think Cleansing Creams Are All Alike? So did Rosalind Russell 'til she took the "tissue test" and discovered that there's really a difference! Even after a thorough cleansing with her regular cream, Rosalind found that WOODBURY COLD CREAM floated out hidden dirt! Why is Woodbury so different? Because it has Penaten, a new "miracle" ingredient that actually penetrates deeper into your pore openings. Penaten lets Woodbury's wonderful cleansing oils go deeper to loosen every trace of grime and make-up! And, thanks to Penaten, Woodbury Cold Cream smooths your skin more effectively, too! Do you really think your face is clean? Try the tissue test and be sure! . . . Buy a jar today — 20c, 40c, 70c, and 1.00.

I've Learned My Lesson! Yesterday I forgot to order the family's favourite breakfast-food and today we had a mighty gloomy breakfast . . . with no QUAKER PUFFED RICE — no QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT. I'll never forget again — that's certain! You see, Quaker Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are "turn-about" treats for us. Their fluffy, crisp, different flavours are just right for early morning appetites. Try these Quaker breakfast treats tomorrow morning. I'm willing to wager your family will love them, too! You might like to serve Quaker Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice in different ways on different days — sometimes with fresh fruit on top — sometimes with maple sugar or raisins. They're delicious no matter how you serve them!

Film Studios Work Overtime In Search For New Starlets

HOLLYWOOD — (CP) — The film factories are working overtime to turn out a new line of Cinderellas.

This has long been one of Hollywood's most popular commodities—the beauteous young girls with graceful forms and stars in their eyes. Legs and pretty faces have always sold well, but there were two main periods of Hollywood history when such products reached peaks.

The first came when a group of film press agents started naming the Wampas baby stars in 1922. The Wampas (Western Associated Motion Picture Advertisers) continued this practice for a decade until it broke up, largely because of studio politics.

Dozens of the Wampas baby stars first won recognition by being chosen for the honor and became big stars. Among them: Clara Bow, Joan Crawford, Joan Blondell, Anita Louise, Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young, Marion Nixon, Patsy Ruth Miller.

The next great period of youthful sex appeal in Hollywood came during the war years 1941-45. This grew out of the need for entertainment films and for GI pin-up pictures. Among the stars developed during those years were Betty Grable, Rita Hayworth and Jane Russell.

More Serious Era

The industry seemed to retreat from cheesecake during the post-war years. Pin-ups were considered "undignified" by some spokesmen, and producers were intent on films attacking the world's problems. Also, the Hollywood depression cut down contract lists, eliminating most of the young girls whose legs might bring them stardom.

The cheesecake output has increased recently, and there are signs of a full-scale revival. The reasons for this new upsurge:

1. The need for pin-up girls for a new army.
2. The return to entertainment pictures in an effort to cure an ailing box office.
3. The demands by theatre men for new personalities.

These three elements have brought renewed activity to the movie mills. Talent scouts are scouting for fresh teen-age talent. Press agents are pressing for new stunts to publicize the newcomers. Photographers are busily photographing young lovelies on the sands of Santa Monica.

Festival Mural Depicts Women's Activities

LONDON—(CP)—When visitors to the Festival of Britain visit the country pavilion at London's south bank exhibition they see an immense original piece of needlework that tells the story of an average English Women's Institute.

On to a background of pale green Hessian cloth thousands of pieces of brightly colored materials of many kinds have been appliqued.

It was designed and executed principally by Miss Constance Howard, needlework teacher at the Goldsmith's College School of Art, with the help of 10 of her students.

In the extreme background of the panel a vilage is shown. In the foreground is the interior of the institute hall where members sit round a table making handicrafts. The faces are skilfully worked to show representative members with hair of different colored wools. The figures are shown in relief and their clothes are typical of the country—tweeds and knitted garments.

Handicrafts shown on the table—samples of patchwork, cross-stitch, basket-work and leather-work—have been made at various Women's Institutes and sent to Miss Howard to put on the panel.

An amusing cookery demonstration is depicted with pieces of jet used to represent currants in a cake. In another spot the Institute choir is seen practising and another group of women is listening to a lecture. The flower show gave the needlewomen an opportunity to make many brilliant blooms, while the Institute jumble sale has an array of of bright, assorted garments.

Prepared for you from the WORLD'S CHOICEST COFFEE BEANS

Choicest coffee beans from the world's finest plantations are selected for preparing *Nescafé. First the coffee beans are freshly roasted. Then the coffee is brewed and the soluble coffee solids, the part that contains the aroma and flavor, are extracted and carbohydrates are added solely to seal in all the coffee goodness.

All you do is just measure one teaspoonful right into the cup—pour on boiling water—and stir. One taste and you'll know why more people drink Nescafé . . . for pure coffee enjoyment. No fuss or bother—no wait. More economical, too, than ordinary coffee making. You save up to 40c a pound when you enjoy Nescafé.

DOROTHY DIX

That Green-eyed Monster Jealousy Is Said Curable

DEAR MISS DIX: Many of the letters which you answer in your column contain the problem of the jealous wife or husband, and always you say, "Jealousy is incurable or hopeless." I have often been tempted to write you of my own experience, and at last, I'm going to do it.

Dorothy Dix

When I married I shortly became one of those insanely jealous wives. My husband could not speak pleasantly to a woman acquaintance he met on the street without my going into a green-eyed tantrum. At parties his naturally friendly attitude toward the women sent me into a cold and hateful mood. This continued for the first three or four years of our marriage, during which time my husband gradually became more and more resentful and was being slowly alienated from me. I knew I was wrong, but when an attack of jealousy struck, I was helpless before the emotional storm that broke over me.

Then one day I sat down and faced the fact that either I must conquer my jealousy or lose my husband. I decided to try reading myself out of it. At the Public Library I chose at random a book on psychology and for the next two and a half years I never passed a day without a daily dose of psychology, psychiatry, or philosophy for the layman. There was no sudden miraculous cure. I had man backslides. Sometimes I only raged inwardly, and ocasionally the old monster got me completely in his clutches but eventually there was a day when I was no longer jealous.

It Takes Determination

So you see, there is a cure for jeolousy if the afflicted one knows that the trouble lies within herself (or himself) and has determination enough to keep on with the treatment until she knows herself to be cured. My husband and I have now been married for seventeen years, and are very close and devoted to each other.

ANSWER: There are indeed times when it is a pleasure to be wrong, and I say "Hallelujah" to the writer of this letter. Jealousy is one of the bitterest emotions; it sears the souls and warps the minds of its victims. It is usually senseless, for it is an unfortunate anomaly that those most beset by Jealousy are those with least cause to harbor the green-eyed monster. So often the woman with a loving and faithful husband is the one who waits with suspicion if he is five minutes late coming home from work, or views with vile thoughts a pleasant greetng given in passing to another woman. If the problem is faced objectively a strong will and determination to be cured can work wonders—as it did in this case.

A woman who wants to cure herself of jealousy must begin by facing the problem squarely, then building up her faith in husband or sweetheart. The methodical reading adopted by L.B.B. can easily be put in practice by anyone. Libraries are available to all and expert guidance in book selection will gladly be given by the librarians—a doctor or spiritual adviser could also be of great help in this matter.

If jealousy is your problem, start now to greet your husband with a smile when he comes home, instead of nagging and cross examinations. Keep your faith in him high, and undertake a reading program that will help you better to understand your trouble and point the way to a solution.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 29 years old and my hair has been rapidly turning gray, and has now reached the hideous stage where it is no color at all. Twice I have had it dyed. It was very nice and my husband liked it, but I am by nature open and frank, detest deceit and don't like to go under false appearances. I am supersensitive in regard to my hair and don't know what to do. What shall I do?

MRS. F. Z.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER Dyeing your hair is no moral issue. It is a matter of taste. Nor does it deceive anyone. If you look better with your hair dyed, for heaven's sake go on and do it. It is a matter of virtue for every woman to be as attractive as she can. If your conscience balks at dye, get over the intermediate stage of turning gray by having your hair bleached. Gray hair with a young face is often startlingly beautiful.

Auxiliary Served Afternoon Tea

Afternoon tea served to the guests of the graduating class and the nurses in St. Joseph's residence drawing room Wednesday was carried out beautifully, under the handicap of an exceptionally large crowd attending the commencement exercises.

President Mrs. P. J. Anglesey and members of the Ladies' Auxiliary had arranged the tea room in most charming manner to honor the graduates. On the table was an exquisite lace cloth, hand crocheted by a German [illegible] while in concentration camp, and recently presented to the Sisters of St. Joseph for use at such social functions.

An outstanding floral arrangement on the tea table was greatly admired. It consisted of lovely stocks of pink snapdragon, white carnations and dyed blue carnations and spikes of tiny white hyacinth petals. Deep pink and blue tapers in candalabra highlighted this centrepiece.

Mantelpiece in the tea room displayed the electric clock which the graduating class presented to the School of Nursing as a parting gift. It was flanked by beautiful Royal Doulton china baskets filled with flowers.

Mrs. Anglesey was receiving at the tea room door, assisted by her first vice-president, Mrs. B. Monahan. The tea room was in charge of Mrs. John Rutherford who was assisted by Mrs. Dennis Driscoll.

Pouring tea were Miss Agnes Grant, Mrs. Oscar Hallihan, Mrs. R. Paquette and Mrs. J. V. Gallivan.

Servers were the Misses Louise and Madeline Flynn, Geraldine Collins and Mesdames Grace Poole, E. T. O'Brien, E. O'Toole, John Legris, M. E. Readman, Leo McCabe, Robert McCabe, William Hickey, W. G. Cunningham, Leo Martyn, John Lane, John McCarney, John Evans, and Miss Beatrice Malane.

Nurses Advised To Cherish Treasure Ideals Taught

A scholarly address which charged the new graduates of St. Joseph's School of Nursing to be noble, worthy nurses, maintaining the standard of their school, was delivered Wednesday afternoon at the commencement exercises by the Rev. R. A. F. MacKenzie, SJ, of Toronto.

Father MacKenzie spoke of the tremendous need for nurses at the present time, regretting the fact that many graduates do not remain in the field for long. He pointed out, however, that the training will be of value throughout their lives. "You have learned to be serious about serious things. You will carry through life a great compassion and tolerance for human suffering and for human nature. You will have also intolerance for carelessness and incompetence."

Throughout their training at St. Joseph's the graduates have the privilege of seeing the profession at work and learning what high standards are required of them. High praise and compliments were paid to the Sisters for their example and untiring work and vigilance.

"I salute these graduates, worthy of continuing a Christian profession," said the speaker. "I say Christian because nursing is based on what we, as Christians, are told to believe, and to practice toward our fellow man. The nurses fulfill, on behalf of all of us, the general obligations of Christian charity."

"It is such institutions as St. Joseph's which stand as a bulwark to see that the standards of Christian charity are maintained today when there is a creeping back in the world of old pre-Christian standards. The medical and nursing professions stand against that tendency" Father MacKenzie declared.

"Science is capable of tremendous good but it can be misapplied to a devilish end. While knowledge gives more power, it does not of itself give more goodness. Our age has seen great developments of science but we still depend on the moral principles of the men and women who apply them."

"The question of principles is always of great practical importance," he said. "The motive of love should, and does, inspire the nurse, together with the force of her training, the ideals acquired and treasured. He continued, "The secret of a good nurse is perhaps that she does not let these ideals be laid away and forgotten after graduation."

The religious aspect of a Catholic nurses' education was referred to. The speaker pointed out that a nurse may have to call on reserve strength to treat a suffering patient when she is very tired and this demands unselfish devotion to principle. "But there is a point beyond which the most devoted skill and loving charity cannot stave off death and alleviate suffering and the nurse who has religious knowledge and faith can still minister for her patient."

Twenty-eight new graduate nurses were standing on the platform of St. Joseph's residence auditorium throughout the address.

Lovely Graduation Dance Honors St. Joseph's Nurses

One of the loveliest dances of recent months was the graduation dance in honor of the 1951 class of graduate nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday evening in the nurses' residence auditorium.

Truly the phrase "Sweet girl graduate" was applicable to the nurses who had set aside their starched white aprons and caps they wore at commencement exercises in the afternoon, and had become glamorous and beautiful in frothy and sophisticated evening gowns. Their guests too were looking their best for the occasion in very lovely gowns.

Nurses's caps and white scrolls simulating their diplomas were decorating the ballroom walls where pretty silhouette figures, bells in blue and white and blue streamers were emblematic of the nurses' uniforms.

Orchestra music was provided for the dancing and during an intermission there was lunch, supplied by the Sisters of St. Joseph, and served by the social committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Lending their patronage to the affair were: Dr. and Mrs. W. S Fitzpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Gamble, Alderman and Mrs. P. J. Anglesey. In the receiving line were Miss Adeline Brademore, president of St. Joseph's Nurses' Alumnae, Mrs. Grace Poole, social convener, of the Auxiliary and her committee members with their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. John Legris, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Moher, Dr. and Mrs. Wm. X Blackburn.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

5-Pound Piece of Salmon Better Buy Than Roast

An eminent authority Cardinal Newman defines the term "gentleman" as one who never inflicts pain on another. I like the definition, so I do not seek another. But Pete read somewhere that the definition of a gentleman is "when an unmarried man is 'baching it' he uses the butter knife." Pete claims that covers him—for when I'm out, and he chooses to prove the integrity of his table manners, the best butterknife is washed and shined and left perched in fullview on the kitchen window sill.

While, like every mother of a boy, I'm soft around the edges about that lad—I might add that Marianne never has to prove her gentleness. It shines.

Enough about children. Let's get around to food.

Salmon for Sunday

I did an off-the-beaten-path thing. On Friday last I bought a five-pound piece of fresh red salmon for $3.20. I did not buy a roast for Sunday.

I was curious to know if it would serve the same purpose as a roast of beef would. It did.

On Sunday we had it hot with an egg-y, lemon-y sauce.

There were five of us for dinner so I boiled the salmon, wrapped in a moistened sheet of parchment paper, for 75 minutes.

Now cook books tell us that 10 minutes to the pound are sufficient. This time never works for me. A large piece of salmon measuring about 8 inches wide by 4½ inches thick, and weighing 5 pounds required a full 75 minutes boiling. (I know because I took it out of its wrappings at the end of 50 minutes and it was still raw at the spine.) See the lemon and egg sauce recipe below. It makes a wonderful combination of flavor with the boiled salmon.

On Monday morning Pete made the sandwiches for our three carried lunches from it—mixed with mayonnaise, a little lemon juice and a few bits of chopped cucumber.

I skipped it on Monday night for dinner (we had little link sausages on scalloped potatoes). On Tuesday I served it in a rather lemony sauce on toast. I added chopped parsley that time for color.

When I suggested to Pete that he use some other filling for the sandwiches on Wednesday he said he liked the salmon, so we had it again in our sandwiches.

That evening I was a little afraid I might be overdoing it, but the family thoroughly enjoyed the casserole I served to them—see below.

Annie, the cleaning gal, and I had the end of it in a salad for our lunch at home.

Totalling up the number of servings and the cost of each I found it to be 16½ cents per serving for 19 servings. Just try to make a 5-pound roast of beef stretch that far.

I know salmon is rich and is not the universal favorite that roast beef is—but our family slavers over it, and you may be Maritimers or fish fiends too and would like to try my salmon routine.

I am aching to give you a recipe for salmon masked in aspic, but will hold that until warmer weather—unless someone writes to me asking for it sooner.

Salmon Dinner Casserole

(These amounts will serve four or five.)

Two cups salmon (cooked or canned OR tuna fish), 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 or 4 sliced hard-cooked eggs, 1 cup cooked or canned peas or asparagus, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 5 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup soft breadcrumbs (1 cup grated processed cheese is optional—I don't like cheese with salmon). Flake the salmon before measuring it well-packed, then sprinkle it with the lemon juice. Arrange it in layers in a buttered large casserole alternately with the sliced eggs and the peas. Melt 3 tablespoons of the butter, stir in flour, then stir in milk and seasonings until thick. Pour over casserole mixture. Top with the crumbs which have been mixed with the remaining tablespoon butter, melted. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. about one-half hour.

Lemon-Egg Sauce for Boiled Fish

In top of double boiler melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, stir in 2½ tablespoons flour, then add ¾ cup boiling water and ¾ cup whole milk and stir until thick. Pour this over 2 beaten egg yolks, stirring, then return all to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. When just about ready to serve add 1 or 1½ tablespoons lemon juice and ¼ teaspoon salt.

Bridgenorth WMS Hold May Meeting

BRIDGENORTH, May 10 (ENS) May meeting of Bridgenorth WMS was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Payne. Mrs. James Johnson, president, opened the meeting with a poem on the theme "Peace."

The Rev. D. P. Morris led in prayer, and scriptures were read by Mrs. A. K. Nicholls. Responsive reading was led by Mrs. Johnson from leaflets entitled "Christ's Legacy of Peace."

Short poems on the topic were read by Miss L. Udy, and Mrs. Nicholls, and Mrs. Johnson gave a reading on Christian responsibility. An article on stewardship was read by Mrs. Payne.

Mrs. C. Telford reported five calls made by the visiting committee, and Mrs Payne and Mr. Morris reported on the recent Mission Band and WCTU rallies.

Mrs. Johnson announced a quilt was ready for sale and that the June meeting would be held at the parsonage. Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Payne and Mrs. W. Nicholls.

Evening Tea And Program Entertains 80

Others Class of Murray St. Baptist Church entertained about 80 friends Wednesday evening at the second tea which they have held to raise money for furnishngs in a Sunday School room. A rummage sale has also been held by the class but these are the only money-making ventures that have yet been undertaken. However, the sociability promoted by their tea may pernaps lead to a continuance of these.

President Mrs. A. V. Harnden received the guests, assisted by Mrs. Ivan Morgan, and Mrs. S. Gillespie was at the treasurer's table.

A very pleasing program was arranged by Mrs. Percy Johnson, highlighted perhaps by two appearances of a double trio of PC-VS girls. The sextette first sang "Bless This House" and their second number was a comic song with action called "Brown Bear." Their accompanist Miss Betty Lapp also entertained with classic piano selections.

Mrs. Morgan teamed with Mrs. Johnson in two lovely piano duets, "Il Travatore" and "Invitation to the Valse." Mrs. Charles Holmes contributed three very pleasing vocal selections, "Songs My Mother Taught Me," "Dedication," and "Roses of Picardy."

Mrs. W. G. McLaren gave a monologue of Pauline Johnson's poem "Cattle Thief" and responded to an encore.

Hostesses Mrs. H. Foster and Miss Alice Hardwicke invited the guests to partake of the delicious refreshments and tea which had been prepared under convenership of Miss Nellie Stenton.

A lace covered tea table was pretty with green and yellow tapers flanking a centrepiece arrangement of daffodils and narcissi, and very handsome silver tea services at either end were presided over by Miss Clara Doughty and Mrs. Hanlon Sisson.

Serving were Mrs. H. Strickland, Mrs. H. Sellon, Mrs. L. Gould, Mrs. S. Malsch, Miss Ethel Garbutt, Miss Marjorie Stenton, Mrs. G. MacMillan, Mrs. N. Briggs and Mrs. Wm. Maltman.

Mrs. W. L. Hardwicke, who decorated the tea table and placed attractive bouquets of tulips about the room, was replenishing the plates, assisted by Mrs. A. Smedmor and Mrs. C. Cox and Miss S. Garrett made the tea.

BIGGEST BEARS

Polar bears are the largest types of living bears, the males sometimes weighing as much as 1,600 pounds.

Silver Cross Hears Address on IODE

Silver Cross Chapter meeting was held Wednesday evening in the YWCA.

A quotation of Henry Ward Beecher concerning the Lord's Prayer, was read by president, Mrs. B. Harvey: "If a man in saying the Lord's Prayer were to be stopped, by every word, until he had thought it out thoroughly, it would take him a lifetime." This quotation prefixed, the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in unison by the members.

After the usual order of business Mrs. W. Gordon Hall spoke to the members. Her subject, "Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, and its Aims and Activities."

The history of this order began in the last years of Queen Victoria, during the Boer War. The first chapter was organized in Fredericton February 13, 1900.

Its standards—to be true in word and deed to British ideals, to endeavor to help the helpless, especially those who have suffered in service of King and country, to help education, to encourage patriotism. Its motto—one flag, one throne, one empire.

In 1950 there were 920 chapters in Canada. In 1950 the IODE in Ontario raised $89,000 for flood victims in Manitoba. In 1950 a total of $351,000 was raised for various philanthropical and educational purposes.

An important part of their present work is overseas parcels for distribution in England.

Mrs. Hall concluded her remarks by paying tribute to the Silver Cross organization and emphasized the idea that both chapters have important tasks to do, "we must not forget to pledge ourselves to preserve Canada as a land of free men, where justice, liberty and faith in Gord are the inheritance of all."

Mrs. W. Davies moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Hall.

Mrs. Leslie McLaren sang two vocal solos and Mrs. J. Ellis was her accompanist. Mrs. T. Hendry gave a short account of a trip through the Quaker Oats building with ladies of local council.

A sum of money was voted for the maintenance of flowers in the chapel during the summer months.

June meeting will be held in the form of a picnic at Nicholls Oval, June 13. Members will be contacted by the telephone conveners.

Kinettes Decide On Club Project

Kinette Club met at the Empress Hotel Tuesday evening at six-thirty for regular dinner meeting. President Mrs. Howard Powell was in charge.

A club project was decided definitely. It is to send two children to camp Ilahu, near Cobourg for three weeks each, this summer. This camp is especially for children who suffer from chronic ailments such as diabetes, heart conditions, etc. Doctors from the Hospital for Sick Children are in attendance and the camp is specially supervised. It is sponsored by the Kinsmen Clubs of Toronto and the Neighborhood Workers' Association. Other Kinette Clubs are also interested in this camp and are doing this same type of work as club projects.

Mrs. Walker Jones reported on the purchase of a radio-record player set to be given by the Kinettes to the Children's Aid Society for the use of children there.

Miss Florence Vickers, Reg. N., an instructor in the Women's Division of St. John Ambulance Corps, gave a very informative talk on "First Aid."

Several songs by Mrs. T. Williams accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Gordon, were much enjoyed.

Net results of the Blossom Tea have not yet been established but the members felt that it had been a success, under convenership of Mrs. Norman Elliott.

Plans were made for a clothing exchange which will be convened by Mrs. Wm. Godson, to be followed by a rummage sale—both to be held this month.

Next regular meeting will be June 12th, at Mrs. Vern Selkirk's cottage, Lake Chemong.

MacArthur Warned Korean Policy Mustn't Split Allies

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—President Truman told Gen. Douglas MacArthur last Jan. 13 that Korean war policy must be designed to keep the support of allies whom "we would desperately need" in case of war with Russia. This was contained in a message sent by Truman as a follow-up to a set of 16 possible courses of action the joint chiefs of staff had dispatched to MacArthur the previous day. The text of Truman's message, in paraphrased form, was read by Defence secretary George Marshall to Senate committees inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal as Far Eastern commander.

Truman said his telegram "was not to be taken in any sense as a directive." He added that "its purpose is to give you something of what is in our minds regarding the political factors."

Truman's message read in part:

"Our courses of action at this time should be such as to consolidate the great majority of the United Nations. This majority is not merely part of the organization but is also the nations whom we would desperately need to count on as allies in the event the Soviet Union moves against us."

Worst Danger

Earlier, Marshall told the senators the risk of war with Russia in the Far East is "more acute by far" than the hazard of Soviet intervention in Western Europe.

This estimate of the comparative risks was given in response to a question from Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep. Ia.).

Hickenlooper said he wondered why "we would accept a calculated risk" of provoking Russia to war in Europe, and why on the other hand "we refuse to accept a similar calculated risk" in the Far East.

Marshall said "it was felt we have no choice on Western Europe but to proceed as we did, unless we allowed that region to go by default to Communist domination."

He said the situation is not comparable in Korea, "where we are in action and the question is whether we can extend that action without developing an enlarged war on the Chinese side, or a full war because of the reactions of the Soviet Union."

"....The situation as to the possible actions of the Soviet government is a more acute one by far than that in Western Europe because if they lose a close community of interests and co-operative arrangement with China at this time, that would be a very great loss to them of something they now possess."

Hickenlooper told a reporter earlier that he planned to base his questions on whether the MacArthur policies or those of the Truman administration would more likely touch off the war with Russia.

Stone Ordered Home, Fear Daughter Dying

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, May 11 (CP)—Smitten by a personal tragedy, Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone left his troops today and flew to Canada in what may be a race against death.

Col. Stone, commander of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Korea, learned by cable Thursday night that his two-year-old daughter, Moira, has undergone an operation for the removal of an eye afflicted by cancer, and that the other is affected by a tumor.

The Stones have one other child, a three-year-old daughter, Shelley, and are expecting a baby in July.

The cable to Col. Stone was the first intimation he had had of Moira's illness. It also ordered him home on compassionate leave and instructed him to leave the front immediately.

Rush Trip

Maj.-Gen. Blackshear Bryan, commander of the US 24th Division in Korea, assigned his personal aircraft to fly Col. Stone to an airstrip where he could connect with a courier plane for Tokyo. He also directed his staff to arrange the highest priorities for Col. Stone's Korea-Tokyo flight.

The Canadian military staff in Tokyo is arranging Col. Stone's flight to Vancouver as soon as possible.

Maj. Pat Tighe of Victoria took over command of the Patricias on Col. Stone's departure, with Maj. George Flint as his second-in-command. This was the same combination that took over recently when Col. Stone was ill with smallpox.

25,000 Homeless After 'Quake

JUCUAPA, El Salvador, May 11 — (AP) — Shattering earthquakes have left 25,000 homeless in Southeast El Salvador. But the death toll—not likely to exceed 200—falls far below government estimates.

A visit to the 'quake area just south of the Pan-American Highway, 65 miles east of San Salvador, capital of the Central American Republic, revealed scenes of utter devastation

The full fury of Sunday's quakes struck at this regional coffee centre of Jucuapa. Not a building was habitable in the city of 14,000. Already 77 bodies have been dug from the debris. Officials expect to find as many again before rescue work is completed.

Next hardest hit was Chinameca, a town of 8,000, two miles east of Jucuapa There the toll reached 75 dead and 71 seriously injured. Most of its buildings were destroyed.

Rescue work in the stricken zone has been hampered by repeated light earth tremors but which are feared to foreshadow another major 'quake.

RCAF Sergeant Given King's Commendation

MONTREAL, May 11 —(CP)— Sgt. Lorne David Hawkins, 38, of Winnipeg today will be presented with the King's Commendation for his part in the air rescue of Canon John Turner from Moffet Inlet in July, 1947.

The presentation will be held at the nearby St. Hubert, Que., RCAF station.

The citation reads in part: "For extreme resourcefulness and devotion to duty several years ago when, as leading crew chief, he managed to keep his aircraft serviceable and airworthy despite the lack of even the most rudimentary facilities at Coral Harbor, northern base of the rescue operation concerning Canon John Turner."

Canon Turner, injured in a hunting accident, was removed from his Arctic outpost to a hospital where he died some time later.

Sgt. Hawkins made several flights in a Dakota plane to reach the injured missionary although the starboard magneto of the craft was burned out. He managed to start the engine by using a rope attached to one of the propellor blades.

Fumes Burn 70 Workmen At Hamilton

Wind Drives Gas Toward Men Building Coke Ovens

HAMILTON, May 11. (CP)—Burned and blistered by wind-driven sulphur fumes from a nearby industrial plant, workmen building the new Dofasco coke ovens here have appealed for action to halt the menace.

Seventy have been affected this week, 30 of them in the last 24 hours.

R. E. Peers, an engineering official of the by-product coke company which is building the Dominion Foundries coke ovens, said today four of the eight men affected Thursday night had to be taken to hospital for treatment.

One of the men said the pain was so intense when their eyes were being swabbed out, that they had to be strapped to operating tables. Many of the men have been burned so badly that their burns have blistered.

Smelled Like Sulphur

Mr. Peers said the fumes smelled like sulphur, but the whole content of the gas was not known.

Dr. L. A. Clarke, medical officer of health, said he was in touch with the works manager of a nearby plant after a physician communicated a complaint to him.

Truck Upsets Driver Unhurt

BRANTFORD, May 11 (CP) — James Armstrong, St. Thomas truck driver, crawled from his tractor-trailer transport today without a scratch after it went out of control on No. 53 Highway two miles west of Cathcart and landed upside down in a deep ditch.

The transport, loaded with 12 tons of paper, was proceeding to Chatham from Trenton, and suddenly lurched to the opposite side of the highway, struck a cement culvert and turned over.

Armstrong climbed out the door on the passenger's side and told Provincial Constable Jim Elliott he couldn't imagine how the accident happened.

He said there was a sudden lurch and the next thing he knew the vehicle was upside down.

Expect Controls On Two Metals

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP). — Direct government control over copper and aluminum likely will be announced within the next two weeks, informed quarters disclosed today.

Both strategic materials are widely used in consumer goods, they likely will be allocated on the basis of consumption during the last six months.

For example, manufacturers who actually were found to use, say, 100 tons of copper or aluminum in the six months' period will be allowed to draw an equal amount in the next six months.

The idea, said informants, is to discourage extensive stockpiling, by speculators. If current stockpiles are found more than sufficient, the purchaser will be cut off from further supplies.

Similar controls already have been enforced on nickel.

Korean President May Be Impeached

SEOUL, Korea, May 11 (AP)—Opposition legislators talked informally today about impeaching President Syngman Rhee of Korea.

There was no open move and no one would be quoted publicly.

Impeachment talk arose among some members of the opposition National Democratic party after Vice-president Lee See Yung, 82, said Rhee hadn't a single "right man in the right place" in his cabinet.

Lee had tried to resign but the national assembly refused to let him quit, voting 115-1 to keep him.

Indians Million Dollar Suit Will Be Heard June 18

OHSWEKEN, Ont., May 11 —(CP)—The Six Nations Indians $1,000,000 suit against the Canadian government will be heard June 18 by the Exchequer Court of Canada, it was learned at a meeting of the Indian Council here Thursday.

The case, to come before Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron, is the culmination of a 100-year attempt by the Indians to get settlement of their "Grand River Navigation Company claim." It also follows after 16 years of negotiations with the Federal Government following the granting of a fiat by the Earl of Athlone, Canada's governor-general from 1940-46.

News of the pending hearing reached the council in a letter from the Indians' solicitor, August Lemieux of Ottawa. Last November the council agreed to approximately $459,000 as payment in full of the claim.

Mr. Lemieux's letter indicated the Indians' offer was too high for the Federal Government to consider and it was decided to allow the claim to be aired in the courts.

The claim includes restitution of Indian trust funds which were invested by the government of Upper Canada without the Indians consent in the now defunct Grand River Navigation Company. It also demands payment for lands permanently flooded by the Grand River because of the building of the Dunnville dam more than 100 years ago. In addition it includes payment for Indian lands granted by the government in 1832 to the navigation company, plus interest at five per cent across 109 to 119 years.

Some members of the Indian Council indicated they believe the government has broken faith with the Indians in deciding against the offer for settlement. They said the Indian Affairs Branch of the citizenship department was the first to suggest an out-of-court settlement.

Cured Of Big Snore, But Comes Too Late

Jubilant Husband Tries To Reclaim Wife, She Turns Him Down

CHICAGO, May 11 (AP).—Richard Michalak, the man whose snore wrecked health and home, is cured—too late.

The 25-year-old egg inspector came jubilantly into Superior Court Thursday to reclaim the affections of his wife, Florence, 20, an attractive blonde who agreed a month ago to hold up her suit for separate maintenance while he sought a cure for his big snore. Richard's night noises, she maintained, had wrecked her health.

Richard fought his affliction with gusto. He moved into a small hotel room. He poured over more than 500 suggested cures submitted by snore-wise folk in many cities who had learned of his plight.

They included hypnotism, an onion-garlic-goat's milk diet, the removal of tonsils, blood transfusions, and sleeping with a rubber hose around the neck.

Enlisted Listeners

Richard enlisted "snore listeners" in adjacent rooms to listen while he slept.

With a hopeful sidewise glance at his pretty wife, the young man informed Judge Rudolph F. Desort that his snoring days were over. But before he could elaborate, his wife's lawyer intervened.

He told the court that Mrs. Michalak felt she could not live up to her agreement and return to Richard whom she married two years ago. He said she intended to file suit for divorce.

Richard angrily handed the court three letters from fellow listeners in the hotel. The letters said no snores had been heard coming from Richard's room for more than a week.

Michalak didn't disclose his snore-cure technique. His wife's only comment to reporters was that "something happened" during Richard's 30-day trial period.

RCAF Helicopter Helps Fight Fire Near Sault

TORONTO, May 11—(CP)—All forest fires in the province were reported well under control today with the exception of one 48 miles north of Blind River in the Sault Ste. Marie district.

Lands and Forests officials said that the RCAF had sent its Trenton-based Sikorsky helicopter to the fire area to lend aid in subduing the blaze which has covered an area of approximately 800 acres.

The fire spread Thursday in a southwesterly direction and today bulldozers were used to cut a firebreak in its path. A tank pumper truck and a mechanical pack tractor, both recently developed by the department for use in rough terrain, have also been sent to the fire area.

Still Dangerous

Although rain has improved conditions in some areas of the province, the forest fire hazard was still reported high in the Blind River area and other sections of the north. Fire control officers continued to urge all woods travellers and workers to exercise extreme care with smoking materials and camp fires.

There is a total of 12 fires being handled throughout Ontario. The Sault Ste. Marie area had six; Sudbury, three; North Bay, two; and Fort Frances, one.

After an "all clear" period of five days, two sizeable bush fires have broken out in North Bay forestry district. Neither is out of control.

The larger of the blazes is burning in Mattawa township, about nine miles north of Mattawa near the Ottawa River. It covered 50 acres, mostly young second growth pine, early today. It is being fought by 35 men.

A second blaze, 40 acres in size, is burning in Gibbons township, just north of River Valley. The community is not threatened.

Order Doctors Answer Calls

LONDON, May 11 —(CP)—The State Health Service has ruled that a doctor must answer reasonable night calls immediately, even though he may think he can do no good.

The service ruling dealt with Dr. Archibald Blair, dismissed from the health service because he refused to attend a patient at 2.30 a.m. The patient died an hour later.

The service ruled that if the patient can make a case that a night call is reasonable, it is up to the doctor to prove otherwise to the health-service tribunal.

Most general practitioners in Britain are employed by the health service.

Way To Stop Red Rally Just Pull Up Street

VIENNA, May 11—(AP)—One way to disorganize a Communist street demonstration—pull up the street.

That is what the anti-Communist Socialist administration of Vienna appeared up to today.

The city shut off "for repairs" an important stretch of the Ringstrasse, a wide boulevard on which 500,000 blue-shirted Communist youths planned to march Saturday during a peace rally.

The city administration said the work had been planned for weeks and had nothing to do with the rally.

Nevertheless, the street was cut just where the demonstrators would approach Russian headquarters.

Revolution Gives Panama New President Following Bloody Riots

PANAMA, Panama, May 11. (AP)—Panama's police army and public opinion gave the country a new president Thursday night, after four days of riots and revolution in which at least 12 persons were killed and hundreds wounded. After a three-hour battle inside and around the handsome little presidential palace, the national police—the country's only armed force—hauled deposed President Arnulfo Arias off to jail. Nine persons died in the fighting and 80 or more were wounded.

Arias' successor, Alelbiades Arosemena, was expected to move today into the palace which Thursday's fighting left a shambles. He was vice-president until the National Assembly Wednesday night impeached Arias and swore him in.

Still in the saddle as Panama's "strong man" is the police chief, Col. Jose Antonio Remon. Remon put Arias in the president's chair in 1949, then took him out of it Thursday after public clamor supported the impeachment.

Representative Government

Arosemena said his government will include representatives of all political groups except the outlawed Communists. He said it will co-operate fully with the United States, which controls the Panama Canal zone territory through the middle of the Republic.

Arias touched off the wave of violence Monday night with a decree outlawing the 1946 constitution, reinstating the 1941 charter and dissolving the national assembly. He said he acted against an oppositionist-Communist plot which threatened the country.

In rioting Tuesday and Wednesday three persons were killed and 110 wounded or injured.

Switches Stand

Arias Wednesday night annulled his decree and Remon said he would support him in office. But the police chief switched his stand Thursday afternoon after Chief Justice Arasmo De La Guardia told a cheering crowd that the Arias impeachment was constitutional.

Arias and 1,000 followers entrenched themselves in the palace. Others barricaded streets leading to the building. Then the president rejected Remon's order to quit the palace.

Arias' supporters opened fire on a police guard. The city's streets were deserted as both sides battled with machine-gun, rifles, pistols and grenades.

After Arias' cabinet gave in, the president was taken—unhurt but "pale and fearful" in a blood-stained white suit.

His wife, two cabinet ministers and other aides were jailed with him.

In all 1,024 persons were reported under arrest.

Selling To Reds Means Aid Cut

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP) — The Senate voted Thursday night to cut off economic aid to any country which permits shipments of arms or other war-useful materials to Communist areas.

It wrote this ban into a $431,127,477 appropriation bill, which it passed by a voice vote. The money is to finance federal government agencies in what remains of the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The measure now goes to the House of Representatives.

Police Given Pay Increase

CORNWALL, May 11 (CP). — Pay increases totalling $5,950 annually were awarded to members of the Cornwall police department in an arbitration board award announced today. Ranging from $100 to $400, the increases are retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Other recommendations include the granting of an additional statutory holiday with pay raising the total to six; setting up of a medical and surgical plan similar to that enjoyed by other civic employees, and establishment of a mutually satisfactory policy on sick leave pay.

The unanimous decision was returned by Judge W. F. Schwenger of Hamilton, Arthur W. Roebuck of Toronto and Hugh A. Odonnell of Perth.

Appears In Court On Arson Charge

WHITBY, May 11 (CP)—Alphonse Martin, alias Ivan Sopchuk appeared in court today charged with setting fire to a building on the Port Whitby property of General Mill and Lumber Limited of which he was manager.

The fire which swept through the plant the night of Feb. 8 was said to have caused close to $100,000 damage.

Crown Attorney A. C. Hall said the Crown would attempt to show that Martin had acquired a large interest in the company and that he was in straightened financial circumstances.

Gold Smuggling Business Booming

Pays So Well Kuwait Encourages Deals

KUWAIT, Persian Gulf, May 11 (AP).—The gold smuggling business is booming in Kuwait, major transfer point on the route to the underground gold markets of the Far East.

It's all out in the open in this sandy, oil-rich Sheikhdom. There is no law against the gold trade. In fact, it is encouraged because it is a big source of income. Before oil royalties started flowing five years ago, gold was the big business.

The gold pours in chiefly by plane, at a rate of more than $12,000,000 worth monthly, gold merchants estimate.

Most of it comes from Lebanon, where you can charter a plane to carry gold here for about $1,200. For all practical purposes Lebanon is also a free market for gold movement.

The gold leaves Kuwait by small sailing ships. It may be hidden under a load of Iraqui dates.

In the Far East, according to local dealers, Hong Kong is the biggest port of entry for the gold trade in China. But Macao, Bangkok and Singapore are also said to be important trading points.

Until five or six years ago the gold followed an east-to-west path. Since the war, the traffic has been reversed, and gold now brings as much as double the legal rate in India and China.

One dealer said about 70,000 of Kuwait's 175,000 population are involved in the trade. An almost-certain eight or nine per cent profit on a quick turnover is the attraction.

There are strange stories told in connection with the trade — of the big losses when the small sailing ships are lost in a sudden storm.

The present ruler of Kuwait—Sheikh Abdullah—was out of the country when the old Sheikh died about a year ago. He was down on the coast of Oman on the southern end of the gulf reclaiming a ship loaded with $7,000,000 worth of gold which ran aground in a storm on a run to India.

Expect Chinese To Strike In Few Days At Seoul From 2 Directions

South Koreans Advance Three Miles Against Light Opposition, Troop Movements Hidden By Smoke

TOKYO, May 11. (AP)—United Nations troops advanced three miles on the east Korean front today. In the west they dug in to meet an expected Communist offensive. South Koreans made the eastern advance north of Parallel 38 against light opposition. One infantry company marched into Inje without firing a shot. Elsewhere the front was quiet except for restless, probing patrols. But there was continual movement back of Communist lines.

The Reds were building up four sizable pockets for a possible two-pronged drive on Seoul. They appeared to be massing in an arc north and northeast of the old South Korean capital.

North Koreans slipping through the hills were concentrating about 20 miles nort hof Seoul between Munsan and Unijongbu.

Communists fired mortar shells at a UN tank patrol rumbling into Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul. For the five preceding days allied patrols had clanked through the city unopposed.

Building Up Troops

Reds were building up their forces northeast of Chunchon. American officers expressed belief Reds might launch a diversionary attack in this area.

Far to the north, smoke pots screened the countryside. Troops presumably were moving under the smudge.

Loudspeakers blared across the mountaintops urging the Communists to hold their positions, telling them reinforcements were on the way. But allied officers said there was evidence of a general Red withdrawal between Yanggu and Inje. It was in this sector that the UN line moved up.

The Eighth Army revised its estimate of Red casualties Thursday to 2,565.

An American F-80 jet was shot down over the front Thursday.

B-29s bombed air strips at Sariwon and Sinmak Friday on the Red supply line to the western front from Pyongyang, North Korean capital. It was the seventh consecutive day of raids designed to thwart a possible Red air offensive.

North Korean airfields have been blasted by more than 1,000 tons of bombs since this aerial campaign opened 20 days ago.

Planes raked Red airfields Friday at Hamhung on the east coast and at Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, in the west. The attacks continued a campaign to thwart a possible Red air offensive.

UN bombers began blasting the new Chinese concentration near Kapyong on the central front Thursday night and Friday. They reported unusually-heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Festival Spirit

LONDON, May 11. (CP)— A smartly-dressed woman who performed a human-fly act seven storeys above the street caused a traffic jam in the busy Picadilly Circus area today. Firemen grabbed her as she teetered along the two-foot-wide ledge of a hotel and she was later charged with drunkenness.

O'Dwyer's Friend James Moran Jailed 5 Years

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—James J. Moran, close associate of former mayor William O'Dwyer was sentenced today to a maximum five years in prison and fined $2,000 on a charge of giving perjured testimony before the United States Senate crime committee.

Moran, a former deputy fire commissioner, told the crime committee he met Louis Weber, Brooklyn numbers racketeer, about a half dozen times over a period of several years.

But witnesses at Moran's trial in federal court testified that Weber had visited Moran at least 111 times at his fire department office.

Moran, 49, refused to testify at his trial. A jury found him guilty Thursday.

Moran was appointed to a $15,000-a-year lifetime post as a water commissioner by O'Dwyer shortly before the mayor resigned last year to become ambassador to Mexico. But after testifying before the crime committee he resigned.

Report 1,475 Have Enlisted

OTTAWA, May 11—(CP)—In four days of recruiting, a total of 1,475 officers and men have been enlisted for service in the 27th Infantry Brigade, destined for service in Europe, the army announced today.

Another 3,654 applications are being dealt with.

Goal in the nation-wide recruiting drive is between 5,500 and 6,500 men, and an army spokesman described results of the campaign which opened Monday as "excellent."

In fourth day of the drive, 543 were attested and another 1,362 applications were received. The enrolment total did not include a figure from Quebec Command for the day, since these figures were not reported by 4 p.m. EDT, yesterday, when the latest compilation was made.

16-Year Debenture To Pay For Terminal

KITCHENER, May 11 —(CP)— The Kitchener Public Utilities Commission will ask city council to arrange for a 16-year debenture issue of $200,000 to finance construction of a new bus terminal and additions to the car barns.

The car barns and part of the work on the terminal is completed. The funds will cover cost of the work which has been financed out of operations of the transportation department.

The commission also voted to complete the terminal building, which has space for offices, dining room and auditorium in addition to the central terminal section. Originally it had been intended that the central part be completed with some sections left incomplete for some time.

Charge Constable Accepted Car Gift

WHITBY, May 11 (CP) —Constable Robert Crozier has been suspended from the town police force pending a hearing Saturday of charges that he accepted a gift of an automobile and did not report an accident.

Mayor William Elliott said he had ordered the suspension "until this matter is cleaned up."

UK Postpones Discussion On Formosa

Korea Comes First Morrison Says, Most Urgent Problem

LONDON, May 11. (CP)—Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison said today that it would be premature to discuss the future of Formosa as long as fighting continues in Korea.

He told the House of Commons that in Britain's opinion the 1943 Cairo declaration, promising to return Formosa to China, could be achieved only in a general Far Eastern settlement. Korea comes first, he said.

At the 1943 conference, the United States, China and Britain agreed that "ormosa——now the centre of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and then occupied by the Japanese—should become Chinese.

It also proclaimed that in due course Korea should become free and independent.

He said the people of Formosa should be given a say in the future of their island.

Chiang Kai-shek's government is recognized by the US. The island also is claimed by Communist China, whose government is recognized by Britain.

Not Urgent Problem

He said that Prime Minister Attlee told the House last Dec. 14 that the problem of Formosa could not be settled "until China shows by her actions that she is not obstructing fulfilment of the Cairo declaration in respect to Korea."

Morrison said many countries now are concerned in Formosa's future, and added:

"It is not, however, the most urgent of the problems facing us in the Far East.

"The most important is Korea, and in our view it would be premature to discuss the future of Formosa while operations continue in Korea."

He said the question of Formosa will come up in the context of the proposed Japanese peace treaty.

"Our aim is to secure an early peace treaty without allowing the difficult issue of Formosa to delay these negotiations. . ."

The US and Britain have been seeking early agreement on a Japanese peace treaty—one which could presumably contain only Japan's renunciation of claims to Formosa, and leave to a future settlement the island's political future.

Liberal MP Says Ralston Responsible For Loss Of Canadian Lives

OTTAWA, May 11. (CP)—A front-bench member of the Liberal Party Thursday night threw the Commons into a turmoil when he blamed a former Liberal Defence Minister —Col. J. L. Ralston—for the loss of "countless" Canadian and American lives during the Second World War. The charge was made by Jean Francois Pouliot (L.-Temiscouata), 61-year-old stormy petrel of Federal politics. Members of the Opposition and members of the Cabinet defended Col. Ralston, who died a few years ago.

Mr. Pouliot's statement was described as vicious, nasty, unwarranted and nonsensical.

Mr. Pouliot said that following Col. Ralston's resignation from the Cabinet in November, 1944, on the conscription issue, he made statements about weaknesses in the Allied line on the western front which led to a major German attack in December.

Mr. Pouliot said:

". . . It is precisely on account of the untimely and uncalled for statements of that former Minister of National Defence in the House about the weaknesses in our army that the American soldiers and Canadian soldiers were killed in such numbers in the last days of the war."

Charged Nonsense

"Nonsense," interjected Maj. E. D. Fulton, (PC-Kamloops) a veteran of the Second World War.

Mr. Pouliot said Col. Ralston had insisted so much on the "weak points in the allied army in France" that the information was given to the "German command."

The result was that the Germans "rallied all their forces for a supreme attack in northern France, an attack—the battle of the bulge—which cost countless lives of American and Canadian soldiers."

Mr. Pouliot bolted from the Liberals when the government decided to impose limited conscription following Col. Ralston's resignation. He said he was making his statements to underline the danger of discussing defence matters in public.

He spoke after George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, had suggested that a Commons committee be established to study defence policies. The suggestion was made in the third day of a debate on the government's $1,600,000,000 defence program for 1951-52. The debate continues today.

Withdraws Statement

The discussion was marked by a number of noisy, heated exchanges. One of them came after Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes VC (PC-Nanaimo) said Defence Minister Claxton had asked Mr. Pouliot to provide "some comic relief" following Mr. Drew's speech. Gen. Pearkes withdrew the statement after denials by Mr. Claxton and Mr. Pouliot.

Another flare-up came after Gen. Pearkes accused Mr. Pouliot of making a "vicious attack" on a great Canadian. Mr. Pouliot said he had not made any attack. He had referred to statements of Col. Ralston and drawn his own conclusions.

Mr. Claxton said "Col. Ralston needs no praise from me or anyone else. Nothing that can be said can detract from his record."

Capt. Rodney Adamson (PC York West) said if there was any man who had saved Canadian lives it was Col. Ralston. It was his insistence on reinforcements for the army overseas which finally stopped unnecessary casualties.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said he had the highest regard for Col. Ralston. John Blackmore (SC, Lethbridge) said Col. Ralston was largely responsible for Canada's military success in the Second World War.

Won't Have Committee

In the general debate, Mr. Claxton said the government had decides that a defence committee should not be established. It would not work under Canada's system of government where the administration had to take the responsibility for decisions on defence.

Mr. Claxton disclosed that Canada's drive to build a fighter air force will gain momentum by the end of this year with the formation of one new fighter squadron monthly.

Production of two new types of jet planes will be hitting a pace at the year's end that will permit rapid acceleration of fighter strength. A squadron usues about 25 planes, and about 28 of the 40 regular and reserve RCAF squadron now planned will be fighters.

Purchase of bombers ranks second in priority, right behind fighters, in the RCAF's expansion plans. In the peacetime past, the regular air force has skipped bombers but has had a couple of reserve medium bomber squadrons.

CITY SELLS LOT

City council has sold to George Lamore for $200 a 27-foot lot on Elm St. It is not wide enough for a separate house, but will enlarge and improve the adjoining Lamore property.

Total Ban Against Trade With Red China Advocated By Dewey As Blow To Russia

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP).—Governor Thomas E. Dewey Thursday night urged an "absolute and total" embargo by the free world against trade of any kind with Communist China.

It was one of 11 planks in a global policy which he said is most urgently needed to stop Russia from taking the world "bit by bit."

The speech—a major foreign policy address by a two-time candidate for president — was prepared for the third annual dinner of the New York State Republican committee.

Dewey said:

"While the pace will change from time to time, this war will continue the rest of our lives or so long as Communism rules Russia."

His eleven points included:

No appeasement or retreat from Communism anywhere in the world;

No recognition of Red China and use of the veto if needed to keep her out of the UN.

Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists and releasing his troops for any use he wants to make of them against the Chinese mainland;

A policy aimed at an eventual United States of Europe;

Admittance of Turkey, Greece, Spain and Yugoslavia into the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance.

A speed-up in American production of tanks and airplanes no matter what it costs.

Kinsmen Shown Outdoor Films

Two members of the provincial Department of Lands and Forests on Thursday night at the Kawartha Club told members of the Kinsmen's Club something of their work and showed films illustrating some of jobs the department does.

John G. Bell. zone forester stationed at Lakefield, told the members something of the importance of forests on the land and showed, with a film taken in the upper Ganaraska valley, the devastation left when forests were unwisely cleared from land best suited for trees.

J. C. Weir, district biologist, outlined the organization of the department and then answered many questions from the members on fish and fishing.

There were 11 divisions within the Department of Lands and Forests. He was a member of the Fish and Wildlife division, Officer Bell of the Forestry division.

He said in recent years there had been a marked decentralization within the department. Officers worked closer to the land and the people of their districts. They worked directly under their district headquarters—for the Trent district it is Lindsay—which were also in the field.

Mr. Weir mentioned a new project starting on Nogie's Creek, north of Bobcaygeon, where two students working under the Department of Lands and Forests, were going to make a life study of the muskie.

The idea of the project was to study fish in its natural environment. Nogie's Creek, he said, was probably the best muskie breeding ground in the world.

The project is to be a long range work designed for five to eight years. The department was concerned with finding out what happened to muskie spawn and the fry that hatched. Stomach analysis of perch and sunfish would be made to learn how much they preyed upon muskie fry.

Besides the film about the wasteland of the Ganaraska area and part reforestation could play in reclaiming it to serve a useful purpose, the officers showed a film on pike fishing in northern Ontario waters. Another film showed the job the Department of Lands and Forests did in salvaging timber from the scorched trees left behind in the Mississagi Forest fire of 1948.

Club Owner Fined $10 For Having Liquor

Jack Wineberg, proprietor of Club Aragon, pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of illegally having liquor at his club and was fined $10 and costs.

Wineberg was charged following a raid by city police Saturday night in which 17 bottles of beer and liquor, some of them empty, were seized. Only two of the bottles, one full and one mostly gone, were owned by Wineberg. They were confiscated.

The rest were picked up from the floor about the club tables. Most people sitting at the tables disclaimed ownership.

None of the patrons of the club were charged.

Offer Students Five Courses In Grade IX

Five courses will be offered Grade IX students when PCVS opens for the 1951-52 term. And Grade XI students will have a total of 17 groups of options as well as their obligatory subjects.

So K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, informed the Board of Education Thursday night.

Mr. Wightman explained that Grade IX is giving considerable concern. They are, under the new Department of Education setup, just one of four grades (VII to X) that make up the intermediate school.

Yet Grade VII and VIII pupils are being taught in public school under teachers with different certificates than those in the collegiate grades, Grade IX and X.

Complicated

The situation is complicated because about 25 per cent of those starting Grade IX are from rural public schools. The quality of the instruction varies from school to school more widely than in the city. But all have to start from scratch when entering the collegiate.

Mr. Wightman observed that the basis of promotion is to be the best interests of the student and not necessarily academic achievement.

"The day for setting up a certain arbitrary standard is gone," he said. "Anyone who clings to that, whether right or wrong, is going contrary to the general educational philosophy of this province."

Typing Option

Courses should be laid out so that young people can benefit from them, he said. With this in view a typing option has been brought into the general course.

The five Grade IX courses are now:

1. general with French option.
2. general with typing option
3. home economics.
4. industrial.
5. Two-year school-leaving.

Mr. Wightman said he had closely consulted Mr. Browne on the new courses and they felt that the new typing option would allow some students to succeed in a general course when they would have failed if their option had been French.

M. J. Collins complimented Mr. Wightman and staff for including typing. Industry he said, was sorely in need of trained typists.

He was informed by Mr. Wightman that the two-year terminal course did not include typing as there weren't the facilities. Those who only intended to stay at collegiate two years and wanted typing could take the general course with that option.

Terminal Course

The terminal course was started at the beginning of the 1950-51 school year. It is for those who want to stay two years only. Students study English and social studies, mathematics and science, physical education and health, and occupations. Girls spend 30 per cent of their time in home making subjects. Boys study all shops and in the second year they are permitted to specialize in electrical wiring, carpentry, machinery repair or sheet metal work.

A Board of Education certificate is issued if the student successfully completes Grade X.

Grade XI students will have 17 groups of options to choose from, plus their obligatory subjects: English, history, and physical education. Students of ability are advised to take four options.

An organization plan for Grade X has not yet been made up. Provision in it will have to be made for the boy's-year industrial group and the girl's two-year home economics group.

Chinese To Strike

Shift Position

Red strength in the centre indicated the Chinese had been able to shift from the western front despite Allied air cover. Action in the west tended to confirm this, AP Correspondent George A. McArthur reported.

AP Correspondent Robert Eunson reported from Eighth Army headquarters:

"The build-ups by the Reds north of Seoul and east of Kapyong confirmed field commanders' beliefs that the Reds' next drive would come in two moves—(1) a head-on smash on the capital and (2) an encircling move east of the city."

Crashes Second Car Trying To Miss Child

E. Oles, Norwood, came to the police station Thursday and reported that in trying to avoid hitting a young girl running across the street, he had caught his fender on the bumper of a parked car.

Oles was driving south on George St. about to turn into the curb when the girl ran into the street. His right rear fender was torn, but no damage was done to the parked car. Constable Ernie Beatty investigated.

Vast Network Of Power Lines

MONTREAL, May 11 —(CP)— Richard L. Hearn of Toronto, general manager and chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, today foresaw a "vast network of power lines stretching from Manitoba on the west to Quebec on the east and from James Bay in the north to New York State and Michigan in the south."

The forecast was made in a paper prepared for delivery before 65th annual general meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

"The authorities of Ontario, in conjunction with those of Manitoba, are continuing studies with a view to an interconnection which would benefit both provinces in the future," he said. "Studies are also being made in connection with further interconnections with the United States which would be beneficial in time of emergencies."

Cheesemakers To Gain Extra $5 Million

TORONTO, May 11 — (CP) — Ontario cheese producers will gain an extra $5,000,000 next year as a result of the new contract between the Ontario cheese producers' marketing board and the British government, Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario said Thursday.

Ontario farmers have contracted through the agency to supply 20,000,000 pounds of cheese to the British market at 32 cents a pound. Last year's price was 23 cents a pound, plus a federal subsidy of five cents a pound.

Mr. Kennedy said the new prices for cheese on the Canadian market will be 36 cents a pound for first grade, 35 cents for second and 32 cents for third.

Adverse Effect

In Montreal, wholesale produce dealers indicated the move by Ontario cheese producers, may have a decidedly adverse effect on both the cheese and butter markets in Canada.

Domestic cheese prices are expected to rise about six cents a pound above last year's levels and cause a reduction in consumption in Canada. Trade circles here, on the other hand, feel that the higher price for cheese will tend to divert an already reduced milk flow to cheese production at the expense of butter.

Tried To Make Trouble, Charged

An attempt to get his employer into trouble landed Lavern Doxsee, 19, 363 Holloway Drive, in police court today charged with theft of $62.50.

Joseph J. Devlin, who operates a cartage business which delivers parcels from downtown stores to customers' homes, said Doxsee had been working for him.

He said the morning of May 2 Doxsee told him he was going to quit at the end of the day. Devlin didn't see the accused again for over a week. In the meantime, Devlin had phoned Doxsee's sister to tell him to cash in his money collections.

Ordinarily, said Devlin, his drivers cashed in at the stores for which they delivered parcels. He said Doxsee had kept out $62.50.

He admitted that so far he had not had to pay any money to the stores, but, he said, they were demanding it and he was liable for the missing money.

No Quarrel

Asked by J. C. N. Currelly, defending Doxsee, whether he and Doxsee had had a quarrel over his not paying Doxsee's unemployment insurance, Devlin said no. He said however, that he had not paid Doxsee's unemployment insurance, giving as his reason that Doxsee had not given him his unemployment insurance book.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw KC asked that Doxsee be remanded to Thursday to give the police time to check on whether or not he had any criminal record. He said if Doxsee had no record, he would probably suggest suspended sentence.

"It was just a stupid effort to get his employer into trouble and instead he got into trouble himself," Mr. Currelly said.

Order Radio-'Phone Equipment on Ships

OTTAWA, May 11 — (CP) — Radio-telephone equipment will be compulsory for many Great Lakes vessels as a result of an agreement reached at a four-day conference here of representatives from the United States and Canadian governments.

The closed conference will be reconvened at a later date.

A spokesman said the officials agreed on the need for making compulsory the carrying of radio-telephone equipment on ships of 500 gross tons or better and on passenger-carrying vessels more than 65 feet long.

The decision covers vessels on the Great Lakes and their connecting and tributary waters as far east as Montreal, but will exclude the Niagara River. Date when the ruling will become effective was not announced.

Canadians Need More Active Patriotism

COBOURG, May 11 —(ENS) — Addressing the Cobourg Knights of Columbus at their annual banquet in the Baltimore Hotel Wednesday night, Judge Frank McDonagh of Toronto asked for a more active and enlightened patriotism by Canadians.

"We are too bashful, retiring and humble in our patriotism. We do not know well enough the history of our own country, Canada. In this great land of ours, young perhaps in years, but rich in achievements, where all men are equal in the eyes of the law and where we enjoy true democracy, we should be tireless in promoting Canadian standards, ideals and loyalty," Judge McDonagh said.

The speaker declared that the people of Canada had studied the history of their country in the light of other nations' history and deeds and not enough in the light of their own country.

Judge McDonagh was introduced by Frank Powers and was thanked by Jim Oulahen. Lorne Bodgett, Cobourg Grand Knight, was banquet chairman.

Head table guests were the Rt. Rev. J. V. McAuley, Lindsay; the Rev. G. A. Wolff, Powassan; the Rev. Joseph Lynch, Kinmount; the Rev. H. E. Archambault, Gravenhurst; the Rev. Leo Leahy, Port Hope; E. Clarke, Grand Knight of Oshawa; Pat Dobson, Grand Knight of Toronto; Dr. E. M. Crough, Kelly Sheehy, Peterborough; Albert T. Love, District Deputy, Oshawa; the Rev. J. P. Collins and the Rev. G. J. Maher, Cobourg.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by Harold Richardson. Arthur Martin moved the thanks of the gathering to their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fielding. Danny Parsons was pianist. Lorne Blodgett, thanked M. H. LeGros, chairman of the council activity for his work of planning the evening's programme.

In 1923 he was graduated in electrical engineering from the University of Toronto, and was appointed to the Permanent Force as a lieutenant in the RCCS on May 1, 1925. In the Second World War he was made Colonel and Director of staff duties, was promoted to the rank of Brigadier and in 1943 became Brigadier General.

In Feb. 1944 he took command of the 13th Infantry Brigade and took it overseas in May. After the war, in 1948, he attended the National Defence College and in August 1949 was promoted Adjutant-General of the Canadian Army.

Bethany Ladies' Guild Holds Daffodil Tea

BETHANY, May 11—(ENS)—The Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church held a very successful Daffodil Tea in the Orange Hall on Tuesday afternoon. The table was arranged with a lace cloth centred with a large silver basket of daffodils and silver tea service at either end with Mrs. T. S. Gault and Miss Florence Smith pouring tea. The buffet luncheon was served by the Guild members. Individual favors were presented to each guest and Mrs. William Phillips was the lucky winner of the door prize.

A short business session preceded the tea, with Mrs. Charles Reynolds presiding. Plans were made for a garden party to be held the latter part of June. The treasurer reported that new eavestroughing had been supplied for the rectory. Mrs. Robert Sisson invited the members to meet at her home on June 5.

Three Issues Spark C of C Debate

Three controversial local issues, the industrial commission, the farmers' market and drift fishing, sparked an open discussion meeting of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce at the Empress Hotel Thursday night.

Termed, "Public Affairs Night" approximately 100 members and guests attended this last quarterly dinner and meeting of the chamber until the fall season.

Should Peterborough have a full-time industrial commissioner or can this work be accomplished by a part-time committee? This question brought Don Lewis to his feet with the query, "We have had an industrial committee for some time, but when have we had a new industry?"

Factors Hindered

Former Alderman Herbert Bradburn, and a past member of the industrial commission, stated five factors that hindered the commission in rooting new industries in the city.

1. The comparatively high wage scale in Peterborough.
2. Suitable buildings are all occupied by present industries and there is no accommodation available.
3. Until recently a lack of housing has existed.
4. Keen competition among provincial cities for new industries.
5. Scarcity of building materials.

Alderman E. C. Braund stated that the industrial commission had been disbanded and that this work has now been taken over by the Manufacturers' Committee. He explained that the committee had taken steps in this matter and in the next few months a small industry will be established in the city.

The main suggestion from the floor was that private capital invested in building accommodation for new industries might prove a solution.

Market Site

The question of the farmers' market—is the proposed site better than the market square? — brought assent from both retail and agricultural representatives. However debate arose on the question of the divided market.

"Do away with the market rather than split it," contended Reeve R. R. Stewart of Otonabee township.

His Worship, Mayor M. J. Swanston stated that the solution to this problem had been presented by a county resident — growers of city and county go together and build a suitable building on the George St. site.

Drift Fishing

The drift fishing question brought tourist operator representatives to their feet asking that pressure be exerted to remove the special fishing regulations prohibiting drift fishing, May 12-July 1. The chif complaint was that if these regulations were to be enforced in the four counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Durham and Northumberland why shouldn't they be enforced all through the province.

W. B. Harvey, member of the Fish and Game Protection Association, stated that federal fish hatcheries on the lakes was the only solution.

The question, "Should the BNA Act be amended to permit provinces to levy a three per cent turnover," brought a negative reply from all floor speakers.

Other issues that were briefly discussed were the new post office and the Memorial Centre.

James Fraser, manager of the chamber of commerce led the discussion meeting.

The Russian State Loan

There are features of the latest Russian state loan which we think are of considerable interest to democratic people. Some of these features are resemblances to finance as we know it; others are sharp divergences from what we think of as state finance. For instance, the proportion of the loan subscribed by industrial workers will be deducted from their wage envelopes before they get them; that is familiar, because it is the way in which our own Income Tax is collected, and it is rooted in the belief that the state has a call upon a man's money even before he gets it himself. However, the individual subscriber has no firm hope that he will get anything back; instead, the total interest on the loan will be pooled and paid out in the form of lottery winnings to a few people who hold lucky numbers. Thus, a worker has a slim chance that he may get a very big return for his contribution to the loan, but the likelihood is that he will get nothing at all. The loan is, in effect, a compulsory levy on wages.

* * *

A great outburst of propaganda has preceded the imposition of the loan. The money being raised is ostensibly for use to complete three big hydro-electric power projects, and a huge canal. It is presented as evidence of the peaceful intentions of the Russian government. But it looks very much as though the loan were simply to supplement the revenue-building taxes, which are the income tax and the turnover tax on manufactured goods. The sum to be raised is 30,000 millions of roubles, and the loan will mature in twenty years.

* * *

Personal finance in Russia at present is not as restricted as we sometimes suppose. It is possible to get hold of considerable sums of money—such as one of the Stalin prizes, amounting to as much as 100,000 roubles—and the safest thing to do with such a sum is to put it in life insurance, with dependants as beneficiaries. However, there are other undercover schemes, frowned upon by the government, by means of which a man with a little free capital can make himself rich.

* * *

Subscription to the state loan is not a matter of choice. The Praesidium of the Supreme Soviet has called upon all workers, unanimously, to subscribe to the state loan to the tune of three or four weeks' salary; such a call, or resolution, is in fact a command against which the workers have no appeal. The curious and enlightening thing is that the sums asked for at the rates of wages of workers and peasants will cover the full amount of the loan; officials and the better-off Russians will not have to make any contribution to it at all unless they choose to do so, and of course they will not be so foolish as to put money into such a scheme. It is just possible that the workers will see their accumulated loan money again, but it is not likely. The so-called loan is in actual fact a tax, to which a lottery has been hitched in order to take some of the sting out of it.

A Fascinating Figure

Last Monday night the Minister of Finance, Mr. Douglas Abbott, made a speech at Grand'mere, in Quebec, in which he asked Canadians to work an extra forty minutes every day to help slay the dragon of inflation. That amount of extra work, said he, would mean ten per cent. more production in the country. And since we read the report of Mr. Abbott's speech we have been puzzling over the problem of precisely how he arrived at that figure of forty minutes. It is so pat, so convincing; it has about it that mysterious air of having been decided by arcane statistical computation. And yet, as we puzzle over it, we do not see how it could be determined.

We think of it in terms of ourself, for instance (as everybody will do, because we all think of these problems in personal terms before we extend them to our fellow citizens). Suppose we work an extra forty minutes a day, what will we produce? A lot more words than we produce now. Will that do much to help slay the dragon inflation? We doubt it. When we think of some of Canada's biggest industries we do not see what good the extra forty minutes will do, because they are working all around the clock as it is. Mr. Abbott wants us to produce more for less money, in order that there will be more in the way of goods, and perhaps of services, as well.

What group of Canadians is better organized to give a lead in this respect than a very large group right under Mr. Abbott's eye—the Civil Service? If they all worked harder and longer we would soon be able to fire a good many of them, and that would cut down the expense of running the country, which would cut down taxes—if taxes were hitched to the cost of running the country, which they do not appear to be.

Think as we will upon this theme, we do not appear to reach any useful or practical conclusion. For of course it is useless and impractical to suggest firing Civil Servants; no government ever does so. Where, then, does Mr. Abbott's advice lead us? And out of what conjuror's hat did he pull that figure of forty minutes? We have wasted at least forty minutes a day for the past three days wondering about it.

Business And Pleasure

We know Torquay as a pleasant seaside resort on that part of Southwest coast of England that has been dubbed by the tourist industry "the English Riviera." The climate is exceptionally mild; palm trees grow out of doors and roses bloom until December. Added to that the town is set in a bay that challenges comparison with the Bay of Naples, and the houses rise in terraces from the sea-front. Though there is no volcano, and though the skies are never so consistently blue as in Naples the cliffs are a vivid red, and the grass is brilliantly green the whole year round. Altogether it is a very pleasant spot for a holiday.

Torquay recently has been the scene of heated international wrangles on tariffs, preferences, most-favoured-nation clauses, and so on. The conference is now at an end and has not been wholly satisfactory. The conclusions reached there are not likely to result in much change for the better or the worse. In any case the delegates will have had a pleasing change of scene. Perhaps the scenery was too beguiling, the climate too soft and relaxing for serious effort. Previous international conferences have usually been held in other pleasing resorts such as Stresa, Rapallo, Locarno and so on. They have accomplished very little. Might we suggest that their efforts might be crowned with greater success if they shunned those localities

"Where every prospect pleases,
And only Man is vile," and patronized such places as Dawson, Manchester, Reykjavik or Essen?

Gently Does It

Three quiet, not too energetic cheers for Dr. Austin Henschell of the American Physiological Society! Let all the torpid men of the earth unite to raise his statue in foam rubber! Dr. Henschell says it is healthy to be quiet and inactive.

Dr. Henschell set out some time ago to gather some new information on the nature and causes of heart disease. In the course of this work he made careful examinations of two groups of middle-aged men; one group was made up of men who took plenty of exercise; the others took no exercise that they could avoid. There were in all 56 physiological tests, and the result showed that the inactive men were just as well, physically, as the active men.

This confirms something which we have long suspected, i.e., that if you do not like exercise and find no pleasure in it, you are wise to leave it alone. You are probably the contemplative type—perhaps you are a sage. You can't be a sage chasing a basket-ball; sages operate from chairs, and even better from couches.

Exercise is suffering a sharp decline in prestige these days. It used to be thought that exercise would reduce weight; modern medical opinion leans toward the notion that exercise creates a good appetite, and that a good appetite, combined with a low metabolism, is what makes you fat. To become slim you need not run about; you must eat less than you want.

If you feel poorly, exercise may help you to feel better. But most inactive people feel fine; it is exercise which makes their spirits droop. Let inactive people who feel well take comfort from Dr. Henschell's report. Gently does it.

France's Amiability Week

by NORA BELOFF

FRANCE has just been celebrating, under the official patronage of the Minister of Public Education and the Director of Cultural Works, "la semaine de l'amiabilite" (Amiability week).

This may astonish newspaper readers abroad, who will hardly have singled out amiability as the salient feature of the recent despatches from Paris. We are still waiting for a touch of amiability from M. Gromyko at the Palais Rose where the four deputies of the Foreign Ministers are tossing insults at each other instead of getting on with an agenda for the next Big Four meeting. Certainly no courtesy in the French National Assembly either, where day and night French Cabinet Ministers and Members of Parliament have been charging each other with "strangling the Republic", "torpedoing democracy" and "selling out France" to foreign powers.

✧ ✧ ✧

EVEN the serene atmosphere at the Palais de la Muette, home of O.E.E.C.—the European Economic Co-operation Organization—has just been shattered in the most unco-operative way, with everybody blaming everyone else for upsetting the Eufopean balance of payments. The mood of the Western military leaders, also assembled in Paris, is hardly amiable either. Most French defence chiefs seem to share General de Gaulle's view that France has bartered away her sovereignty and freedom of self-defence in return for quite inadequate Anglo-American military protection. General Eisenhower, the Atlantic commander, is not yet forgiven for his testimony before an American Congressional Committee when he said that if the Russians attacked Western Europe the best the American army could do would be to retreat into a "Breton redoubt".

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is true that here in Paris you do not have to look far to find the human victims of international calamity and bad government: the widows and orphans of two world wars, the disabled and the destitute, the hundreds of thousands of old people whose life-savings have been frittered away by the interminable inflation. There is no doubt that the present economic system, especially the method of taxation, places brains, hard work, effort and honesty at a discount, while it enables trickery, speculation and fraud to reap lavish rewards. The government raises its revenues where it can: indirectly taxing food, tobacco and matches—the needs of the ordinary people, and directly taxing wages and salaries which, unlike the higher incomes, are impossible to conceal.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET, even allowing for the stark misery concentrated in a minority of the Paris population and the sense of frustration, anger and fear which spreads far wider, it would be hard to deny that Paris in spring-time—even the spring of 1951—is still the world's most qualified capital for "amiability week".

✧ ✧ ✧

ITS first qualification is its sheer physical beauty, which would encourage amiability in the most miserable of misanthropists—such beauty as is displayed in the spacious green avenues under the chestnut blossoms, in Notre Dame Cathedral built on the little island in the middle of the river, in the flower-stalls and book-stalls which line the quais, in the elegance of women in their spring fineries, in the excellence of the food and wines, nostalgically remembered by thousands of foraging tourists. And besides this physical beauty, there is the gaiety and laughter special to Paris, which enables amiability to survive against what would otherwise be hopeless odds.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET Paris humour today sounds almost too harsh and cynical for non-French ears. This week the favourite joke is about electoral reform; while members of parliament are wrangling about enormously complicated voting systems, arguing in terms of justice and equality, but certainly guided by the electoral interests of their own party, some one has suggested a reform which could be concentrated in a single article and command unanimous support: "Article one: all outgoing deputies to be immediately re-elected".

✧ ✧ ✧

THE singers in the Montmartre cabarets even dare to make fun of the tragedy in Korea: "The news of the Korean war was greeted with delight by the French nation" one favourite comedian cracked: "it was recognized as the first war since the Carolingian era when Frenchmen have not been the first to get bloody noses".

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is almost as if Paris itself were too old and too wise to take humanity seriously; after all, the Queuille coalition may collapse, nations may collide, Paris has always continued. The illusion of eternity has, in fact, been challenged this year by commercial interests who have plackarded the Place de l'Opera in neon-lighting with the announcement "Paris is two thousand years old". The tourist trade is working over-time preparing the birthday honours.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT the real Paris is laughing again—two thousand years since Paris was first mentioned in recorded history? "Yes, but that was the occasion of its capture by Juilus Caesar. It must have existed before that—and any way, fancy celebrating the first foreign occupation...."

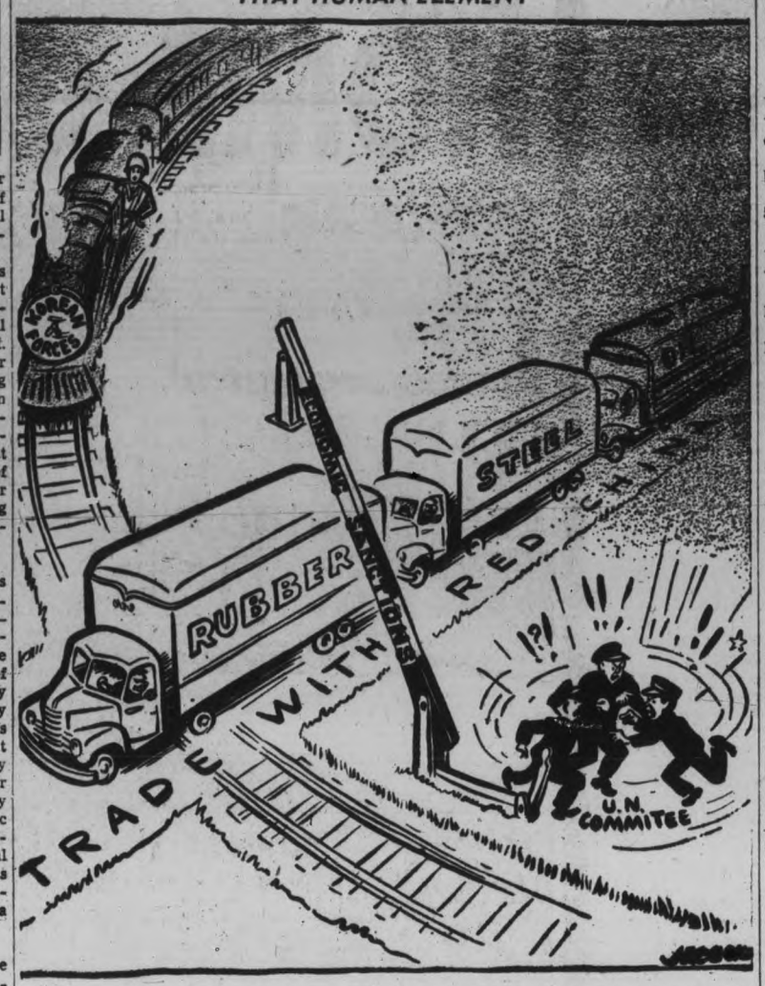
Frank Stick, Auctioneer



(Brockville Recorder and Times)

In Frank Stick, auctioneer of the old school, this neck-of-the-woods has one of its most colourful personalities. See him up on the platform at his work. He loves it, he loves auctioneering as he loves that old furled-brimmed Stetson and bright plaid shirt that are his trademarks. Listen to him. Hear that powerful gravelly voice that can be heard across a good sized piece of Leeds county without benefit of any new-fangled loud-speaker system.

Frank can vary his mood and approach with the speed of lightning; roaring like a wounded bull elephant at a buyer who is a bit "out of line", one moment; coaxing and wheedling with the seductive skill of a siren a bid from a reluctant bidder, the next moment.

His crowd at an auction sale is his piano and he plays upon it like the maestro he is. Consummate actor, too, combining the traits of tragedian, ribald humourist and hard-headed businessman, Stick is inded one of the best in his profession in the old tradition of auctioneering.

THAT HUMAN ELEMENT

By Vernon Jacques in The Toronto Globe and Mail—(CP Photo)

There Should Be More Wives Like Evita

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

NOT long ago, President Juan Peron of Argentina ordered a pay increase of from twenty to thirty per cent. for government employees, and the naturally grateful employees assembled to give thanks to their benefactor. It has been suggested that the meeting was even arranged by someone very close to the benefactor, and that possibility may be perceived in the report of the event. At any rate, the invocation was delivered by his wife, Evita Peron.

Senora Peron bowed low before her husband. Then she drew attention to a few of his good points, as follows:

"Peron is the air we breathe, Peron is our sun, Peron is life. I want nothing but to be the heart of Peron. Because though I do my best to understand him and learn his marvellous ways, whenever he makes a decision, I barely mumble. Whenever he speaks, I hardly utter a single word. Whenever he gives advice, I scarcely dare make a suggestion. What he sees I hardly glimpse....And I have pledged myself to collect the hopes of the Argentine people and empty them in the marvellous heart of Peron so that he may turn them into realities.

"The humble people, my General, have come here to prove, as they have always done, that the miracle that happened 2,000 years ago is occurring again. The rich, the learned, the men in power never understood Christ. It was the humble and the poor who understood, because their souls, unlike the souls of the rich, are not sealed up with avarice and selfishness."

That, we submit, is the sort of attitude toward husbands all wives should study to emulate. We admit that we have sadly misjudged little Eva in the past. We had thought her a woman rather determined to share her husband's dictatorial powers, but we see now how badly we were mistaken. She is a most womanly woman—if one doesn't gag easily.

The crowd, too, had the right attitude and was up in its lines. It chanted:

One-two-three-four
We want Peron for evermore.

A good time, it seems, was had by all. If there are any tinges of blasphemy to be dealt with, they may be left, we suppose, to the churchmen of the Argentine.

Mass-Produced K.C.'s

(Calgary Albertan)

The Saskatchewan attorney-general has announced a list of 47 new KC's. Of the 22 lawyers in Moose Jaw, 18 are now King's Counsel. Of the 87 in Regina, 51 have the title. (Calgary, usually thought to have a superfluity of KC's, has 55 out of a total of 154 lawyers, according to our latest list.)

In England, the honour of being appointed King's Counsel is very rare and therefore very great. The title means something there. But in Canada it has become a glut on the market.

We can't say that it is a political reward, although that has often had a good deal to do with the appointments in some provinces. Until a few weeks ago the Saskatchewan appointments were made on recommendation of a committee from the bar association. The attorney-general said that the recommendations were mostly political and therefore henceforth the government would use only its own judgement in handing out the honour.

Murder In The Philippines

(New York Times)

The killing of five American soldiers by Hukbalahap terrorists in the Phillippines again dramatizes the problem of public order in the republic. The dissident movement is not large and it is not, as has sometimes been represented, a genuine popular protest and reform campaign. It is Communist-directed banditry, taking advantage of the topography, designed merely to impede the recovery of a free government in the archipelago.

It is probable that Americans were killed in this latest outrage more by accident than by design. Since they also are free men they are a target of the terrorists, but no more so than the many Filipinos who have been slain. Nevertheless this incident should bring home the fact that the United States has a stake in public order in the Phillippines. This country can do more than it has done so far to help in restoring that order. It is a joint task to be undertaken with the co-operative Filipinos and it can be jointly carried to successful accomplishment.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

For God speaketh once, yet twice, yet man perceiveth it not....Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers.

If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man his uprightness: then he is gracious unto him, and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit: I have found a ransom....He shall pray unto God, and he will be favourable unto him: and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteousness....

Lo, all these things worketh God oftentimes with man, to bring back his soul from the pit, to be enlightened with the light of the living. (Job 33: 14, 22-24, 26, 29, 30.)

✧ ✧ ✧

I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord....

Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord. (Ps. 118: 17, 19.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"You are to run across the set as fast as you can, and the lion will chase you. All I want is five hundred feet of lion chasing you and no more—do you understand?"

The actress nodded. "Yes-s-s," she faltered, her teeth chattering. "Yes-s-s, I understand—but what if the lion?"

"Now which kind of music do you desire to become proficient in?" said the professor to the new pupil.

"Oh, classical by all means," replied the young woman.

"I am very glad to hear you express this preference."

"Yes. When you play classical music hardly anybody knows whether you make a mistake or not."

"Here, you," shouted Bill Brown. "Leave him alone." And Bill jumped into the fight, and pasted the big fellow on the chin.

"Thanks," said the little man after he had pulled himself together. "That was darned decent of you. Look here, you share this twenty bucks I took off him."

Tall Hunting Story

(Wall Street Journal)

The old guide was regaling the hunting party around their campfire with some tall stories. "I ain't impressed," he said, "with any of them tales about people hittin' game from a triflin' 300 or 400 yards. Lemme tell you about the day I was mochin' along a mountain trail when these here telescope eyes of mine spotted a buck. I rammed a charge down the barrel of my gun, then some waddin' and a couple ounces of salt. I shoved a bullet in on top of that. Then I let go! Bang....and the buck dropped dead in his tracks."

One of the party asked: "What in thunder was your idea of putting salt in your gun?"

"Shucks," answered the old geezer. "That deer was so far off I had to do something to keep the meat from spoilin' until I could git thar."

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Red Tape, Graft Delayed Arrival Of Boy From China

HASTINGS, May 11 (ENS)—Hoin Hum sat in the kitchen of his restaurant at Hastings, late Monday afternoon and recounted his efforts which had brought his youngest son, 15-year-old Yuencheck, 9,000 miles from his home at Hong Kong to a new home here, free of Communist domination.

Hoin, who worked 14 years in the restaurant business in Peterborough, is a stout handsome man with a bubbling personality wh. looks much younger than his 53 years. He now hopes to have his wife and second oldest boy come to this country.

"If I could get my other boy here, I could go to the city. I would need bigger business with the cook and me and my two boys, there is not enough to do in this town," he said.

"What do they call red tape?" he questioned wonderingly. "I have much of that to get my boy Yuencheck here. I have lived in this country 34 years. I had a cafe in Campbellford for seven years and I sold out and went back to China for a holiday.

"Then I came back and started business here. When I got back I took my citizenship papers out. I first applied for them in 1947. Then I started to work to bring my boys to Canada. I took the first steps to bring my youngest boy here last August.

Stumbling Block

"We had a great deal of trouble. He had to have a physical examination at Hong Kong. At that time they told me Yuencheck had a bad heart and they refused him permission to come. My boy hasn't a bad heart. He was only frightened. He had to go to Hong Kong all alone and he didn't know anyone. He was just scared and his heart beat faster. So they said he had a bad heart and weren't going to let him come.

"But I think he'll be better here where I can look after him. A bad heart is not like a contagious disease. If there is any heart trouble I can look after him better here and there are better doctors here than in China. So I wrote to Dr. Robertson the MP for this district. He's a good man and did what he could to help us.

"I contacted some doctors in Hong Kong and they told me there was nothing wrong with the boy. Here are the letters from Dr. T. L. Quong and one from A. J. S. McFadgean, professor at the University of Hong Kong. They examined my son and found him in excellent health. His heart was fine.

"But that red tape had me worried. I still didn't know if my boy would be allowed to come. I sent those two letters to Ottawa and waited. Then I received a letter from my second oldest boy. He's Yuenjack, 20 years old. He wrote that the government in China is getting very bad. They are going to take everything.

Lose Everything

"I have worked in this country for 34 years, saved my money and sent it home to my wife and boys. I own a home in China. My lad said the Reds will soon have taken everything and I will have nothing there. So I am hoping to get the rest of my family to Canada.

"Dr. Robertson wrote me a nice letter saying that everything seemed fine. My boy seemed to have a good chance of coming. I was so happy. All my customers have been so nice. They kept asking when my boy would be here, they translated my letters and helped me all they could.

"Those who came to the restaurant explained the change in regulations which appeared in the newspapers when the government raised the entry age for Chinese boys from 18 to 21. They said Yuenjack, who was too old before, is now eligible to come to Canada, and I hope he will be able to make it.

"My oldest boy is 34 and he is too old to come. But perhaps some day he will be admitted. He's a good boy and no Communist. He worked in the Nationalist government before the Reds came.

"After all that time, I suddenly got a telegram from Hong Kong stating that Yuencheck was coming on a plane to Vancouver. He stayed there a few days and then travelled by train to Toronto where I met him. I brought him home and am now a very happy man. Now I am hoping to bring my wife and other boy here. Then my worries will be over."

Annual Cadet Inspection Held at Norwood

NORWOOD, May 11 (ENS)—Annual inspection of the Norwood High School cadet corps took place at the fair grounds Tuesday afternoon.

Led by the Campbellford High School Cadet Band, the company paraded from the centre of the village. Upon arrival at the grounds, the salute was taken by Major Wilson, following which Capt. L. J. Hyslop, cadet training officer of Kingston, inspected the Corps and band.

Accompanied by Lieut. S. S. Breckon, officers in charge of the corps, and Cadet Capt. Robert Wilson, he inspected the three platoons under Lieuts. Albert Lynch, Doris Moore and Madge Jones.

After the march past, and band selections, the various displays took place. These included fieldcraft, Bren gun, signalling and physical training demonstrations by the individual platoons.

Captain Hyslop then congratulated the officers and cadets, and presented prizes donated by the high school staff. These were won by Cadet Corporal Ross Horne, Cadet Marlyn Drysdale and Lieut. Madge Jones. The corps, led again by the band, marched to the village centre where they were dismissed.

Many parents and friends were in attendance and enjoyed the fine performance, as did the students and staff of Norwood public school. The weather, despite threatening clouds, remained mostly sunny.

Credit for the success of the inspection must be given to the officers and also to the non-commissioned officers. These were Sgt. Major Jack Stackhouse, Sgts. Richard Fredericks, Joyce Chrysler, and Helen Hayes.

Braves Hammer 4-Point Win Over Monarchs

MONTREAL, May 11 (CP). — Hector (Toe) Blake's Valleyfield Braves hammered out a 7-3 victory over Toronto St. Michael's here Thursday night in a turbulent Alexander Cup playoff game before 5,717 fans. The win gave Valleyfield a two-point lead in the series.

The previously-mild series turned into a rough-house battle in the first and third periods with players, spectators and police mixing in a wild melee that delayed the game for more than a half hour.

Referees Stan Pratt and Hap Shouldice called 27 penalties, including six majors, one misconduct and one match misconduct. Toronto was given 14 of the banishments.

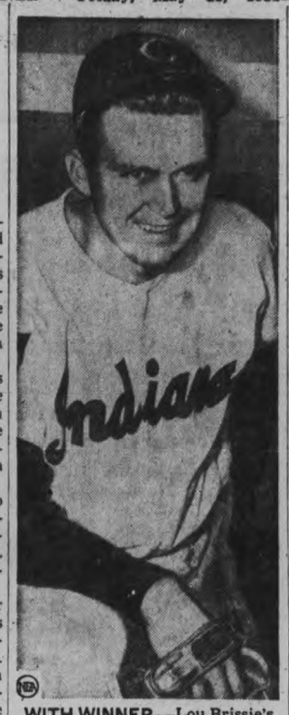
The victory was the second for the Braves in the lagging series which was changed from a best-of-seven affair to a point series. Last night's game was decreed a four-point game, giving Valleyfield a point total of seven on the basis of two points for their previous victory and one for a tied game. The team reaching eight points first will be the winner of the series.

St. Michael's have five points made up of two triumphs and a tie. Saturday night's game at Toronto also will be a four-point contest.

Jack Irvine was the top Valleyfield sniper with a pair of goals while Larry Kwong, Rosaire (Kitoute) Joannette, Paul Larivee Jackie Schmidt and Jean-Paul Bisaillon sniped the others.

Gordie Hannigan scored twice for St. Mike's while Ken Watson sank one.

Big Pat Wilson and Bisaillon were responsible for the first-period battle. Wilson's stick caught the Valleyfield player's head during a rush on the Toronto net. Bisaillon retaliated with a shove. Then Jack Irvine joined the shoving and seconds later both teams had their full complement on the ice and a pitched battle was staged in the midst of discarded sticks and gloves.



Penalty Box Jammed

When order was restored 15 minutes later, the penalty box was jammed with eight players sitting out minor and major penalties. Bisaillon and Wilson drew majors and minors for their part in the affair.

Schmidt fired Valleyfield's sixth goal at 6:12 of the third period. Then another melee broke out when Phil Mesich and a fan traded punches. The spectator grabbed Mesich's stick. Toronto players rushed to his aid and then the fight moved over to the penalty box where Meldrum, spectators and police wrestled with each other.

Meldrum drew a match misconduct for his part and Wilson was sent off with a minor. The Braves slammed in their seventh goal while the Ontario champions were short two players, Bisaillon scoring.

Throughout the contest, the Braves held a decided edge in play, outshooting St. Mike's 29-21.

Hard To Get College Players

CINCINNATI, May 11 (AP)—Major-league baseball scouts say it's tough work to sign American college players to contracts these days.

They blame the war in Korea.

"The kids are afraid that if they grab the offers of the scouts, the army will grab them," said Hank Gowdy, Cleveland Indians' scout, when he was here the other day.

"It's a tough job to sign a youngster who is enrolled in college officer's training corps and beyond the army's reach," said another scout, Bob Kline, who beats the bushes for the St. Louis Cards.

"That narrows the scouting down to high school and sandlot baseball, and I've taken in seven scholastic tournaments already this spring and have yet to see a kid who is ready for professional baseball."

Gowdy, now 62, and a veteran of two wars and 19 years of catching in the National League, said one fault of the current crop of young ball players is that they do not stick to one position.

"It's hard enough to master one position, without trying to be a jack of all trades," he declared.

Cricket Match Off

The cricket match which was to have been played at Galt on Saturday between Waterloo and Peterborough County has been postponed. It was a first-round contest for the county competition and the Matthews Trophy held by Chatham County. Play was planned for earlier this season, but word received this week from Galt was to the effect that the match was postponed.

No definite date for the competition has been announced since. This trophy was presented by Mrs. Matthews in 1933 and was won by Waterloo in 1934, but that club has not been successful since. Peterborough won it in 1948, Carleton County the next year, and by Lincoln County in 1950.

A pickup practice cricket match will be staged tomorrow afternoon in the Oval between local players, and all are urged to attend.

Royals Dump Buffalo 3-1; Leafs Lose

By The Associated Press.

Maybe the Brooklyn Dodgers have another Don Newcombe in Joe Black of their Montreal farm in the International League.

Black, a six-foot, two-inch 218-pounder making his bow in organized ball, has won his first two for the Royals.

The 27-year-old righthander pitched Montreal into first place Thursday night with a six-hit job on Buffalo, 3-1. Hobie Landrith's homer in the third ruined his shutout chances.

Montreal won the game with two in the sixth off Ernie Silverman, with the help of errors by George Moscovich and Al Stringer.

Baltimore knocked Syracuse out of the league lead with Steve Ridzik winning for the Orioles, 8-3. Butch Woyt picked up a double and two singles, driving in three runs. Jack Robinson was the loser.

Manager Bill Kelly threw 19 Springfield players into action but lost to Rochester 8-6. Springfield came up with five in the seventh but the Red Wings scored four in the eighth to take charge. Nippy Jones hit a homer in the ninth.

Red Hardy scattered 10 Toronto hits as Ottawa grabbed a 6-4 edge to pull up even with the 500 mark. Baltimore, Ottawa and Toronto now are tied for third place, four games off the pace. Johnny Hetki was the loser.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

The owners of St. Louis Browns denied knowledge Thursday of a reported plan to move the club to Milwaukee but admitted poor attendance might force the club out of St. Louis.

Bill and Charley Dewitt, the brothers who own 58 per cent of the club's stock, said a reported plan to move the club to Milwaukee, outlined in a Post-Dispatch story, "seems to be one that could be worked out."

Milwaukee, one of the American League's original members, has been clamoring for Major-League baseball for several years. A new ball park with a planned seating capacity of 70,000 is under construction in that city.

At Chicago, Will Harridge, American League president, said Thursday his office had no word of possible transfer of St. Louis Browns to Milwaukee, Wis.

"We have heard nothing on the subject from Bill or Charley Dewitt (controlling Brown's owners)," Harridge said.

At Saugus, Mass., Bill Ezinicki, Boston Bruins right winger, will make his formal bow as a golf professional here today at the Idle Hour golf course.

Ezinicki will share the teaching assignments with Tim Gaffney, its permanent pro, for a month and then will take over at the Colonial Country Club in nearby Lynnfield.

As a pro at Colonial Ezinicki will succeed Captain Milt Schmidt, his Bruins team-mate and recent winner of the National Hockey League's most valuable player Hart Trophy.

Efforts are being made to arrange a summer Middleweight title fight between Champion Ray Robinson and Rocky Graziano, the International Boxing Club said Thursday.

Chicago Stadium was mentioned as a possible site and August the month, if the bout can be arranged.

Jockey Robert J. Martin Thursday was banned from racing for 10 years for betting against the horse he was riding.

The Maryland Racing Commission handed down the order.

Martin, 23-year-old Baltimorean, was accused specifically of betting $300 on Shine On in the first race at Laurel April 10. Martin was up on Librab. Shine On came in third, and Martin's mount finished second.

Rookie Ray Herbert, the Detroit Tiger pitcher who was four straight games in relief roles, has been ordered to report for Army induction next Wednesday.

Herbert, a 21-year-old right-hander, will report to the Ft. Wayne induction centre in Detroit. He passed his pre-induction physical examination Feb. 16.

At Oslo, Norway, Egypt took a 2-1 lead over Norway Thursday in the first round of the European zone Davis Cup Tennis elimination. It's the only first round match not completed.

The two final singles matches will be played today.

The pennant hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals, already rocked by a siege of flu that has put six players and a coach out of action, received a staggering blow Thursday when Stan Musial was knocked out by the same illness.

The star slugger who played four innings of Wednesday's game with the Giants despite a heavy head and chest cold that hampered his effectiveness, was confined to his hotel room with a fever of 101.

Dr. Allen D. Tanney, physician at the Commodore Hotel, who treats all visiting players stopping there, said Musial would accompany the Reds to Cincinnati but will not play today.

Kingston United plays the local O'Halloran's soccer team at six tomorrow eve in King Edward Park. An Eastern Ontario Football Association fixture. The UEW team is off for Kingston the same day for an association match against Kingston Vimy. There were no absentees at the last UE workout and many soccer followers figure this is one of the strongest teams to represent Peterborough in football for many years. However, that will be seen as the schedule progresses. Secretary A. L. Featherstone of the local commission would like the return of trophies presently out. Next meeting will be held on May 14 (Monday) at 7.45 in the YMCA.

Opening Lacrosse Season

Lacrosse fans will probably be out in large numbers tonight—weather being okay—for the start of the season at Miller Bowl at eight. A hefty program lined up, the main part being the exhibition game betwixt Lou Vitarelli's champion juniors and Don Crowe's new edition of the OLA senior "A" Petes. The players will be introduced, a short peewee exhibition will be staged, presentations and draws made, and on on. Lots of prizes up, and kids accompanied by adults get in free. The Mayor will officially faceoff the ball to begin a new season. Red Creighton and Pup Curtin are the refs. Since the south-end stand has been built this spring, the place will seat 3,000 comfortably, while more than 4,000 can be packed in for playoffs, etc.

Clayt Browne writes in his St. Catharines column: "Lacrosse readers stuck a tongue in cheek when noting the revised reason for retirement of Owen Sound Crescents from the senior OLA this summer. It is quite all right to say the two chief factors were finances and loss of players. But all hands knew the arena commission also ran the lacrosse part and, since Jim McLeod, boss of Crescents, was one of that trio of resigners, it rather ties in. Loss of five players should not rub Crescents entirely out. Unless they lost the art of raiding which helped build up the Sound a few seasons back when Orillia Terriers called it a day. They got Frank Bain, Yorky Jordan, Marlow Woods and maybe more to eventually rule the box roost.

Clayt Pans The Sounders

He points out that St. Kitts lost more players and still carry on. Woods will be with Fergus Thistles, who may get more from Owen Sound. The affiliated Weston-Toronto crew will be plenty potent, too. The big scramble will be to keep out of the basement as six of the seven clubs make playoffs, when anything can happen. Retirement of Crescents and dispersal of their starry players will make it a real high-class loop with all opposition tougher. Browne is pleased too that Crescents folded as he always knocked "that dog-trot business inaugurated by Piper Bain and continued by Doug Gillespie which did more to ruin the national summer game than anything in the last quarter of a century." Yes, the Sounders always went into a shell when they built up an early lead.

OLA senior "A" schedule has arrived from Secretary Chuck Rowan and it appears tonight insofar as Petes' games at home and away are concerned. Each club has 30 scheduled fixtures, 15 of them at home, with quarter-finals and semi-finals then being three out of five games, group finals being best of seven. Schedule opens May 18—a week from tonight—and closes the middle of August. The senior winner must be declared by Sept. 19 as Mann Cup finals start out west on Sept. 24. Some Sunday games will be staged in Toronto, all tussles here (mostly Fridays) beginning at 8.45 p.m. It's a fairly rugged schedule but will end before the frost is on the pumpkin.

Great Track Star Sutherland Dies

CALGARY, May 11 — (CP).—George Sutherland, recognized for nearly 20 years as Canada's greatest all-round track and field athlete, died in hospital Thursday night after a brief illness. He was 48.

A member of four British Empire Games teams, Sutherland also carried Canada's colors to the Olympic Games on two occasions.

He first came into prominence in 1928 when he missed selection on the Canadian Olympic team, but throughout the 1930s he reached his peak and started a track and field domination in Alberta that was to last for nearly 20 years.

In 1932 he set the Canadian decathlon record, scoring a total of 6,501.55 points under the Olympic system of scoring.

Starting as a sprinter, Sutherland worked through almost every event staged in Canadian track and field programs, specializng in weight events in recent years.

He competed regularly in the Scottish Games in Calgary and other Western Canadian cities, and probably held more trophies in such competitions than any other athlete in all Canadian history. He competed throughout the 1950 season and at the July 1 games in Edmonton scored winning points in a track and field meet in which both his son and daughter were also winners.

Hints On Sports

By FRED MAYBEE

An outfielder should have a strong arm and he should be fast. In baseball the outfielders are also supposed to be good hitters because as the saying goes, "Good fielders are a dime a dozen."

Judgment however, is a very important factor in playing the pasture just as at any other position. We have seen many fielders who could run like a deer and catch anything they could get their hands on but somehow they seemed to be having to do just that all the time, to get men out. They made the easy ones look hard.

Then we have seen others like Al Simmons, Tris Speaker, Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Joe Di Maggio who made the hard ones look easy by studying the batters and playing their positions accordingly.

We recall a game played 20 years ago which will illustrate our point. We were sitting in the stand behind the plate in a close game between the Yankees and Detroit. Lew Fonseca was at bat for the Tigers with two men on. Lew was the old Cleveland slugger, traded to Detroit that year, and he was a dead left-field hitter—a right hander. We knew this, and watched Babe Ruth to see what he would do. The Babe moved over about 20 feet from the third-base line about half way or better between third and the fence. Fonseca drove a terrific liner directly into Ruth's glove to retire the side. Babe didn't even take a step. It was a bull's-eye. It could have been an accident but it didn't look like it. So study the hitters, boys, and move to where they hit 'em. You may cross yourself up occasionally but play the percentages and you can't lose. Study the runners, their positions and their relatives speeds. Don't let grounders get past you for extra-bases. Drop down on your knees if necessary—but stop that ball. Support your nearest fielding mate and he should also back you up on chances. Watch though not to collide. Arrange some signal with your mate to avoid accidents. Practise shagging flies of all kinds whenever you can.

Britons Confused By Line-up Of US Golfers

By GLENN WILLIAMS.

BIRKDALE, England, May 11 —(AP). — The Walker Cup golf matches got under way today, but before the matches even started the British contenders feared Willie Turnesa, captain of the American team, might have outsmarted them.

The Americans are favored to retain the cup, which they already have won 11 times in 12 matches.

There was general surprise in the British camp that Turnesa put himself at bottom of the American line-up where he and Sam Urzetta, the US amateur champion, were matched against Jim Bruen and a newcomer to Walker Cup play, Johnny Morgan.

Turnesa, winner of the 1947 British amateur title, is highly regarded here and is looked upon as a foxy grandpa in match play.

But today the British players were open-mouthed in wonderment at the first line-up Willie ever presented. He succeeded this year to the team's leadership which had long been held by Francis Ouimet.

Can't Decide

British golf officials and golf writers gathered Thursday night at the annual dinner of the Golf Writers' Association. Around every American present a knot of Britons grouped to ask "What is Turnesa up to? Why didn't he put himself and your amateur champion on top of the list?"

Willie declined an explanation of his line-up beyond "that's the way I thought it ought to be."

Now the Britons have something else to worry about. They are afraid their worries about pairings will upset their golf. And some thought maybe that is what wily Willie had in mind all the time.

By tonight they may have still more worries when Turnesa and the British non-playing captain, Raymond Oppenheimer, present their lists of players for Saturday's eight singles matches.

Edge Battered Cards 3-2 Giants Leave Cellar Behind

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

With Al Dark hitting .370, Leo Durocher is leading his New York Giants back from the National League graveyard.

Winners of nine of their last 11 starts (8-2 against western clubs), the Giants have almost wiped out the memory of their horrible start when they lost 11 games in a row. They now are only four games out of first place.

During the Giants' bounce-back, team captain Dark has averaged a terrific .486 at the plate.

Dark took matters into his own hands while the western clubs visited the Polo Grounds. Twice he had four hits. He hammered two grand-slam homers. He drove in 14 runs in the last nine games. And all the while his buddy, Eddie Stanky, continued to get on base every game with a hit or walk. Stanky at .315 is the only Giant regular in the .300 class.

Dark had a hand in all the Giants' runs in Thursday's 3-2 victory over the flu-riddled St. Louis Cardinals. He singled in the first inning and rode home on Hank Thompson's homer. In the third he doubled and scored the run that proved decisive on Ray Noble's single.

Below Par

The three-straight sweep from St. Louis lost some of its glamor because the Cards were far below par. Only three regulars were in the line-up. Six players and a coach were knocked out by the flu.

Rookie Roger Bowman and veteran Dave Koslo teamed up to hold the Cards to seven hits with the decision going to Bowman.

Cincinnati tightened the race by knocking off the league-leading Boston Braves 4-1 on Ewell Blackwell's seven-hit pitching. Blackwell missed a shutout in the eighth when Grady Hatton let a pop fly fall for a two-base error. Blackwell also pitched in with a double and single in the 11-hit attack on loser Johnny Sain and Chet Nichols.

Brooklyn moved within one game of the Braves by bumping Chicago 6-1. Don Newcombe coasted home with a seven-hitter. The big blow against loser Cal McLish was Gil Hodge's ninth homer in the fifth inning.

Pittsburgh shut out the Phillies 2-0 on Murray Dickson's four-hitter. All the scoring came in the sixth inning off Bubba Church. Gus Bell accounted for one run with his third homer.

The Phils also lost catcher Del Wilber, who was knocked out in a collision with Wally Westlake. Wilber suffered a deep cut under his right eye and across the nose. Several stitches were required to close the gash under the eye.

All four games in the American League were postponed on account of weather.

Balance Is So Essential To Well-Executed Shot

By LEW WORSHAM
Former U.S. Open Champion

Faced with an approach shot of about 90 yards to the green, providing you are not hitting into a stiff wind, it will be a nine iron.

The idea is to get on the green as near the cup as possible so you can putt.

Most of us, though, will settle just to get on the green and stay out of trouble.

The first thing to consider is the stance. Plant yourself firmly, lining the ball up between your feet, perhaps slightly to the right.

Remember, instead of a whole fairway at which to shoot, there's only a small greensward, surrounded by trouble.

Your grip is shortened, the left arm still straight.

The weight is slightly to the left.

Keep your eyes on the spot on the ball you expect to meet with the club.

The weight of the body shifts to the right at the start of the backswing.

At the top backswing, the shoulders are turned so the back faces the hole squarely, eyes still on the ball.

The wrists are cocked, the left arm is straight.

As the downswing progresses, the weight shifts back to the left.

Balance, so essential, to any well-executed shot, still is maintained.

The follow through with the nine iron is shorter than is the case of longer clubs.

Oft-times players are prone to neglect following through because the shot generally is short.

As I wrote in the P.G.A.'s Teachers' Guide, don't.

After the follow through, you may raise your eyes to see the flight of the ball.

Up to this point, the eyes must remain steadfast in their original position.

Next: Jimmy Demaret on the seven iron.

Fire Marshals Meet

WINDSOR, May 11 (CP). — The 13th annual conference of the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals began Thursday. Fire Marshals from Canada's 10 provinces are on hand as well as prominent Canadian and American experts in most of the fire, civil defence, insurance and other fields concerned with fire and its control.

THESE PLAYERS, along with Lou Brissie, southpaw of the Athletics, were involved in the first major transaction in months. Top, left to right: Ray Murray, catcher; Sam Zoldak, pitcher; Dave Philley, outfielder. Below: Gus Zernial, outfielder; Paul Lehner, outfielder, and Orestes Minoso, infielder. Murray, Zoldak, Philley and Zernial bolster the faltering A's, Lehner and Minoso land with the White Sox and Brissie moves to Cleveland. Minosa is the first colored player to show with the Chisox.

King George Wins

King George defeated King Edward 10-8 in a School Softball League fixture at the south-end diamond yesterday. It was a neat tilt throughout with the winners getting a run each in the first and fourth, four in the fifth, and two apiece in the third and seventh. King Edward counted one each in the first and third, four in the second stanza and two more in the fourth. Teams:

King George: Barker, Ellis, McIlmoyle, Butcher, Johnson, Rogers, Simpson, Roote, McKenzie, Harding, Roberts.

King Edward: J. Sutherland, D. Sutherland, Tarkington, Chalmers, Curtis, Robbins, Orr, J. Phillips, A. Phillips, McIntosh, Mills, Hill.

Umpires: Messrs. Ruttherford and Weir.

HISTORIC MONASTERY

Legislation Planned

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—Finance Minister Abbott Thursday told the Commons the government still intends to bring in legislation this session for payments to municipalities in lieu of taxation on Crown property. Mr. Abbott did not indicate on what terms payments would be made. For the last two years, they have been provided through items in the annual estimates rather than by legislation.

Cricket Tourists Weak Batting

CAMBRIDGE, England, May 11 (Reuters).—The South African cricket tourists Thursday again showed the batting weakness which has dogged them in the early days of their English campaign.

After dismissing Cambridge University for 188 runs, the South Africans lost two wickets for five runs, but then batted out time without further loss. They reached 64 for two before stumps were drawn.

Close-of-play scores:

Cambridge University, first innings all out 188. South Africans, first inning 64 for two. (Non-county).

MCC, first innings all out 75 second innings 107 for two; Essex, first innings all out 78.

Yorkshire vs. Northamptonshire, postponed, ground unfit.

Middlesex, first innings all out 335; Oxford University, first innings 117 for five.

Warwickshire, first innings all out 146; Glamorgan, first innings 130 for seven.

Derbyshire, first innings all out 215; Leicestershire, first innings 43 for two.

Worcestershire, first innings 354 for six wickets, second innings 26 for one, Essex, first innings all out 322.

Leafs Not Overworked Said Reason for Win

LINDSAY, May 11 (CP). — Coach Joe Primeau said Thursday night Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League won the Stanley Cup this season because they didn't overwork their players.

Addressing a banquet for Lindsay's Ontario Minor Hockey Association Midget B champions, Primeau said:

"Detroit Red Wings failed in the Stanley Cup playoffs because they used their top men an average of 35 minutes per game. We took advantage of detailed records in handling the Leafs and no players were used over 20 minutes a game.

Gimblett Team Wins Playoff

George Gimblett's bowlers won out in a playoff arranged at Duffus' between two Austin Jewellers' championship teams by 184 pins. One team had taken the Mercantile League title at Playfair, this squad consisting of Ann O'Neill, Stu Brown, Dorian Stark, Floyd Murray and Bob Murray—with Dorian Stark having high single for the season. The other team won mercantile honors at Duffus' with George Gimblett having high average and high single for the season. His team included Jack Gimblett, Lenore Lee, Marcelle Wallace and Mary Gimblett.

In the inter-shop playoff, George Gimblett had high single and top three for men, while Lenore Lee led the lasses in both of these departments. An enjoyable dinner was given the players afterward by sponsor Bert Austin, who presented the winners' trophies, which he had put up for competition.

Mrs. H. Green Heads Omemee H&S 2nd Year

OMEMEE, May 11 —(ENS)— At the annual meeting of Omemee Home and School Association on Monday evening, the work of the closing year was reviewed through reports of officers and conveners.

The treasurer's report given by Mrs. D. Hicks showed total receipts for the year $160.18 with a balance of $29.16. Mrs. Kenny gave a summary of her recordings as secretary Reports by conveners were health, Mrs. H. Lennox; publications, Mrs. Rawlins for Mrs Pooley; press, Mrs. S D Vaughan; publicity, Mrs. L. M. Curtis; social, Mrs. Wilfred Wilson; program, Mrs. A. Stephenson; and sunshine, Mrs. S. Northey.

Projects included a Christmas party and treat for the school children, a hobby show, a waste-paper drive, and competent swimming instructions for the boys and girls. Mr. Curtis' room won the year prize for best attendance of parents at the meetings.

Officers for the coming year were installed by Miss Jessie Lamb. They are: president, Mrs. H Green; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. Stephenson and Mrs. H. Bent; secretary, Mrs. R. Rehill; treasurer, Mrs. I. Clifford; executive members, Mrs. R. Rawlins, Mrs. R. J. Kenny and Mrs. J. B. Hough. Mrs. Green, who was returned to office, thanked the secretary, the conveners and the teachers for their co-operation.

Before proceeding to the final feature of the program, Mrs. Northey's account of the convention banquet; all joined in a singsong conducted by Mrs. Stephenson.

The chief interest in Mrs. Northey's report was the address by the speaker of the evening, Burne Hope Saunders, who was introduced by Mrs. Harvey, secretary of Federation for 26 years and who had just been presented with the sapphire service pin. Burne Hope Saunders spoke on the subject "Moulding a Child's Mind."

She spoke of the miracle of being able to help form a child's mind and of such power being the most wonderful thing in the experience of a human. "First," she said, "we parents must mould ourselves—must cultivate love, tolerance, self-control, and sense of duty, and these qualities are reborn generation after generation." She emphasized the necessity of working together and the fact that we have so short a time to work with our children. First of all, she said, we must get their confidence. "A good example," she said, "is more important than much talking."

She spoke of the value of reading good books with out children rather than leaving it all to radio to educate and entertain. "The atmosphere of the home must be kept wholesome and happy," she said, "for tension, restlessness and emotionalism have a terrible influence on a child." Lastly she pointed out the danger of giving children too much protection—when the time comes they must be let go to the things that call them.

An "H & S" quiz concluded the program, after which lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. Wilfred Wilson, Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs. W. Wedlock and Mrs. J. Swinson.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Eastern Ontario Hereford Auction Here Friday, May 18... Del Merrill Appointed Supervisor of Northumberland Dairy Herd Improvement Association... Calf Club Meeting at Stanley Wood Farm... Cheese Producers Negotiate British Contract.

For all the persistently cool weather this week, farmers got a lot of early Maytime work done, especially on the drying knolls. Trim and tidy seed beds all the way through Otonabee provided reassuring proof of accomplishment within the average schedule of sowing spring grain.

Although lacking warmth in the air and in the soil, even to Thursday morning's recession to the frost line, fall wheat and rye and hay are showing early growth, and pastures are a rich green.

Dairy cattle are still taking their meals from behind their lines of stanchions, but some of their beef brethren have had their hooves on the soft turf and their noses into the fresh grass.

The Peterborough countryside looks promising of grain and forage to come, but so far that new May moon has not been auspicious of the warmth that is needed to go hand in hand with the moisture that is just below the surface.

Meanwhile, markets are holding fairly well their recent positions. Ontario Cheese Producers have taken the selling job into their own hands, reporting a British outlet for at least twenty million pounds at four cents above the recently announced floor. There has been no echoing hurrahs from the 58 cent butter floor.

A Canadian Press item from Montreal mentions the arrival of some hundreds of eggs from Holland. Edward Beauchamp, president of Eastern Farm Products Ltd., is quoted as estimating that allowing for labor, transport and breakage, with regrading to meet Canadian government standards, the imports should cost less a dozen than the home product of poultry farms.

CALF CLUB MEETING

The young members of East Peterboorugh calf club are meeting Monday evening May 14 at 7.30 o'clock at the farm home of Stanley Wood on the Warsaw Road. The program will include judging a class of Holsteins from the Wood herd. Keith McIntyre is club leader.

Students of Normal School are going to look over the Harry Blewett farm Monday afternoon. When some of them graduate to rural schools and their communities they will take with them the object lesson to be obtained in such details as planned use of farm properties including contour plowing and planting as a means of soil conservation, rotation, care of wood lot and recommended planting of trees, building up fertility and so on.

✦ ✦ ✦

LIFTS 10-YEAR EMBARGO

Lifting of the embargo on the shipment of Canadian live hogs across the border recalls the fact that it has been in effect since 1940. That outlet was closed to divert all available bacon to the British market during the war years. This ban was continued during the post-war period—as long as the British contracts were in force.

An Ottawa comment on the government's action expects that with the US market open to Canadian live hogs, Britain will get little Canadian bacon unless she competes with the US for available supplies.

"Live hogs now join the ranks of dressed pork products, which have been allowed to move into the US market since emergency exchange controls were lifted last January 1."

✦ ✦ ✦

MEET AT ROSENEATH

Junior Farmers of Alnwick township are entertaining their county association in the LOL hall at Roseneath Friday May 18. The business meeting will be followed by a dance.

Neil Adams is president of the Alnwick group, and Reginald Timlin is secretary. Neil O'Connell, Neil Adams and Reg Timlin were appointed to buy sweaters and crests for the members of the club.

Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative, assisted in organizing a swine club of which Harry Doxtator will be leader.

✦ ✦ ✦

SALE OF HEREFORDS

Third annual Eastern Ontario Hereford sale May 18 at Peterborough Exhibition Park begins at 1.30 p.m. with W. S. O'Beil of Denfield, auctioneer.

The catalogue lists 11 males and 14 females. Consignors include Col. F. E. Birdsall of Birdsall's; H. J. Hawkey; Elmhirst Brothers of Keene; Charles Fisher and Sons of Bailieboro; Winton J. White of Balsam; J. R. Noakes of Manilla; Lloyd Ashmore, Lindsay, RR 3.

Birdsall, Fisher and White are each sending four selections from their herds.

Pedigrees show quite a sprinkling of the blood lines introduced by John Stuart Jr. of Old Orchard Farms when he planned his Hereford herd.

✦ ✦ ✦

REINFORCED MANURE FOR DOUBLE VALUE

Use of superphosphate in barnyard manure will increase the plant food content by 100 per cent, according to experiments conducted by the agricultural chemicals division of Canadian Industries.

A chemical breakdown of an average ton of fresh manure shows it to contain about 11 pounds of nitrogen, four pounds of phosphoric acid and 10 pounds of potash. Fifty per cent of the nitrogen and 90 per cent of the potash content is in the liquid portion of the manure. Much of these are lost between the stable and the field, while an additional loss occurs through fermentation prior to field application.

By scattering superphosphate in and on both sides of the stable gutter, plant food normally lost in escaping liquids is retained. Fermentation is controlled through the addition of phosphoric acid resulting in a richer, properly balanced manure.

US BEEF PRICE

The 10 per cent reduction in the price of beef cattle in the United States applies to the amount packers may pay, on the average, for live animals, as reported from the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington. It becomes effective on or after May 20. This first roll-back is not expected to show any substantial result in relation to retail prices, but should help the wholesale and retail trade by restoring operating margins.

From the same source it is said that another reduction after Aug. 1, repeated at the end of September is likely to react on retail prices to the extent of declines of eight to ten cents a pound.

The action of OPS is likely eventually to reach through to the Canadian beef producer and the higher prices he has been getting for the last six months. It is believed generally that there will still be export business opportunity in the summer and fall market.

✦ ✦ ✦

MAINTAIN BACON QUALITY

The Canadian hog producer should maintain the quality of bacon he developed for the British market, says Roy Jewell in the London (Ont.) Free Press after seeing a televised farm program in a studio in Columbus, Ohio.

"The story they were telling producers was similar to the story our extension workers and livestock grading officials have been trying to tell Canadian producers for years . . . Using actual sides from a hog carcass, charts and various cuts of pork, including the fat trimmed from an off-type carcass, and the smaller trim from a good type hog, the speaker tried to impress his Ohio farm listeners with the wisdom and economy of producing a leaner hog, than is accepted practice there at present.

"We observed the American hog producer being directed into the pathway of bacon type hog production—a pathway down which we have been travelling for years. We would suggest that the head start we have is not such that we can continue to coast along . . . Maintaining that head start in quality production is an absolute necessity if we hope to be able to compete with the more cheaply produced American pork . . . The extension specialist told us after the show that in Ohio it was more a problem of breeding than feeding. Producers were learning to balance the corn ration more rapidly than they were improving breed characteristics."

Mr. Jewel emphasized the advice of Ontario leaders of the swine industry in urging breeders to maintain the bacon quality they have established. Although the British market has failed them, it is still a fact that they have also been producing for the domestic consumer, and that he has become accustomed to bacon that is light in fat.

✦ ✦ ✦

NEW BULL PREMIUM

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario's Minister of Agriculture, announced this week a change in the policy of assisted purchase of pure bred beef bulls.

As mentioned in the catalogue of the Eastern Ontario Hereford cattle auction here next Friday the previous premium was granted as follows: "Two men—not relatives and not on the same farm—may form a Club, owning at least 20 females, and buy a bull subject to financial assistance up to one-third of the cost, or $200."

The change applies to individual breeders who will receive from the Department 20 per cent of the cost of a bull up to a maximum of $75.

Bulls qualifying for sale with premium must be 10 months old or more, well grown for their age, in good condition, and typical of the breed in every respect.

The premium will be paid by the livestock branch on receipt of an application and the pedigree, recorded in the name of the buyer. No person will be permitted more than one premium each year.

✦ ✦ ✦

DEL MERRILL APPOINTED

Delmore David Merrill of Campbellford has been appointed by the Ontario Department of Agriculture as supervisor of the dairy herd improvement association in Northumberland. He began his duties May 4.

Prominent among the Junior Farmers of the county, Mr. Merrill has a broad dairy background as a member of the family of Alec L. Merrill and Sons, breeders of purebred Holstein cattle. He and his brother Mel assisted Mrs. J. T. Tully in fitting and showing the herd of the late Mr. Tully which was sold last week. Mel Merrill and Gordon Stalker did a good job at the halters.

The appointment of Mr. Merrill should prove a valuable service to the owners of the 26 herds in Northumberland, who have signed up in the improvement association.

✦ ✦ ✦

COMMON WILD MUSTARD

Command wild mustard is one of the first weeds to make its appearance each season in the crops of Ontario. Its seeds are hardy and may remain in the soil for years before germinating—a characteristic which explains the prevalence of mustard on fields producing cereal crops. This characteristic makes eradication of the weed a difficult problem.

Stanley Young of Ontario crops branch says the problem in Ontario is to eradicate mustard from fields which are already infested to a greater or lesser degree.

One of the most effective ways of eradicating mustard is to use hoe crops on infested fields. The cultivation practised with these crops helps stamp out the weed. After-harvest cultivation has also proven of assistance as a method of control.

The use of chemical sprays and dusts, provides the most effective means of controlling mustard. Mr. Young states that 2-4-D gives excellent control when used in grain fields which have not been seeded down. For this purpose it should be used at the rate of 3 to 8 ounces of actual 2-4-D acid per acre when the grain is about six inches high. Its use in fields seeded down to mixtures containing clovers is not recommended because of possible damage to the young clover plants.

For the fields seeded in this manner, Dinitro compounds can be used successfully, by following the manufacturer's recommendation. Cyanamid, if applied at 100 pounds per acre, when the plants are wet with dew and the mustard is in the four-leaf stage, also gives very good control. It has the added advantage of supplying nitrogen to the soil at the same time.

Mr. Young warns that eradicating mustard is not a job to be accomplished with one cultivation or one application of a chemical. The fact that the seeds may lie dormant for several years, means persistent control methods are necessary, but he feels they will pay off in the long run.

$535 ON THE HOOF was the value of this 1,520-pound steer fattened on the Logan Bowie estate at Keene. It was sold last week at the community livestock auction at Belleville. The animal weighed 1,520 pounds and brought $35.25 per cwt. If there are many more steers of this kind going to market, they would provide refutation for the common report that they are not so weighty as they used to be a generation ago. Each week at the Belleville livestock sale the turnover has been up to 200 cattle and 500 calves, as well as other stock. These Tuesday affairs, beginning early in the afternoon run far into the night. In fact Roy Peacock of Belleville who contributed the photograph says the latest quitting time has been 5 a.m. of a Wednesday.

Sees Milk Volume Factor In Breeding Unit Service

As more dairy farmers become convinced of the practicability of artificial breeding, they are going to turn more attention to the maintenance of a high average of milk production in their herds, says W. D. Davies of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Apart from conception "which has been fairly well met," the artificial breeding unit has a further function of applying to all the herds in its service the breeding practices which a good breeder applies to his own herd. "This means to arrive at and maintain a reasonably high average of milk production."

A good breeder knows his cows and what they can produce. He can gauge their production closely without recourse to figures and records, and he can wait for official figures without impairing his breeding plan.

"But, in breeding cattle artificially, where hundreds of cows are serviced from one breeding stud, this is not the case. It is essential that returns be tabulated immediately if the unit management is to be in a position to function successfully.

Another matter awaiting development is the provision of a directed service whereby a freer choice in the use of individual sires would be provided by placing semen in individual bottles."

Prove Production

"A certain percentage of cows on representative commercial farms serviced by a breeding unit should be check-tested for production to gauge the ability of new sires in maintaining or increasing the milk flow. This would furnish a constinuous and automatic method of testing and proving the performance of new bulls as they are posted for service in a unit. In order to be satisfactory such records would need to be accurate, economical, and prompt, so that the management could act quickly on the further and increased use of good bulls, and the curtailment or discontinuance of service by inferior breeding animals. In this way the efficiency of breeding management in the unit would compare with that of the well managed good breeder's herd as nearly as possible.

Fairs Can Help

"Assuming that a directed service of supplying individual semen can eventually be provided, another feature which would help, would be a local show where get of sire classes from the various bulls could be on display. This would give livestock owners who were using a unit's service a more complete guide to the productive capacities and general desirability of the progeny from different bulls, and give them a chance to guide the breeding plans in their own herds more efficiently.

"The final matter which should be kept in mind is the factor of longevity. This of course is secured by maintaining the same females on record throughout their lifetime and using their progeny for breeding animals. The longevity index, says Mr. Davies, is one of the most important, and probably the most overlooked quality in our dairy herds today. Directing a breeding plan toward long-lived high-producing individuals means that a smaller number of animals are carried for replacements, that there is greater scope for selection, and that the net result will be a decided gain in efficiency with a higher economic return to the district at large.

"The National Dairy Cattle Committee has worked out a scheme for the automatic proving of sires. This is being studied further by the Department of Agriculture and it is hoped that details of its application will be available shortly."

50 Farmers Halt Seeding For Sheep Shearing Show

Fifty Northumberland farmers turned up at the farm of Garnet Curle and Son, Campbellford, May 4, for the sheep-shearing demonstration by Finlay stewart and Murray McRae of the Dominion livestock services.

That attendance in good seeding weather was an indication of the revival of interest in sheep-raising. The hills of "Old Northumberland" should be ideal for sheep, but as Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative comments, flocks are few and there are not many good shepherds. And the average flock that you do see is only about 20 sheep.

The improved prices for wool and meat have stimulated encouragement in the flocks.

Finlay Stewart said shearing was a one-man job, and that sheep could be kept reasonably comfortably while "getting fleeced." He pointed out that the Australian and New Zealand method, which he demonstrated, was used wherever large flocks were kept. It takes considerable practice to learn to turn the animal and keep the skin tight. When this is accomplished with a sharp electrical shearer some remarkable results have been obtained.

It is on record that up to 300 head have been handled in a ten-hour day. With wool around $1 a pound, and lamb chops at new tops, the sheep industry is well worth promoting, and the incidental work should be well done.

Ed. Rutherford, Will Curle, Robert Denham, Marcus Curle, Harry Free, A. L. Wilson, K. R. Bright and Percy Mulvey, each qualified by successfully shearing one or two sheep.

Each sheep was treated with the solution of 3 oz. of copper sulphate (blue stone) crystals and 2 oz. of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate per gallon of water.

This is a cheap way of controlling internal parasites in sheep. It is good practice to do this to the flock in the early winter before lambs begin to arrive and again to the entire flock about July 1. The value of a wet dip was emphasized, and the usefulness of a dry kill powder under the flanks at shearing time was also stressed.

The group decided to hold an annual sheep day, moving to the Cobourg area next year.

AGED MAN RISKS FLAMING DEATH TO SAVE FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY
John Borland, of Lethbridge, Alberta, crawls into blazing house; drags small boy to safety

1. A 3-room house and all its contents were completely destroyed by fire a few weeks ago near Lethbridge, but no lives were lost — thanks to the courage of an elderly man. Mrs. Heggedal, returning from a visit to a neighbour, saw smoke seeping from the windows of the house. Terrified at the thought of her two children trapped inside, she rushed in and saved the baby. But flames and smoke prevented her from returning for the older child.

2. Then John Borland appeared. "I'm an old man," he said, "but I'm going in to get that boy!" Then, with no thought for his personal safety, he entered the flaming house . . . and, crawling on his hands and knees, braved the scorching flames and choking, hot smoke. After moments that seemed like hours to the gallant old gentleman, he found the little boy.

3. Among the many anxious spectators outside, none was more fervently grateful than Mrs. Heggedal when Borland appeared with the screaming partly burned youngster safe in his arms. John Borland's heroism stands as a shining example to every Canadian. We are proud indeed to welcome him into the company of those who have won THE DOW AWARD.

YOUR NEIGHBOURS WERE LOCKED OUT OF THEIR JOBS

Some 400 office employees of the Canadian General Electric Company in Peterborough have been deprived of several days work this week because they have been locked out of their jobs by company orders.

Since January 10, 1951 – for more than four months – these employees, represented by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO-CCL) have been bargaining with the company in an honest effort to reach an agreement on wages and working conditions.

The IUE (CIO-CCL) which represents these employees has been certified as their bargaining agent by the Ontario Labour Relations Board. The Peterborough CGE office employees are represented by Local 599, IUE, a local of the union that is currently seeking a union representation vote for production employees in the Peterborough CGE Works.

The legal position of the C G E office workers' union and the responsibility of the company to bargain in good faith is, therefore, clearly established. Despite this fact the company has persistently refused to discuss contract terms which are regarded by the office employees as a bare minimum of a decent contract.

Because of the company's refusal the office employees, their patience exhausted by the four-month delay, decided some days ago to hold an emergency afternoon meeting. For this action they were subjected to suspension.

Out of the 426 employees in the Peterborough CGE offices approximately 400 are involved in this dispute. They were threatened with indefinite suspension. pension.

The company has already taken steps in an effort to have work which has always been performed by Peterborough residents carried on by an outside firm, thereby taking many thousands of dollars out of Peterborough. A number of former employees, most of them married women, have been approached in an effort to have them "scab" on the men and women involved in this dispute.

They Are Being Denied A Fair Deal

THESE ARE THE FIGURES:

The average wages paid CGE office employees in Peterborough are:

WOMEN - 30.66 a week
MEN - - 47.85 a week
OVERALL AVERAGE 39.56 a wk.

THESE ARE THE FACTS:

No extra rate is paid office employees for overtime.

Some office departments work overtime three nights a week and Saturdays.

Time worked on holidays is paid at straight rates compared to two and one-half times straight rates for production employees.

Sixty per cent of the office employees receive less per week than the lowest paid production employee.

THE CASE OF MISS A.

Miss A. is a typist who has been employed in the CGE office here for five years. She receives $31 a week and when taxes, etc., are taken off she gets a cheque for $26.63 a week. She pays $10 board and $1.50 bus fare. This leaves her only $15.13 a week for all other expenses—clothes, medical bills, visits to her home outside Peterborough, and all miscellaneous expenses.

The top rate for her classification is $31.50 a week. She has been refused the additional 50 cents to give her the full rate.

THE CASE OF MR. B.

Mr. B. is an office employee of the Canadian General Electric Company and a resident of Peterborough. He is a married man with two children and has a home to support. His salary is $45 a week. When taxes, etc. are deducted he receives a cheque for $41.72 a week. He pays $45 a month rent and has instalment payments of $20 a month to meet on furniture.

This leaves him barely $100 a month to feed and clothe his family, pay for fuel and other household expenses and meet all other costs.

THE CASE OF MR. C.

Mr. C. has worked in the Peterborough CGE office for the past 15 years. He is not yet receiving the top rate for the job he holds. Three years ago he spoke to his supervisor asking whether he could not get an increase to the top of the range. The supervisor spoke to a higher official.

The company has refused to give Mr. A. the top rate in his range despite his 15 years experience. The company has refused Mr. A. an additional 60 cents a week toward meeting his family expenses.

This is of vital Importance to every resident of Peterborough

Whether or not the CGE office employees get increases which will give them a decent living is a matter of vital concern to every resident of Peterborough.

The people involved are your neighbours—they are the people who you meet in your church, at your lodge meeting, and at social events.

The Peterborough CGE office workers represent a large purchasing power to the retail trade of this city. Practically every additional cent which these employees gain in wage increases will be spent in Peterborough stores.

The requests which they are making are moderate requests. Faced with soaring prices they have been forced to reduce their standards of living. That means they have had to reduce their purchases from Peterborough stores.

They are unable to understand why office employees should receive approximately $20 a week less than production employees in the same company, and in many places under the same roof. Local 599, IUE, believes that the production workers are entitled to higher rates than they are now receiving but they do not believe that there is any fairness in conditions under which 60 per cent of the office employees receive less than a sweeper in the plant.

New Groups Seeking Honors At 1951 Drama Festival

LONDON, Ont., May 12 (CP)— There should be a special roll of drums to herald the opening Monday of the fifth Dominion Drama Festival since the war.

Because, while the stakes are the same, most groups will be making their first appearance in national competition, tangible proof that drama in Canada is growing up and more potential actors and actresses are appearing before the footlights.

For instance it will be the first DDF appearance for Charlottetown Little Theatre Guild, due to present Patterson Greene's "Papa is All," at the May 19 matinee.

Another group to make an initial appearance that night—final one of the week-long festival—will be Welland, Ont., Little Theatre players. Their play, "Juno and the Paycock," is an Irish tragedy by Sean O'Casey.

Anxious for Criticism

The Bessborough trophy, emblematic of Canada-wide drama honors, probably will be uppermost in the minds of most groups when they go on the stage of London Little Theatre. However, aside from getting an approving nod from adjudicator Jose Ruben, most of them will also be looking forward to his criticism at the end of each performance—to pick up tips which may help them produce bigger and better shows.

A prominent actor and director, Mr. Ruben will arrive Sunday from New York City. He will get down to business Monday night when Vancouver Repertory Theatre opens with Tomas Job's "Therese," adapted in English from a novel by Emile Zola.

Besides the Bessborough trophy, other awards await Mr. Ruben's choice: Festival plaques for the best presentation in English, the best presentation in French, both excluding the Bessborough winner.

There also are prizes for best production and design. Then there's the Nella Jefferis trophy for the best actress; the Henry Osborne trophy for the best actor.

Eye on Award

At least two persons, Donald Horne of Welland, who plays the part of John Bosle in "Juno and the Paycock," and John Colicos of Toronto, have high hopes of getting the latter award. Both won similar prizes in their regional festivals, Mr. Colicos for his interpretation of "King Charles," in George Bernard Shaw's "In Good King Charles' Golden Days." The latter will be produced May 18 by the Toronto University Alumni Dramatic Group.

Eight plays will vie for honors in this festival which permits only full-length dramas in competition. The new festival group of the Montreal Repertory Theatre was scheduled to present Wednesday afternoon a one-act play, "Les Ames Captives" (Captive Souls) by the Canadian writer Yvette Naubert. However director Mario Duliani announced in Montreal Tuesday that the group hasn't been able to raise funds to finance the trip.

Hold Spring Tea

OMEMEE, May 11 (ENS)—In a setting of daffodils and air-fern, afternoon tea was served by the Women's Association of Trinity United church on Tuesday in the Sunday school room.

The receiving committee were Mrs. H. Deyell and Mrs. H. Graham. Mrs. J. B. Hough, Mrs. E. Mahood and Mrs. Wilfred Wilson were responsible for the menu and Mrs. T. J. Pogue, Mrs. W. Weir, Mrs. W. Fisher, Mrs. M. Finney and Mrs. A. Weir served. Tea was poured by Mrs. Burt Pogue. There was also a sale of home baking with Mrs. G. Overholt and Mrs. H. Lang in charge, and a country store managed by Mrs. R. Brooks and Mrs. V. Lang.

Use New Films As Safeguard Against Radium

TORONTO —(CP)— Specially treated films from Chalk River laboratories are among the most important protections of Dunlap Cancer Clinic workers against deadly radium rays.

Workers at the Toronto clinic who handle radium now wear a strip of this film at their waist, to ascertain the amount of radiation they are receiving. It comes from the Chalk River Radiation Hazards Control Board of the National Research Council.

At the end of each week the film is returned to Chalk River for examination.

As the nurse handling the needles gets more radiation than the doctor who only has to insert it in the patient, she wears a film bracelet at her wrist as well as at the waist.

Nurses are only permitted to do the actual handling of radium for two-month periods. Then they are put off this work for four months.

At the Dunlap Clinic the needles are kept in a massive lead safe and are filed according to the amount of radium they contain. By operating a dial the nurse can remove the desired needle.

Nurses and doctors don't wear gloves when handling radium as there is no glove that is workable that is not penetrated by the rays. Long forceps are used to hold the needles which are carried back and forth to the treatment rooms in lead cases on little carriers.

CANADIAN IN TOKYO—Enhancing the beauty of the Japanese cherry blossoms in a Tokyo party are these two flight nurses, Ensign Virginia Faeth (left), a US navy nurse, and Pilot Officer Isabel Zeigler, an RCAF nurse from Brandon, Man., who accompanies evacuee flights of Korean war battle victims to America.

MOSTLY WASTELAND

Egypt has 386,000 square miles but only about 13,500 square miles are inhabited.

Cooking School Held

CAMPBELLFORD, May 11 — (ENS)—A large number of ladies attended the IODE cooking school held in the Aron Theatre on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. The ladies were shown a great variety of dishes and how to prepare and serve them. Brenda York gave interesting lectures to the ladies, and demonstrated the preparation of foods. Business men of the town donated prizes. H. J. Taylor acted as master of ceremonies for both afternoons.

CGE Workers On Job, Out Two Days

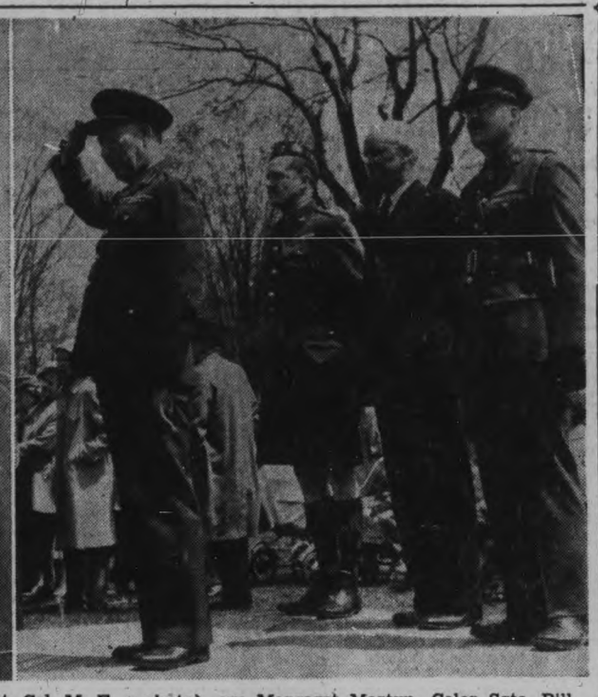
Negotiations Slated To Begin Monday For Office Workers

Canadian General Electric Co, office workers, who twice walked off the job and twice were suspended during the last nine days, are back working today.

Joint contract negotiations for a master agreement covering 426 in the Peterborough plant and another 150 in the Davenport-Toronto plant are scheduled to begin again Monday in Toronto.

The office workers—members of Local 599, International Union of Electrical Workers, here in Peterborough, and members of Local 567 in Davenport—are impatient with a delay in reaching an agreement.

Union Demands



The union wants a 19-cents-an-hour straight increase, plus a five cents an hour cost of living bonus; time and a half for overtime; double time for holidays; retroactive pay, and pay for the suspension periods.

Ian McRae, Peterborough works manager, estimated that some 250 of the 426 workers in the bargaining unit had participated in "illegal work stoppages" by marching uptown for a membership meeting Wednesday morning. And he suspended them until 8 a.m. today.

Joe Wirtz, IUE international representative, described this ac-

Cadet Officers Stripped For Insubordination During Annual Inspection

Officers Paraded Before Entire Corps, Deranked For Failure To Take Part In PT Exercises

For insubordination during the annual cadet inspection 20 officers of the PCVS cadet corps, No. 13, Eastern Ontario area, were stripped of all rank Thursday afternoon. Before the cadets started their route march following the inspection at Nicholls Oval, teacher-instructor Captain James McNabb ordered all officers to fall out and before the regiment personally deranked the officers for failure to take part in the physical training display. Immediately cadet Lieut. - Col. David Ingram, who did not take part in the officers' actions, resigned in agreement with them.

Then the officers formed a troop and with tunics and shirts open, ties hanging loose, led the corps back to the collegiate. Back in the ranks there was considerable jostling amongst the troops, who were under the cadet non-commissioned officers. Several troops were saluting girls, singing and whistling.

Have Taken Exercises

This year was the first since the war that regulations required the officers to take part in the PT class. During the practice hours for the past two weeks the officers have been filling the open spaces in the troops and taking the exercises. But during the inspection Wednesday the officers fell out and stood in a group behind the regiment.

Mr. McNabb said today that during the exercises the cadet training officer for Eastern Ontario, Capt. L. J. Hyslop remarked that the officers should be taking the exercises with the others. It is standard army procedure that the officers take the physical training period with the troops, Mr. McNabb said.

Good Inspection

"The corps did an excellent job but by this foolish effort everything was spoiled", said Mr. McNabb. "It hurt to have to do it but I did it with the full backing of C. S. Browne, the principal, and the staff of cadet training instructors."

Cadet Lieut.-Col. Ingram said that the officers wanted an explanation why they had to do the exercises this year but only were told that regulations required it. He added that in other years the officers took the PT work in practice parades and regular classes but didn't take

Industrial Commissioner May Be Appointed By City

Tentative plans have been made to appoint a part-time industrial commissioner for the city of Peterborough. This announcement was made by Ald. E. C. Braund at the Chamber of Commerce meeting held at the Empress Hotel Thursday night. Ald. Braund's statements were substantiated by Mayor Max J. Swanston today.

Ald. Braund explained that plans had been made to interview a man for this position in the near future.

Interview In Month

Mayor Swanston said this interview is expected to be held within a month. But the council will not hold the interview.

An Industrial Commission Advisory Board, which the council will apoint shortly, and the present Manufacturers of the council will not only jointly interview the prospective commissioner, but also make the final decision whether or not a part-time commissioner is needed in the city.

Following the dissolution of the former Industrial Commission at the last council meeting, the Manufacturers Committees of the council have been carrying out its duties.

The mayor stated that the council hopes to appoint former members of the commission to the new Industrial Commission Advisory Board.

The member of the former Industrial Board at the end of 1950 were: M. L. Garner, Herbert Bradburn, Bruce Payne and Ald. Anglesey.

Members of the manufacturers' committee of the council are: Ald. E. C. Braund, chairman; Ald. P. C. Anglesey, Ald. John A. Dewart and Ald. Norman Graham.

PCVS Cadets Inspected By Col. Dewart

PCVS Cadet Corps was complimented Thursday at the annual inspection by Col. J. A. Dewart, inspecting officer, for "its excellent showing" and "for its spirit."

Col. Dewart also applauded the change in the location of the annual inspection from the collegiate campus to the flats of Nicholls Oval. It was quite evident, he said, that everyone was trying.

Capt. L. J. Hyslop, cadet training officer for Eastern Ontario area, withheld any comment on the inspection. He explained that after visiting corps after corps in May he needed some time before appreciating the work.

Capt. Hyslop reminded the cadets that cadet training is citizenship training as well as military training. Through it they accomplish something whether in the army or in the life of the city. That something is the ability to conduct yourself along proper lines.

Immediately after the general salute by the trumpet band, the inspecting party, which included Col. Dewart, Capt. Hyslop, C. S. Browne, Lt. Col. M. E. Clarke, commanding officer of the 50th HAA Regiment (RF), RCA, and Cadet Lt. Col. David Ingram, inspected the corps. The cadets then passed the reviewing stand in column of troops and in review order.

Battery B, under Cadet Major Kelvin Johnson, was presented with the IODE Trophy by Mrs. M. F. Clarke as the most efficient battery on parade. She complimented the cadets for their teamwork. Troop nine, under Cadet Capt. James Telford, was presented by Mrs. C. E. Newman with the IODE Shield, donated by the 57th Regiment Chapter.

A mock battle attracted the most attention during the program. Attacking troops armed with rifles, sten and bren guns, dodged around the snow fence, trees and mounds of earth at the eastern end of the park to capture the enemy in the cricket shack. Blanks made the battle seem quite real.

The mass physical training period by the regiment and the band's demonstration under Larry Forbes were well received by the large crowd of students, parents and friends. Other displays were of battery and troop drill, first aid, signals, bren guns and map reading.

During the displays the PCVS concert band played selections under the direction of Albert Croasdale who also instructed the trumpet band.

Board Instructs Committee To Draft Theatre Contract

The supervision committee of the Board of Education Thursday night was empowered to start contract negotiations with Michael Sadlier and his associates so a summer theatre may operate this summer in Queen Mary Auditorium. There is a proviso, however, that the city bylaw restricting parking in the vicinity of the school must receive its third reading before any contract is valid.

Contract terms must be ratified by the whole Board before any agreement becomes effective.

Signing of a contract with Mr. Sadlier so the Summer Theatre can operate is expected to end the number one controversy in Peterborough this year.

The heart of the problem has been to find sufficient parking space for theatre patrons without this parking being a nuisance to residents in the vicinity of Queen Mary School.

The possibility of legal action being taken against the board originally caused the board to refuse the auditorium to the Summer Theatre.

Approved By Citizens' Board

Draft of a parking restriction bylaw was drawn up by the citizens' committee, a group interested in promoting the summer theatre, and it was circulated among the affected residents in the area. It was presented in the form of a petition and received the overwhelming endorsement of the residents.

The Board of Education also approved it.

Under its provisions there would be no parking on Monaghan Rd. from Weller St. to Woodland Ave., and none on Hopkins Ave. from Monaghan to Albertus Ave.

After examining this suggested bylaw, city council decided on a compromise one: no parking either side of Monaghan between Weller and Hopkins; and also none on the north side of Hopkins, the west side of Albertus, or the south side of Weller.

It would be effective June 15-September 15, and between the theatre hours of 7.30 to 9.30 p.m. The bylaw is understood to have received the tentative approval of the Department of Highways, and it will probably get its third reading when city council meets again May 21.

"I think the nuisance has been partly removed by this new by-law," said G. Wilson Craw. "If it came to a court action it would be obvious we'd made an honest attempt to remove the parking nuisance."

GORDON PARKS, of 97 Crescent St., winner of the director's trophy for general proficiency in photography, Ryerson Institute, Toronto.

Gordon Parks Trophy Winner

Gordon Parks, 21, of 97 Crescent Street, received this week the director's trophy for general proficiency in photography following his graduation from the School of Photographic Arts at Ryerson Institute of Technology, Toronto. Mr. Parks has just completed the required two-year course and will become a member of his father's, Lewis Parks, studio in Peterborough.

A photographer with more than six years' experience, Gordon Parks knows this district well. During his year in the 13th Grade of PCVS he was official school photographer for the school magazine, Echoes. He followed this with a year at a Toronto business school and acquired a diploma for junior accountancy before enrolling at Ryerson.

Instal Larger Tanks

The planting of bigger gasoline and oil tanks is an activity since the frost vanished, indicating that community storage is keeping pace with the general advance. Council this week approved two 2,000-gallon containers at the Imperial Oil lot at Park and Romaine Streets. That will increase their total capacity to 5,000 of gas and 4,000 of stove oil. Deeth and White at McDonnel and Bethune Sts., get permission to put underground a new 12,000 gal. tank for fuel oil.

Lindsay Raccoon

LINDSAY, May 11. (CP)—A raccoon was caught in the main street Thursday. Residents scratched their heads. The raccoon was found perched atop a metal hydro pole, which holds the town's only traffic light. Two youths tried to climb the pole. They failed. Police were called. They contacted the Hydro company. Hydro workmen put a ladder up against the pole.

The raccoon toppled to the ground and the youths stuffed it into a box.

But what bothers residents is this: how did the raccoon scale the 30-foot high metal pole?

Police Blame Toronto Man Boss Wire Service

TORONTO, May 11 — (CP) — Inspector William Tomlinson, head of the Provincial Police Anti-Gambling Squad, testified Thursday that a Toronto man, "a professional operator," is boss of the wire service that feeds racing news to bookmakers in Monttreal, Hamilton, Windsor and Detroit.

Inspector Tomlinson told the Ontario Legislature's Crime Committee the man is Samuel Roher.

Roher, he said, also operates the Daily Turf and Sporting News, "a scratch sheet," and had a radio station broadcasting race results and track entry changes.

The inspector connected Roher with the operation of race news services in Windsor, uncovered by provincial police last year in a series of investigations climaxed by a raid Dec. 2 which crippled the alleged source of race news relayed by telephone to Detroit.

Port Hope Engineer Sees All-Season Canadian Seaway

MONTREAL, May 11 — An all-Canadian year-round, deep-water channel from Lake Ontario to the sea was a possibility put forward by J. G G. Kerry, MEIC, Port Hope, in a paper dealing with the St. Lawrence Waterway, prepared for delivery here today before the annual meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Few subjects have been written up more exhaustively, said Mr. Kerry, but there is one aspect to which little or no attention has so far been directed—the possibility of an all-Canadian "all-season" seaway.

Mr. Kerry, who has devoted years of study to ice conditions of the St. Lawrence River system, believes such a seaway is possible, kept free of ice by utilizing the latent heat in the deep water of Lake Ontario.

Second Proposal

He also put forward a further proposal, namely, that a deep water canal could be built from Galops Island, near Iroquois, across the St. Lawrence Lowland to empty into the Ottawa River near Point Fortune. Here power would be developed along the lines generally similar to Beauharnois, keeping the seaway as a national undertaking.

Mr Kerry suggested, in line with these proposals, that representations be made to the Federal Government "that it is most desirable that the annnual temperature cycle of Lake Ontario be studied and recorded, particularly along a section extending from Oswego to Point Edward." (Point Edward is the south-eastern point of Prince Edward County.)

He also suggested that representations be made to the government of the Province of Ontario that the possibilities of a cut-off canal connecting the two main rivers— the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa—be explored by accurate surveys.

"Great depth and volume are two most important features for a channel in which ice will not tend to form quickly," said Mr. Kerry Referring to the section of the St. Lawrence River from Lake Ontario to the head of Galops Island, which he called the "lake section," he said:

"The maintenance of an ice-free channel calls for the creation of a fairly rapid current in the river. This cannot be achieved without cutting down the winter cross section of the river with the aid of an extensive group of dykes, jetties and removable bulkheads. The cross section throughout the lake section must be reduced to a width and depth suitable to the desired velocity, and to the volume of the discharge of the river."

Unique Supply of Heat

He considered the supply of heat energy in the waters of Lake Ontario during the winter months as "almost unique," and, as a great natural asset that the engineers of Canada should not fail to use to the greater advantage of Canada.

"As the length of the lake section of the International Section is only about one-fifth of the whole active length of the St. Lawrence River," said Mr. Kerry, "if this secton of the river can be regimented to an even flow at three miles per hour there will be little reason for difficulties with ice. The expense of regimenting will be serious, but the benefit of this conservation will be felt all down the river even to the confines of Newfoundland."

Regarding his second proposal, a canal through the eastern corner of Ontario, this would require the approval of the International Joint Commission as it would take one-half of the flow of the St. Lawrence River. "But it does not appear that the interests of either nation would be materially injured by the proposed division," said Mr. Kerry.

The United States half would discharge through the cut across Galops Island and then follow the existing main river channels. "This plan adheres to the principle of independent action which Canadians have observed for perhaps 150 years," said Mr. Kerry.

An advantage of the cut-off route would be the opportunity provided for equalizing the flow of the St. Lawrence from Lake St. Louis to the sea. "When the Ottawa River is in flood, part of Canada's share of the St. Lawrence flow can be held back and stored in Lake Ontario. These reserves can then be drawn upon when the Ottawa passes into its regular low water stage," said Mr. Kerry.

New Industrial Sites

The canal would furnish sites for new industrial development similar in nearly all respects to the Welland Canal. Adjoining lands are fertile, well settled, with well developed road and rail transportation.

Disadvantages would be an increase of from 20 to 50 miles in the over-all length of the waterway, according to the location chosen; and the diversion of much of the water otherwise available for power at Beauharnois.

Of course, further studies would have to be made before the feasibility of these projects could be definitely determined. But "all things considered," said Mr. Kerry, "the writer favors this plan for a wholly national power plant and waterway construction, subject always to a revision of opinion when more complete surveys have been made."

Boyd Gives Up TV Career For Ministry

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 11 (AP)—What makes a man give up a successful life in television for a career in religion?

Hollywood wondered when Mal Boyd announced he will enter a seminary to become a Protestant Episcopal minister. The television partner of Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers, at 27, has risen fast in the new industry.

"How did you reach your decision?" I asked.

"It's difficult for me to describe without sounding 'holier than thou,'" he replied. "But actually, it was a deep spiritual revolution.

New Goal

"I had security, I had position and I had excellent money. Then I asked myself, 'where do you go from here?' I realized that my goal was no longer in making money . . ."

Boyd said he came to his decision on a trip to Arizona.

"I was traveling about 80 miles an hour when suddenly I said to myself, 'slow down! Where are you going, anyway?'

"When I got to Arizona, I devoted my time to reading the Bible. Every truth was revealed to me.

"I called Dean Robert Paul of St. John's Cathedral in Denver and discussed with him the possibility of becoming a minister."

Boyd said his decision came partly form disillusionment with the entertainment fields.

"I realized that the commercial media . . . are largely limited to an appeal to an adolescent audience.

No Challenge

"And, in these challenging times I felt I wasn't meeting any challenge. It is difficult for the individual to know what he can do."

Boyd decided to switch his career to religion in an attempt to further his destiny. "I would like to be of service in as many ways as I can," he said.

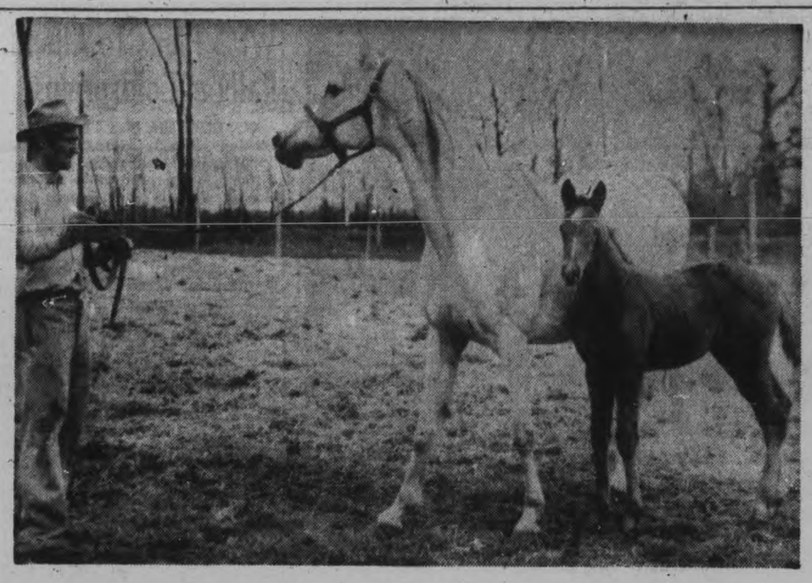
Mr. Beaupre told the Maritime division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association meetings have been held by defence production officials with industry representatives and the result will be control orders designed to put Canada in a position gradually to reduce or increase month by month the amount of metal allowed for less essential products.



He said orders controlling copper and aluminum will be announced within a few days and others will probably be issued within the next two months.

ST. THOMAS, May 11—(CP)—Development of the St. Lawrence Seaway is a must, Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, told a luncheon here Thursday, before turning the switch for the inauguration of 60-cycle power in two local industries.

It is a must, he said, for the protection of the people of Canada and the United States, for the proper prosecution of the war and the production of electric energy, so badly needed for the industrial development of the province.

Don't Intend Paper Inquiry

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP)—Justice Minister Garson told the Commons Thursday information before the Combines Investigation Act commissioner does not, in the commissioner's opinion, justify an inquiry at present into the newsprint industry.

He added:

"The information presently before the Combines Investigation Commission is that the Canadian newsprint industry is taking all reasonable steps to increase production, and that the prices Canadian newsprint producers are charging for sales of newsprint to the United States are exceptionally reasonable, having regard to the prices that could be obtained on the open market for newsprint at the present time if Canadian newsprint producers were to take full trading advantage of the present strong demand."

Mr. Garson made the statement in commenting on a recent Washington dispatch which said a Congressional sub-committee on monopolies was considering a proposal to make Canadian newsprint companies subject to anti-trust laws in the United States.

Sick Veterans Talked Out of Dreams

By FRANK CAREY.

CINCINNATI, May 11 (AP)—Mentally-ill war veterans are being talked out of their "terror dreams" by a loudspeaker and the power of suggestion.

The American Psychiatric Association today heard a veterans administration doctor describe the use of a recorded "suggestion" treatment while patients sleep.

"I CAN rid myself of any symptoms, completely and in less than a minute," is the type of recitation that is repeated through the night.

"I'm not overly dependent on medicines or doctors" is another —and, once in a while "Mind a blank, relaxing more."

Dr. Ernest Schmidhoefer of Memphis reported these results.

"Most patients have reported gratifying results within two to four weeks. Some have stated that they are able to take daytime naps for the first time in their lives. Others say sleep becomes less fitful and more refreshing.

More Pleasant Dreams

"Terror dreams are reported as being replaced by more pleasant ones, and frequency of dreams of all sorts is allegedly reduced."

There were indications of a general decrease in the amount of awakening during the night—"There is less arising to smoke, to pace about restlessly...."

Dr. Schmidhoefer said his patients object at first, and nurses and aides are indignant and incredulous, and sometimes tell the patients the whole thing is ridiculous.

But the doctor reported average hospitals stays are shortened and fewer medicines are requested and prescribed as a result of the "helf-help" program.

Fear Power Crisis Unless Seaway Begun

MARKDALE, May 11—(CP)—Mines Minister Gemmell said Thursday night Ontario will face another hydro power crisis unless the St. Lawrence Seaway project is started soon.

He told the South Grey Progressive Conservative Association here that there appears to be no end to demands for new power.

He repeated recent suggestions that Canada go on with the project alone if necessary. . . ."I believe that Canada is big enough and strong enough to tackle the job single-handed if it is found impossible to overcome the opposition that seems to be entrenched in Washington," he said.

Rubber Market In Singapore Hard Hit By Ban

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE, May 11—(AP)—The governments of Singapore and Malaya today were expected to duplicate shortly Britain's ban on rubber shipments to Communist China.

Economic officials in Singapore would not comment, but indicated a high-level decision will be made soon.

Britain's move, announced in London Thursday, knocked the bottom out of the Malayan rubber market. In a widely-fluctuating market today, rubber sold as low as 1.43 Straits dollars a pound, far under the United States ceiling of 66 cents a pound ($1.71 Straits).

It was the lowest price since last Sept. 30. Rubber had gone as high as $2.38 (Sraits) on Feb. 9.

Pessimism hit all sections of the Singapore market. Traders felt that the US now can buy all the Malayan rubber she wants at almost any price she names. They regarded as certain that the Singapore and Malayan governments would follow Britain's embargo against Communist China. Which would mean a loss of a big buyer.

Anti-US Feeling

Britain's action also stirred up fresh anti - American feeling among rubber producers and traders, who attribute the ban to US pressure.

Even before Britain's embargo action, rubber traders had been shaken by the inability of the Singapore market to withstand price-depressing manoeuvres from the US.

Overseas support had been lacking in the market for several days, and US buyers got large quantities of rubber at prices even lower than those set by the general services administration.

The British ban does not mean that Communist China will get no more rubber.

Indonesia is a major producer who might supply Peiping and the Chinese have been trying to get rubber and other strategic goods from her. But no trade pact has been made because Peiping apparently is unable to supply Indonesia with consumer articles in return.

Estimate $390,000 As Cost New Norwood High School

HAVELOCK, May 11 (ENS)—The main item on the agenda for two special meetings and the regular meeting of the Norwood District High School Board was the estimates in connection with the new high school.

At the first special meeting the estimate of $390,000 was considered, and the secretary reported that the Department of Education considered this amount a reasonable estimate on building, equipment, and fees and the following amounts were approved by the Board accordingly:

Costs—Building, $313,335; fees, $18,500; equipment, $49,000; miscellaneous, $9,165. Total $390,000.

Grants (Average) — Building, $21,312; maintenance costs, $20,-895, $10,063; public schools, $2,-000. Total $64,270.

R. A. Dean, clerk of Norwood village informed the board that the Norwood council had met and discussed the estimate of $390,000 and that the following resolution was adopted:

1. That the schedule of debenture payments be altered in order to make the annual payments the same each year as nearly as possible.

2. That a short bylaw be passed by each municipality forming the district and a certified copy of same be filed with the clerk of the village of Norwood.

3. That the High School Board use every effort to get the provincial grant raised to 85 per cent of the ceiling of $360,000.

4. That a special effort be made to have the township of Dummer or a portion thereof added to the present area.

As the time bid from the Eastwood Construction Co. of Peterborough for $313,335 was limited to May 1, the secretary was instructed to contact that company for bid extension in view of the special meeting.

Trustee Hamblin reported that the inspector had visited the Norwood High School and had intimated that generally speaking they were satisfied with the staff and felt the Board should retain the present staff. The inspector considered the new salary schedule fair but consideration should be given to the course taught when considering an increase in the case of specialists.

At the second special meeting of the Board the reeves and councils of the municipalities were in attendance and chairman Buck outlined the advantages of proceeding at once with the new high school and presented figures decided upon by the board as compared with the figures presented to the councils in 1949. Mr. Buck regretted that so short a time was given the councils in advance on this special meeting but as the Norwood council had presented a report that the Ontario Municipal Board required bylaws passed by the council to assume liability on increased debenture amount and as there was a time limit on the tender bid for $45,000 from the Eastwood Construction Company of Peterborough, quick action was required by the Board.

The debenture will be on a 20 year term at four per cent.

Debenture, 1952-1971, $390,000; interest, $183,939.60. Total $573,-939.60.

Total yearly payments for principal and interest amount to $28,-696.98.

Principal J. H. Caskey of Havelock school spoke of the advantages of a new high school to the pupils, teachers and ratepayers. The meeting was thrown open for discussion on the debenture question. It was evident that all present were keenly anxious to have a good school compatible with the taxpayers' ability to pay.

After a lengthy discussion it was agreed without resolution by the counucils of Norwood, Otonabee, Asphodel and Hastings that each of these municipalities would at their first meeting pass bylaws to accept liability for their portion of the costs based on their respective equalized assessment. Percy township had already passed a bylaw to cover the liability. Havelock and Belmont still refrained from debenture commitment.

At the regular meeting of the Board in Norwood on Wednesday night a communication was read from C. A. Brokn of the Department of Education granting approval of $313,335 for purpose of legislative grant. Also considered $390,000 as reasonable to complete the new high school, architect's fees and equipment. He advised that $360,000 would be the limit upon which the percentage will apply for debt retirement and contractor must not start work until authority is granted to the Norwood council by the Ontario Municipal Board to issue the required debentures.

A request was read from the Eastwood Construction Company of Peterborough to return their bid bond of $45,000 re tender on new high school due to the time limit expiring on May 1, 1951.

On motion by R. Doan and E. J. Leeson the chairman and secretary were authorized to sign a contract with the Eastwood Construction Company or the McCrory Construction Company at the same bid plus a reasonable increase in the event of a favorable report from the Ontario Munuicipal Board to the Norwood council.

J. Humphrey and W. J. Breckenridge, reeve and clerk respectively, of Asphodel township were present and informed the Board that it was desired by Asphodel township council "That the Board would apply to the Department of Education for 80 per cent of the total cost of the building, equipment and architect's fees." No action was taken by the board.

European Cadets Exchange With Canada's

Air cadets from Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Holland and France will join the English air cadets in the annual summer exchange of cadets with Canada this year, H. L. Garner, president of the Air Cadet League of Canada, told the Kiwanis club Thursday.

As in previous years 26 Canadian cadets will be sent to Britain for three weeks while English cadets will come to Canada to train. In addition this year there will be an exchange with the United States, a group of cadets touring throughout the states.

Canadian cadets, said Mr. Garner, are great ambassadors for Canada in England and other countries. The selection is made, not from the best in drill, but from those who will represent the Canadian tradition best. There will be 75 cadets visiting various parts of the world this year.

This year, said Mr. Garner, 255 Canadian cadets will be taught the preliminaries in flying up to one solo hour without any cost to the boys. For little expenses, he added, they can advance to obtain their commercial pilot's licence. These boys are chosen on a merit basis from the 22,000 cadets from coast to coast.

Twenty-five per cent of the men now joining the RCAF, said Mr. Garner, are former air cadets. The force likes to accept these men because the ground work is accomplished. Others not joining the RCAF are joining the Trans Canada Air Lines.

Briefly Mr. Garner mentioned the scholarships made available by firms in Canada. This enables the boys to attend Royal Military College or Royal Roads for one year. These scholarships are restricted, he said, "to those lads who really have it."

Besides large sports programs at the summer camps held across Canada, the boys experience forms of drill, discipline and familiarization flights in airplanes.

Mr. Garner said that he visualized boys joining the corps who do anything but stand properly during induction. But after two or three weeks straighten up. That makes the difference between success and failure, said Mr. Garner.

The speaker was introduced by Stanley Longhurst and thanked by James Craig.

WMS Plans To Attend Rally at Coldsprings

ROSENEATH, May 11 (ENS)—Making plans to attend the sectional rally at Coldsprings on June 13, and to be responsible for the closing worship service was the important item of business at the May meeting of the WMS of Roseneath United Church.

The meeting was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ford Derry, with the president, Mrs. J. N. Lovelace, presiding.

Included in the correspondence read by the secretary, Mrs. Fred J. Lewis, was an invitation from the WMS of Hastings United Church to be guests of their society at the June meeting to be held June 14.

During the worship service the scripture reading was given by Mrs. A. Halstead and Mrs. Ford Derry read "Islands of Peace."

Having completed the study book for the year, Mrs. A. J. Campbell presented a portion of the year book dealing with the supply and citizenship work of the society.

The community friendship report for the month included 11 cards, seven calls, one hospital call, seven boxes and 14 letters. Mrs. George Mouncey is secretary.

It was decided after a lengthy discussion regarding raising funds to have a free-will offering from the members.

Mrs. A. J .Campbell was in charge of the program and was assisted by Mrs. Fred Lewis and Mrs. A. Halstead. The Rev. R. C. White pronounced the bendiction.

200 Expelled

Ask Council Dismissed

QUEBEC, May 11 (CP).—Quebec city landlords and tenants associations have decided to circulate a petition among municipal taxpayers asking for dismissal of the city council. The council has been under fire since it presented a tax program to overcome a $1,500,000 deficit expected in the current fiscal year.

Says Canadians Spend Most On Tourism

OTTAWA, May 11—(CP)—Leo Dolan, head of the Canadian Travel Bureau, told the Senate's tourist committee Thursday that if Canada's per capita ratio of tuorist spending in the US was matched by Americans in Canada, this country would be financially set.

If that happened, he said, Canada could "take over the Marshall Plan, build the St. Lawrence Seaway, the Chicnecto Canal and any other projects." The bureau, through $1,000,000 of advertising a year and other means, was trying to bring it about.

Canadians spent $190,000,000 in the US on tourism last year, more than any other people in the world. Canada's total tourist traffic last year was worth $270,000,-000 but because of heavy Canadian travel abroad, her credit balance was cut to $53,000,000.

The committee also heard J. Smart, director of the National Parks branch of the Resources and Development Department. He said 1,945,028 persons visited national parks last year, 380,218 of them Americans, a record.

Senator W. A. Buchanan (L, Alberta), committee chairman, said some tourist camps in national parks seemed in need of paint and repairs. Mr. Smart replied that the department had power to enforce improvements and steps were being taken to ensure a certain standard.

Both Mr. Dolan and Mr. Smart believed it would be a long time before the Alaska Highway ever became a main automobile tourist highway. There was some traffic over the road now, but it was a "tough trip" and there was not sufficient accommodation.

Joan Blair Casparis, 33-year-old former dancer who also took a sleeping potion overdose Tuesday night, is recovering in hospital. Thomas G. Whaling Industry In BC Makes Gamble Pay Off

COAL HARBOR, BC, May 11 —(CP). — The expanding British Columbia whaling industry, accustomed to taking chances, has made another gamble payoff.

Early in April, one full month before the usual start of the season, two killer boats sailed from this Vancouver Island port for the whaling grounds off the north-western tip of the island.

BC packers put a skeleton staff on the station here and sent the Mahmint and Bouvet out on a test run.

Although official figures are not in, it is believed more than 30 whales have been taken by the two ships in the first month's operation.

Today the Tahsis Chief went out to join the other two, and the normal season, which runs to September, is fully under way.

Manager of the shore station here—once on RCAF base—said the full staff of 90 men will soon arrive. The fleet will employ 75 men when two new Norwegian killer boats arrive here to go into service.

Manned by Vancouver sailors, the Polar V and Globe VII were last reported in the Panama Canal and are expected here early in June. BC packers bought one at Dakar, West Africa, and the other at Rio de Janéiro.

Important Expansion

The acquisition of the Norwegian ships marked an important expansion in the industry. When the present group revived whaling, they took over an operation ruled unprofitable by most business men.

Financial and technical hurdles were cleared, and the 1949 season ended with a total catch of 250 whales. Last season say the total boosted to 312.

A five-ship fleet indicates a substantial rise in production. Demand for the oil and meat is strong in Scandinavian countries, and the United States is a steady market for the meat.

Years ago whaling was big business on the BC coast and scores of harpoon-equipped boats chased the big mammals.

Dealt a hard blow by the rise of the petroleum industry and the plummetting demand for whalebone as a fashion aid, whaling now is in the middle of a comeback.

Modern hunting methods, operating techniques and fast, deadly ships have changed all but the color of the industry.

Plan New Plant To Produce Sulphur Dioxide

MONTREAL, May 11 — (CP) — Canadian Industries Limited announced today that it will erect a new plant at Copper Cliff, Ont., to produce liquid sulphur dioxide from by-product gases of the oxygen flash-smelting process recently developed by the International Nickel Company.

Announcement was made following extensive research and exploration by C.I.L. and International Nickel. It is expected that when the new plant is in operation it will produce some 90,000 tons of liquid sulphur dioxide a year.

For many years C.I.L. has been producing sulphuric acid from International Nickel's waste gases; this production will also undergo expansion this year.

Liquid sulphur dioxide is not made in Canada at present although C.I.L. produced it in relatively-small quantities from 1932 to 1945. Supplies now are obtained from the United States but consumption is small due to high cost. The new development, however, will place liquid sulphur dioxide in the category of a tonnage chemical available to large potential consumers at a fraction of its present cost.

The potential large consumers are sulphite pulp, newsprint and sulphuric-acid manufacturers who now depend mainly on elemental sulphur. This sulphur, currently in short supply and expected to be increasingly so, is imported from Texas and Louisinana and paid for in United States funds.

Overcome Deficiency

In 1950, imports were more than 385,000 tons valued at about $7,500,000.

The output of the Copper Cliff plant will help overcome the existing deficiency of elemental sulphur and assist the Canadian sulphite pulp and newsprint industry, major earner of US dollars, to maintain its exports to the United States.

Sulphur as such has few direct uses in manufacturing processes and usually is burned in air to obtain the desired material, sulphur dioxide gas. Liquid sulphur dioxide, on the other hand, yields the sulphur dioxide gas directly and when given mill-scale tests at the Abitibi Power and Paper Company at its Mission Mill at Fort William, Ont., in 1947, it was found to have decided advantages for this purpose over elemental sulphur.

Bridge Collapses

VICTORIA, B. C., May 11 (CP) —Works Minister E. C. Carson warned Thursday that hundreds of British Columbia bridges are likely to collapse and that it may become necessary to post guards to keep heavy traffic off the spindly structures. The bridge problem was spotlighted by the collapse Wednesday of the condemned Riverside bridge at Lake Cowichan, 60 miles north of here. An hour before the collapse, 150 school children in buses crossed the structure.

Television Fans Get Look At Elizabeth And Philip

By MURIEL NARRAWAY.

LONDON— (CP). — Television viewers saw happy pictures of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh on one of their first nights out since the Duke's return from Malta, where he commanded the frigate Magpie.

Accompanied by Princess Margaret, Elizabeth and her husband attended Lord's Taverners ball, where the cameras caught Princess Elizabeth laughing hilariously at a "cricket match" played on the floor of the ballroom.

The Lord's Taverners, an exclusive male club, has been in existence almost a year. The name derives from the tavern at Lord's cricket ground.

With a closed membership of 200, they are proud that the 12th member is the Duke of Edinburgh. This year's president is John Mills, well-known British actor.

The cricket match, played in the ballroom of London's Grosvenor House, was probably the first ever held in a hotel. A high screen kept the spectators out of harm's way. The club team, challenging "the rest of the world," played such famous British cricketers as Norman Yardley and Bill Edrich.

High Jinks

The formidable opposition did not, however, dismay the club team including such comedians as Robertson Hare, Basil Radford, and Naunton Wayne. They played a cricket not yet included in the rule books, using large balls, small balls that bounced, balls that did not, and an octagonal ball. The Taverners won.

Amused onlookers watched Princess Elizabeth, dressed in a champagne-colored gown embroidered with sequins, and Princess Margaret in a strapless shell-pink satin gown, take a look at "What the Butler Saw." A penny peep-show, it cast the Princesses 2s (30 cents) each.

The Royal party stayed till 2 a.m and on leaving Princess Elizabeth asked Martin Boddey, the Taverners' chairman:

"Please may I come again next year It's so nice to go to a party with no formalities."

Proceeds of the ball go to the National Playing Fields Association of which the Duke of Edinburgh has been president for two years.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL

At the meeting of St. John's PTA on Tuesday evening in the school room, a presentation was made to Mrs. Gerald Grady, on behalf of the members, by Roseanne Monahan and Teresa Coughlin.

Mrs. Grady, who leaves the parish soon, has, through splendid efforts, with the assistance of her committee, Miss L. Cavanagh, Mrs. V. Anglesey and Mrs. L. Lefley, brought about the teaching of nursing, sewing and home economics in the school. A specially prepared table of work done by the girls in this new curricula class attracted much attention.

President Mrs. H. J. McLarnon extended thanks to all who helped with the recent fun night.

A nomination committee of Mr. Gerald Grady, Mrs. V. Anglesey and Mrs. G. Maloney was chosen, the election to take place in June.

Attendance prize was awarded to Grade 8.

The Rev. Dr. F. M. Grant expressed appreciation to the president and executive and spoke of the fine work accomplished this year. He also spoke words of regret of losing a valuable member in Mrs. Grady.

The refreshments were served by girls of Grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 under direction of Mrs. J. Philcox.

S. PETER'S PARISH

The last meeting for this school year of St. Peter's Parish PTA was held Tuesday evening in the K of C hall and was largely attended. President W. J. Cunningham was in the chair. The Rev. F. A. Morrocco opened the meeting with prayer, followed by the singing of O Canada. Mrs. W. H. Toal read the annual report.

A play, "The Story of Fatima," by Grades 4 and 5 of St. Mary's School, directed by Mrs. McDonald was much enjoyed. The "Crowning of the May" and the "May Pole Dance" by Grade 3 of St. Mary's School under the supervision of Miss Grant were gracefully exacted.

The Rev. Father Morrocco, of Ottawa, was the guest speaker for the evening. He spoke of the tremendous task of reconstructing the world and the vital role awaiting each of us. He recalled how Gen. MacArthur on V-J Day had advised people to return to the spiritual things with a realization that this world is only an exile, that our ultimate goal is heaven, and we should build our world accordingly.

Said Father Marrocco, "this we haven't done. We have left room for the devil, Communism to us, to build up small cells of discontent and destroy our democracy." Father Marrocco advised that we should build up comparable cells for doing good by means of adult study groups and by discussion and interchange of ideas educate one another. The laity and especially the PTA should take the lead in this Catholic action. He concluded by urging the PTA to harness the talent and energy of all members and their tremendous power would soon be felt in the home, in the school, in the community and eventually in the whole world.

A vote of thanks was given Father Marrocco for his most challenging address by Mrs. G. O'Brien.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for next year: president, Mr. J. J. Legris; vice-president, Mr. J. Waters; treasurer, Mrs. A. Feeley; secretary, Mrs. J. J. Ahern.

Prizes for parent attendance for St. Peter's School were won by Grade 3 (Sister Mary Catherine), for St. Mary's School by Grades 4 and 5 (Mrs. McDonald) and Grade 3 (Miss Grant) tied.

Lunch was served under supervision of Mrs. D. J. Emery and Mrs. P. J. Anglesey assisted by the room mothers of the various grades.

Miss Ann Szammers was accompanist throughout the evening.

Farewell Party And Presentation Given Parnalls

A farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parnall on Thursday evening brought together about 70 friends, relatives and neighbors of this popular couple who are leaving the city in two weeks time to live in Havelock where Mr. Parnall will operate a grocery business.

The party was a complete surprise to the Parnalls when they were escorted to the True Blue Hall, George St., after the crowd had assembled. It was instigated by their neighbors of the Parkhill district and Mr. Ray Parnall acted as master of ceremonies as presentation of a beautiful table lamp was made. Several presentations of a humorous nature followed and then a purse of money was given.

Great success of the evening was due in great part to the orchestra composed of friends who played well together and made dancing very enjoyable. Bryden Young was at the piano, Bernie Holloway on the double bass, Alex. Ingram, clarinet; Reg. and Don Kingdon took turns on traps and drums, Al Tucker played his piano accordion and piano and Herb Mullen was violinist. Card games were also enjoyed.

Mark St. CGIT Holds Mother's Banquet

CGIT of Mark St. United Church held the annual Mother and Daughter banquet on Wednesday in the basement of the church. Camp was chosen as the theme and the tables were decorated with flowers and miniature camp scenes made by the girls. Menus were in the form of tepees and trees and place cards were bright canoes. Each mother received a corsage and an attractive pin made by the girls.

About 60 guests enjoyed a delicious meal prepared by the ladies of Mrs. Logan's WA group. President Pat Berry proposed a toast to the King and Beverly Lillico proposed a toast to the mothers, which was answered by Mrs. E. Lillico. The Rev. B. S. Morwood responded to a toast to the church proposed by Shirley Fell. Superintendent Mrs. Morwood, welcomed the guests.

Miss Marion Brown led in a sing-song after which Marilyn Bently sang a solo, "Wonderful Mother of Mine." Arlene Clysdale gave a piano solo.

Mrs. F. Samis president of the WA, presented a cheque to Mrs. Jeanne Murray to be used to send a senior girl to camp.

An interesting address on camp was given by Mrs. D. B. Gordon. Slides entitled "Come Camping" were shown with Mrs. L. Pepper as commentator.

Vivid Memory Is Queen's Smile Girls Agree

LONDON, May 11 (CP). — A group of young Canadian women agreed today that being presented to the King and Queen in Buckingham Palace is one of the most impressive events in their experience.

Particularly enthusiastic was dark-haired Marguerite Choquette of Quebec, who told an interviewer in a mixture of bubbling French and English:

"The whole ceremony gives an extraordinary thrill. I think for all of us the everlasting impression will be of the Queen's gentle smile. She's lovely, she's beautiful—far more than her pictures show."

Miss Choquette, who is in London to study criminology, said nearly all the other girls to whom she spoke after today's presentation said the Queen's smile was their most vivid memory.

Twenty-two of the girls presented were among the 72 Canadian women invited to attend the presentation and to take tea afterward in the garden. Mrs. Dana Wilgress, wife of the Canadian High Commissioner in London, was in charge of the Canadian group.

More than 1,500 persons from many countries went to the palace. Between 150 and 200 were presented.

The brief ceremony took place in the Red-and-Gold Ballroom, which was crowded with visitors. As their names were called out by the Lord Chamberlain, the girls advanced toward a throne and curtsied in turn to the King and Queen.

Conspicuous among the Canadians was Carolyn Whitehead of Montreal, chic in a pale-blue satin dress and black picture hat. A picture of Miss Whitehead, painted by her grandfather, Richard Jack, hangs in the summer exhibition of the Royal Academy.

The 21-year-old cousins who arrived here last September, Miss Louise and Miss Mary Walwyn of Toronto, wore navy and white, the former a taffeta two-piece outfit purchased in Canada, featuring a full skirt, pleated peplum to jacket and pleated cape collar, and Mary a navy sheer dress patterned in white with a bolero covering suntop bodice.

Other Canadian visitors included Sunsan Harvey, St. John's, Nfld., wearing a navy blue grosgrain dress and navy blue straw hat; Lucy Hodgson, Montreal, navy taffeta dress and pink satin hat; Betty Macdermott, Ottawa, beige shantung dress and close-fitting violet cap; Valerie Campbell, Toronto, pale yellow silk dress and white straw hat; Margaret Storey, Kemptville, powder blue silk crepe dress with feather hat of same color; Norma Douglas of Victoria, rose rayon taffeta dress and black straw hat; and lizabeth Calder, Montreal, powder blue organdie dress and pale blue hat.

The sun shone brilliantly after days of rain, allowing guests to stroll through the palace gardens.

Woman Doctor America's Mother of 1951

CROSSNORE, N. C. (AP). — America's mother of 1951 is a hardy woman doctor who reared two children of her own and only the Lord knows how many others from broken mountain homes.

The kindly, 77-year-old physician, Dr. Mary Martin Sloop, rode horseback as a bride into "God's forgotten acres" area of western North Carolina's Blue Ridge Mountains 40 years ago and found there a purpose in life.

By the sale of old clothes collected from all over the United States, Dr. Sloop financed a home and school in Avery county for mountain children.

As she brought the better things in life to this remote mountain region, she just as vigorously drove off the moonshiners and the bootleggers.

Fought Single-handed

She was not averse to raiding a still herself, if the "law" balked, and she fought sometimes almost single handed for better roads, schools and agricultural opportunities.

So beloved is she by the children who benefit from Crossnore, that just her appearance in a classroom or the dining hall brings a spontaneous outbreak of applause and cheering.

Mary Martin Sloop first instilled in the people of Avery county a respect for physicians, as she gently led them from the wilderness of self-medication with root and herbs and superstitions, to an understanding of the value of the then modern drugs and medical technique.

Dr. Sloop was named American mother of 1951 by the American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation, an organization devoted to the welfare of mothers and children. She was selected from 52 nominees from every State, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Defect Is Not Hereditary Surgeon Could Correct It

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a ung girl of 18 and just four nths ago I met a young man of We went together for about ee weeks, then became engaged, but have decided not to marry until I am 21. My trouble is this: he has a harelip and because of this my feelings have been hurt many times by older as well as nger people who make care- s remarks about it. Many ople say that if we should rry and have children they uld inherit this same birth- rk. We love each other very ch and I could not ask for a der man or a better worker. ould I go ahead and marry him let other people tell me what do? T.G

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: Skipping over your question for the moment, I can't resist the observation that a three-weeks' acquaintance certainly isn't much preparation for an engagement, but you do show sense by postponing marriage for three years. If at the end of that time you are still in love with each other, and your young man still seems to have all the character with which you credit him —I'd say go ahead and get married. As for the possibility of your children inheriting the blemish of a harelip, I suggest you have a talk with your doctor, and I am sure he will convince you that this is not likely.

Such marvels are being performed in the field of plastic surgery today that I wonder if your betrothed has ever considered an operation in this line to correct the defect.

Friends Are Ill-bred

Your friends and acquaintances must be ill-bred, indeed, to make tactless remarks about this condition. Few of us come into the world as perfect physical specimens, and your friends might be surprised if you turned the tables on them and reminded them of their failings. Physical imperfections are no bar to love or a happy marriage. Many a woman is more happily wed to a handicapped man than she would be to a handsome Don Juan who feels impelled to shower his favors on every woman he meets.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Is there no way to touch the hearts or appeal to the reason of wives who have come between mothers and sons? I am the victim of a cruel and jealous wife who, for no reason at all, makes my life miserable by demanding that I ignore my mother completely. For the sake of peace I have done as she desires, but I feel that I am a cad and have come to the place where I can stand it no longer. My mother is a sweet woman and it has broken my heart to act as I have done toward her for she has done everything for me that a mother could do for a son and my conduct has made her miserable. Why is it that wives so often try to alienate their husbands from their mothers? HENPECKED.

ANSWER: Woman's ruling passion is possessiveness and that is the reason that so many wives try to alienate their husbands from their mothers. They can't bear to think there ever was another woman in their husbands' lives, even if that woman is his mother. It makes them furious to know that their husbands are bound to their mothers by ties of love and gratitude that are the growth of years; that their husbands and their mothers have memories and associations of which they know nothing; that their husbands have the lifelong habit of going to their mothers with their confidences and for counsel, and that every man's mother is in a way his ideal.

The monopolistic nature of women makes it impossible for the average wife to see this without getting green-eyed. She is determined that her husband shall love no one but herself; that no one shall have any influence over him but herself; that he shall be interested in no one but herself. She has not the wisdom to realize that a man's love for his mother in no wise conflicts with his love for his wife.

Nor has she the wisdom to know that she has taken the surest way to kill her husband's affection for her. For while, through weakness and for the sake of peace, he may give in to her, in his heart he resents her tyranny and her unreason. And his conscience never ceases to reproach him for what he knows is a dastardly deed in turning from the mother who bore him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl 20 years old, in love with a man of 40. He is fine in every way. We are very congenial and enjoy being together. Would I tire of this man, whom I so adore now, in later years when he is 60, say, and I am 40? SUE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I do not consider 20 years' difference in age prohibitive, provided the man is young for his age and the girl is old for hers. I see no reason why you should not be happy with the man of your choice even if he is considerably your senior. And don't be afraid of the future. Remember while he is growing old you will be growing old also, and faster than he is.

MISS MARIE SHEPPARD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Sheppard, RR 3, Peterborough, is seen receiving the prize for general proficiency in nursing, presented by Dr. Ross Walters, superintendent of the Salvation Army's Grace Hospital, Toronto, at the recent graduation exercises. Centre is Major F. Strickland, superintendent of nurses.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Chinese Dishes Supplied by Oriental Cook

QUESTION: My husband is very fond of Chinese dishes and I wonder if you could give me a recipe for some—say Eggs Foo-Yong, Chow Mein and Chop Suey.

I enjoy your column immensely. In fact after scanning the headlines it is the next thing I turn to in the paper. Thanking you very much, Louise S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I enjoyed your letter immensely too Louise. The recipe I am giving to you came straight from the head cook of a large and successful Chinese restaurant.

✧ ✧ ✧

Egg Fooyong

(This makes 5 servings of 2 cakes each.)

Beat slightly 6 eggs, and add 1 cup flaked cooked or canned fish (pink or red salmon, tuna, chicken haddie or leftover home-cooked fish), 2 cups well-drained canned bean sprouts (reserve the liquor for the sauce), ¼ cup chopped onions, 2 tablespoons drained capers or chopped sweet pickle, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 1 teaspoon MGS. (monosodium glutamate or "white seasoning" as the Chinese call it or Accent). Combine these ingredients lightly with a fork. Heat in the frying-pan 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Use ⅓ cup of the mixture for each cake. Cook over medium heat, flattening each cake slightly during cooking and pushing in edges with an egg lifter to keep cakes round. When brown turn to cook undersides. If more butter is needed add it.

Serve very hot with following sauce:

Soy Gravy: Heat ¼ cup stock from bean sprouts with ½ cup milk. Mix 1 tablespoon cornstarch with 1 teaspoon sugar and ¼ cup cold water and 2 tablespoons soy sauce. Stir this into the hot stock and milk until thick and no raw starch taste remains.

✧ ✧ ✧

Chow Mein

For this dish you need fried noodles. You may buy these canned or you may make the noodles and deep fry them yourself—which are best of course and what the Chinese do.

Homemade Noodles: ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup flour, 1 slightly beaten egg. Mix and sift flour and salt. Add gradually to the egg until a stiff dough is formed. Knead a few minutes on floured board. Roll out to wafer-thin sheet on very large board or table. Let stand ½ hour to dry. Roll up and with sharp knife cut into ¼-inch wide slices, which unroll into long strips. Dry over broom handle between 2 chairs.

When noodles are needed for Chow Mein fry in deep fat at 375 deg. Fahr. and drain. The Chinese use peanut oil. Corn oil does very well.

Serve these noodles under Chop Suey and you have Chow Mein.

Chop Suey

One pound shredded meat (this may be chicken, or chicken and veal or veal and pork, or any of them alone), ¼ cup butter or fat, 1 cup washed and sliced mushrooms, ¾ cup coarsely cut celery, 1 chopped onion, ½ cup water chestnuts sliced, 2 cups canned bean sprouts, 2 cups white stock or water flavored with "white seasoning." Saute the meat in the melted butter until well-browned. Strain. Return fat to pan and add mushrooms, celery, onion, and chestnuts. Saute gently 5 minutes. Add cooked meat, bean sprouts and stock or flavored water. Cover and simmer gently 30 minutes. Serve with boiled rice and pass soy sauce at table. Many prefer soy sauce in the chop suey. Shellfish may be substituted for the meat.

Louise, do you have instructions for cooking rice as the Chinese do? If not write to me and I will print it.

What's Right?

Four persons who are together are walking on a city street.

WRONG: They walk four abreast.

RIGHT: They walk two in front and two following, so that they won't be in the path of those walking in the opposite direction.

✧ ✧ ✧

You are invited to dinner and the meal is cooked by your hostess.

WRONG: Make no comment on the food.

RIGHT: Praise the meal, since any woman who has gone to the trouble of cooking a dinner for guests likes to hear that it is being enjoyed.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Stress Need of Choosing Smart, Comfortable Shoes

By KAY REX

May, 11 —(CP)— Choose comfortable shoes if you want to be healthy, happy and wise—as well as easy on the eyes.

There's more than rythme in that statement. You don't have to have a shoe expert tell you that tight shoes cramp not only your feet but your entire posture. And they put a kink in your temper as well.

Health Department officials say that shoes too tight or in an unsuitable style may cuase fatigue and nervous tension. For foot-ease they suggest a daily foot-bath in alternate hot and cold plunges; dry well and dust with good foot-powder.

Manufacturers claim nowadays the little woman has no excuse for undergoing self-torture simply to keep up with current shoe styles. At the moment good shoes are produced in more than 150 sizes, making possible a degree of fitting accuracy grandma never dreamed of.

Fill Two Purposes

Nowadays shoes can be both comfortable and fashionable. Flexible leather soles insuring comfort and shape retention are available in any desired thinness and many types of finish.

Pumps with platform soles are among the favorites in spring fashion talk.

Some shoe experts stress lightness in the 1951 shoe. They say this is expressed in both look and feel, through the use of new fabrics and supple, unlined leather. Openness in design has returned to favor.

Phosphorescent satin and jersey shoes, rhinestone trim on black pumps appear the fashion favorite in Toronto where a window-shopper the other day spied a pair of nylon stockings with heels trimmed in brilliants.

For Baby

Perfect shoe fit in childhood is the best guarantee that junior will have healthy feet when he grows up.

Foot experts say a laced oxford that gives snug support around the heel is best for all-around wear. It also must fit comfortably across the ball of the foot and permit three-quarters of an inch toe room.

Be sure to have the shoes fites inside the shoe.

Bad Business

Excessive wearing of sneakers and flimsy shoes is frowned on. Experts point out that such foot gear is meant only for specialized sports, played on soft ground. For walking, playing and running on hard surfaces, youngsters need the support provided by leather shoes.

Lilac, pale blue and green are among the delicate tones footwear is taking on this spring. As for styles many are delicate shell pumps whereas others are sandals with airy anklets.

White accents on brilliant or dark shoes also provides plenty of foot interest this spring. White inserts of mesh peep through dressmaker spectators which follow the classic theme of blue or brown.

Shoes should be equipped with genuine leather soles permitting perspiration to pass off while maintaining healthful temperatur-

6—In Memoriams

MILLER—In loving memory of my dear wife, Greta Mae, who passed away suddenly May 11th, 1950.
Years of striving, little of play,
Loving and giving the whole of the way,
A cheerful smile, a heart of gold,
The dearest wife a world could hold.
Happy memories for I and true
From one who thought the world of you,
Loved in life, she liveth yet,
In the heart of one who will never forget.
—Lovingly remembered by husband, Bill.

MILLER—In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Wm. Miller, who passed away May 11, 1950.
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by Myrna, Carl and Dougie.

MILLER—In loving memory of Mrs. Wm. Miller, who passed away May 11, 1950.
—Ever remembered by Myrtle and family.

MOORBY—In loving memory of William Moorby, who passed away suddenly May 11, 1948.
—Sadly missed by his loving wife, son Donald and step-daughter Carrie.

NICHOLS: — In loving memory of Mrs. Stevens Nichols, who passed away, May 1, 1932.
for her life, more abundant.
For us a guiding star.
—Ever remembered by daughters, Mrs. Albert Orr, Mrs. Gerald Calvert and family.

WARMAN—In loving memory of Albert Edwin Warman, who passed away May 11, 1946.
Though his smile has gone forever,
And his hand I cannot touch,
Still I have so many memories,
Of the one I loved so much.
Though out of sight he's very near,
Still loved, still missed, still mine,
He will live with me in memory,
Until the end of time.
—Lovingly remembered by wife and family.

Cadet Officers

part in the mass demonstration on inspection day.

Some PCVS officers attended the Lindsay collegiate inspection on Wednesday afternoon and claim the officers there did not take the exercises.

At a meeting held purposely to arrange a wiener roast for the officers this weekend, the PT problem arose. The discussion that followed resulted in a vote and a petition was drawn telling the training officers that the officers weren't going to take the exercises and that they wanted to wear anklets. Mr. Ingram said it meant that if the officers had to do the PT, they wouldn't attend the inspection.

But the petition never reached the training officers because the cadet officer, Mr. Ingram, was cut short by Mr. McNabb when he brought up the officers' PT problem.

Mr. Browne said that in his opinion the teachers-instructors took the only course of action left open to them and that they had his full support in the matter.

CGE Workers

tion as a "lockout" and he charged the company was preparing to bring in "scab" labor to do the work of the absentees.

Company Denial

This was promptly denied by the company, as was another charge that the employees had been threatened with dismissal if they did not return to work this morning.

The union claimed that 390-400 of the workers here had been affected by the suspension, and all of the 150 at Davenport.

Mr. McRae claimed that a tentative agreement on a wage schedule had been reached but on Monday the union wouldn't accept it. It added up to weekly increases ranging from $5.60 to $8.84, including a $2 a week cost of living bonus.

According to the UE there are 260 office workers getting less than a sweeper who is paid production rates of pay. The lowest production rate for men is $1.22 an hour and $1.02 for women.

Thursday the union was informed the company would not resume negotiations until the office workers were back on the job. The union agreed on condition the workers were not bound to agree they should not walk off again if they saw fit.

"Everything's back to normal today," said Mr. McRae at noon.

Mr. Wirtz and Orville Martin, president of Local 599, are attending the IUE-GE Conference Board meeting in New York this weekend. They are accompanied by other IUE delegates. It is believed the first time that Canadian delegates have been invited.

SmokeScreen Hides Red Troops

Expect New Attack Within 2 Weeks, Air Assault Likely

TOKYO, May 12. (AP) — Chinese Communists today hid their build-up for a second spring offensive in Korea behind a smoke curtain from burning timber and smudge pots. The drive was expected by United Nations officers within two weeks. The areas of the man-made fires indicated that the next blows may come from points 20 miles northwest and 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

A 35-mile-long wall of smoke partly covered Red troop movements in the mountainous centre down a highway leading toward Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

UN fliers saw Communist soldiers moving in scattered pairs to make air attack difficult.

The smoke screen extended from Kumhwa to Inje, towns north of the 38th parallel. Chunchon is eight miles south of the parallel.

Another smoke pall was sent up by the Reds near Munsan, about 20 miles northwest of Seoul. The Red concentration there was 12 miles south of 38.

Between Munsan and Chunchon other Communist build-ups have been observed. They were near Pupyong and Kapyong, 15 and 32 miles northeast of Seoul.

Camouflage Buildings

UN forces set up air-raid warnings, camouflaged key buildings and sandbagged shelters in the belief that the next offensive may be supported by planes.

The same smoke fires preceded the first Red offensive of April 22. But planes and tanks failed to show in force and the foot-soldier avalanche came to a halt 10 days later after losses exceeded 75,000.

The heaviest troop movement today was reported southeastward from Kumhwa toward Chunchon in central Korea.

UN fliers saw troops skirting the western edge of Hwachon reservoir, seven miles north of the 38th parallel.

Allied fliers Friday night attacked at least 300 Communist vehicles moving toward the front. Pilots said they destroyed more than 80.

The fliers also reported an increase in Red rail traffic.

Associated Press correspondent George McArthur reported from the west-central front that 5,000 Reds were massing in a valley just below the parallel northwest of Chunchon. He said they have extensive artillery positions on a line 25 miles north of Seoul.

MacDonald Died Firing Gun As Chinese Overran Position

Editor's Note: The following account of Canadian action in Korea was delayed by censorship regulations which prevented the release of unit identifications during a critical period.

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, May 12—(CP)—Six-foot four-inch Pte. Kenneth Barwise of Vancouver joked:

"There sure were a lot of strangers in Hell that morning."

There sure were.

Chinese and North Korean bodies counted on the ground April 26—the day after a company of the Princess Patricias Canadian Light Infantry under Capt. Wally Mills, of Winnipeg halted the Chinese spring offensive in their small sector by calling artillery fire down on their own positions—numbered more than 100.

Fifty were in the field of fire of a Vickers machine-gun manned by Ptes. Maurice Carr of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Bruce MacDonald of Peterborough, who were killed at their posts firing at onrushing hordes.

MacDonald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. MacDonald who live on the Lakefield highway.
